On f. 24a is what seems to be a colophon, but it can also be an indication of title and author: Ta`liqat lil-Fadil Sadr al-Dinzada. A gloss on f. 4a has it that the author of Gihat al-Wahda is Sulayman Qarabaghi. On f. 24b an owner's note dated 17 Sha`ban (?) <12>37. Ff. 1a-3a, 25a-b blank.
[* Ar. 3468]

Or. 11.727
Arabic, paper, 50 ff., naskh script, illuminated beginning, full leather Islamic binding with flap, with gilded ornamentation (borders, lines).
al-Ithafat al-Saniyya bil-Ahadith al-Qudsiyya, by Muhammad `Abd al-Ra'uf b. al-Munawi al-Haddadi (so in this MS) (d. after 1033/1623), GAL G II, 306. Not an autograph (f. 49b: `ala Yad Mu'allifihi), as this work is apparently a text which is often copied together with the author's colophon. See also Or. 1526 (1), above, which also contains the author's colophon, and the date of completion of the text, 1033 AH.
[* Ar. 3469]

Or. 11.728
Collective volume with texts in Arabic and Turkish, with some Persian, paper (including disparate leaves from other manuscripts), 95 ff., naskh and nasta`liq scripts, several hands, half-leather binding, pasted boards. Possibly a manuscript from Daghestan.

[* Ar. 3476]

Or. 11.735
Collective volume with texts in Arabic and Turkish, paper, 91 ff. (no ff. 37-38), naskh and nasta`liq scripts, several hands, half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards (marbled).
(1) ff. 2b-3a. Nazm fi `Ilm al-Adab, by al-Shaykh Muhammad al-Mufti al-Dakinerli (not in GAL?), also referred to as al-Risala.
(2) ff. 3a-6b. Commentary on the previously described text, Nazm fi `Ilm al-Adab, by al-Shaykh Muhammad al-Mufti al-Dakinerli (not in GAL?). On f. 6b copyist verse.
(3) ff. 7a-9b. Turkish. Treatise on Arabic prosody by `Ali b. Husayn al-Amasi (f. 7a).
(4) ff. 10a-12a. Risalat al-Qafiya, anonymous treatise on rhyme in Arabic poetry.
(5) f. 12b. Poetry, in Arabic and Turkish. Lines by Sachaqlizada (d. 1150/1737), GAL S II, 498; Munagat-i Imam-i A`zam, apparently ascribed to the imam `Ali b. Abi Talib; Mu`amma-yi Qadikhan (d. 592/1196), GAL G I, 376. F. 13a blank.
(6) ff. 13b-34b. Commentary by `Isam al-Din Ibrahim b. Muhammad b. `Arabshah al-Isfara'ini (d. 942/1535), GAL G II, 410, on al-Risala al-Samarqandiyya (= Fara'id al-Fawa'id li-Tahqiq Ma`ani al-Isti`ara) by Abu al-Qasim b. Abi Bakr al-Laythi al-Samarqandi (c. 888/1483), GAL G II, 194. Identified with MS Berlin Lbg. 78 (6), Ahlwardt 7299. The original text is divided into 3 `Iqd, each of which is divided in sections (Farida). Also known as Isti`arat `Isam. Glossing throughout. Ff. 35a-44a blank.
(7) ff. 44b-69b. Commentary by Hasan b. Mustafa Nikhisari on al-Risala al-Kaffawiyya fil-Adab by al-sayyid Muhammad b. al-Hagg Hamid al-Kaffawi, apparently not in GAL. The author is mentioned in Ahlwardt 6822 and Ahlwardt 5334. The latter reference is to a sharh on the present Risala. Ahlwardt estimates the lifetime of the author in the middle of the 12th cent. AH. Matn distinguished by red overlining. See however Muhammad b. Humayd al-Kaffawi (d. 1168/1754), GAL S II, 632.
(8) ff. 70a-89a. Ishara ila a-Alfaz al-Mawguda fil-Kharig `ala Taqdir Ta'khir al-Dibaga, possibly a commentary on a text entitled al-Taqrirat wal-Tadqiqat (title of ff. 70a, 70b-71a), but in fact the text (about logic?) remains unidentified. Glossing throughout, some in Turkish (e.g. f. 70a). Matn distinguished by overlining. A schematic figure in the bottom margin of f. 73a.
[* Ar. 3477]

Or. 11.736
Arabic, paper, 46 ff., naskh script, dated 29 Rabi` II 1095, copied by Ahmad b. Muhammad, known as Quzghun, in the fortress (Qal`a) of Quritus (colophon on f. 45b), half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards.
Commentary by Sa`d al-Din Mas`ud b. `Umar al-Taftazani (d. 792/1390), GAL G II, 215, on al-Tasrif al-`Izzi by `Izz al-Din `Abd al-Wahhab b. Ibrahim al-Zangani (655/1257), GAL G I, 283. Identified with MS Berlin We. 98 (4), Ahlwardt 6617. Glossing throughout. Artistic lay-out of the last page (45b), a sort of double colophon shape. Matn distinguished by red overlining.
[* Ar. 3478]

Or. 11.737
Arabic, paper, 68 ff., naskh script, half-cloth Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards.
Commentary by (?) Isma`il Efendi al-Güzelhisari on Mu`addil al-Salat, compiled in 975 AH by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573) GAL G II, 440. The Matn is distinguished by red overlining. The identification is only based on the first name of the commentator, Isma`il, which can be read on f. 2b, last line.
[* Ar. 3479]

Or. 11.738
Arabic, paper, 1 + 260 ff., naskh script, half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards.
al-Shifa' bi-Ta`rif Huquq al-Mustafa by `Iyad b. Musa b. `Iyad al-Yahsubi (d. 544/1149), GAL G I, 369. Identified with MS Leiden, Or. 486, above, and Or. 11.880, below.
¶ The beginning (f. [1]b) of the text in the present MS reads very much like a copy of a Sama`, not unlike the first page of Leiden Or. 486. It is about a page longer than usual, and the name of the author al-Yahsubi is only on the first line of f. 1a. It opens with a more recent transmitter, namely Abu al-Hasan `Ali b. Gamal al-al-Din Abi al-`Abbas Ahmad b. `Ali b. Abi al-`Abbas in Alexandria in 693 AH, hearing from Abu `Abdallah Muhammad b. Ibrahim b. `Abd al-Rahman b. Muhammad al-Ansari al-Tilimsani, known as Ibn al-Guh, in 644 AH, hearing from Abu al-Hasan Muhammad b. Ahmad b. Gubayr al-Kabbani, hearing from Abu `Abdallah Muhammad b. `Abdallah b. `Isa al-Tamimi, by Igaza from the author of al-Shifa'.

Multaqa al-Abhur completed on Tuesday 13 Ragab 923 (authors colophon on f. 135a) by Ibrahim b. Muhammad al-Halabi (d. 956/1549), GAL G II, 432.
[* Ar. 3481]

Or. 11.740
Arabic, with some Turkish, paper, 38 ff., naskh script, dated Rabi` I 1161 (colophon on f. 38a, with copyist verse in Turkish), full-leather Islamic binding with flap, simple blind tooled ornament (borders).
Sharh al-Fiqh al-Akbar, commentary completed in 939/1532, by Abu al-Muntaha Ahmad b. Muhammad al-Magnisawi (Osm. Müell. I, 228) on al-Fiqh al-Akbar ascribed to Abu Hanifa al-Nu`man b. Thabit (d. 150/767), GAL S I, 285.
[* Ar. 3482]

Or. 11.741
Arabic, with some Turkish, paper, (8) + 246 ff., naskh script, dated end Shawwal 1178, copied by `Uthman b. Husayn <b.> Husayn b. `Uthman (colophon on f. 243a), full-leather Islamic binding with flap (loose), blind tooled ornaments (borders, medallion).

Mukhtasar Ghunyat al-Mutamalli, the shorter commentary by Ibrahim b. Muhammad b. Ibrahim al-Halabi (d. 956/1549) on Munyat al-Musalli by Sadid al-Din al-Kashghari (7/13th cent.), GAL G I, 383. Identified with Leiden Or. 1512, above. The matn is distinguished by red overlining.
- On ff. 4b-6a of the prelims is a table of contents. Otherwise on the prelims (ff. (1)a-(8)a, 243b, 244b, is a great variety of notes, quotations, etc., mostly in Arabic, but a few in Turkish.
[* Ar. 3483]

Or. 11.742
Arabic, with some Turkish, paper, 164 ff., nasta`liq script, half cloth binding, pasted boards.
Incomplete copy (beginning and end missing) of Sharh al-`Atiq lil-Kafiya (title on f. 1a). Unidentified commentary on the Kafiyat Dhawi al-Adab fi `Ilm Kalam al-`Arab, by Gamal al-Din `Uthman b. `Umar Ibn al-Hagib (d. 646/1249), GAL G I, 304. The Matn is written in red ink.
- On f. 1a an owner's note in Turkish. On f. 164a. A note in Turkish.
[* Ar. 3484]

Or. 11.743
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper (different colours, ff. 84-85 examples of cutting art), 134 ff., nasta`liq script, one copyist, dated the first decade of Rabi` I 1233 (colophon on f. 82b, also a date on f. 125b), half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards.
(1) ff. 1b-82b. A gloss on the subject of Adab al-Bahth, or `Ilm al-Munazara, compiled in the beginning of Gumada II 1149 (f. 82b) by Muhammad al-Kaffawi. It is not al-Risala al-Kaffawiyya on this subject, as that is a rather short text (See also Or. 11.953 (3), Or. 25.409 (5) and Or. 25.574 (1), below). Dated the first decade of Rabi` I 1233, copied by `Ali b. Ga`far Surihisari in the Madrasat Sarchaoghlu (colophon on f. 82b). Or. 11.706 (8), above, seems to be a related text. There the short title is given as Hashiyat Kaffawi `ala Husayniyya. See also Muhammad b. Humayd al-Kaffawi (d. 1168/1754), GAL S II, 632.
(2) ff. 83b-125a. Hashiya, Gloss by Mir Abu al-Fath Muhammad b. Amin al-Sa`idi al-Ardabili (d. 950/1543) on al-Risala al-Hanafiyya, the commentary by Muhammad al-Tibrizi al-Hanafi (d. 900/1494) on al-Risala al-`Adudiyya, by `Adud al-Din `Abd al-Rahman b. Ahmad al-Igi (d. 756/1355), GAL G II, 208. The gloss has been identified with MS Berlin Mq. 303 (2), Ahlwardt 5298 and with Leiden Or. 11.970 (5), below. Structure: Qawluhu ... aqulu. Beginning: al-Hamdu lillah `ala Ifham al-Khitab ... (f. 83b).
(3) f. 125b. al-Risala al-`Adudiyya, by `Adud al-Din `Abd al-Rahman b. Ahmad al-Igi (d. 756/1355), GAL G II, 208. Dated 1233 AH (f. 125b).
(4) ff. 126b-. al-Risala al-Hanafiyya, the commentary by Muhammad al-Tibrizi al-Hanafi (d. 900/1494) on al-Risala al-`Adudiyya, by `Adud al-Din `Abd al-Rahman b. Ahmad al-Igi (d. 756/1355), GAL G II, 208.
[* Ar. 3485]

Or. 11.744
Arabic, paper, 112 ff., naskh script, rather modern, half-cloth European binding, pasted boards.
Muntakhab min Hadith al-Bukhari wa-Muslim wa-Abi Dawud wal-Tirmidhi wal-Nasa'i wa-Ibn Maga wal-Shafi'i wa-Kutub ... (?, spelling errors corrected, title on f. 7a), without indication of author. It is apparently a personal compilation of Hadith from the canonical collections, here arranged as a book on ethics. The compiler first wrote the chapter headings, then reserved a number of pages, and filled these with appropriate Hadith. This method is clear from the fact that at the end of the volume (ff. 103-110) the headings are there, but the pages are still blank. This is corroborated by the fact that at the end of several chapters, there was not enough space, and the compiler had to continue his compilation in the margins.
[* Ar. 3486]

Or. 11.745
Arabic, paper, ff. 42-321, naskh script, full leather Islamic binding, flap now lost, with ornaments (medallion).
Incomplete copy (ff. 1-41 now missing) of al-Tariqa al-Muhammadiyya by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573), GAL G II, 441, No. 15. Identified with Leiden Or. 11.751 (1), below, where the heading on f. 30b corresponds with the heading on f. 45b in the present MS.
[* Ar. 3487]

Or. 11.746
Arabic, paper, 120 ff., naskh script, dated 1034 AH, copied by Muhammad b. al-Haggi Ahmad b. `Ali (colophon on f. 119b), half-leather binding, pasted boards.
Miftah Talkhis al-Miftah (fi `Ilm al-Ma`ani wal-Bayan, title on ff. 1a, 2a) commentary by Muhammad b. Muzaffar al-Khatibi al-Khalkhali (d. 740 or 745 AH, not mentioned in this manuscript), GAL S I, 516 (where title misprinted), of Talkhis al-Miftah, an abridgment by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Rahman al-Qazwini Khatib Dimashq (d. 739/1338) of Book 3 of Miftah al-`Ulum, by Yusuf b. Abi Bakr al-Sakkaki (d. 626/1229), GAL G I, 294. Identified with MS Algiers 199 (Catalogue Fagnan, p. 49, who states that the Algiers MS does have an indication of the author of the commentary, and that the identification has been made with the help of Haggi Khalifa's Kashf al-Zunun. Structure: Qawluhu – aqulu.

(11) ff. 170a-171a. al-Risala al-Harfiyya, a philosophical-grammatical treatise on the position of the Nisba in the sentence. Here ascribed to al-Fadil al-Sharif, with whom `Ali b. Muhammad al-Gurgani al-Sayyid al-Sharif (d. 816/1413), GAL G II, 216, may be meant.

The present text is identical with MS Berlin Spr. 1795 (4), Ahlwardt 6906. In the Berlin catalogue mention is made of two manuscripts of a work entitled al-Risala al-Harfiyya by al-Gurgani (Pm. 671 (7), Ahlwardt 6896, and Glas. 203 ff. 191-192, Ahlwardt 6576 (3), but of these two the former is certainly not identical with the present text, and the latter possibly neither. Dated 1170 AH (f. 171a). Ff. 171b-172a blank.
(12) ff. 172b-228a. Kashif al-Qina` wal-Niqab bi-Izalat al-Shubah `an Wagh Qawa`id al-I`rab, commentary by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim al-`Akif on al-I`rab `an Qawa`id al-I`rab by `Abdallah b. Yusuf Ibn Hisham (d. 761/1360), GAL S II, 19 (q). The commentary is dedicated to the Ottoman Sultan Sulayman the Magnificent (reigned 926-974 AH), as is said on f. 173a of the present MS. GAL S II 19 (q) mentions the Ottoman Sultan Selim as the dedicatee. GAL S II, 1043, No. 8, mentions the author in his own right. Both references in GAL give as nisba the name al-Kafi. The name al-`Akif as the present MS gives (f. 172b) does not occur in GAL. The Matn is distinguished by red overlining. Ff. 228b-230a blank.
(13) ff. 230b-. al-I`rab `an Qawa`id al-I`rab by `Abdallah b. Yusuf Ibn Hisham (d. 761/1360), GAL G II, 23. Copied by Yusuf (f. 244a). Ff. 244b-245a blank.
(14) ff. 245b-264b. Lumah al-Sa'il al-Nahwiyya fi Sharh al-`Awamil al-Birkawiyya, anonymous commentary on al-`Awamil al-Gadida by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573), GAL G II, 441 (where this commentary is not mentioned).
(14) ff. 265-276b. Notes, mostly on matters of Arabic grammar, many in Turkish.
(15) f. 277a. A Risala (of one page only!) by `Ali b. Muhammad al-Gurgani al-Sayyid al-Sharif (d. 816/1413), GAL G II, 216. Beginning: al-Hamdu lillah kama amara [...] wa-amma ba`d fa`lam anna al-Tardid al-Infisali ... F. 277b blank.
(16) f. 278a. Turkish translation of the beginning of an unidentified Arabic work on grammar.
(17) f. 278b. Notes in Arabic. Abyat Ma`ani. Followed by a definition of `Ilm al-Bayan. F. f. 279a blank.
(18) ff. 279b-299b. Incomplete copy (abrupt end) of Talkhis al-Miftah, an abridgment by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Rahman al-Qazwini Khatib Dimashq (d. 739/1338) of Book 3 of Miftah al-`Ulum, by Yusuf b. Abi Bakr al-Sakkaki (d. 626/1229), GAL G I, 294. Identified with Or. 11.936, below. F. 300a blank.
(19) ff. 300b-306a. Qasidat al-Burda by Muhammad b. Sa`id al-Busiri (d. 694/1294), GAL G I, 264.
(20) ff. 306b-307a. Turkish. Manzuma-yi li-Tafdil al-Iman. Ff. 307b-308a blank.
(21) ff. 308b-315b. al-Amthila al-Gadida fi Bayan al-Lugha al-Gayyida, or al-Amthila al-Mukhtalifa min al-Furs, Arabic text about the paradigms of the Persian verb, by Isma`il b. Mustafa al-Gurami al-Amasi, made similar to the paradigms written by Mustafa b. Abi Bakr al-Siwasi on the same subject (Amthila [...] `ala al-Lisan al-Farisi). Dated 1170 AH (f. 315b).
(22) ff. 316b-323b. Arabic. Amthila-yi Farsi. Anonymous paradigms and grammar of the Persian language. Dated 1165 AH (f. 323b).
(23) ff. 324b-331b. Mafatih al-Durriyya. Anonymous treatise on the basics oth Persian grammar. Dated 8 Dhu al-Higga 1165, copied by Ahmad b. `Abd al-Wahhab in Amasia (colophon on f. 331b). Ff. 332a-333b blank.

(24) ff. 334b-336b. al-Qasida al-Lamiyya fil-Tawhid (or: Bad' al-Amali), by `Ali b. `Uthman al-Ushi (c. 569/1173), GAL G I, 429. Followed by a note in Turkish on the number of ayat in the Qur'an, by Ibn Kamal Pasha (d. 940/1533), GAL G II, 452.
(25) ff. 337b-338b. Turkish treatise on al-Asma' al-Husna. No author indicated.
(26) ff. 339a-341b. al-Amthila al-Mukhtalifa. Paradigms of the Arabic verb. No author indicated. On ff. 342-343a are notes, quotations and poetry in Turkish.
(27) ff. 343b-384a. Marah al-Arwah, by Ahmad b. `Ali Ibn Mas`ud (beginning 8/14th cent.), GAL G II, 21.
(28) ff. 384b-385b. Notes and quotations, on grammar, but also on food and eating (f. 385b).

Or. 11.772

Arabic, with some Turkish, paper, 4 + 214 ff., naskh script, text written both on the page and in the margin, full-leather Islamic binding, rebacked.
Yetmish Maglis, 'the seventy Maglis' (title on ff. 1a, b). Anonymous religious work, with many quotations from the Qur'an, the Hadith and other works, which are often mentioned by name. The compilation is apparently a personal composition and it seems as if the order of the book depends on special issues. For each issue a number of relevant quotations from authoritative works are given and commented upon. According to the table of contents, preceding the main texts, these subjects are:

Ramadan, Zakat, Paradise, Hell, Ragab, Salat, Birr al-Walidayn, Hasad, Dhamm al-Din, al-`Ilm, Buka' Adam, Istiqama, Tawba, Istighfar al-Mala'ika, Iman, Tawhid, Ikhlas, Ghayba, Ittiba` al-Shaytan, Tawba, al-Sa`a, Alam al-Mawt, Buka', al-Gahim wal-Zabani, Salat al-Tahaggud, al-Dhikr wal-Tawhid, Dhamm al-Mu`arridin, `Ashar Dhu al-Higga, Ragab, Mi`rag al-Nabi, Ramadan, Mada`iq al-A`mal, Bir al-Walidayn, Qira'at al-Qur'an, al-Sunaha', Dhamm Akl al-Riba', Yawm al-Qiyama, Tark Awamir Allah, Yawm al-Qiyama, Dhamm al-Zalim, Sakarat al-Mawt, Dhamm al-Ma`siya, Du`a' al-Gahr wal-Khafy, al-Rizq, `Adhab al-Kuffar, Ahwal al-Nasr, al-Sa`ada wal-Shaqawa, al-Tawba, al-Higra, Fuqara', Ahwal al-Nabi, Dhamm Sharib al-Khamr, al-Rigal wal-Nisa' wa-Ita`atuhunna, Mu`gizat al-Nabi, al-Salam, Hubb Allah wa-Ba`d al-Akhilla', al-Tawadu`, Dhabh Ibrahim Ibnahu Isma`il, Wafat al-Nabi.
The table of contents contains 69 squares with text in all, and one may assume that this, being approximately 70, would explain the title of the compilation. And one may equally assume that these subjects may have been discussed in sessions by an authority and his pupils.
- Between ff. 136-137 a loose insert with a Hadith in Turkish. On the prelims, endpapers, and occasionally the margins, also texts, notes, recipes and prayers in Turkish.

Collective volume with texts on Arabic grammar in Turkish and Arabic, paper (frail in the beginning), 77 ff., naskh script, one hand throughout, half-leather Islamic binding, pasted boards. Possibly a manuscript from Daghestan (because of the script).
(1) ff. 1a-11b. Turkish. Acephalous text on Arabic grammar, unidentified. Divided into a number of grammatical examples (Mithal). Possibly from a collection of Amthila, grammatical paradigms.
(2) ff. 12b-15a. Turkish. Unidentified treatise on Arabic grammar. In the margin of f. 12b is the opening line of Qasidat al-Burda by Muhammad b. Sa`id al-Busiri (d. 694/1294), GAL G I, 264. On ff. 15b, 18-19a, 28b-29a scribbling.
(3) ff. 16a-18a. Turkish. Notes of grammatical nature.
(4) ff. 19b-28a. Arabic. al-Maqsud fil-Tasrif. Anonymous, sometimes ascribed to Abu Hanifa al-Nu`man b. Thabit (d. 150/767), GAL S I, 287. Identified with Leiden, Or. 950 (3), above, and MS Berlin Do. 65 (3), Ahlwardt 6796. Heavy glossing in Turkish, especially in the beginning.
(5) ff. 29b-38a. Arabic. al-Tasrif al-`Izzi by `Izz al-Din `Abd al-Wahhab b. Ibrahim al-Zangani 9655/1257), GAL G I, 283. Identified with MS Leiden Or. 950 (2), above.
(6) ff. 38b-40b. Turkish. Fasl-i Ta`rifat, grammatrical terminology (ff. 38b-39a), followed by notes on grammar, and lines of poetry (f. 40b).
(7) ff. 41a-53b. Arabic. Kitab al-`Awamil al-Mi'a by `Abd al-Qahir b. `Abd al-Rahman al-Gurgani (d. 471/1078), GAL G I, 287. Heavy glossing in Turkish, especially in the beginning. Possibly incomplete at the end.
(8) ff. 54b-67b. al-Misbah fil-Nahw by Nasir b. `Abd al-Sayyid al-Mutarrizi (d. 610/1213), GAL G I, 293. Heavy glossing in Turkish, especially in the beginning.
(9) ff. 68r-77b. Arabic. Awraq li-I`rab Dibagat al-Misbah min Fawa'id Ghara'ib al-Miftah (title on ff. 1b-2a), commentary by (?) Mas`ud b. `Umar al-Taftazani (d. 792/1390), GAL G II, 215, on the introductory part of al-Misbah fil-Nahw by Abu al-Makarim Nasir b. `Abd al-Sayyid al-Mutarrizi (d. 610/1213), GAL G I, 293. Identified with MS Berlin WE. 77 (1) (Ahlwardt 6546 (1)), as the version of this text in which the introductory part is omitted. Heavy glossing in Turkish, especially in the beginning.

Or. 11.785

Collective volume with texts in Arabic and Turkish, paper, 1 + 257 ff., nasta`liq script. Almost entirely written by one and the same copyist, Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim, known as Shaykhzada, and dated mostly between 1113-1116 AH. There are many colophons, almost after each text.
(1) ff. (1)b-1b. Risala fi Nazar al-Dhimiyya ila al-Muslima, by Muhammad b. Hamza al-Aidini al-Güzelhisari (d. 1116/1704), GAL G II, 437, No. 5. Copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim Shaykhzada (f. 1b).
(2) ff. 2a-3a. Risala fi Qira'at Ayat al-Kursi fi Iddibar al-Salat, by Muhammad b. Hamza al-Aidini al-Güzelhisari (d. 1116/1704), GAL G II, 437, No. 17 (with different wording: Risala fi Qira'at Ayat al-Kursi `aqib al-Salawat al-Mafruda). Apparently a copy of the autograph copy (text by Muhammad b. Hamza on f. 3a only). Dated Wednesday 10 Rabi` II 1110, copied by Muhammad b. Karim Shaykhzada (f. 3a).

(3) ff. 3a-5b. Notes and quotations, of varied nature. Sources usually indicated.
(4) ff. 6a-12b. Unidentified acephalous text. Over the beginning someone has written in pencil: Risalat Imam Suyuti. The table of contents on f. 1a confirms this and gives the title Risala ... fi Haqq Ahwal al-Qiyama. The ascription to Galal al-Din al-Suyuti (d. 911/1505), GAL G II, 151, is possible, but not further confirmed. Dated 3 Muharram 1116, copied by Muhammad Shaykhzada (f. 12b).
(5) ff. 13a-14b. Manafi` Ba`d Suwar al-Qur'an al-`Aziz. A list of favourable properties of several (but not all) of the sura's of the Qur'an. No author indicated, or it would be the copyist. Dated 9 Rabi` II 1116, copied (or compiled?) by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim (colophon on f. 14b). An important compilation for knowledge of the popular use of the Qur'an. On f. 14b follow several Hadith, quoted from works which are mentioned.
(6) ff. 15a-16b. Unidentified acephalous text. On f. 15a begins al-Fasl al-Thalith fi Ahkam al-Akl wal-Sharb. It is not part of the second volume of al-Ghazzali's Ihya' `Ulum al-Din. Copied by Muhammad Shaykhzada (f. 16b).
(7) ff. 17a-20a. Turkish. Gunnat al-Asma', on the protective properties of some of the 99 names of God. The text opens with a quotation from a work by Abu Hamid Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Ghazzali (d. 505/1111), GAL G I, 420. Dated 20 Rabi` II 1116, copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim Shaykhzada (colophon on f. 20a).
(8) ff. 20b-50a. Dala'il al-Khayrat wa-Shawariq al-Anwar by Muhammad b. Sulayman al-Gazuli (d. 870/1465), GAL G II, 252. The (schematical) drawing of the Rawda in Medina is on f. 24b. There is no second drawing. In the margin are notes in pencil about the reading of the text in the days of the week. Dated 16 Gumada II 1116 (1704 AD), copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim, known as Shaykhzada (colophon on f. 50a).
(9) ff. 50b-51a. Du`a' by Shaykhuna al-Shaykh Ahmad al-Nahalli, a prayer which should be said after having completed the recitation of the Dala'il al-Khayrat wa-Shawariq al-Anwar by Muhammad b. Sulayman al-Gazuli (d. 870/1465), GAL G II, 252. Ff. 51b-52a blank.
(10) ff. 52b-74b. Hizb al-Bahr al-A`zam, or al-Hizb al-A`zam wal-Wird al-Afkham by `Ali b. Sultan Muhammad al-Qari al-Harawi (d. 1014/1605), GAL G II, 396, No. 51. Identified with Leiden, Or. 11.886 (3), below. Dated 1 Gumada II 1106 (sic!), copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim, known as Shaykhzada (colophon on f. 74b).
(11) f. 75a. al-Khams Ayat al-Ma`rufat bil-Qafiyyat. List of those verses of the Qur'an which have ten times the letter Qaf in them. With instructions about the properties of these ayat.
(12) ff. 75b-78a. Notes of varied nature, also in Turkish. Also a Khutbat Dhi al-Qa`da (pasted on f. 77b), and an amulet against fever (f. 77a). F. 78b blank.
(13) ff. 79a-135b. Sharh al-Ahadith al-Arba`in, commentary by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573), GAL S II, 658, No. 31, on al-Arba`un Hadithan by Yahya b. Sharaf al-Nawawi (d. 676/1278), GAL G I, 396. Dated 29 Dhu al-Qa`da 1115, copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim, known as Shaykhzada (colophon on f. 135a).
(14) ff. 137b-142b. Risala fil-Ahadith al-Mawdu`at, by al-Hasan b. Muhammad al-Saghani (d. 650/1252), GAL S I, 614, No. 2. Over the text, the MS mentions as author Muhammad Saffani, but this is clearly an error. In the text the ascription is correct (f. 137b). Copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim, known as Shaykhzada (monogram on f. 142b). See also the next text.

(15) ff. 143a-146a. al-Durr al-Multaqat fi Tabyin al-Ghalat (title on f. 146a). Apparently an anonymous text, but over the beginning (f. 143a) the text is wrongly identified with the Risala fil-Ahadith al-Mawdu`at by al-Hasan b. Muhammad al-Saghani (d. 650/1252), GAL S I, 614, No. 2. The text is different from the one previously described, however. GAL S I, 614, No. 1 i, gives a work going by this name, and also S N I, 614 (S III, 1220) mentions a work entitled al-Durr al-Multaqat fi Tabyin al-Ghalat. Apparently there is a connection with al-Saghani, but there is still some confusion about the exact relationship between his texts. The table of contents (f. (1)a refers to this text as 'another text by Saghani fil-Ahadith al-Mawdu`at. The text is related by Sirag al-Din Abu Hafs `Umar b. `Ali b. `Umar al-Ghaznawi al-Ma`arri al-Muhaddith (f. 143a). Copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim Shaykhzada (f. 146a).
(16) f. 146b. A note on a passage in al-Muqaddima fi al-Salat, by al-Imam Abu al-Layth al-Samarqandi (d. c. 373/983), GAL G I, 196.
(17) ff. 147b-149a. Wasiyya of Abu Hanifa al-Nu`man b. Thabit (d. 150/767), GAL S I, 287, No. VI. Divided into 12 sections (fasl). Or. 12.005 (6), below, is a commentary on this Wasiyya by Molla Husayn b. Iskandar al-Hanafi. Dated 4 Dhu al-Higga 1113, copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim (colophon on f. 149a).
(18) ff. 149b-170b. Sharh al-Fiqh al-Akbar, commentary completed in 939/1532, by Abu al-Muntaha Ahmad b. Muhammad al-Magnisawi (Osm. Müell. I, 228) on al-Fiqh al-Akbar ascribed to Abu Hanifa al-Nu`man b. Thabit (d. 150/767), GAL S I, 285. Identified with Leiden Or. 11.882 (4), below. Dated 2 Rabi` I 1116, copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim Shaykhzada (colophon on f. 170b).
(19) ff. 171a-173b. Matn Sharh `Aqa'id (according to the table of contents at the beginning of the volume, and the superscript on f. 171a). Unidentified, beginning: Qala hal al-Haqq Haqa'iq al-Ashya' wa-Thabitatuhu wal-`Ilm biha .... Not al-`Aqa'id al-`Adudiyya. Copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim known as Shaykhzada (f. 173b).
(20) ff. 171a-175b (in the margins only). Arabic text, with Turkish translation or commentary, of al-Qasida al-Lamiyya fil-Tawhid by `Ali b. `Uthman al-Ushi (c. 569/1173), GAL G I, 429.
(21) ff. 174a-176b. Umm al-Barahin by Abu `Abdallah Muhammad b. Yusuf al-Sanusi (d. 892/1486), GAL G II, 250. Dated Rabi` I 1116, copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim known as Shaykhzada (f. 176b).
(22) ff. 177b-197b. Gila' al-Qulub by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573), GAL G II, 440, who completed the text on Monday, 7 Dhu al-Higga 971 AH. Dated a Sunday in Ramadan (?) 1113, copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim, known as Shaykhzada (colophon on f. 197b). Text identified with Or. 740 (7), above.
(23) f. 198a. Several Hadith, by the same copyist as the preceding text. Ff. 198b-199b blank.
(24) ff. 200a-215a. Mu`addil al-Salat, compiled in 975 AH by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573) GAL G II, 440 (No. 9). On f. 290a the table of contents. Dated Tuesday 29 Shawwal 1113. copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim, known as Shaykhzada (colophon on f. 215a).

(25) f. 215b. Fikrnama. Turkish text on ritual prayer (Namaz). No author indicated. On f. 216b amulet drawings and tables. Ff. 216a, 217a blank.
(26) ff. 218b-222b. Iqaz al-Na'imin wa-Ifham al-Qasirin by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573) GAL G II, 441 (No. 16). Identified with Leiden Or. 11.791 (4), below. Dated Thursday 18 Rabi` I 1114, copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim, known as Shaykhzada (colophon on f. 222b).
(27) ff. 223b-241a. Inqadh al-Halikin, completed on the last day of Dhu al-Qa`da 967 by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573) GAL G II, 440 (No. 1), about whether it is permitted to take money for Qur'an recite and on taking usury. Identified with Leiden Or. 11.791 (3), below. Dated Saturday 9 Rabi` II 1114, copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim, known as Shaykhzada (colophon on f. 241a). Ff. 241b-242b blank.
(28) ff. 243b-252a. Dhukhr al-Muta'ahhilin wal-Nisa' fi Ta`rif al-Athar wal-Dima' by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573) GAL G II, 441 (No. 11). Identified with Leiden Or. 11.791 (5), below. Dated Wednesday 20 Gumada I 1114, copied by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim, known as Shaykhzada (colophon on f. 252a).
(29) ff. 252b-253b. Anonymous text on the six categories according to Islamic law.
(30) ff. 254b-256b. Notes of varied nature. The beginning only of a Turkish translation of the previously described text (f. 254b), the beginning only of Inqadh al-Halikin, completed on the last day of Dhu al-Qa`da 967 by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573) GAL G II, 440 (No. 1), about whether it is permitted to take money for Qur'an recite and on taking usury. See No. 27, above (f. 255b), recipe for hemorrhoids (f. 256a), agricultural and commercial notes (f. 256a), etc.

Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573) GAL G II, 440 (No. 1), about whether it is permitted to take money for Qur'an recite and on taking usury. Dated 23 Ramadan 1106, copied by Isma`il b. Abi Bakr in Qustantiniyya in the Mosque of Sultan Bayezit, collated with the author's copy (colophon on f. 36a).
(4) ff. 37b-40b. Iqaz al-Na'imin wa-Ifham al-Qasirin by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573) GAL G II, 441 (No. 16). Title on f. 37b.
(5) ff. 41a-52b. Dhakhirat al-Muta'ahhilin wal-Nisa' fi Ta`rif al-Athar wal-Dima' by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573) GAL G II, 441 (No. 11, where Dhukhr). On f. 41a a table of contents. Possibly copied from the author's copy (min khattihi al-sharif, ff. 41a, 41b).
(6) ff. 53b-85a. al-Sayf al-Sarim li-Ibtal Waqf al-Nuqud bi-dun al-Wasiyya aw al-Idafa ila al-Mawt al-Mahdud (against Abu al-Su`ud), completed on 7 Dhu al-Qa`da 979 by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573) GAL G II, 441 (No. 12, with variants in the title).
(7) ff. 85b-86b. Notes of varied nature, in several hands. Mostly Hadith.
(8) ff. 87a-96a. On smaller size paper, in ruq`a script. Surat al-Tur (title on f. 87b) A commentary on sura 52 of the Qur'an. No author indicated, unless the word Qunawi on f. 87a is meant as the author's name. It seems improbable that Sadr al-Din al-Qunawi (d. 672/1263), GAL G I, 449) is meant. No Tafsir Surat al-Tur of him is known, anyway.
[* Ar. 3533]

Or. 11.792
Arabic, paper, 4 + 271 ff., naskh script, text in colophon wiped off, probably a manuscript from Daghestan, to judge from the calligraphy and the style of the inserts, half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards, front board of leather, apparently recycled, with a medallion. Numerous inserts, in several hands.

al-Fawa'id al-Diya'iyya, or al-Fawa'id al-Wafiya fi Hall Mushkilat al-Kafiya, commentary by `Abd al-Rahman b. Ahmad al-Gami ('Molla Gami') (d. 898/1492) on the Kafiyat Dhawi al-Adab fi `Ilm Kalam al-`Arab, by Gamal al-Din `Uthman b. `Umar Ibn al-Hagib (d. 646/1249), GAL G I, 303. Identified with Or. 11.928, below. Title on f. 1b. Text preceded by a detailed table of contents. Matn distinguished by red overlining. Marginal notes throughout. Notes of varied nature before and after the main text (ff. 1a-270a). Also a note on the order of the digits of the Hindi numerals. Calligraphed title-page, in three blocks of text: title, authors, copyist. Slightly incomplete at the end, as can be seen by comparison with Or. 11.976, below.
[* Ar. 3534]

Or. 11.793
Arabic, paper, 244 ff., several hands, naskh and nasta`liq scripts, Volume 1 only (of a set of 2 volumes) of al-Hidaya, commentary by `Ali b. Abi Bakr al-Marghinani (d. 593/1197), GAL S I, 645) on his own work entitled Bidayat al-Mubtadi'. Identified with Leiden Or. 407 a, above. The matn is distinguished by red overlining.
[* Ar. 3535]

Or. 11.794
Turkish, paper, 7 + 252 ff., nasta`liq script of calligraphic quality, illuminated opening pages, entire text set in gold frame, dated end Sha`ban 1158 (colophon on f. 252b), full-leather Islamic binding with flap, gilded and coloured ornamentation (borders, medallion).
Bahgat al-Fatawa (title in later hand, on first folio). The word Bahgat seems to be visible on the lower edge as well. Anonymous collection of Hanafi Fatwa's. If the title is authentic, the author may be Qadikhan (not checked). It is not the collection of Fatwa's by Abu al-Fadl `Abdallah al-Yenishehri (Berlin Or. Fol. 4077, cf. Hanna Sohrweide, Türkische Handschriften, 5 (1981), pp. 100-101 (No. 112). Extensive glossing in the margin, usually with indication of the source. Preceding the text are 10 pp., with a table of contents.
[* Ar. 3536]

Or. 11.795
Arabic, paper, 225 ff., several different hands, both naskh and nasta`liq scripts, full leather Islamic binding, flap now lost, blind tooled ornaments (borders, medallion).
Dhakhirat al-`Uqba, gloss by Yusuf Gunayd Tuqati, known as Akhi Celebi (d. 905/1499), on Sharh al-Wiqaya, commentary by `Ubayd Allah b. Mas`ud al-Mahbubi Sadr al-Shari`a al-Thani (d. 747/1346) on Wiqayat al-Riwaya fi Masa'il al-Hidaya by Mahmud b. Sadr al-Shari`a al-Awwal al-Mahbubi (7/13th cent.), which is a commentary on al-Hidaya, by `Ali b. Abi Bakr al-Marghinani (d. 593/1197), GAL S I, 645) on his own work entitled Bidayat al-Mubtadi'. Numerous marginal notes, sometimes written in artistically shaped blocks of text. The introduction to the text is missing. Identified with Or. 6806, above, from which becomes clear that the beginning in the present MS is in fact the beginning of the Kitab al-Tahara (Or. 6806, f. 4a).

- On f. 225b the names of the seven sleepers, taken from a Hashiya on a Tafsir.
[* Ar. 3537]

Or. 11.796
Collective volume with texts in Arabic and Turkish, paper, 302 ff., naskh script, simple leather binding, unadorned.
(1) ff. 1b-27b. Extensive calculations and arithmetical operations, all in connection with the division of the portions of inheritance.
(2) ff. 33a-90a. al-Fara'id al-Siragiyya by Sirag al-Din Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Sagawandi (last part of 6th cent. AH), GAL G I, 378. Identified with MS Berlin We. 1388 (2), Ahlwardt 4701. Extensive glossing, numerous paste-ins.Also drawings, tables, circles, in the margins and on the inserts.
(3) ff. 92b-94a. Turkish. Mayyit Tarikasini .... A text on the division of the portions of inheritance. No indication of author. It is apparently a very shortened Turkish version of the well-known Arabic treatise on the subject, al-Fara'id al-Siragiyya by Sirag al-Din Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Sagawandi (last part of 6th cent. AH), GAL G I, 378. Apparently identical or similar to Or. 11.800 (3), below.
(4) ff. 94b-141a. Extensive calculations and arithmetical operations, apparently meant as models for the division of the portions of inheritance, arranged according to subject.
(5) ff. 141b-143a. Turkish. Ahwal Dhawi al-Arham. Notes on matters of inheritance. No author indicated.
(6) ff. 143b-302a. Arabic, and from f. 176a onwards occasionally also in Turkish. Calculatory models for the division of the portions of inheritance, arranged according to subject. Fasl fil-Sinf al-Awwal (f. 143b); Fasl fil-Sinf al-Thani (f. 151b); Fasl fil-Sinf al-Thalith (f. 152b), etc. Shorter and longer explanatory and introductory pieces are added to the tables. These are apparently quoted from several different sources, which are often indicated.
¶ Or. 11.800, below, is a similar manuscript.
[* Ar. 3538]

Or. 11.797
Arabic, paper, 1 + 83 ff., naskh script, dated mid-Safar 1264, copied by `Ali b. Salim b. Fayd Allah al-Bursawi (colophon on f. 83a), half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards.
Sharh (compiled in 880/1475) by al-Husayn b. Mu`in al-Din al-Maybudi (d. 904/1498), GAL G II, 210; S II, 294, on Hidayat al-Hikma by Athir al-Din Mufaddal b. `Umar al-Abhari (d. 663/1265), GAL G I, 464. Identified with Leiden Or. 11.956 (1), below.
[* Ar. 3539]

Or. 11.798
Turkish, paper, 208 ff., nasta`liq script, illuminated opening double page, entire text set in gold frame, dated 15 Safar 1234, copied by Mustafa al-Mufti bi-Madinat Sinup (Sinople), half-leather European style binding, pasted boards.

Natigat al-Fatawi (title on ff. 5b, 207b) by al-Sayyid Ahmad (author on f. 5a), who dedicated the work to the Ottoman Sultan Selim III (reigned 1203-1222 AH), and who wrote it under the guidance (?) of Shaykh al-Islam Durrizada al-Sayyid Muhammad `Arif.
- Preceding the text are 5 pp. with a table of contents.
[* Ar. 3540]

Or. 11.799
Arabic, paper, 244 ff., naskh script, dated on Saturday 8 Gumada II, without year (f. 244a), full-leather Islamic binding with flap, blind tooled ornaments (medallion), rebacked, and recycled from a Qur'an manuscript (la yamassuhu ... on the flap).
- On ff. 1b-15a table of contents. Main text on ff. 16b-244a.
Muhadarat al-Hikam (f. 16b), or As'ilat al-Hikam (f. 1a), or al-Fath al-Madani (?, f. 244a, where al-Shaykh al-Akbar (= Muhyi al-Din Ibn al-`Arabi (d. 638/1240), GAL S I, 800) seems to be mentioned as author). It is a collection of 360 questions and answers. Without clear indication of author. The number of questions is apparently define as one question for each day of the (lunar?) year (f. 1b). The first question: 'Why does the shahada consist of seven words and why of 28 letters?'
- On f. 244b is a quotation from Hashiyat Hilyat `Ali Celebi. Inside the front cover the names of the seven sleepers.
[* Ar. 3541]

Or. 11.800
Collective volume with texts in Turkish, paper, 92 ff., several hands and both naskh and nasta`liq scripts, half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards.
(1) ff. 1a-8a. Arithmetical notes, several sorts of operations, occasionally with explanatory texts. The calculations serve to illustrate questions of inheritance according to Islamic law.
(2) ff. 8b-15b. Ahwal al-Arba`in, a commentary on a work on the Islamic law of inheritance (Fara'id). No indication of author(s). Dated 1259 AH (f. 15b). F. 16a blank.
(3) ff. 16b-18b. Tarikat Mayyit. A text on the division of the portions of inheritance. No indication of author. Dated 16 Muharram (or Dhu al-Higga, ha ?) 1259 (f. 18b, with copyist verse in Turkish). It is apparently a shortened Turkish translation of the well-known Arabic treatise on the subject, al-Fara'id al-Siragiyya by Sirag al-Din Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Sagawandi (last part of 6th cent. AH), GAL G I, 378. Or. 11.796 (3), above, appears to be the same text.
(4) ff. 19b-91b. Extensive tables for the portions of inheritance. Occasionally provided with introductory of explanatory text sections. Often quite elaborate arithmetical operations are shown. Dated Saturday 18 Safar 1260, copied by al-Sayyid `Uthman Fawzi b. Ibrahim Safrihisari in the Madrasa Sarrafiyya in Bursa (f. 91b).
¶ Or. 11.796, above, is a similar manuscript.

Or. 11.804
Dutch, Malay, Batak, paper, 2 vols., 497 + xxxviii pp. (the manuscript part only).
Dutch-Malay-Batak dictionary. This is in fact an interleaved copy of P.P. Roorda van Eysinga, Nederduitsch en Maleisch Woordenboek. Batavia 1824. On the leaves that are pasted to the pages of the printed book is a Malay-Batak dictionary in manuscript. This was compiled under the supervision Lieutenant-Colonel A. van der Hart, in 1854 or earlier. Advice was asked in the course of 1855 by the Dutch minister of Colonial Affairs from H.C. Millies (1810-1868) about possible publication. Millies advised against it, as H.N. van der Tuuk was at that time busy collecting materials for a more expert dictionary. Then the volumes were stored in the Algemeen Rijksarchief (General State Archive) in The Hague. It is unclear under what circumstances the dictionary came in 1967 to the Leiden library.

This information is taken from a letter by Mrs. F. van Anrooij, charter master in the General State Archive, of April 21, 1983, to P. Voorhoeve (1899-1996), and letters by Voorhoeve, which are kept in the book.
Provenance: Formerly in the Library of the Ministry of Colonial Affairs, transferred to the Legatum Warnerianum in August 1967. Not in Voorhoeve's Codices Batacici (1977). Not in Iskandar's Catalogue (2000).

(Jan Schmidt:20.6.2001)Beste Jan Just,
Ik heb een blik geworpen op de colophon van Or. 11.830. Zou het niet kunnen zijn de copiist en de volgende twee erven van het Hs die eronder vermeld staan leden waren van de Mamlukken familie die Damascus regeerden voor de Osmanen de stad innamen (zie Zambaur, p. 31). Ik zie namelijk de naam Songorshah genoemd, alsmede Asghar, die beide in de genealogie van die familie voorkomen. Het is maar een suggestie.Groeten, Jan Hikayat Patani. Prints of microfilm A 116, of a Malay manuscript in the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. Registered on January 24, 1968.

Title in English: 'History of Patani, a kingdom on the east coast of the Peninsula of Malacca, near the Siam boundary. Copied by Abddullah ben Abdulkadir, a learned & accurate native of Malacca, at Singapore, 1839'. The microfilm A 166 was ordered from Washington for the edition and translation of the text by A. Teeuw and D.K. Wyatt, Hikayat Patani. The story of Patani. The Hague 1970 (2 vols.). The Washington MS is MS A of the edition.
Not in Iskandar's Catalogue of 1999.
¶ The copyist of the MS is the famous Munshi of that name.

Collection of Middle Eastern manuscripts, purchased in February 1968 from Mr. A.A. Fatatri, a private dealer of Egyptian origin, living in Leiden.

Or. 11.877
Arabic, paper, 25 ff., half-leather Islamic binding, pasted boards (marbled).
Incomplete copy (abrupt beginning) of the gloss by Hasan Celebi b. Muhammad Shah Ibn al-Fanari (d. 886/1481), GAL G II, 229-230, on al-Talwih fi Kashf Haqa'iq al-Tanqih, commentary by Sa`d al-Din Mas`ud b. `Abd al-Rahman al-Taftazani (d. 792/1390) on Tanqih al-Usul by `Ubayd Allah b. Mas`ud al-Mahbubi Sadr al-Shari`a al-Thani (d. 747/1347), GAL G II, 214. The glossator's colophon is dated end Sha`ban 885 (1480), after the gloss had begun (iftitah) to be written in Ramadan 883. Ahlwardt's description of the rather disorderly MS Berlin Mq. 145 (24), Ahlwardt 4397, does not give enough clues for a positive identification with the acephalous Leiden manuscript. A label on the outer front board says 'Talwih Hasan Celebi', hence the identification.

Or. 11.879

Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 292 ff.
(1) ff. 1b-189b. Mabariq al-Azhar fi Sharh Mashariq al-Anwar, commentary by `Izz al-Din `Abd al-Latif b. `Abd al-`Aziz al-Kirmani b. Malikshah, known as Ibn Firishta or Firishte-oghlu or Ibn Malak (d. 874/1469), GAL S II, 315, on Mashariq al-Anwar al-Nabawiyya min Sihah al-Akhbar al-Mustafawiyya by al-Hasan b. Muhammad al-Saghani (d. 650/1252), GAL S I, 613. Matn distinguished by red overlining. Identified with Leiden Or. 11.883, below. Dated Shawwal ... (?, date in siyaqat script) copied by `Umar b. H ... (?) al-Sahnawi (?) in Bursa (colophon on f. 189b).
(2) f. 190a. Hadith, on the phenomenon of sunset and the falling of the night, apparently copied from a work by Ibn Kamal al-Din (?).
(3) ff. 191a-216b. An old fragment (beginning missing) of an Arba`un hadithan (title on f. 216b). Not the collection by al-Nawawi.
(4) ff. 217a-279a. Another old fragment (beginning missing), copyist different from the copyist of the preceding text. Selections from (al-Mukhtarat min) Kitab Zahrat al-Riyad wa-Nuzhat al-Qulub al-Mirad by Sulayman b. Dawud al-Saqsini (fl. 550/1155), GAL S I, 776. Title and author on f. 279a. Identified with MS Berlin Pm. 556 (Ahlwardt 8823). The Berlin MS has 67 sessions (Magalis). The beginning in the present MS is the heading of the 22th Maglis in the Berlin MS. Apparently copied (`allaqaha) by Wagid al-Mawlawi (f. 279a). On f. 214b is a passage with the title Sifat al-Lawh wal-Qalam.
(5) ff. 279a-292b. Another old fragment, (same copyist as of previous text, except for f. 292b) apparently containing abstracts of Kitab Gawahir Qut al-Qulub. No further details on author or title are indicated. This may well be part of the work al-Wusul ila al-Gharad al-Matlub min Gawahir Qut al-Qulub, an abstract by Muhammad b. Khalaf b. Sa`id al-Andalusi (d. 485/1092, Kahhala 9:84), GAS I, 667, of Qut al-Qulub fi Mu`amalat al-Mahbub wa-Wasf Tariq al-Murid ila Maqam al-Tawhid, the mystical treatise by Muhammad b. `Ali Abu Talib al-Makki (d. 386/996), GAS I, 666-667; GAL G I, 200. The present MS is too ancient to be connected with the post-classical authors of other abstracts as mentioned by Fuat Sezgin in GAS I. The following chapter titles can be discerned: Bab al-Rahma (f. 280a), Bab al-Ganna wal-Nar (f. 282a), Bab al-Qiyama (f. 283a), Bab Akhir al-Zaman (f. 283b), Bab Fada'il al-Walad wa-Naf`ihi li-Abihi (f. 284a), fi al-Shuyukh (f. 185b), Fasl fil-Nukat (f. 289a), fi Bad' al-Dunya (f. 290b). The text appears to be complete at the end of f. 292b.

[* Ar. 3597]

Or. 11.919
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, Persian (No. 8) and Turkish (No. 7, 29), paper, 269 ff., main texts (Nos. 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 23, 24, 25, 35, 36) in one hand, naskh script, pagination also in Siyaqat script (?). That one hand for the main texts is dated 985 AH (f. 214b). Another cluster of texts is dated 926 AH (Nos. 39. 40, 41).
(1) ff. 1a-3a. Notes and quotations, in Arabic and Turkish.
(2) ff. 3b-14a. Incomplete copy (abrupt end in Hadith No. 30) apparently of an unidentified Arba`un Hadithan. The Hadith are counted, the first one is: Allahumma la Khayra illa Khayrak wa-la Tayra illa Tayrak wa-la Ilaha ghayrak.
(3) ff. 14b-23b. Unidentified collection of Hadith, containing 24 counted Hadith. The first is Innama al-A`mal bil-Niyyat.
(4) ff. 24a-26a. Notes and quotations. Also blank pages.
(5) ff. 26b-36b. Risala fi Daf` ma yata`allaqu bil-Dama'ir min al-Awham, or Risalat Tafkik al-Damir, by Ibn Kamal Pasha (d. 940/1533), GAL G II, 453, No. 116. Treatise on the correct use of the pronominal suffixes. No author indicated. The same text as MS Berlin We. 1772 (20), Ahlwardt 6892, and as Leiden Or. 1294 (9), above.
(6) ff. 37a-39a. Risala fi Nisbat al-Gam` by Ibn Kamal Pasha (d. 940/1533), GAL G II, 452, No. 110. The same text as MS Berlin We. 1824 (3), Ahlwardt 6862.
(7) ff. 39b-40b. Turkish. al-Sama`iyya. A poem on Arabic phonology, divided into twelve parts (naw`). Shaykh `Abd al-Qadir Gurgani is mentioned in the beginning. This may well be a mistake for `Abd al-Qahir b. `Abd al-Rahman al-Gurgani (d. 471/1078), GAL G I, 287, the author of Kitab al-`Awamil al-Mi'a and other works. Much the same wording as No. 8, below.
(8) ff. 41a-b. Persian. Poetical text on the `Awamil. Apparently made on the basis of Kitab al-`Awamil al-Mi'a by `Abd al-Qahir b. `Abd al-Rahman al-Gurgani (d. 471/1078), GAL G I, 287, who is mentioned in line 5. Much the same wording as No. 7, above.
(9) ff. 42a-43a. Prayers, in Turkish and Arabic. One piece for the Rigal al-Ghayb (f. 43a). On f. 42b a Da'ira, apparently in connection with this, written in pencil. Khidr is mentioned too (f. 43a).
(10) ff. 43b-46b. Nubdha min `Alamat al-Mahdi, taken from about seventy texts, divided into four sections (fasl). No author indicated. He is possibly the same as the author of the following text, `Ali b. Husam al-Din, known as al-Muttaqi al-Hindi (d. c. 975/1567), GAL G II, 384, who is the author of two works on the signs of the Mahdi, al-Burhan fi `Alamat al-Mahdi Akhir al-Zaman and Talkhis al-Bayan fi `Alamat al-Mahdi Akhir al-Zaman.

(11) ff. 47a-51a. Nayl al-Ma'mul fi Adab al-Du`a' wa-Shara'it al-Qubul, by `Ali b. Husam al-Din, known as al-Muttaqi al-Hindi (d. c. 975/1567), GAL G II, 384. This work not mentioned in GAL.
(12) ff. 51b-58a. al-Tibb al-Tamm li-Gami` al-Asqam, by `Ali b. Husam al-Din, known as al-Muttaqi al-Hindi (d. c. 975/1567), GAL G II, 384. This work not mentioned in GAL. Arranged in a preface, three sections (fasl) and an epilogue. About Hadith with medicinal value.
(13) ff. 58b-60bis b. Tidhkar al-Ni`am wal-`Ataya fi al-Shukr `ala al-Ni`ma wal-Sabr `ala al-Faqr wal-Balaya by `Ali b. Husam al-Din, known as al-Muttaqi al-Hindi (d. c. 975/1567), GAL G II, 384. This work not mentioned in GAL. F. 61a blank.
(14) ff. 61b-100a. Incomplete work (beginning and end are missing). An unidentified Sharh in which the Matn is distinguished by red overlining. The subject matter is apparently Fiqh. Sections are indicated by the terms Farida, Fa'ida, Ta`liqa, Tatimma. Ff. 101a-106a blank. Apparently a post-classical work, as can be seen from the authorities quoted.
(15) ff. 106b-110a. Short, untitled, treatise by someone who is possibly a pupil of Ibrahim b. Muhammad b. Ibrahim al-Halabi (d. 956/1549), GAL G II, 432, as might by deduced from the mention of that scholar's name on f. 108a. The text begins: al-Hamdu lillah alladhi zayyana al-`Alim bi-Nur al-Fiqh wal-Ihsan. The author professes to have starting to study only at the age of 40 years (f. 107a). Nasta`liq script. F. 110b blank.
(16) ff. 111a-117a. Sharh in Arabic to 5 distichs in Persian by al-Gamali al-Khalwati. The commentary begins after each bayt with ya ayyuha al-Muhibb. The distichs are distinguished by red overlining.
(17) ff. 117a-119b. al-Risala al-`Idiyya (title on f. 119b), a commentary by al-Gamali al-Khalwati (see also the previous text) on a quotation from al-Futuhat al-Makkiyya by Muhyi al-Din Ibn al-Arabi (d. 638/1240), GAL G I, 442.
(18) ff. 120a-139a. Incomplete copy (beginning missing) of al-Risala al-Ruhiyya (title on f. 139a). No indication of author. Not Ibn Kamal Pasha's Risala fi Tahqiq al-Ruh (Or. 981 (13), above).
(19) ff. 139b-144b. Rahat al-Arwah fi Daf` Afat al-Ashbah, a treatise on the plague by Ahmad b. Sulayman Ibn Kamal Pasha (d. 940/1533), GAL G II, 452, No. 102. Squares and tables. Divided in an antroduction and three chapters (bab). Another copy is Or. 981 (47), above. Ff. 145 a-b blank. Ff. 146a-147a notes and scribbling.
(20) ff. 147b-151a. Apparently a quotation (devoid of basmala) on the subject of Wugud, existence. Beginning: Qala al-Mutakallimun al-Wugud yanqasim ila ma la Awwal li-Wugudihi ...
(21) ff. 151b-152a. al-Risala al-`Adudiyya, by `Adud al-Din `Abd al-Rahman b. Ahmad al-Igi (d. 756/1355), GAL G II, 208. Ff. 152b-153a blank.
(22) ff. 153b-155a. Notes of different sorts and in several hands, in Arabic and Turkish. A list of musical modes (Maqamat) on ff. 153b-154a, quotations from Rumi's Mathnawi (f. 154b), a Su'al an Gawab by Muhyi al-Din Ibn al-`Arabi, etc.

(23) ff. 155b-163a. Risala fi Iman Fir`awn by Galal al-Din Muhammad b. As`ad al-Dawwani (d. 907/1501), GAL G II, 217, No. 7, with reference to Qur'an, sura 10:90. Another copy is Or. 981 (8), above.
(24) ff. 163b-168b. Unidentified treatise on the same subject as the previous text, with reference to the treatment by Muhyi al-Din Ibn al-`Arabi (d. 638/1240), GAL G I, 441, to the subject whether or not Fir`awn was a believer. Beginning: al-Hamdu lillah Rabb al-`Alamin wal-Salat `ala Sayyidina Muhammad ... F. 169a blank.
(25) ff. 169b-172a. Unidentified treatise on Madh, praise.
(26) ff. 172b-173a. Quotation from a commentary on al-Ta'iyya by `Umar Ibn Farid (d. 632/1235), cf. GAL G I, 262. Followed by notes (f. 173b) and blanks (ff. 174a-b).
(27) ff. 175a-177b. al-Risala al-Thalgiyya by Mustafa Chelebi, teacher in the Madrasa of Yilderim Khan (title on f. 175a). The text reads like a Maqama about snow, beginning: al-Hamdu lillah alladhi ga`ala fil-Sama' Burugan. Nasta`liq script, same hand as following text.
(28) ff. 177b-179b. A text similar to the preceding. MS Berlin Pm. 654 (3), Ahlwardt 8483 (and also Ahlwardt 6158), f. 312b, has the same text, where that one is entitled al-Risala al-Thalgiyya. Nasta`liq script, same hand as previous text.
(29) ff. 180a-b. Turkish. A poem (or just the end of it?) of 32 distichs, all rhyming in Sa`di, with whom is meant the Persian poet Sa`di Shirazi (d. 691 AH). F. 181a blank. Minute nasta`liq script.
(30) ff. 180b-183a. Notes and quotations, in poetry and prose, in Arabic, Persian and Turkish. Also two recipes (f. 182a-b).
(31) ff. 183b-189a. Persian. Treatise on medicine, without indication of author or title. Beginning: Bi-dan ke Badan-i Adami bi-Mathaba-yi Hagar ast ...
(32) ff. 189b-191a. Notes and quotations, in Arabic, Persian and Turkish.
(33) ff. 191b-194a. Incomplete copy (end not supplied) of an untitled and unidentified treatise on the different grammatical functions of the letters, which are treated here in alphabetical order, beginning: al-Alifat. Inna al-Alifat fi Kalam al-`Arab `ala Thalatha wa-`Ishrin Waghan ... Ends at the beginning of the treatment of Waw. Apparently a text that might be called al-Risala al-Harfiyya, but not identified by similar texts as mentioned by Ahlwardt in the Berlin catalogue. On f. 194b notes in Turkish.
(34) ff. 195a-204a. Mukhtasar al-Andalusi fi `Ilm al-`Arud, by Muhammad b. Husayn Abu al-Gaysh al-Andalusi (d. 626/1229), GAL G I, 310. F. 204b blank.
(35) f. 205a. Poem of 8 distichs, attributed to the imam `Ali b. Abi Talib. And another note about `Abdallah b. `Abbas.
(36) ff. 205b-214b. al-Tanbih `ala Ghalat al-Gahil wal-Nabih, by Ibn Kamal Pasha (d. 940/1533), GAL G II, 452, No. 106. Title on f. 206b. Dated on a Monday in the middle of Dhu al-Higga 985 (colophon on f. 214b).
(37) ff. 215a-216a. Siyaqat-i `Arabi. List for the conversion Siyaqat and 'Hindi' numbers. The fact that the present volume has a double foliation, one in Siyaqat numbers, possibly has a connection with this. On ff. 216a-b also a recipe and a prayer. F. 217a blank.
(38) ff. 217b-237b. Lubb al-Kafiya, commentary by `Abdallah b. `Umar al-Baydawi (d. 716/1316?), GAL G I, 417, on Kafiyat Dhawi al-Adab fi `Ilm Kalam al-`Arab, by Gamal al-Din

`Uthman b. `Umar Ibn al-Hagib (d. 646/1249), GAL G I, 303. Beginning: al-Hamdu lillah alladhi rafa`a al-Gazimayn bi-Wahdaniyyatihi ...
Calligraphic quality, with 'rubrics' in gold ink. Identified with Or. 11.766 (8), above.
(39) ff. 238a-244a. Tahqiq al-Maqal fi Khalq al-A`mal, by Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Dawwani (d. 907/1501), GAL G II, 218. The risala is also know as Risala fi Khalq al-A`mal. Written at the request of Sa`d al-Din Muhammad al-Astarabadi by Galal al-Din Muhammad b. As`ad al-Dawwani (d. 907/1501), GAL G II, 217. Beginning: Amma ba`da Hamd Fattah al-Qulub ... Identified with MS Leiden Or. 179 (5), above.
(40) ff. 244b-251a. al-Zawra', or Risalat al-Zawra', by Galal al-Din Muhammad b. As`ad al-Dawwani (d. 907/1501), GAL G II, 217. Dated a Sunday in Muharram 926. (f. 251a). Identified with Leiden Or. 179 (2), above.
(41) ff. 251b-267b. al-Hawra' fi Sharh al-Zawra', commentary by Galal al-Din Muhammad b. As`ad al-Dawwani (d. 907/1501), GAL G II, 218, on his own al-Zawra', or Risalat al-Zawra'. Identified with Leiden Or. 179 (1), above. Dated a Monday in the end of Muharram 926 (colophon on f. 267b, with copyist verses in Persian). On ff. 268a-269b are notes, recipes, etc., in Turkish, and scribbling.

On ff. (4)b – (5)a is a table of contents with reference to the page numbers.
On ff. (4)b – 1a. Several Hadith.
Main text in the volume is on ff. 1b-262b. Mafatih al-Ginan wa-Masabig al-Ganan, commentary by Ya`qub b. Sayyid `Ali al-Rumi `Alizada al-Banbani (d. 931/1524, title and name on f. 262a), on Kitab Shari`at al-Islam ila Dar al-Salam (also: Shir`at), by Rukn al-Islam Sadid al-Din Muhammad b. Abi Bakr al-Bukhari Imamzada al-Sharghi (d. 573/1177), GAL S I, 642. At the end (ff. 262a-b) a list of the books used. Matn is distinguished by red overlining. Identified with MS Berlin Pet. 570 (Ahlwardt 1734).
Another copy of this text is Or. 11.719, above.
[* Ar. 3606]

Or. 11.928
Arabic, paper, 238 ff., naskh script, half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards, lined with leather strips.
Incomplete copy (end not supplied) of al-Fawa'id al-Diya'iyya, or al-Fawa'id al-Wafiya fi Hall Mushkilat al-Kafiya, commentary completed on Saturday 11 Ramadan 897 by `Abd al-Rahman b. Ahmad al-Gami 'Molla Gami' (d. 898/1492, on the Kafiyat Dhawi al-Adab fi `Ilm Kalam al-`Arab, by Gamal al-Din `Uthman b. `Umar Ibn al-Hagib (d. 646/1249), GAL G I, 303. Matn distinguished by red overlining.
[* Ar. 3607]

Or. 11.929
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 46 ff., different hands (some quite old), half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards.
(1) ff. 1b-31bis b. Hashiya by al-Sayyid al-Sharif al-Gurgani (d. 816/1413), GAL G II, 216, on al-Sharh al-Mutawwal, the larger commentary by Mas`ud b. `Umar al-Taftazani (d. 792/1390), GAL G II, 215, on Miftah al-`Ulum, by Yusuf b. Abi Bakr al-Sakkaki (d. 626/1229), GAL G I, 294. This cannot be the complete text of the Hashiya if one compares it to the text in Or. 12.088, below. The beginning of both MSS is identical, however, except that Or. 12.088 skips the introductory paragraph. On f. 1a table of contents. Shift of copyists and sorts of paper between ff. 24-25. The first part makes an old impression.
(2) ff. 33a-46a. An anonymous gloss on (?) Sharh Marah al-Arwah, commentary by Shams al-Din Ahmad b. Dunquz (lived during the reign of Mehmed II, 855-886/1451-1481), on Marah al-Arwah, by Ahmad b. `Ali Ibn Mas`ud (beginning 8/14th cent.), GAL G II, 21; S II, 14. The script and paper make an old impression. Identification on the basis of notes on f. 33a. This is not the Sharh, however, as is borne out by Or. 11.975 and Or. 12.087, below. Marginal notes. Apparently an independent booklet, as may be surmised from the tear and wear caused by a flap on f. 33.

The volume is a personal collection of texts, made by the copyist, containing 'regular' texts, and quotations of all sorts. The copyist has made a waqf of his book, a note of which is found on f. 5b. The elaborate waqf note is given by Dawlat Efendi al-Khalidi al-Naqshbandi al-Mugaddidi al-Muhagir al-Charkasi, living in Düzche in 'Mamlakat Anadol'. Several titles of books are mentioned, all of which are available in this volume. The note is dated Saturday 24 Ramadan 1282 and sealed by the Waqif.
(2) f. 6a. Quotation, taken from a work entitled al-Mafatih, possibly Mafatih al-Ginan, as in the following text, with an overlined Madh.
(3) ff. 6b-8b. Quotations, in one hand (namely of the Waqif of f. 5b), from several sources. On f. 6b is a Fasl fi Sunan al-Dhikr, taken from Mafatih al-Ginan. Other quotations, where are mentioned as sources: Ruh al-Bayan, apparently a work on tafsir, and from a work entitled Tabaqat.
(4) ff. 9a-16a. Bulugh al-Maram fi Ta`bir al-Ru'ya wal-Manam, or Ta`bir al-Ru'ya, a work on the interpretation of dreams by Abu al-Hasan `Ali b. Sa`id al-Khawlani, known as Ibn al-Qassar al-Qawari, GAL S II, 1039, No. 18. Divided into 30 chapters (bab). Correction by paste-over (f. 11a). Dated 1269 AH (f. 16a).
(5) f. 16a. Qissa `Agiba. The story of Harut and Marut, taken from a Hashiya on the Tafsir al-Galalayn.
(6) f. 16b. Bayan al-Niyyat al-Masnuna wal-Mashuba. A collection of niyya formulas.
(7) f. 17a. Bayan ma `alayhi Asl al-Mahkama al-Thalath fi Igra' Umurihim. Followed by notes on other subjects, on `Aql and `Ilm, ayyuhuma Afdal, and a Qissa on al-Safa wal-Muruwwa.
(8) ff. 17b-26a. Tafsir of several sura's, in the form of a running commentary, where the Qur'anic text is distinguished by overlining. Sura 1, 93-114. See also No. 13, below, and No. 29, below.
(9) f. 26a. Quotation from a work entitled Shar`at al-Islam.
(10) f. 26b. Bayan Hal Qira'at al-Qur'an, from a work entitled Tanbih al-Ghafilin. Also on the page a note on dream interpretation, fi Ru'yat al-Muhimmat fil-Manam, quoted from a work entitled Shar`at al-Islam. And also quotations from Mafatih al-Ginan.
(11) f. 27a. al-Qira'a kharig al-Salat, taken from a work by al-Halabi.
(12) ff. 27b-35b. al-Bab al-`Ashir fi Adab al-Salikin min Ahl al-Tariqa. The tenth chapter of an unidentified work, on Sufi ethics.
(13) ff. 35b-36b. Tafsir of several sura's, in the form of a running commentary, where the Qur'anic text is distinguished by overlining. Sura 66. See also No. 8, above, and No. 29, below.
(14) ff. 36b-37a. Quotations from Mafatih al-Ginan.
(15) ff. 37b-38a. Sunan al-Ta`am, on manners of eating. Extract from a work entitled al-Gawahir, which contains quotations from other works, such as Khulasat al-Fatawa.

Or. 11.953
Arabic, with some Turkish, paper, 82 ff., gilded `unwan (f. 3b).
Incomplete copy (end missing) of an anonymous commentary on al-Fara'id al-Siragiyya, the well-known Hanafi work on the Islamic law of succession, by Sirag al-Din Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Sagawandi (last part of 6th cent. AH), GAL G I, 378. Not the commentary by al-Sayyid al-Sharif al-Gurgani (compared with MS Leiden Or. 11.802, above). Figures and tables in the text. Beginning: *al-Hamdu lillah Rabb al-`Alamin wal-Salat wal-Salam `ala Sayyidina Muhammad wa-`ala Alihi wa-`ala Gami` al-Anbiya' wal-Mursalin. Qala al-Musannif rahimahu Allah: bismillahi al-Rahmani al-Rahim, al-Hamdu lillah. wa-Innama bada bi-bismillah ...*The matn is distinguished by red overlining.
On ff. 1a-2b, 82a notes in Turkish and Arabic. Recipes, a table of contents of the main work on the Islamic law of succession, copy of a Turkish letter from Sulayman al-Qadi to `Uthman Efendi, dated 1187 AH, etc.
[* Ar. 3632]

Or. 11.954
Arabic, with some Turkish, paper, 137 ff., naskh script, several copyists, dated Safar 975/1567, copied by Haggi `Ali b. Haggi Khalil b. Haggi Aywaz b. Khalil (colophon on f. 109b, the date also on ff. 40b, 48b, 58b, 63a, 68b, 69a, 101b, 106b, 110a, 120a, 131a).

A selection of 7 Qur'anic sura's with instructions of use. The volume contains sura's 6, 31, 44, 48, 55, 56 and 67. Also added sura's 92-114.
Several shorter notes in Turkish and headers in Turkish (e.g. ff. 59a, ff. 63b-67b), and numerous instances make it clear that this Arabic book functioned in a Turkophone environment. More details in Masahif Leiden.

Or. 11.961
Arabic, paper, 38 ff., naskh script, numerous squares, circles and tables (some empty), blue velvet European binding.
Mukhtasar, compendium on Awfaq (magical squares and tables) by Lutf Allah b. Ahmad al-Mi`mar al-Lahuri of Kashf Haqa'iq al-Asrar by Tag al-Din Hasan b. `Ali b. Abi al-Karam al-Tustari. The former tells how he is sent by the Moghul Sultan Dara Shikoh (executed in 1069 AH) to Shahgahanabad for designing his (= Dara Shikoh) buildings, near those of his father (= Shah Gahan). There he associated with al-Shaykh `Abd al-Wahhab al-Bukhari, in whose library he saw the book on the basis of which he compiled the present compendium. It is fairly probably that the author saw the use of such a work for his own occupation, architecture.
Provenance: Purchased on June 25, 1968, from Messrs. Otto Harrassowitz, Oriental booksellers in Wiesbaden, Germany.

Or. 11.962 - Or. 12.024
Collection of Middle Eastern manuscripts, purchased in May 1968 from Mr. A.A. Fatatri, an Egyptian private dealer, based in Leiden. The collection is said to originate from one or more private collections in Istanbul and/or Anatolia. Generally speaking this is true, but a few manuscripts that probably originate from Daghestan can be distinguisged (Or. 11.962, Or. 11.964, Or. 11.964b, Or. 11.965), one comes probably from Morocco (Or. 11.969), and one probably from Egypt (Or. 12.119).

Or. 11.962
Arabic, with some Persian, paper, 12 + 315 ff. (f. 243 numbered twice, the numerous loose and pasted inserts not included, which might have doubled the number of folios in the volume), several hands, full leather Islamic binding with flap, blind tooled ornaments (borders, corner pieces, medallion). The MS might well originate from the same source as Or. 11.964 and Or. 11.965, below (Caucasus, Daghestan?).
12 ff. of prelims, containing a multitude of notes, quotations, masa'il, squares, also poetry. Similar at the end ff. 311b-315b. Main text runs from ff. 1a-311a.
As yet unidentified running gloss by Nur Allah al-Khwarizmi (?) on a commentary on the compendium (Mukhtasar) on Shafi`ite fiqh, al-Muharrar by Abu al-Qasim `Abd al-Karim b. Muhammad al-Rafi`i (d. 623/1226), GAL G I, 393 (author of the matn mentioned on f. 2a). Two parts (more or less coinciding with the `ibadat and mu`amalat) by two different copyists (with replacements and additions in other hands), combined in one binding. Apparently incomplete, as the text ends with the Kitab al-Nikah (f. 311a). The Matn is distinguished by overlining in different colours. Numerous marginal and interlinear notes, and inserts (with texts, notes, letters, etc., also in Persian), and also on the preliminary and final leaves. One of the inserts is a printed leaf, dated Bursa, 3 Ragab 1308.

Arabic, paper, 3 + 306 ff., naskh script, dated 24 Sha`ban 1207, copied from the autograph by `Umar b. Mustafa, known as Rindazada, who needed 140 days for his work (colophon on f. 306a). Full leather Islamic binding with flap, blind tooled borders and medallion.
Minah al-Ghaffar -Sharh Tanwir al-Absar, commentary by Shams al-Din Muhammad b. `Abdallah al-Timirtashi al-Ghazzi al-Hanafi (d. 1004/1595), GAL G II, 311, on his own compendium on Hanafi furu`, entitled Tanwir al-Absar wa-Gami` al-Bihar. Identified with MS Berlin Lbg. 101 (Ahlwardt 4622). In the prelims is a table of contents with reference to the folio numbers (2 pp.).
- Added in the prelims, on 2 pp., Dibagat al-Durr al-Mukhtar Sharh Tanwir al-Absar, the introductory part of al-Durr al-Mukhtar, the abbreviated version by `Ala' al-Din b. `Ali b. Muhammad al-Haskafi (d. 1088/1677), of his large commentary, Khaza'in al-Asrar wa-Mabadi' al-Afkar, or al-Tahrir `ala al-Tanwir, on the Tanwir al-Absar wa-Gami` al-Bihar by Shams al-Din Muhammad b. `Abdallah al-Timirtashi al-Ghazzi al-Hanafi (d. 1004/1595), GAL G II, 311.

Or. 11.964

Arabic, paper, 216 ff., excluding the many inserts. Naskh script, of calligraphic quality, often with bold script of wildness and beauty, dated Sunday eve in Rabi` I 1148, copied in the village Khashdad, in the district Baklal, with the copyist's master Ghazi Muhammad, by Qurban Muhammad al-Nadri from the district (Nahiya?) of Hablab (?) b. `Umar b. `Ali (colophon on f. 214b). Calligraphic ex-libris of Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Shafakhi (pasted over another ex-libris?, f. 1a). Full-leather Islamic binding, with flap, with simple blind tooled ornaments (borders, lines). Apparently a book from Daghestan as becomes clear from Or. 11.964 b, below.
Volume 2 only of Sharh al-Minhag al-Mawsum bi-Mahalli (f. 1a), or al-Mahalli fi Sharh al-Minhag (f. 214b). It concerns in fact the commentary by Galal al-Din Muhammad b. Ahmad b. Ibrahim al-Mahalli (864/1460) on the Shafi`ite work Minhag al-Talibin, the compendium by Yahya b. Sharaf al-Nawawi (d. 676/1278), GAL G I, 394, of al-Muharrar by `Abd al-Karim b. Muhammad al-Rafi`i (d. 623/1226), GAL G I, 393. According to a note on f. 214b, just before the colophon, the Mu'allif (= al-Mahalli) would have completed the text on 3 Rabi` II 360, but this does not make sense. It is a scribal error for 860 AH (see the corresponding passage in MS Leiden Or. 1784b, f. 285b). The first chapter is Kitab al-Fara'id. The end of the matn has been identified with al-Nawawi's Minhag (MS Berlin Mo. 376 (Ahlwardt 4522). The present volume of the commentary has been identified with MS Leiden Or. 1784 b.
Heavy glossing, both in the regular pages of the volume and on the loose inserts. On f. 214b also the text of a Wasiyya. The volume contains numerous interesting traces of intensive use. Also shorter Fatwa's on the inserts.

Or. 11.964 b
Added to the preceding manuscript as a loose quire of 6 ff., written on Russian paper, containing a text in Arabic with the title Agwiba Khafniyya `ala As'ila Daghestaniyya by Muhammad al-Khafnawi ('Sibt al-Imam Husayn'), given as answer to question put by 'Fadil min Afadil Daghestan'. Possibly an autograph copy of this text. Dated 24 Safar 1308 (title and author on ff. 6a, 1a). In all, fifty questions and answers.
[* in: Ar. 3640]

Or. 11.965
Arabic, paper, 319 ff., including the numerous paste-ins, excluding the many inserts. Naskh script, of calligraphic quality, often with bold script of wildness and beauty. Several inserts and paste-ins are of Russian paper, hence the volume probably has a Central Asian or (perhaps more probably) a Caucasian (Daghestani) origin (as the previous manuscript), copied by Ghaziwi `Umar al-Khibali (colophon on f. 316a), who also signs as the owner (calligraphic ex-libris on f. 4a). Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards.
Hada'iq al-Daqa'iq fi Sharh Risalat `Alamat al-Haqa'iq, commentary by Sa`d al-Din Sa`d Allah al-Barda`i (10/16th cent.?) on al-Unmudhag fil-Nahw by Gar Allah Mahmud b. `Umar al-Zamakhshari (d. 538/1144), GAL G I, 291, being an abridgment of his own al-Mufassal. Identified with MS Berlin Spr. 1011 (1), Ahlwardt 6518, by the beginning, as the Berlin MS is incomplete. Heavy glossing, both in the regular pages of the volume, on the paste-ins and on the loose inserts. The volume contains numerous interesting traces of intensive use.
[* Ar. 3641]

Or. 11.966
Arabic, with some Turkish, paper, 248 ff., dated 1219 AH, copied by Muhammad b. Isma`il (colophon on f. 247a, with a copyist verse in Turkish), full leather Islamic binding with flap, and simple blind tooling ornamentation.
Gloss by `Abd al-Hakim al-Siyalkuti (d. 1060/1650), GAL G II, 417, on al-Sharh al-Mutawwal, the larger commentary by Mas`ud b. `Umar al-Taftazani (d. 792/1390), GAL G II, 215, on Miftah al-`Ulum, by Yusuf b. Abi Bakr al-Sakkaki (d. 626/1229), GAL G I, 294. On the lower edge: Hashiyat Mutawwal al-Musamma Siyalkuti. Structure: Qawluhu.

Or. 11.967
Collective volume with texts in Turkish and Arabic, paper, 55 ff., several hands, dated 1154 AH (f. 55a), half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards.
(1) ff. 1a-2a. Notes in Arabic and Turkish, on Islamic sects and other subjects. Naskh script.
(2) ff. 2b-13a. Kitab [...] al-Ahadith al-Nabawiyya fil-Adwiya wal-At`ima, collected by Abu al-Qasim al-Nisaburi (possibly identical with the author going by that name, mentioned in GAL S I, 733, who was active in 553/1158). Copied by (?) `Umar Tabardaran, khassa-yi Chiraghiyan-i Dawud Pasha Katkhuda-yi Khazina-yi Shariyari (f. 13a).

(3) ff. 13a-19b. Collection of shorter texts, partly copied by the same copyist who wrote No. 2. Du`a' Ginaza, Su'al Qabr, etc., in a mix of Arabic and Turkish, with numerous other notes, shorter pieces, quotations, etc.
(4) f. 20a-. Turkish commentary on the Qasidat al-Burda, by al-Busiri (d. 694/1294), GAL G I 264. The Burda is distinguished by red overlining. Very tightly written nasta`liq script. Dated 1154 AH (f. 55a)
[* Ar. 3643]

Or. 11.968
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 58 ff., nasta`liq (No. 1) and naskh script (No. 2). Dated 1278 AH (ff. 52a, 58a), half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards.
(1) ff. 1b-52a. Mughni al-Tullab (ff. 1b, 2a), commentary by Mahmud b. Hasan al-Maghnisi on al-Isaghugi, the textbook on logic by Athir al-Din al-Abhari (d. 663/1265), GAL G I, 464; S I, 843, No. 11. Dated 1278 AH, copied by Qunbur b. Bahlul from the village Ayqugcha (?, colophon on f. 52a).
(2) ff. 52b-58a. al-Isaghugi, the textbook on logic by Athir al-Din al-Abhari (d. 663/1265), GAL G I, 464. Dated 1278 AH (f. 58a)
[* Ar. 3644]

Or. 11.969
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 259 ff. (f. 161 numbered twice), naskh script with maghribi features (ff. 1b-199b) 239a) and a purely maghribi script (ff. 200b-257a, several hands), full-leather Islamic binding, with flap, and gilded tooling, in Maghribi style. On the prelims owner's marks in Turkish, written in nasta`liq, from which can be concluded that the book had come to the East. None of the titles in this volume is mentioned among the 47 titles given by Sarkis, col. 1601-1606.
(1) ff. 1b-160b. Madhhab al-Makhuf `ala Da`wat al-Huruf, Ad`iya by Ma' al-`Aynayn b. al-Shaykh Muhammad Fadil b. Mamayn (?) (d. 1328/1910), GAL S II, 890. Prayers arranged in sections, fusul, according to the beginning letter. Occasionally tables are given. When the alphabet has been run through, prayers by famous saints are given, e.g. `Abd al-Qadir al-Gili (f. 122b), Anas b. Malik (f. 129a), etc. Dated Friday 29 Shawwal 1308, copied by the author's pupil Ahmad b. al-Shams Muhammad (colophon on ff. 158a-b). Poetical Madh by the copyist on the present work: ff. 158b-160b.
(2) ff. 160b-199b. al-Mashrab al-Zulal wal-Ghina bi-la Zawal fil-Salat `ala Afdal al-Rigal, or Ma'man al-Kha'ifin wa-Malga' al-Haribin wa-Qasd al-Talibin fil-Salat `ala Afdal al-`Alimin (titles on f. 161 bis a. The work is described as a Mukhtasar fil-Salat `ala al-Nabi. No author indicated, but this could be the same of No. 1, above. Dated Saturday 27 Rabi` I 1305 (f. 199a), copied by the author's pupil Ahmad al-Shams, of whom a Madh follows (ff. 199a-b).
(3) ff. 200b-239a. Hizb Asrar al-Basmala compiled in the first decade of Ramadan 1284 (f. 201b) by Ma' al-`Aynayn b. al-Shaykh Muhammad Fadil b. Mamayn (d. 1328/1910), GAL S II, 890. The text is divided in four more or less equal parts (Rub`, Nisf, etc.). On ff. 238a-239a is a Madh by Muhammad al-Shams on this Hizb.

(4) ff. 240a-257a. al-Sitr al-Da'im lil-Mudhannib al-Ha'im, by Ma' al-`Aynayn b. al-Shaykh Muhammad Fadil b. Mamayn (d. 1328/1910), GAL S II, 890. The text is referred to as an Ikhtisar concerning Dhikr al-Salat `ala al-Nabi al-Mukhtar (ff. 240b-241a), and as a Hizb (f. 257a). F. 257b-259b blank. Polychrome and calligraphic text.

Or. 11.973
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 166 ff., naskh (Nos. 1-3) and nasta`liq (No. 4) scripts, several copyists, half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards. Dated 1117 AH (ff. 38a, 136b).

PREFACE TO VOLUME THIRTEEN

This is not a catalogue, nor a handlist. It is just what is says to be on the title-page, an inventory. The present volume contains the inventory, or in more simple words, the list of all acquisitions of Oriental manuscript materials in the Library of Leiden University, which entered the Library between May 1968 and somewhere in 1973. This choice of period is determined by nothing else than the fact that the volumes of the series of inventories of the Leiden Oriental Collections comprise one thousand items. The present volume contains descriptions of the manuscripts which are registered as Or. 12.001 till Or. 13.000 in the 'Journaal', the handwritten inventory of the Legatum Warnerianum, which is kept by the curators in the Library. As such it is the thirteenth volume of a projected multi-volume inventory of the collections of Oriental manuscripts in Dutch collections. The volumes of the inventory of the Legatum Warnerianum each contain information on a thousand manuscripts, in order to make the files not too large and thereby unworkable.

A few words of explanation may be added to this. For a long while the 'Journaal' of the Legatum Warnerianum was a tool of retrieval for the Oriental collections, mostly for lack of anything better. It contains, with a varying degree of detail, basic bibliographical information about the new acquisitions. The most important elements of such a registration are the (unchangeable) class-mark (in the Or.-series), the shelf-mark (which only serves the purpose of finding the manuscript in the stacks), the language of the manuscript, and some detail about its content. In addition, the provenance of the material was noted, and often also the price paid. Especially these last mentioned elements were deemed to be confidential, at least for some time. The successive directors of the Leiden library were of the opinion that if such trade information were made available to the public it might jeopardize the negotiating position of the Library, which itself is a player of some importance on the antiquarian market. Making the names of the suppliers to the Library public, so was their opinion, would attract competitive individuals to those same suppliers, and could make it more difficult for the Library to conclude deals.

When I advised the University Librarian Mr. J.R. de Groot in the course of 1977, for precisely these reasons to close the 'Journaal' for the public, it was immediately felt that an alternative tool should be created, as it was feared that an increasing part of the collection would become unavailable for the readers in the Legatum Warnerianum. Several larger cataloguing projects have been undertaken since then. I only need to refer to the catalogues of manuscripts in Hebrew (1977), Batak (1977), Javanese (1980), Arabic (ongoing since 1982), Balinese (1986-1987), Acehnese (1994), Malay (1998, 2007, two volumes published so far), Turkish (2000-2006, three volumes published so far),[1]

[1] References to Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts in the Library of Leiden University and other collections in the Netherlands. Volume Two comprising the acquisition of Turkish manuscripts in Leiden University Library between 1800 and 1970 (Leiden 2002), and Volume Three comprising the acquisition of Turkish manuscripts in Leiden University Library between 1970 and 2003 (Leiden 2006) have been included in the present volume. In many instances I have now profited of Jan Schmidt's more precise identification of quite a number of Turkish texts. It may be mentioned and a few more projects are on the brink of completion. However, all of these catalogues have features that are different, depending on the nature of the materials described and the bibliographical requirements within a specific field of study. And these catalogues are, necessarily, not following the order of acquisition in the Library at a quick pace. For most of the above catalogues the expertise had to be acquired from outside the Library, either on a voluntary basis from the authors who were retired or otherwise employed, or by organizing a project of cataloguing with financial support from outside the University. Irrespective of the arrangement, the catalogues would always be far behind the actual pace of acquisition. Nor would the catalogues, which are usually organized by language of the manuscripts, cover the whole of the collection. The compilation of a certain type of acquisition lists has been undertaken, for a while, but the results were not very satisfactory. And in the meantime the Oriental collections in the Leiden Library experienced an unprecedented growth, making a solution of this problem only more urgent, but at the same time more difficult to find.

In the course of 1999, I finally decided, after considerable hesitation, to make electronic inventory lists of the Oriental collections in the Leiden Library, and if necessary of those in other Dutch institutions as well. The present list is one of the results of my work and it is hoped to be useful to the Library's readers.

I will shortly explain the way in which this inventory was compiled. As the Oriental manuscript collections in Leiden and the Netherlands contain materials in more than a hundred languages, it is evident that there is no person on earth who is able to compile such an inventory by first-hand knowledge. I do have a long-standing knowledge of Arabic and Persian, and I combine this with some working knowledge of Turkish, Urdu and Malay. That is a lot, but it is not enough by far. So for a considerable number of manuscripts I have had to rely on data made available by others more competent in their own fields than I. Digital scans have been made of some of the older and more recent catalogues, and the information contained therein was often checked against the originals and then cast into the fixed format of this inventory. For the present volume this was done with the fourth volume of Pigeaud's catalogue of Javanese manuscripts (1980) and with Teuku Iskandar's catalogue of Malay manuscripts.[2] Also P. Voorhoeve's descriptions (in Dutch) of the Batak manuscripts were included after scanning, not in Dutch but in my English translation.[3] I do not, of course, claim authorship of such information, as I am only the compiler of the present inventory, using numerous here, however, that he had at his hands an earlier version of my descriptions of the Fatatri and Taeschner collections, all described by me personally and by autopsy, which I had put at his disposal when he was preparing his catalogue. I put this on the record here since I have so far failed to discover even the slightest reference by Dr. Schmidt to my work which must have spared him a lot of time and effort.

sources. Claiming anything else would be preposterous, and I cannot but advise the user of the inventory to always consult the sources to which reference is made in the entries. These may be fuller and more detailed than the entry in the present inventory, though not always. When somehow text by others is incorporated in the present inventory, I do not, of course, monopolize authorship of it. Whenever text by others is quoted, I have mentioned source and origin. On the other hand, I should not be too modest. The manufacture of the present list, however, was done by my own personal initiative and is a result of my own personal creativity. And it took most of many stamina for a number of years.
Not all manuscripts mentioned in the present volume were viewed by autopsy. The sheer number of manuscripts makes this impossible. At a later stage this may be achieved, but trying to achieve this at the present stage of inventorizing would seriously hamper the progress of the project. When a manuscript was not inspected this can be seen from a simple typographical device. Whenever the indication of the shelf-mark is put between round brackets, I have not, or not extensively, inspected the manuscript itself, and its entry in the present inventory is based mostly or entirely on secondary sources, be they published or not. When the shelf-mark is put between square brackets and preceded by an asterisk, this means that I have had the manuscript in my hands, at least once but probably more often, and that the description contains elements that can only be seen in the original manuscript. Such autopsy does not mean that I am, automatically, the author of all information given under that particular class-mark. For the manuscripts described in the present volume there was sometimes important information provided by the supplier of the material. These, and the material itself, form the basis of the information contained in the present volume.
The basic elements for each entry of the present inventory are: 1. class-mark, 2. language(s), 3. details of physical description, 4. survey of the contents, 5. provenance, 6. location on the shelf. Depending on the nature of the material, exceptions and divergences are made from this strict arrangement. The collective provenance of a series of manuscripts may be concentrated into a short text, preceding that series, without being repeated under each class-mark.

The present inventory is not a publication in the old-fashioned sense that it is an unchangeable monolith, just as the earlier catalogues are. Books of this sort need no longer be written in such a way. It is nothing more than a reflection of the state of research of today on the Oriental manuscripts which it contains. As an electronic book the inventory the information is kept up-to-date by updated versions. Since the inventory is published as an electronic book, it retains the powerful search possibilities which no work on paper has. For the moment this must suffice as a searching tool.
On the longer term I see the development of this inventory as follows. When all descriptions and entries are completed, and after a basic editorial activity on it has been performed, a search engine will be designed which will enable the user to quickly find an answer to his or her bibliographical queries, with all the advanced possibilities of an electronic tool. At that stage the by then electronic inventory and the search engine will be made available to the public, possibly in a constantly updated version in Ter Lugt Press' website, and/or by a regular update on CD-Rom, or on whatever medium is available and more suitable by that time. Obvious advantages of linking, imaging and the like, which are now still in development, will not be avoided. In addition, it is probable that such an electronic inventory will stimulate the publication of in-depth catalogues of part of the collections. The mass of bibliographical information which is herewith provided will, I hope, also give a stimulus to cataloguers ofr manuscript collections outside Leiden or the Netherlands.

I end with an important note. Although the inventories which I am publishing here contain descriptions of public and private collections, which will no doubt profit of the existence of electronic versions of my work, none of my inventories has ever been made at the express insistence or at the specific demand of these institutions. The very idea to compile such inventories, the invention of their format and structure, the acquisition of the necessary information from a multitude of primary and secondary sources, the way of publishing, all this is my idea and my work alone. It is therefore my sole property and I assert the moral right of the authorship of form and content of these inventories, with reference, of course, to what I have said above about the method of compilation.

INVENTORY OF THE ORIENTAL MANUSCRIPTS OF THE LIBRARY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF LEIDEN

VOLUME 13

MANUSCRIPTS OR. 12.001 – OR. 13.000
ACQUISITIONS OF LEIDEN UNIVERSITY LIBRARY
IN THE PERIOD BETWEEN MAY 1968 AND AND MID-1973

Sequel to the series Or. 11.962 - Or. 12.024
Collection of Middle Eastern manuscripts, purchased in May 1968 from Mr. A.A. Fatatri, an Egyptian private dealer, based in Leiden. The collection is said to originate from one or more private collections in Istanbul and/or Anatolia. Generally speaking this is true, but a few manuscripts that probably originate from Daghestan can be distinguisged (Or. 11.962, Or. 11.964, Or. 11.964b, Or. 11.965), one comes probably from Morocco (Or. 11.969), and one probably from Egypt (Or. 12.119).

Or. 12.001
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 92 ff., several hands, half-leather Islamic binding with flap, pasted boards.
(1) ff. 1b-40a. Sharh Risalat Dhukhr al-Muta'ahhilin, or Zad al-Mutazawwigin, commentary by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573), GAL G II, 441, on his own Risalat Dhukhr al-Muta'ahhilin wal-Nisa' fi Ma`rifat al-Athar wal-Dima'. Identified with MS Berlin Pm. 235 (2) Ahlwardt 4672. Matn distinguished by overlining. Dated on Monday 8 Ragab 1152. Copied in Mekka, al-Madrasa al-Sulaymaniyya, by al-Hagg `Ali b. al-Hagg Muhammad al-Rahusi (colophon on f. 40a).
(2) ff. 41b-86b. Kitab Misbah al-Mishkat fil-Ahadith. Anonymous. The authors tells (f. 42b) that he wishes to produce some Hadith which contain life rules, on how to behave and how not. Dated Friday 26 Shawwal 1206 (colophon on f. 86b). On ff. 41b-42a is a table of contents. At the bottom of f. 42a is a list of abbreviations for bibliographical references, used in the work.
(3) ff. 87b-90a. Tafsir Surat al-Mulk. Anonymous commentary of Surat al-Mulk (Qur'an 67). The sura is also called al-Wafiya al-Mungiya, because she saves its reader from the Punishment of the Fire (f. 87b). The Qur'anic text can be recognized by the overlining and/or the full vocalization. The entire sura is treated. Same copyist as No. 4.
(4) ff. 90a-91a. Tafsir Surat al-Qalam. Anonymous commentary of Surat al-Qalam (Qur'an 68). Abrupt end on f. 91a, in the exegesis of aya 17. Same copyist as No. 3.
[* Ar. 3677]

Or. 12.002
Collective volume with texts in Turkish and Arabic, with some Persian, paper, 77 ff., half-leather Islamic binding, pasted board (end board lacking).
f. 1a. Notes in Arabic, also some lines of Persian poetry.

(1) ff. 2b-72a. Turkish. Muqaddimat al-Tagwid fi al-Kalam al-Magid. Author not indicated. Dated beginning Sha`ban 1039. Copied by Yusuf b. `Abdallah (colophon on ff. 71b-72a).
(2) ff. 72b-75a. Part or whole of a mathnawi in Turkish, with its first heading on f. 72b Kitab-i Qawa`id-i Qur'an.
(3) ff. 75a-76b. Arabic. Fal al-Qur'an. Anonymous. F. 77 blank.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 2 (Leiden 2002), pp. 653-654.
[* Ar. 3678]

Or. 12.003

In the margin and on pp. 485-488 is a commentary on the Hizb in Turkish. Calligrapher: al-Hagg Mustafa Raqim, printed by Busnawi al-Hagg Muharram Efendi Tash.
(7) pp. 489-499. Manuscript. Igazat al-Qira'a, for text No. 3, above, namely Dala'il al-Khayrat wa-Shawariq al-Anwar by Muhammad b. Sulayman al-Gazuli (d. 870/1465), GAL G II, 252, dated 1278 (1861-1862).
The Igaza is said by [2] Khalil al-Wahbi al-Naqshbandi al-Khalidi (and/or (?) Murad Hilmi [...] `Ali (name badly written over another name, p. 489)) at the request of [1] [...] b. Murad from the Qasba of Dobre-yi Bala. The latter had requested the qira'a of Dala'il al-Khayrat from the former, in sessions (khatma, p. 490), according to the ritual divisions of the text, either in one Friday, or in three days, or in four days or in eight days, or as it would be suitable. And so happened (p. 491). Then the issuer of the Igaza enumerates his own chain of masters (pp. 491-493). He took it from:
[3] al-Shaykh Ahmad Diya' al-Din b. al-Hagg `Abd al-Rahmanzada Mustafa al-Tarabzuni, who took it from:
[4] al-Shaykh Sayyid Hafiz `Ali Shaykh, known as Ibn Sabil al-Qubrusi, Ra'is al-Qura' wal-Fudala', who took it from:

[5] Shaykh al-Shuyukh Khatimat al-Muhaddithin al-Shaykh Muhammad b. Muhammad b. Muhammad b. Ahmad al-Dimyati al-Naqshbandi, known as Ibn al-Mayyit, who took it from his own Shaykh:
[6] Qutb al-`Arifin al-Shaykh Muhammad b. Ahmad al-Maghribi, who took it from his Shaykh:
[7] al-Shaykh Abu al-Qasim al-Sufyani, who took it from:
[8] the Shaykh known as `Abdallah Ibn al-Shashi, who took it from his Shaykh:
[9] the Shaykh `Abdallah al-Ghazwali, who took it from his Shaykh:
[10] al-Shaykh `Abd al-`Aziz al-Taba`i, who took it from his Shaykh, the author of the Dala'il al-Khayrat, al-Wali al-Salih Qutb al-Zaman [...] al-Shaykh Muhammad b. Abi Bakr b. Sulayman al-Gazuli al-Simlali al-Sharif al-Hasani. He took the Tariqa from his Shaykh:
[11] al-Shaykh al-Sayyid `Abd al-Rahman, who took it from his Shaykh:
[12] Shaykh `Uthman, who took it from his Shaykh:
[13] `Abd al-Rahman al-Ragragi, who took it from Shaykh:
[14] Shaykh `Aynus al-Badawi, who took it from his Shaykh:
[15] Shaykh al-Islam, known as al-Qur'ani, who took it from his Shaykh:
[16a] Shaykh `Abdallah al-Maghribi and from:
[16b] al-Shaykh Ustad al-Ustad, the son of Tag al-`Arifin Sayyid al-Shaykh `Ali Abi al-Hasan al-Shadhili al-Sharif al-Hasani, and from there with the latter's Sanad up to the Prophet Muhammad.
This is, after a prayer (p. 494), followed by the 15 rules (Shara'it, in Turkish) to be observed by the reader of the Dala'il al- Khayrat (pp. 495-496).
These are: 1. Zeyn olmak, that he is tidy.
2. Haramdan ihtiraz ekilde şürbde ve sa'iriden, that he avoids forbidden food, drinks and other things.
3. Vuzu'-ı tam üzere olmak, that he performed a complete wudu'.
4. Ve kira'at etdigi mehall pak olmak hatta namaz ca'iz ola, that he reads the book in a clean place, the same as where he would perform prayer.
5. Ve esvabları pak u tayyib olmak, and that his clothing should clean and good.
6. Ve Dela'il'den evvel Kur'an okumak akall bir cüz' ya üç kağıd, and the before he reads the Dala'il he reads at least a guz', or three leaves of the Qur'an.
7. Ve kitabını kemal-i tashih harekat ve elfazına dikkat etmek, and that he gives good attention to the entire vocalization and all words.
8. Ve kudreti olduğu kadar bilmek ma`nasını bilmeğe sa`y etmek, and that he tries as much as he can to understand the meaning of what he is reading.
9. I`tikad-ı hulus olub yakinen bu azim sevabı bilmek, that he will receive a great reward if he reads the book with full sincereity and firm belief.
10. Evvelinde niyet du`ası okumak hatta Efendi'mize ta`zim ola, that he starts with formulating the niyya, so that our Lord be glorified.
11. Verdandan evvel sekiz şey' okuya Subhan Estağfirulla, that he recites, before the Wird eight time the Subhan Allah and the Astaghfirullah.
12. Tecvide riayet vakf u meharic sıfatlarına, that he observes, during the reciting, the peculiarities of the pausa and the word endings.

13. Efendi'mize kemal-i ta`zim ve muhabbet üzere olmak, that he fully glorifies and loves our Lord.
14. Huzu` ve huşu` ve huzur ve kalbla okumak, that he reads with a humble and obedient heart.
15. Verdinin esnasında kelam etmek, the he recites the Wird loudly.
Then follow the seven Adab of the noble Dala'il (pp. 496-497). These are:
1. Okurken (?) diz üzere yine durmak, during the reading he sits on his knee, later he can stand up.
2. .....
(8) pp. 500-502. Istikhara Sharhi. Turkish introduction on the learning of the Istikhara prayer, ascribed to Gabir (the traditionist Gabir b. `Abdallah?).
(9) pp. 503-509. Notes en poetry, in Arabic and Turkish. Financial notes (p. 503) and personal and family notes. Poetry on pp. 508-509. Dated Ragab 1288 (1871).

Incomplete (beginning seems missing) copy of a commentary on a Hanafi work on Islamic law. Unidentified. The main work runs from pp. 13-396. Extensive glossing, sometimes on extra added leaves, also in the margins and between the lines. The matn is distinguished by red overlining.
On the pp. before and after the main text many notes and shorter texts. A few may be mentioned separately:
- p. 397. Bab Ma`rifat al-Layali allati tasahhu fiha al-Ru'ya wallati ma tasahhu. A list of days in the months, on which dreams are valid and on which dreams are not valid. Ascribed to Ga`far al-Sadiq (d. 148/763).
Added, but in a separate sheaf: loose paste-ins, with indication of their original position, before the volume was restaurated in around 1970.
[* Ar. 3693]

Or. 12.018
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 132 pp, dated 25 Ramadan 1178, a lengthy owner's note (genealogy!) on p. 117. A dated owner's note (1187 AH) on p. 3.
(1) pp. 3-117. Kashf al-Asrar. A prose work with several, often lengthy, poetical pieces, on `Ilm al-Gafr, divination, or rather `Ilm al-Huruf (title Gafr on p. 117). Numerous figures, tables, squares, circles, etc. Unidentified. The tables on pp. 57-66 refer to happenings in Damascus, those on pp. 66-68 to Makka al-Musharrafa, those on pp. 68-69 to Tiba, those on pp. 70-71 to Jerusalem, those on pp. 71-73 to Misr, etc., till p.
(2) pp. 118-129. A Mathnawi on `Ilm al-Huruf, with commentary in prose. No title or author(s) indicated. The mathnawi is written in red ink. Unidentified.

Added in a separate sheaf: 13 unidentified pieces in transparant covers, both single and composite, taken from the binding in 1973 by Sister Lucie Gimbrère of Oosterhout. Several larger fragments from the same source can be distinguished.
[* Ar. 3694]

Or. 12.019
Collective volume with ten texts in Arabic and Turkish, with some Persian, paper, 190 ff., dated 1063 AH (f. 168a), 1064 AH (ff. 145a, 188a, 188b), full leather Islamic binding with flap, with silver tooled ornamentation (borders and centre-piece).
Inside the front cover a table of contents with 10 titles.
On f. 1a an owner's stamp reading: Ahmad Diya' al-Din (?). Qastamuni Rushdiyya-yi `Askariyya-si Lisan-i `Uthmaniyya Mu`allimi 1316.
(1) ff. 1b-82b. Tahyig Ghusun al-Usul, commentary (Sharh) by Khidr b. Muhammad al-Mufti al-Amasi (fl. 1060/1650), GAL S II, 631, on his own Mukhtasar entitled Ghusun al-Usul, as he was requested to do by his son Ya`qub al-Wahbi and his other students. The matn is distinguished by red overlining. At the end (f. 82b) is a dating by fractions (= ?) for the compilation of the matn, and also of the sharh. This dating was apparently quoted from a MS, which was signed by Hasan Efendi b. `Abdallal al-Kargi, imam of the Bayezid mosque in Amasia. On f. 83a several shorter notes and quotations.
(2) ff. 83b-145a. al-Ifada li-Unbub al-Balagha, commentary (Sharh) by Khidr b. Muhammad al-Mufti al-Amasi (fl. 1060/1650), GAL G II, 424; S II, 631, on his own Mukhtasar entitled Unbub al-Balagha fi Yanbu` al-Fasaha, as he was requested to do by his son Ya`qub al-Wahbi. The matn is distinguished by red overlining. At the end (f. 145a) is a dating by fractions (= ?) for the compilation of the sharh. The copying is dated Muharram 1064 and was done in Qustantiniyya.
(3) ff. 146b-148a. Mukhtasar fi Ma`rifat al-Hudud wa-Mustanbit ila Ma`rifat Usul al-Fiqh wa-Usul al-Din, by al-`Alim al-Samarqandi (?) .
(4) f. 148b. Several shorter notes: Prayer instructions (in Turkish); prayer in Arabic, using some of the 99 Asma'; Bab al-Dawa' min Kull Da'. An example of Tibb Nabawi. F. 149a blank.
(5) ff. 149b-152b. Hikam al-Salat (title thus in the table of contents in the beginning). An untitled and anonymous treatise on the importance of ritual prayer (Salat). Each paragraph is called a Hikma.
(6) ff. 152b-158a. Turkish. Miftah al-Ganna, an anonymous ethical treatise. Divided into an introduction and 9 chapters (bab).
(7) ff. 158b-159a. Several shorter pieces in Turkish, a.o. text of a letter (model?) to the Sultan.
(8) ff. 159b-168a. Kitab Maw`izat al-Muluk li-yakuna `Awnan li-Ahl al-Suluk (title on ff. 159b, 160a), by Mustafa Efendi, known as Saghir (or Safir?) al-Amir (not in GAL), dedicated to the Ottoman Sultan Mehmed IV (reigned 1058-1099 AH, which makes the present MS a contemporary one). The treatises is divided into 30 sections (fasl). Dated Ragab 1063, copied in Qusantiniyya (colophon on f. 168a).

(9) ff. 168a-169a. Sundry notes in Turkish, and a magical square. And a list of days of the week, with the relation between the parts of the day and the planets. Also a note in Persian on how to perform the Salat al-Istikhara (f. 169a).
(10) ff. 169b-175a. Arabic text, with Turkish translation of al-Qasida al-Lamiyya fil-Tawhid (or: Bad' al-Amali), by `Ali b. `Uthman al-Ushi (c. 569/1173), GAL G I, 429. Arabic in naskh script, in black ink, the Turkish in nasta`liq script.
(11) ff. 175b-176a. Several notes, in Turkish.
(12) ff. 176b-183b. `Arud al-Andalusi, the well-known compendium on prosody, by Abu `Abdallah Muhammad b. Husayn Abu al-Gaysh al-Ansari al-Faqih al-Andalusi al-Maghribi (d. 626/1229), GAL G I, 310. With circles (ff. 180a, b, 181b).
(13) ff. 183b-184a. Several shorter notes. Also: Bab Ma yuqra'u `ala Matar al-Nisan (f. 184a).
(14) ff. 184b-188b. Lubb al-Fara'id li-Tagarrudiha `an al-`Awarid, an introduction on the Islamic law of succession by Khidr b. Muhammad al-Mufti al-Amasi (fl. 1060/1650), GAL G II, 424; S II, 631 (where this work is not mentioned), for his sons Ibrahim al-Faydi and Ya`qub al-Wahbi and his other students. With schedules illustrating the degrees of relatedness. Autograph copy (colophon on f. 188a), dated 8 Safar 1064, and with the qira'a of the author. This followed, on f. 188b, by an autograph igaza of the author to his pupil Hasan b. Nasuh, signed with the author's signature and dated 1064 AH.
(15) ff. 188b-189b. Ta`rifat li-`Uyun Shatta, an anonymous list of philosophical definitions, beginning with Kalam, then Wugud, then `Adam, etc.
(16) ff. 190a-b. Several shorter texts. Grammatical notes from a Mukhtasar al-Iqna` by al-Imam al-Mutarrizi (f. 190a), with which is meant the work al-Iqna` li-ma huwiya taht al-Qina` by Nasir b. `Abd al-Sayyid al-Mutarrizi (d. 610/1213), GAL G I, 293. And an amulet text (Fa'ida `Azima) against fever and all illnesses (f. 190b), followed by some medical-magical remarks in Turkish.

Or. 12.048
Collective volume with alchemical texts in Arabic and Turkish, paper, 272 pp., possibly misbound.
(1) pp. 1-12. Fragment (the final part only?) of a work on alchemy. Abrupt beginning and end.
(2) pp. 13-69. Risala fil-`Ilm al-Ilahi al-Musamma bi-al-Wahy, an alchemical work by `Ali Bek al-Izniqi, or `Ali Chelebi `Ala' al-Din al-Sarukhani al-Mu'allif al-Gadid (fl. 10th cent. AH), GAL G II, 448. On p. 13 there is a sort of title-page, reading: Hadha Kitab lil-Mu'allif al-Gadid al-Rumi, akhir kitab sannafahu fil-san`a al-ilahiyya. A later hand his added to this: Ism al-mu'allif: `Ali Bek. Ism al-kitab: Ibahat al-Lughuz wa-Kashf Qina` al-Rumuz.
(3) pp. 70-71. Notes, recipes, etc.
(4) pp. 72-94. Al-Qawl `ala al-Awzan al-Maw`ud bi-Dhikriha aladhi dhakaraha al-Gildaki fi akhir Kitabihi al-Burhan. An anonymous work on measures and weights in alchemy, apparently meant as a supplement to, or commentary on, Kitab al-Burhan fi Asrar `Ilm al-Mizan by Aydamur b. `Ali al-Gildaki (d. 743/1342, or 762 AH), GAL G II, 138.
(5) pp. 95-266. Kitab Sirr al-Asrar (title-page on p. 95, colophon on p. 266), by Abu Bakr Muhammad b. Zakariyya' al-Razi (d. 311/923, or 320/932), GAL S I, 419.
(6) pp. 267-272. Alchemical notes in Arabic and Turkish. Written by several different copyists.
¶ Note that all margins of the volume have extensively been used for glossing, both in Arabic and Turkish, in several different hands, including that of the main copyist of the volume. It is not impossible that the margins contain, apart from sundry and disparate notes, also one or more texts of alchemical nature. This still needs further investigation.

The margins of pp. 118-127 contain fragments from a Turkish work, entitled Kitab al-Usul al-Kabir.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 2 (Leiden 2002), p. 700.

Or. 12.080
Arabic, paper, 25 ff., illuminated headpiece (f. 4b), dated 15 Safar 1068, copied by Abu al-Salah Muhammad al-`Atri (?) al-Hanafi (colophon on f. 24a).
Probably only part of Kitab Gami` al-Rumuz Sharh Mukhtasar al-Wiqaya, commentary by Shams al-Din Muhammad al-Quhistani, mufti in Bukhara (d. 960 AH, see f. 4a), GAL S I, 648, sub g, on al-Nuqaya by Sadr al-Shari`a al-Thani, which is a commentary on Wiqayat al-Riwaya fi Masa'il al-Hidaya by Mahmud b. Sadr al-Shari`a al-Awwal al-Mahbubi (7/13th cent.), which is a commentary on al-Hidaya, a commentary by `Ali b. Abi Bakr al-Marghinani (d. 593/1197), GAL S I, 645, on his own work entitled Bidayat al-Mubtadi'.
¶ On ff. 2b-3b is the table of contents of work on fiqh, possibly of a MS of the Nuqaya, mentioned above, or a related text. The table of contents does not belong to the presesent work, as is clear from the page numbers, to which it refers. On f. 4a is biographical note on the author: 'This Muhammad al-Quhistani was a pupil of the Shaykh al-Islam of Khurasan in the time of Sultan Husayn Mirza. After the death of this Sultan appeared the head of the despicable Shi`a and fled the Shaykh, the author of this book. When the killer of the Rawafid and the idolatrists `Ubayd Allah Khan came out of Bukhara and captured Khurasan from the hands of the sinners, he sent Shaykh Muhammad to Bukhara and made him Mufti there, which he remained till his death.'
Or. 1546, above, should be the same text, but has considerably more pages. The beginning of both MSS is the same. See also Or. 12.315, below.

[* Ar. 3757]

Or. 12.089
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 207 ff., full-leather Islamic binding with flap, with blind tooled ornamentation (borders) and a red medallion.
(1) ff. 7b-98b. Nata'ig al-Afkar, commentary compiled in 1085/1674 by al-Shaykh Mustafa b. Hamza Atali on Izhar al-Asrar, a work on Arabic grammar by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573), GAL G II, 441. Identified with MS Berlin We. 132, Ahlwardt 6784. The matn is distinguished by overlining. On ff. 3b-6b is table of contents, only partly provided with references to page numbers.
(2) ff. 99b-205a (ff. 159, 167 blank). Unidentified commentary on Izhar al-Asrar, a work on Arabic grammar by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573), GAL G II, 441. The commentary is certainly not the Kashf al-Asrar (which is written on the lower edge), as comparison with MS Berlin Lbg. 620 (Ahlwardt 6783) proves.
On pp. 1-3 notes and quotations, etc.
[* Ar. 3758]

Or. 12.090
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, with some Persian, paper (some yellow sheets used, and a pink one), 150 pp., two hands, dated 1122 AH (p. 146).

[* Ar. 3760]

Or. 12.092
Arabic, paper, 147 ff., dated 936 AH, copied (and collated) by the author’s son, al-Hagg Salih b. al-Hagg Mustafa b. Muhammad al-Thirawi, from the autograph (colophon on f. 144a, with copyist verses), European binding, cloth back with pasted boards.
Ta`rifat, by al-Hagg Muslih al-Din Mustafa b. Muhyi al-Din Muhammad b. Isma`il al-Thirawi, known as Ibn al-Qassa`, who compiled the work while he was imam in the Zawiyat Ibn al-Qassa`r in Thira, in the year 875 AH. (title-page on f. 5a). Apparently not mentioned in GAL. A collection of definitions, in purely alphabetical order (with disregard of the Arabic roots system). Lemmata and chapter headings in red ink. In text or margin occasionally small illustrations (ff. 65a, 102a, 108a). At beginning and end several pages with a variety of notes, quotations, etc. The main text occupies ff. 5a-144a.
[* Ar. 3761]

Or. 12.093

Beginning (p. 4): Inna Ahaqqa ma yatawashshahu bi-Dhikrihi fi Sudur al-Kutub wal-Dafatir ...
Or. 12.085, above, is the same text. Or. 11.994 is a commentary on this text. Identified with the matn in MS Berlin Mo. 35 (23), Ahlwardt 6549.

Glossing throughout. In the prelims and the endpapers notes, quotations, etc. The main text occupies pp. 4-440.
- On p. 3 is a long note, in minute script.
- On p. 441 a waqf document, in Turkish, dated 17 Safar 1292, signed and stamped.
- On p. 442 is the text of another Turkish document.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 2 (Leiden 2002), pp. 721-723, with a reproduction of p. 441 on p. 722.
[* Ar. 3762]

Or. 12.094
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, with some Turkish, different types of paper, 242 pp., dated 1120 AH (p. 103a).
(1) pp. 1-3. Notes, quotations, owner's marks, etc.
(2) pp. 4-103a. Compendium by Ibrahim al-Qaramani, thumma al-Amidi (p. 4), on Kitab al-Hi'a al-Saniyya fil-Hay'a al-Sunniyya by Abu al-Fadl Galal al-Din `Abd al-Rahman b. Abi Bakr al-Suyuti (d. 911/1505), GAL S II, 185, No. 66. In the MS the title is somewhat different: al-Hi'a al-Islamiyya`ala Tariq Ahl al-Sunna wal-Gama`a (pp. 4, 9). A work on astronomy according to the revealed sources, if it is indeed the same work. It is difficult to match the Matn in the MS with the data of MS Berlin Spr. 1836 (Ahlwardt 5697). Naskh script, in a singular lay-out: in the top, the centre and the bottom of the page, the text is written in oblique direction. Dated 21 Sha`ban 1120, copied by al-Sayyid Abu Bakr b. Sayyid Musa, in Mahalla-yi Gami` Kabir in Siwas (colophon on p. 103, with copyist verse). Pp. 104-114 blank, except for the frames.
(3) pp. 115-168. Kitab Kanz al-Akhbar (title on p. 118), divided into forty chapters (bab), each containing 10 Hadith. Unidentified, as it is probably not the same work as the Kanz al-Akhbar by `Ali b. Sultan Muhammad al-Qari' al-Harawi (d. 1014/1605), GAL G II, 397, No. 93. The present work is not about Ad`iya. Pp. 115-116 contain an incomplete table of content. See also No. 4, below. On p. 117 is a Khutba by Abu al-Su`ud Efendi (d. 982/1574), GAL G II, 438. Naskh script. Over each right side page a saying is written. Dated 1119 AH, copied by Sayyid Bakr b. Sayyid Musa in Siwas (partly Turkish colophon on p. 168, with Turkish copyist verses).
p. 118. Al-Bab al-Awwal: fi Fadl al-`Ulama'.
(4) pp. 170-198. Incomplete copy (abrupt end) of another Kitab Kanz al-Akhbar (title on p. 170). No author indicated. The work is a collection of Hadith, beginning directly after the basmala (p. 170) with Ruwiya `an Ga`far b. Muhammad `an Abihi `an Gaddihi ... Over eacht right side page a saying is written. Pp. 199-201 blank. The same copyist as Nos. 3 and 4, above, but without colophon.
(5) pp. 202-241. al-Muqaddima fi al-Salat, by al-Imam Abu al-Layth al-Samarqandi (d. c. 373/983), GAL G I, 196. Partly copied by the same copyist as the previous texts, partly supplied as replacement, in a different hand and on different paper. On pp. 210-211 seems to be a lacuna. Identified with MS Berlin Spr. 672 (Ahlwardt 3506). Dated 29 Sha`ban 1120, copied by Bakr in Siwas (colophon on p. 241, with copyist verses in Turkish).

(6) p. 242. Hikayat al-Dik. On the properties of the rooster that God created under His throne.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 2 (Leiden 2002), p. 723.
[* Ar. 3763]

Or. 12.095
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, and Turkish, with some Persian, paper, 170 pp, dated 1089 AH 158).
(1) pp. 9-158. Incomplete text (beginning missing), unidentified. At the end (p. 157) a quotation from al-Faqih Abu al-Layth [al-Samarqandi (d. c. 373/983), GAL G I, 196], and it may be a text by that author. Naskh script. Dated end Rabi` II 1089, copied by Ibrahim b. Sinan in the Rum quarter of the town Yaniyali, now in Algiers (Mahrusat Gaza'ir Gharb, colophon on p. 158). Pp. 1-8 blank. Beginning (p. 9): Amma ba`du fa'inni lamma ra'aytu Qusur Himam al-Nas fi Talab al-`Ilm wa-Ishtighalihim bima la yu`nihim .... The first chapter is: Bab fi Fadl Talab al-`Ilm (pp. 9-10). The works reads like a thematically arranged collection of Hadith, with the Hadith texts written in red ink, and the connecting text and commentary is written in black ink. On pp. 19-23 is an alphabetically arranged list of the 99 names of God. See also No. 3 below. Not the Bustan al-`Arifin, nor the Tanbih al-Ghafilin.
(2) pp. 159-162. Shorter pieces and fragments, in different hands. P. 159: short collection of Hadith Sharif. Pp. 160-161: Munagat Musa `alayhi al-Salam. Prayer of the Prophet Musa. P. 162: 6 lines of Persian poetry, in praise of the Prophet Muhammad.
(3) pp. 163-170. Turkish. Ma`ani-yi Sharif-i Asma' al-Husna (title on p. 170). An explanation in Turkish of the meaning of the 99 names of God.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 2 (Leiden 2002), pp. 723-724.

Arabic, with some Persian, paper, 178 ff., copied by ... (?) Pakhshayish (?) b. Ayn Bak b. `Amdan b. Zaynlahag b. Bakr for himself (colophon on f. 177a).
Commentary completed on Thursday 14 Rabi` I 712 in Shiraz (author's colophon on f. 177a) by Qutb al-Din Muhammad al-Sirafi (712/1312) on al-Lubab fil-Nahw by Tag al-Din Muhammad al-Isfara'ini (d. 684/1285), GAL G I, 296. Identified with Or. 400, above. Glossing throughout. Also some notes in Persian (ff. 177a, 177b)
[* Ar. 3772]

Or. 12.104
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, Persian and Turkish, paper, 300 pp, drawings. All texts by the same copyist, who worked in the course of 1099 AH.
(1) pp. 2-17. Arabic. A Sharh by Husayn al-Husayni al-Khalkhali (d. 1014/1605), GAL G II, 413, on the subject of time measurement in connection with ritual prayer. With several drawings. In the introduction the Sharh al-Wiqaya is mentioned as a starting point for the treatment of the subject (p. 3). Dated Muharram 1099, copied by Abu Bakr b. `Umar Efendi in Erzerum. Identified with Or. 12.058 (6), above.

(2) p. 18. Arabic. Astronomical note, containing names of stars, of signs of the Zodiac, etc. As source is given Ma`alim Tanzil (?). Pp. 19-20 blank.
(3) p. 21. Arabic. Hikaya. Conversation between the Prophet Muhammad and a beduin, concerning the correct formula of divorcing once wife. The story is repeated by questions to Abu Bakr, `Umar, `Uthman and `Ali, and the confirmation comes with Qur'anic quotes.
(4) pp. 22-214. Arabic. Hall al-Khulasa li-Ahl al-Riyasa, commentary, completed in 1092/1681, by Ramadan b. Abi Hurayra al-Gazari [GAL: al-Gaza'iri] al-Qadiri on Khulasat al-Hisab al-Baha'iyya by Baha' al-Din Muhammad b. Husayn al-`Amili (d. 1030/1621), GAL G II, 414-415. Bibliographical details on p. 22. Occasionally tables and schedules (e.g. pp. 42, 44, 47, 63, 68, 69, 114-115, etc.). The bottom line contains the words written in oblique direction. The taswid was completed on Friday night, in the middle of Rabi` II 1099 in Erzerum, in the room of Mulla Habib, by Abu Bakr b. `Umar Efendi b. al-Hagg Khalil b. `Ali (colophon on p. 214). Followed on p. 214 a note on a matter of inheritance. Pp. 215-217 blank. Or. 12.110, below, is the same text.
(5) pp. 218-232. Persian. Treatise on arithmetic (?), divided in an introduction (Muqaddima), 24 chapters (Asl) and an epilogue (Khatima). Possibly a Persian work referring to the Khulasat al-Hisab by Baha' al-Din al-`Amili (previous text), but not one of the texts given by H. Ethé in the India Office catalogue, Nos. 2251-2253. The bottom line contains the words written in oblique direction. Reading the text one gets the impression that the subject matter is rather riddles, Mu`amma, and the numerical value of the letters in words and names. Dated 1099 AH, copied by Abu Bakr b. `Umar Efendi (colophon on p. 232).
(6) pp. 234-247. Persian. A collection of poetical fragments, apparently composed as Mu`amma, riddles or logogriphs. The words that consitute the solutions of the riddles are written between the first and second half of the distich. Considerable interlinear and marginal glossing. Pp. 248-249 blank.
(7) pp 250-268. Turkish. Risala dar Asturlab by Abu al-Makarim `Imad al-Din Ga`far Efendi (p. 250). Divided after the introductory paragraphs into 15 chapters (bab). The bottom line occasionally contains the words written in oblique direction. Dated 1099 AH, copied by Abu Bakr (colophon on p. 266).
(8) p. 268 bis. Turkish. A list of length and width of a number of towns: Iskandariyya, Misr, Madina, Makka Mukarrama, Bayt al-Maqdis, Tarabulus, Dimashq, Halab, Ruha (?), Malatiya, Qustantiniyya, Busna, Ankuriya (?), Erzenrum, Siwas, Qaysariyya, Mardin, etc., ending with Bukhara.
(9) pp. 268 ter-280. Arabic. Risalat al-Safiha, a treatise on the Asturlab by Baha' al-Din Muhammad al-`Amili (d. 1030/1621), GAL G II, 415. Identified with MS Berlin Pm. 396 (3), Ahlwardt 5801. Divided into a number of sections, mostly called Tabsira. Drawing on p. 279. The bottom line occasionally contains the words written in oblique direction. The final words in the Berlin MS are here on pp. 280-281, but are followed by another sentence, and by that the text does not seem to be completed.
(10) pp. 282-299. Persian. Unidentified treatise, again on the subject of Mu`amma. A treatise composed at the request of, or in concordance with (?, p. 282, line 5), Sharaf al-Din `Ali al-Yazdi (possibly the same as the historian of Timur, d. 850 AH). The bottom line occasionally contains the words written in oblique direction. Dated middle of Ragab 1099, copied by Abu Bakr b. `Umar Efendi (colophon on p. 299). Beginning: Bi-dan ke Nisbat-i Ta'lifi dar Miyan-i Arbab-i Mu`amma wa-Ashab-i Ramz wa-Ima ...

See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 2 (Leiden 2002), pp. 725-727, with a reproduction of p. 268 bis on p. 726.

Or. 12.105
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, with some Persian, paper, 262 pp., Persian naskh, copied by one copyist, dated 28 Rabi` II 1126, copied by `Abdallah b. ... (?) b. `Ali b. Muqallid (colophon on p. 260). Figures and tables.
(1) pp. 1-3. Notes in Arabic and Persian.
(2) pp. 4-115. Commentary by Haggi Husayn al-Yazdi on Khulasat al-Hisab al-Baha'iyya by Baha' al-Din Muhammad b. Husayn al-`Amili (d. 1030/1621), GAL G II, 414-415. Figures and tables. Extensive glossing, with an occasional paste-in. The commentary only treats matters concerning Usul al-Hisab, that is the beginning of the Khulasa.
(3) pp. 117-260. Sharh Khulasat al-Hisab, continuation, completed on 9 Dhu al-Qa`da 1038 by Muhammad Ashraf b. Muhammad Habib Allah b. `Imad al-Din al-Hasani al-Husayni al-Tabataba'i al-Shirazi of the commentary by Haggi Husayn al-Yazdi on Khulasat al-Hisab al-Baha'iyya by Baha' al-Din Muhammad b. Husayn al-`Amili (d. 1030/1621), GAL G II, 414-415, where this continuation and its author do not seem to be mentioned. With drawings (e.g. pp. 134-135, and many more), both in the margin and the text. Extensive glossing, with an occasional paste-in.
[* Ar. 3774]

Or. 12.106
Arabic, paper, 75 ff., figures and tables.
Untitled and anonymous treatise about the Astrolabe, divided into an introduction and 19 sections (fasl). With marginal and interlinear glosses. Between ff. 68-69 a paste-in with a drawing of a leaf of the astrolabe. Beginning (f. 2b): al-Hamdu lillah alladhi atla`a Shumus al-Ma`rifa min Ufq al-Ghayb Hayatan lil-Basa'ir... On the lower edge: Risalat Asturlab. On ff. 1a-b a table of contents, with the chapter titles and reference to the folio numbers. Owner's note with seal, dated 1155 AH, Hafiz `Abd al-Karim b. `Uthman, who inherited the book from his father (f. 2a).

Muhammad Sibt al-Maridini (d. after 891/1486), GAL G II, 167, of his own work, entitled Izhar al-Sirr al-Mawdu`. Identified with MS Berlin Spr. 1867 (Ahlwardt 5848). Divided into an introduction and 15 chapters (bab).
(8) ff. 89a-b. A paste-in, in the previous text, with on f. 89a notes, some concerning text on f. 88b. On f. 89b a note on Ma`rifat al-Sa`at, with two drawings of the Ka`ba in Mekka, one in a square, one in a circle. HRP.
(9) ff. 97b-104a. Risala fil-`Amal bil-Rub` al-Mugayyib, treatise by Muhammad b. Muhammad Sibt al-Maridini (d. after 891/1486), GAL G II, 167, on the simus quadrant. Identified with MS Berlin Mq. 100 (6), Ahlwardt 5818. Dated 1158 AH (f. 104a).
(10) ff. 105a-106a. Paste-ins with drawings, possibly of the Ka`ba as well, similar to the drawings in No. 8.

(11) ff. 106b-114a. Risala Mukhtasara adhkur fiha Asma' al-Rusum al-Marsuma `ala al-Ala al-Musammat bi-al-Asturlab al-Shamali Dhat al-Safa'ih. The work is divided into an introduction and 15 sections (fasl). No author is given. Heavy glossing throughout. Other copies of the same text: Or. 12.015 (2), Or. 12.058 (7) and Or. 12.058 (8), above. On f. 114b is a short list of books in Turkish (titles and prices).

Or. 12.119
Arabic, paper, 12 ff.
al-Risala al-Sakhawiyya, or al-Muqaddima al-Sakhawiyya, or Mukhtasar fi `Ilm al-Hisab, by `Abd al-Qadir b. `Ali al-Sakhawi al-Shafi`i (fl. 1000/1591), GAL S II, 483, where the patronymic is wrongly given as Ahmad. Identified with MS Berlin We. 1133 (Ahlwardt 6000). Divided into an introduction, 11 chapters (bab) and an epilogue. Owner's seal on f. 1b: Isma`il. Text ends on f. 10b. Apparently a manuscript from Egypt.
[* Ar. 3788]

Or. 12.120
Arabic, paper, 6 + 186 ff., half leather Islamic binding, with flap, pasted boards.
Kitab Miftah al-Gawahir, without indication of author. A work on Islamic ethics, styled by the author as a Mukhtasar (f. 1a). Title not mentioned in GAL, nor in Arberry's Handlist of the Chester Beatty MSS. On prelims detailed table of contents, also notes of a varied nature, in Arabic and Turkish.

Or. 12.121
Arabic, paper, 171 ff, dated Saturday 25 Dhu al-Qa`da 1111 (1700 AD), copied by Ahmad `Abdallah al-Ibshishi (colophon on f. 171a, with copyist verses). Clearly made as a luxury copy, but now damaged by fire (upper left corner) and water (mostly at the end). In the middle of the text apparently lacunae (leaf or leaves missing, or in disorder?). Luxury and elaborate ex-libris on title-page (f. 2a: `Abd al-`Aziz al-Hanafi al-Naqshbandi al-Aghtashi, dated 1261, with print of a large seal), illuminated headpiece (f. 2b). Drawings. Full leather Islamic binding with flap, and blind tooled ornamentation (borders and medallion).
Matali` al-Masarrat bi-Gala' Dala'il al-Khayrat, commentary by Muhammad al-Mahdi b. Ahmad b. `Ali b. Yusuf al-Fasi (1063/1653) on Dala'il al-Khayrat wa-Shawariq al-Anwar by Muhammad b. Sulayman al-Gazuli (d. 870/1465), GAL G II, 252-253. On f. 67b the explanation of the other graves in the Prophet's mosque, with a few illustrative drawings. The fact that the set of drawings of the Rawda at the right and the Minbar at the left is not treated in this commentary, but only the Rawda with the three graves, means that the double illustration was not considered authentic by al-Fasi, or was not (yet) fashionable in his time.

Turkish, paper, 81 ff., ruq`a script.
A survey of the revenue and expenses of several Ottoman provinces. Apparently the years 1296 AH, 1306 AH and 1320 AH are covered. In alphabetical order, beginning with Edirne Wilayeti, followed by Izmir, etc. Schmidt points out that only the year 1320 is covered, according to the stamped title on the back: 320 büdcesi.
Provenance: This volume, being a manuscript, was transferred from the so-called Sultan's Library in the Leiden Library. That collection, which seems to have belonged to Murad V, was received in Leiden in the course of 1963, through the intermediary of Dr. A.A. Cense, then director of the Dutch Institute of Istanbul. It contains a great number, several thousands, of late Ottoman printed books, several of which are bound in velvet and have gold tughra's printed on them. Other manuscripts from this collection are registered as Or. 10.861 – Or. 10.863, Or. 11.057 – Or. 11.059.

Or. 12.123 - Or. 12.282
Former loan of the 'Ministerie van Koloniën' (Ministry of Colonial Affairs) in The Hague. Collection of Malay manuscripts which was brought together by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen. On July 10, 1969, the Library of Leiden University acquired legal ownership of the collection, and the Van Ophuijsen manuscripts were renumbered within the Or. series: Or. 12.123 - Or. 12.282. Most manuscripts are described by Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-catalogus der Maleische en Minangkabausche handschriften in de Leidsche Universiteits-bibliotheek. Leiden 1921. All manuscripts contain the stamp of 'Ministerie van Koloniën'. ¶ The collection of Malay, Minangkabau and Batak manuscripts of van Ophuijsen's son, C.A. van Ophuijsen (1854-1917), is registered in the Library as Or. 5823 - Or. 6122, above. Those were presented in 1917 by van Ophuijsen's widow to the Leiden library.

Undang-undang Minangkabau. Title on the label: No. 2. Kitab Oendang oendang adat in de XIII Kottas. Owner's name written on p. 155.
Undang-undang Minangkabau and Tambo Minangkabau.
(1) pp. 1-42. Undang-undang Minangkabau. The text contains: yang wajib bagi sekalian penghulu-penghulu (pp. 1-3), tambo Minangkabau, from the creation of man up to Iskandar Dzulkarnain, Sen Po'di Qaibi who possesses kayu kamat and gives it to Raja Rum, Raja

Cina and Raja Minangkabau; undang-undang with da'wa, menghukum, pusaka hukum, simeda'wa dan simeda'wi, rukun da'wa, segala hukum, hukum syara', keputusan chasamat, syarat memakai adat, asal permulaan, keputusan kata, martabat kata, kemerdekaan bicara, martabat kebesaran, 'alamat 'akal, pakaian sekalian 'alim, martabat kata, asal sengketa, kita ini hamba Allah, yang biasa, dagu-dagi, kethabitan orang dimalingi, salah (pp. 32-33), segala syahadah, orang jadi saks'i, undang-undang dak, kelakuan bagi adat, syarat menda'wa, hak coba bagi simeda'wa.

(2) pp. 43-100. Tambo Minangkabau, beginning with an introduction in Arabic, which is followed by a short piece on the undang-undang, followed by the genealogy of rulers of Minangkabau from Adam and Iskandar Dzul-Karnain in Rum. Iskandar marries a nymph from heaven and begets three sons: Sultan Maharaja Alif, Sultan Maharaja Dipang, and Sultan Simaharaja Diraja. The three princes sail away; in the Ceylon Sea they encounter fire and high waves. On the island of Langkapuri they have a discussion. Each of them wants the crown, but it falls into the sea. Sultan Simaharaja Diraja retrieves the gold and has another crown made. The goldsmith is killed, so that it cannot be imitated. The French and the Dutch are maintained by the Sultan of Rum who rules 60,000 countries. Sultan Maharaja Diraja sails to Java, bringing all kinds of animals. From there he sails on to the Gold Island and his boat is wrecked. On this island men and animals multiply. The ruler begets five sons and sails back to Java. The five princes marry the five daughters of the man who had previously repaired the boat; one of the five princes is sent to Ranah Tanah Datar (as a human being), one to Luhak Again (tiger), one to Ranah Lima Puluh (as a goat), one to Kecundung Lais or Lasi (as a cat). The fifth is not mentioned. They come to the palace of Datuk Perpatih nan Sebatang. When a deer comes out of the sea it is snared on the advice of Datuk Sen Diraja. That place is then called Pariangan. Thereafter the prince moves to Batu Patah which then is called Pariangan Padang Panjang. Two penghulu are chosen: Datuk Maharaja Besar for Padang Panjang, and Datuk Bendahara Kaya for Pariangan. Meeting halls and a mosque are erected. Adat, syara' and hukum are inherited from Adam, because Adam was the first ruler of the earth. Datuk Ketemenggungan and Datuk Seri Maharaja are appointed, etc.

(3) pp. 101-106. Untitled, beginning: Alkisa kata Sahib al-Fatwa barmul kata orang ... This and the following legal texts are summarily described by Iskandar as: Undang-undang Minangkabau; the undang-undang is discussed in general; at the end (pp. 133-152) a chapter on Undang-undang Tiga Belas Kota.

(4) pp. 106-133. Fasal pada menyatakan orang yang memikang adat dan lembaga didalam negri.

Kitab pada menyatakan beberapa syart kompulan alimu itungan (title on p. 1). A work beginning with basic arithmetic operations and at the end giving an introduction in book keeping and accounting. The work was, according to Van Ronkel, written by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen himself. Iskandar suggests Indomankuto as the author, but his name does not seem to appear in the text, although his name is at several instances connected with the school in Solok. This may be a mix-up with Or. 12.145, above, where Indomankuto is indeed mentioned on f. 11r, and where he may be the author. See also Or. 12.152, below, which has a related subject and origin.

Kaba Murai Batu (given title, on f. 54a, the work is referred to as Hikayat ini). The text contains the story of a bird (murai batu), whose parents and sister are eaten by birds of prey and a cat; murai batu is born in a palace and brought up by Puti Canda Dewi. Out of gratitude he leaves the palace to find her a bride-groom and flies from place to place until he comes to the country of Sutan Barindangan; he returns to tell the princess about this prince; on a ship with a female crew and the murai batu as look-out at the masthead they sail to the country of Sutan Barindangan; Sutan Barindangan is lured to the ship and abducted; now the fiancees of Sutan Barindangan take revenge on the abductors. Two of them only agree to go along on condition that they will go to Rajo Medan Kaba for justice. This Rajo does not want to sit in judgement because he is afraid of another wicked fiancee. They sail away. Sutan Barindangan dies on board and is buried in the country of the wicked lady; a great number of pantun are found in this story. Malay, Minangkabau, paper, 66 ff. (all numbers initialled by van Ophuijsen), Arabic script, dated Solok, 1 June 1855, and signed by van Ophuijsen (but he is not the copyist) Title on the label: No. 37. Madjemoekh No. 1. No owner's name.
Adat Minangkabau (given title). Van Ronkel mentions J.A.W. van Ophuijsen as the author and says: 'Essays by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen treating 32 subjects (numbered ?) with relevance to culture, craftsmanship and industry. An explanation is given of the meaning of the names of several suku's and negri's, several types of wood are enumerated, and also the laws of inheritance are treated. In addition to the above, also children's games, dances, customs of girls and women, etc., are treated.'
Iskandar describes the text as follows: 'The writing is divided into 32 chapters, the first of which contains a table of contents and a list of names of suku and negeri. The work discusses subjects such as agriculture and home-industry, gives an explanation of the names of several suku and negeri, and mentions a number of species of wood and rice, ending with rights of inheritance. The continuation is in Or. 12.160, below.'

Or. 12.163 (formerly Oph. 41)
Malay, Minangkabau, paper, 8 ff., Arabic script, dated 9 March 1867, copied in the school in Solok (colophon on f. 8a) from a manuscript in the possession of Malim Pandai Dzikir (f. 1a). Title on the label: No. 41. Saier Kanak Kanak. No owner's name.
Kitab Syair kanak-kanak (title on f. 1a) The text, on ff. 1v-8r, contains a syair addressed to people who have lost their child, Zain al-Amm. God orders Jibra'il to produce the child from the fruit of the sajarat al-muntaha (sidra, mentioned in Qur'an 53:14) and let him drink of its juice. One drop of this liquid gives one year of refreshment. The child's father, searching for its mother, passes by among the crowd begging for water. Zain describes to his father what has happened to his body after his death and how after three days the Ruh Junjungan intended to take him to Heaven but met with his refusal. He persisted in his refusal, because he wished to meet his parents. At last Allah sends a bidadari to bring him to enter Paradise. The child admonishes his father and Fatimah, his mother. See Or. 6051 (4), above, for use of the text in a real and concrete circumstance, the death of a young princess in Muko-Muko. There the title is given as Syair orang kematian anak, and the name of the author as Cahayaraja.
See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), pp. 99-100, No. 228, with quotation of the beginning and a summary of the contents. Text from T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), p. 626 (No. 1273) was used for the present description.

Or. 12.169 (formerly Oph. 48)
Collective volume with texts in Malay, Minangkabau, with some Dutch, paper, 26 ff., Latin and Arabic scripts. Text No. 1 written by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen, dated Solok, September 1855 (f. 1r). Title on the label: No. 48. Logat bahasa Melayoe. Name of owner on f. 1r.

On f. 1r is the copy of a letter by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen to the editor of TBG, offering
(1) ff. 2v-16v. 'Bijdrage tot de kennis van Sumatras Westkust. Lijst van eenige Maleische woorden, zoo als die op de West Kust van Sumatra in gebruik zijn en uitgesproken worden. Vervaardigd door J.A.W. van Ophuijsen te Solok XIII Kottas.'
Vocabulary of Dutch, Malay, and Minangkabau words as used on Sumatra's West Coast. Three columns, in Latin script (with a few exceptions), for each language ('Hollandsch, Gewoon Maleisch, Sumatra Maleisch').
(2) ff. 18v-21v, and two inserts. Vocabulary of Minangkabau words, Darek and Lauik, four times two columns per p., in Arabic script.
(3) ff. 25r-26v. 'Maleische handschriften in het bezit van den ambtenaar J.A.W. van Ophuijsen'. List of Malay manuscripts, which were in the possession of J.A.W. van Ophuijsen, written in pencil. The list was made at an early stage van Ophuijsen's collecting, and is arranged by subject: law texts (14 items), plays, music (3 items), dances of men (12 items), dances of women (6 items), literary texts (14 items). , and signed by him, See also Or. 2232 A, above (E.P. Wieringa, Catalogue of Malay [...] manuscripts, 1 (1998), p. 294), where there is a much fuller list, dated Amsterdam, February 10, 1864. The 151 Malay manuscripts, mentioned in that later catalogue, were presented by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen to the Dutch Ministry of Colonial Affairs. Another copy of this catalogue are Or. 12.282 (formerly Oph. 152).
See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), p. 233, No. 576. See T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), p. 628 (No. 1279).
¶ Or. 6796 is mentioned by E.P. Wieringa, Catalogue of Malay [...] manuscripts, 1 (1998), p. 294. as being another copy of the catalogue of the J.A.W. van Ophuijsen collection. This is incorrect, however. A confusion has taken place with Or. 12.169 (3), which has as shelf mark Mal. 6796 (hence the confusion). See also Iskandar, Catalogue, pp. 366-367 (No. 794), where the same confusion has taken place. Iskandar has unwittingly described the same manuscript twice, in different ways (!).

Or. 12.185 (formerly Oph. 64)
Malay, Minangkabau, paper, 63 ff., Arabic script, copied by Rang Kaija Moeda, a school teacher in the Agam district (f. 62v, see his name mentioned in Or. 12.213, f. 53r, below). Iskandar mentions a probable other copyist as well, Sampono Doenia, a student at the teachers' training college at Bukit Tinggi, but the manuscript does not seem to contain evidence for this assumption. Title on the label: No. 64. Ilmoe Boemi. Owner's mark by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen on f. 63v.
Kitab mas'alat rasm ard (title on ff. 1r, 2r). A school text on geography in 493 questions and answers. There is a relationship between this text and a similar text in Or. 12.211, below, but these two texts are not directly derived from oneanother. E.g. question 28 is the same in both texts, but for many other questions this is not the case.
See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), p. 170, No. 406. Text from T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), p. 636 (No. 1295) was used for the present description.

Or. 12.186 (formerly Oph. 65)
Javanese, Malay, paper, 11 ff., Arabic, Javanese and Latin scripts. Title on the label: No. 65. Piagem Sulthan Banten Kepada penggawa Lampoeng. Owner's mark by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen on f. 11b.
Collection of copies of several documents, which are sometimes annotated by an unidentified owner, who writes his signature (ff. 9a, 6a, 5b)
(1) ff. 11a-10a. Javanese. Piagam, charter, issued by Sultan Abu al-Ma`ali Muhammad Wasi` Zayn al-Halimin (?). Arabic script (pegon).
(2) ff. 9a-8b. Malay. Letter from Thomas Stamford Raffles (1781-1826), to the friends in the Daerah Lampung, dated Betawi, Bogor, 26 February 1812. With drawing of a seal. Underneath the Malay text is a note in Dutch: 'Het origineel handschrift berust bij Radin Tinggie van Radja Bassa, zoon van den, in 1856, verbannen Pangéran Singa Branta. Als Marga-hoofd van Radja Bassa, stond hij op tegen het N.I. Gouvernement, in hetzelfde jaar dat de expeditie tegen Radin Inten II, Marga-hoofd van Negara Ratoe, plaats had. De omstandigheid, dat juist Singa Branta in het bezit van 't origineel M.S. is gekomen, laat zich verklaren, wanneer men weet, dat Raffles te Radja Bassa (IV Marga's) een blokhuis liet bouwen /1812/' (illegible signature).
(3) ff. 6a-7b. On the inner side of the sheet a printed text in Javanese script. Content (according to a note in Dutch, dated Kedoe 1858): Programme. A list of the official toasts, done at the table of the resident of Djoedjaaaita at the Muhammadan feasts such as Garebeg Mulud, Garebeg Besar, etc. Each guest has such a programme lying next to his plate.
(4) ff. 3a-5b. Javanese (both in Javanese and Latin scripts). Piagem. Charter, beginning: Ngalamat pijagem dangking boemie, Pangeran Koesoemaningrat Kagadoeh dening ponggawa lampong ... Ff. 1a-b blank.

(4) ff. 7v-9r. Undang-undang peraturan imam dalam negri. Regulations concerning the function of imam. From an original, dated Bukit Tinggi, 24 December 1858.
(5) ff. 9r-24v. Syair Ma`rifat, apocryphally (according to Voorhoeve) ascribed (f. 24v) to Abdurrauf of Singkel (11/17th cent.). The first part (ff. 9r-20r) is a rhymed treatise, Syair Sifat Dua Puluh, the second part (ff. 20r-24v) is a supplement of eschatological nature. The language of the text shows Minangkabau features, which may have been imposed on it. Its age seems to be rather old. See P. Voorhoeve, 'Bajan Tadjalli', in TBG 85 (1952-1957), pp. 87-117, especially pp. 115-116, where the end of the first part is quoted. See also E.P. Wieringa, Catalogue of Malay and Minangkabau Manuscripts 1 (1998), pp. 184, 186, with references to Or. 1956, above.
Iskandar (pp. 640-641) describes the contents as follows: Syair ma 'rifat. The author advises the student to find a teacher in order to acquire the ilmu ma'rifat; he compares this knowledge to a tall tree with four branches (cawang) and fruits in beautiful colours, obtainable only with the instruction of a teacher; it is also comparable to a coconut: syari'at is the husk, tarikat the shell, hakikat the pulp, and ma'rifat the oil; the author thinks many people are misled; tigers they mistake for deer and a high mountain for a plain, they wish to walk on the sea and on the edge of a knife, for immunity from poison, to put an egg on the tip of a horn, to be suspended by a single hair; the author reminds the students of: man 'arafa nafsahu faqad 'arafa rabbahu; to know God is to know iman, Islam, tauwhid, and ma'rifat; if one knows these four you will know the essence of God; the second part (f. 13r, etc.) of this treatise deals with the sifat duapuluh; refers to Tilimsani's Ma'lumat (probably the commentary by Muhammad b. `Umar b. Ibrahim al-Tilimsani (897/1492) on Umm al-Barahin by Abu `Abdallah Muhammad b. Yusuf al-Sanusi (d. 892/1486), GAL G II, 250), the treatise concludes by considering the Hereafter, quoting a Surat al-qiyamah. At the end it is mentioned that this Syair ma 'rifat was written by Syaikh Abdur-Rauf in Aceh (f. 24v).

See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), pp. 98-99, No. 227, where the beginnings and the end are quoted. Text from T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), pp. 640-641 (No. 1307) was used for the present description.

Or. 12.201 (formerly Oph. 80)
Malay, paper, 2 + 88 pp., Arabic script, dated Tuesday 8 March 1859, copied in Bangkahulu, kota Marlborough, by R.Z. Perbatah Sari, a clerk in the resident's office, made for J.A.W. van Ophuijsen, assistent-resident. Title on the label: No. 80. Hhikaijat Bachtiijar. No owner's mark by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen.
Hikayat Bakhtiyar (title on the first unnumbered page). The 'normal' version of the text. Van Ronkel and Iskandar both give a table of contents for the different sories.
The text is preceded by six distichs adhorting the reader of the text to say prayers before starting. On the same page, at the bottom, what is probably the date of the beginning of the copy, 13 December 1858. Pp. 84-88 blank.
¶ Or. 6069, above, is a transliteration of this manuscript, possibly made by C.A. van Ophuijsen (1854-1917).
See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), p. 4, No. 9. Text from T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), pp. 642-643 (No. 1309) was used for the present description.

Or. 12.202 (formerly Oph. 81)
Malay, paper, 1+ 120 ff., Arabic script, dated Tuesday 14 June 1859 / 13 Zulkaedah 1275, 12 o'clock, copied in Bangkahulu, pulau Sumatra, by Sutan Sulaiman ibnu Sutan Akhirullah ibnu Ratu Ayu ibnu pangeran Lenggang Alam (colophon on f. 120b). Title on the label: No. 81. Bab ul Chifaija. Owner's mark by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen on inside of front cover.

Lubab al-Kifaya (f. 1b, line 3), or Bab ul-Kifaya (title on inside front cover). A work on Islamic law, by Jamaluddin al-Jawi as-Samatra'i of Pasai, from Pulau Perja (f. 1a, lines 23-24), who lived in or before the first half of the 17th century. See the article by Ph.S. van Ronkel, which is entirely devoted to the present manuscript 'Een Maleisch getuigenis over den weg des Islams in Sumatra', in BKI 75 (1919), pp. 363-378.
The text, ff. 2r-120r, is a.fiqh book divided into kitab, bab undfasal not arranged systematically, dealing with inter alia nikah, fara'id, bai' , jenayah, mu'amalat, etc. At the end there are several syairs. The last one of these (ff. 119b, line 17-f. 120a, last line) there is a biography of the author in syair form, beginning with his departure from Mekka via Jedda to Jayzan, Barafi, Zabid, Saifrus ibn `Alwan, Maidaan, `Adan, Nu`man, Egypt, and from there to Aceh. This syair has been transliterated, edited and summarized by Ph.S. van Ronkel on the basis of the present manuscript.
See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), pp. 150-151, No. 352, where part of the introduction is described. Text from T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), p. 643 (No. 1310) was used for the present description.

Or. 12.203 (formerly Oph. 82)
Malay, paper, 8 ff., Arabic script. Title on the label: No. 82. Oendang oendang adat nan Kawi. No owner's mark by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen.
Undang-undang Minangkabau (given title), text on ff. 1r-5r.
See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), p. 250, No. 638. Text from T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), pp. 643-644 (No. 1311) was used for the present description.
[* Mal. 6831]

Or. 12.204 (formerly Oph. 83)
Malay, paper, 24 pp., Arabic script, copyist identified by Iskandar as the same as Or. 12.200, above, namely: Sutan Sulaiman ibnu Sutan Akhirullah ibnu Ratu Ayu ibnu Pangeran Lenggang Alam, a scribe from Bangkahulu, who is also the copyist of Or. 12.202, above. Title on the label: No. 83. Oendang oendang praoe. No owner's mark by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen.
Undanguendang Prau (given title), also called Undang-undang Laut. The text, ascribed to King Mahmud of Melaka (pp. 1-19) contains 46 articles. The introduction is shorter than in Or. 6136 (2), which contains a more accurate copy. It is different from the text published by E. Dulaurier, in J.M. Pardessus, Collection de lois maritimes antérieures au XVIIIe siècle. Paris 1828-1845 (6 vols. [2686 C 3-8 / 21 B 10-15]), Vol. 6 (1845).
See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), p. 50, No. 127. Text from T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), p. 644 (No. 1312) was used for the present description.
[* Mal. 6832]

Or. 12.205 (formerly Oph. 84)
Malay, paper, 6 ff., Arabic script, copyist rightfully identified by Iskandar as the same as Or. 6136, above. Title on the label: No. 84. Oendang oendang Manna. No owner's mark by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen, but there is a name of what seems to be a previous owner: J. Intveld Esqr. Benkoolen (inside cover).

Undang-undang Manna, in 47 articles (fasal). The text, ff. 1r-6v, starts with: Fasal pada menyatakan adat limbago anak cucu(r) dipegang dipakai khalipah Manna di Ba(ng)kinang dengan Pino di Tanah Hulu anak buah khalipah yang sudah dilazimkan selama ini.
See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), p. 59, No. 144. Text from T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), p. 644 (No. 1313) was used for the present description.

Or. 12.206 (formerly Oph. 85)
Collective volume with texts in Malay, paper, 28 ff., Latin script, Title on the label: No. 85. Oendang oendang Benkaoeloe. No owner's mark by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen. Table of contents on f. 1r.
(1) ff. 3r-12v. Undang-undang Sungai Limau, copied from a MS written on 7 July 1855 at Bangkahulu at the meeting of the Regent of Sungai Limau, Raja Ayansa of Sungai Limau Division, and Raja Mangkuta Alam of Ulu Bangkahulu Division (f. 3r), consisting of 25 fasal. See the latter's name in Or. 12.213, f. 67r.
(2) ff. 13r-18r. Undang-undang Sungai Itam consisting of 18 fasal, dated Benkoeloe 30 June 1855 (f. 18r), composed in the form of questions and answers.
(3) ff. 19r-27v. Undang-undang Tanjung Aur dan Selebar, written at Tanjung Aur on the instructions of Daing Makoleh, head of the Andalas Sungai Kerui and Lima Buah Bada Division on 31 July 1855 (f. 27v), consisting of 12 fasal.
See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), p. 52, No. 131. Text from T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), pp. 644-645 (No. 1314) was used for the present description.
[* Mal. 6834]

Or. 12.207 (formerly Oph. 86)
Malay, paper, 8 ff., Arabic script, Title on the label: No. 86. Oendang oendang Lais. No owner's mark by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen. Iskandar identifies the copyist with the copyist of Or. 12.200, above, but this seems to be doubtful, the more so, because the copyist of the present MS and of Or. 12.208, below, are different from oneanother.
Undang-undang Lais (given title), compiled after 1818, as that date is mentioned in the heading over the text.
See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), p. 59, No. 145, with quotation from the heading. Text from T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), p. 645 (No. 1315) was used for the present description.

Or. 12.211 (formerly Oph. 90)
Malay, paper, 17 ff. (original numbering pp. 11-37), Arabic script. Title on the label: No. 90. Tjeritra moeka Boemi. No owner's mark by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen.
Incomplete copy of a work entitled Mas'alah hal keadaan muka bumi (title in later hand, on f. 2r), a compilation on the geography of Europe, in the form of questions and answers, here numbered 28-280. There is a relationship between this text and a similar text in Or. 12.185, above, but these two texts are not directly derived from oneanother. E.g. question 28 is the same in both texts, but for many other questions this is not the case.
See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), p. 171, No. 411. Text from T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), p. 646 (No. 1319) was used for the present description.

Or. 12.213 (formerly Oph. 92)
Malay, Dutch, paper, 94 ff., Arabic and Latin scripts, many different hands. Title on the label: No. 92. Peratoeran di dalem Skola Melaijoe. No owner's mark by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen. Collection of regulations and reports, mostly in Malay but also in Dutch, concerning schools on the west coast of Sumatra. Some are written in both Arabic and Latin scripts. Many documents are dated and these dates range between 1 November 1854 and 6 May 1860. The documents must later have been bound together into the present volume. An interesting point is that some of the people who are, in the documents contained in this volume, identified as school teachers, can also be identified as clerks in secretaries where J.A.W. van Ophuijsen worked, and hence as the copyists of some of the manuscripts in the van Ophuijsen collection.

Or. 12.242 – Or. 12.263 (with a few interruptions) / Or. 12.272 – Or. 12.281
These are copies of manuscripts on bambu strips or tubes with texts in rencong script, also in the van Ophuijsen collection. The present copies (Or. 12.242 – Or. 12.263) were made in van Ophuijsen's time in rencong script, and were provided with a rewording in Malay in Arabic script. The bambu originals are described below (Or. 12.272 – Or. 12.281). The copies on paper were later romanized by P. Voorhoeve and his wife, M.C.J. Voorhoeve-Bernelot Moens and registered as part of the rencong transcription project, which is contained in Or. 8447, above. The two Voorhoeves also romanized directly from the bambu originals. One must assume that when the bambu original could not be identified, these must have been manuscripts which van Ophuijsen could order to copy, but which he must have been unable to acquire.

Malay, paper, 16 ff., Arabic script. Title on the label: No. 128. Kitab el Takrib. No owner's mark by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen.
Kitab Ahkam al-Ginayat, the section on criminal law, taken from a Malay version of the Kitab al-Taqrib (titles on ff. [1]b, 1a). As the author is mentioned on f. [1]b: Shams al-Din b. `abdallah Muhammad b. Qasim al-Shafi`i. It is likely that a Malay version of the following work is meant: Fath al-Qarib al-Mugib, by Muhammad Ibn al-Qasim al-Ghazzi (d. 918/1512), a commentary on al-Taqrib fil-Fiqh, or Ghayat al-Ikhtisar, or Mukhtasar fil-Fiqh `ala Madhhab al-Imam al-Shafi`i, by Abu Shuga` al-Isfahani (d. after 500/1106), GAL G I, 392.
The text is entirely in Malay, and van Ronkel's information (followed by Iskandar) that the Arabic sentences are followed by a Malay paraphrase is simply untrue.
See Ph.S. van Ronkel, Supplement-Catalogus (1921), p. 110, No. 255. Text from T. Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), p. 658 (No. 1356) was used for the present description.

Most of the essays were copied in Bencoolen in a continuous period between 24 November 1859 and 21 January 1861, and probably by one and the same copyist. About the authorship of the essays, one may assume that these were in fact all written by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen. In the first collection (Or. 12.159), the catalogue (Or. 12.282, f. 2b) says: 'Opstellen van den Ondergetekende', and the undersigned is van Ophuijsen. The same for Or. 12.235 (Or. 12.282, f. 6a), Or. 12.237, Or. 12.239, Or. 12.241 (ibid., f. 6b), Or. 12.254, Or. 12.256 (ibid., f. 7b), Or. 12.258, Or. 12.260 (ibid., f. 8a), Or. 12.264, Or. 12.265 (ibid., f. 8b), Or. 12.269, Or. 12.270, 12.271 (f. 9a). Van Ophuijsen is not the copyist, so he must have ordered a neat copy of his own notes. Whether the notes from Solok are also in fact written by van Ophuijsen is not clear, but it might as well be the case. One must wonder, however, what van Ophuijsen's motive must have been to have these notes written in Malay. Together with all the other notes on useful subjects (mathematics, geography, astronomy) they may have been part of plan of van Ophuijsen to put these materials, or at least the information, at the disposal of the Teachers Training College, which had just been founded in Fort de Kock (Bukit Tinggi).
Van Ophuijsen gives in the present catalogue also a description of the content of the manuscripts. It is at once evident, than Ph.S. van Ronkel (Supplement-Catalogus (1921)) for his catalogue entries has heavily leaned on this information, and that he often has literally copied van Ophuijsen's notes.

Catalogue of Malay manuscripts, compiled by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen, and signed by him, Amsterdam, February 10, 1864 (f. 9b). See E.P. Wieringa, Catalogue of Malay [...] manuscripts, 1 (1998), p. 294, describing Or. 2232 A, above. The 151 Malay manuscripts, mentioned in this catalogue, were presented by J.A.W. van Ophuijsen to the Dutch Ministry of Colonial Affairs. Another copy of this catalogue is Or. 2232 A. In Or. 12.169 (3), above, are notes by van Ophuijsen on his collection of manuscript materials in a much earlier stage of collecting. The manuscripts described in the catalogue were deposited in the Leiden library as a permanent loan of the Ministry of Colonial Affairs, later succeeded by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. They were registered as Permanent Loan Collection No. 5. On July 10, 1969, the Library of Leiden University acquired legal title of the collection, and the Van Ophuijsen manuscripts were renumbered within the Or. series: Or. 12.123 - Or. 12.282, above.
Pasted on f. 10a is the invoice of the book binder J. Schellenberg, who bound the entire van Ophuijsen collection between 28 January and 6 February 1864 in a uniform way, in which the manuscripts are still kept.

Several collections of photographs from the legacy of C. Snouck Hurgronje (1857-1936). The photographs in this section most probably used to be part of the legacy of prof. Christiaan Snouck Hurgronje donated to the library by his heirs in 1957. This legacy consisted for the major part of letters and was registered under the class-mark Or. 8952, above.
The collections have been arranged in 16 sections, indicated by CHS followed by a letter (A-O). The sections, now numbered as CHS A-L, were taken out of this legacy on 29 September 1969 by P.S. van Koningsveld, the then curator, and registered under the present class-mark Or. 12.288. It was stored in a cardboard map containing eight envelopes and one album, each containing different numbers of photographs of different sizes. The photographs in the L, O and P-sections were found rolled up and stored away flattened with weights. A short inventory list by van Koningsveld is included.
The section now numbered as CHS M was found in June 1999 in the collection of letters (Or. 8952), with the letter of Dr. D.G.W. van Voorthuijsen, and placed under the same class-mark as the other photographs.
The section CSH N-P was found in the library, before 1983, and was also placed under the same signature as the other photographs.
A. Sheaf, containing a collection of 11 photographs from Jeddah (and Mekka?), made by C. Snouck Hurgronje. The 11 photographs of which one is a duplicate were found in a light brown envelope of the Leiden University Library. ‘10 pictures of groups of Hajji’s (one is a group of children) not published in Snouck’s Bilder-Atlas[4]’.
B. Album of Dr. D.G.W. van Voorthuysen (* 1888) of Surabaya with 69 photographs (snapshots), presented to C. Snouck Hurgronje on 27 June 1927. The photographs were made in 1926 from the Arabian coasts, including Jeddah, when van Voorthuijsen travelled to the Dutch East-Indies. See also under M, below.

C. Sheaf, containing 13 photographs which were found in a light brown envelope. On the envelope an inscripton in Dutch, in pencil, in the handwriting of Snouck Hurgronje which reads: ‘Mecca and Jeddah, received 1926’. Also ‘15 photographs received from Van der Meulen in 1926’. According to this last inscription the envelope originally contained 15 photographs.
D. Sheaf, containing 9 photographs which were found in a small light brown envelope. On the envelope an inscription in Dutch, in ink, in the handwriting of Snouck Hurgronje which gives a short description of the envelope's contents: photographs of Mecca and Jeddah, received from the Indonesian physician Heerdjan in 1923.
E. Sheaf, containing 5 photographs of Mekka, Medina and in between, originally in an orange envelope of the Royal Packet Company.
F. Sheaf, containing 21 photographs which were found in a lightbrown envelope of the Leiden University Library. Photographs of Qamaran and other places, received from Dr. De Vogel in october 1924. According to this inscription the envelope originally contained 20 photographs
G. Sheaf, containing 4 photographs which were found in a lightbrown envelope of the Leiden University Library. Photographs of Mecca received from consul Wolff in January 1913, also a photograph of C. Snouck Hurgronje in Istanbul, and a photograph from Mecca received from Scheltema in May 1908.
H. One photograph, showing C. Snouck Hurgronje in Istanbul. Photograph of an older Snouck Hurgronje standing in front of the Hotel Messeret in Istanbul. Snouck Hurgronje is wearing a suit and a fez, his beard is white.
I. One photograph, showing a view on the Ka‘bah and the houses of Meccah from the Jiyyâd-fort. Photograph of the mosque and Ka‘bah in the middle and the houses of Mecca around it. Note that photographs CSH C.9 and OI A.2 --> are almost the same photograph but from a slightly different angle. On the backside in Dutch, in pencil, in the handwriting of Snouck Hurgronje an inscription reads: ‘Received from Scheltema 17-05-1908’.
J. Sheaf, containing 41 photographs which were found in a lightbrown envelope of the Leiden University Library. Several photographs from the collection of Snouck Hurgronje of which the origin is unclear. The envelope containes portraits, religious rites, houses, etc.
K. Sheaf, containing 23 photographs which were found in a lightbrown envelope of the Leiden University Library. 23 Arabian and Egyptian postcards. These are prints on cardboard of photographs; the first fifteen of the Arabian peninsula, the others from Cairo.
L. Sheaf, containing 23 albumen photographs of Mekka and surroundings. This is part on C. Snouck Hurgronje’s old collection. In 1974, this collection was found in distress. The photographs were rolled in rolls of one or a few, and were very difficult to flatten. From around 1980 onwards they were rolled out and flattened under weight. Now, more than twenty years later, they are more or less completely unrolled.
M. Sheaf, containing 40 photographs (snapshots), showing scenes mostly of Jeddah. Possibly received from Dr. D.G.W. van Voorthuysen. See also under B, above.

N. Sheaf, containing 25 albumen prints of pilgrims in Jeddah, made by C. Snouck Hurgronje in 1884. In 1974, this collection was found in distress. Javanese, paper (watermark Joseph Coles, 1809), 569 pp., Javanese script (Yogyakarta), half-leather European style binding, pasted boards.
Rama epic, in macapat verse, on the spine a label with title in Latin script 'Mondro Pura'. Beginning with the abdication of king Dasa Rata of Mandra Pura, Rama's father, and ending with the establishment of the new kingdom of Ngalengka after Dasa Muka's (Rahwana's) defeat. The text follows the tale as told in the Kanda books, the 'Books of Tales'. It is at variance with the classical Yasa Dipura poem and the Old Javanese kakawin. The introduction is written twice. It contains, enclosed in the ornamental initial pada, mention of the year 1826 (pp. 4, 8). This must be AD, not AJ, because of the use of (English) dated import paper. See Pigeaud IV, p. 49.

Between ff. 1-2 a lacuna of probably of 6 leaves. Between ff. 52-53 a lacuna (image of the Ka`ba missing) and possibly several more leaves as there is an abrupt transition from the Higaz to the Yemen. At the end (ff. 217b-218a) Gadwal fihi Hisab al-Ghalib wal-Maghlub, on ff. 218a-219b a section on chess, in fact *al-Urguza al-Shi`riyya, the poem on chess by Abu Ya`la Muhammad Ibn al-Habbariyya al-`Abbasi (d. 504/1100), GAL G I, 252. Or. 12.299
a 2- b 3 Manuk gantung, divination by the signs read by the priest from the inside of chicken. On a 15 - b 3 are seven drawings of the inside of a chicken, as usual in this type of text.
b 3-15 Panampuhi na bolon, divination with the upper and lower side of slices cut from a lemon which are thrown on a rice wan. Usually one finds in the oracle books the description of the lemon oracle, where a compass is drawn on the wan, as mentioned by J. Winkler, Die Toba-Batak auf Sumatra in gesunden und kranken Tagen. Ein Beitrag zur Kenntnis des animistischen Heidentums. Stuttgart 1925, pp. 202-204. However, Winkler also mentions (p. 189) a lemon oracle for which a human figure is drawn on the wan, as is the case in the present manuscript. The human figure which is drawn with yellow dye made from the kurkuma root can be seen here on b 11. The torso consists of three oval shapes, with a line drawn through these. On b 3/4 mention is made of parnibui, porratusan and porpuluan or porpului. The n of the word parnibui is not written very clearly. Voorhoeve assumes that parribui is meant, and that its meaning must be: the square for a thousand, and for a hundred and for a ten, which must be the oval shapes in the drawing. On b 12-15 one finds the text of three *taba*s, conjuring formulas, two for ritual purification with lemon juice and one for applying incense to the lemon juice. It is remarkable that a connection is made between the lemon oracle and the divination cord (rambu siporhas). The two slices of melon bear the same names as the two ropes of the divination cord, that is siporhas and sibangke. The writer himself makes the connection as he says on b 11: i ma rambu na so bisihon, 'that is a divination cord which one does not need to swish (bisik in the cord oracle = bosik, as said from the swishing movement by which the double cord is thrown on a carpet so that one can predict the future from the way it falls down).
b 15-16 As a sort of page filler follows here mention of the movenment of two signs (in the sky?), named si manapul and si manunggaling by the directions of the compass. One must avoid to have these signs in front of oneself in battle, during the cutting (for the first time) of the hair of a child, and when one is going to a meeting. In the beginning it is said that this teaching originates from Guru Sombaon ni adji. The name of the pupil for whom this book has been written is Ama ni Mardjurangga hata ni adji Ompu Radja na Tolu (op a 2 is eeroneously written Mardjuga in stead of Mardjurangga). He lived in the village Sosor Djulu.

Abi al-Khayr (author on f. 1b, title on f. 3b). The work, which is a sort of natural sciences encyclopedia and which treats natural properties (Taba'i`) is dedicated to `Ala' al-Dawla Abu Kaligar Garshasp (f. 3b, the last ruler of Kakwayhide dynasty [reigned 488-c. 513 AH in Isfahan and Hamadan as vassal of the Ghaznawids, see E. de Zambaur, Manuel, pp. 216-217.] On f. 4a, mention is made of their rule, or victory, over Mazenderan as well).

At the beginning, probably only very little of the text is missing, possibly one leaf only. On ff. 1b-3b is a detailed table of contents.
Qismi-i Nukhustin, Maqala 1-6.
Qismi-i Duwwumin, Maqala 7-12.
On f. 122b, the text ends abruptly in Naw` 9 of Maqala 12. Only the latter part of that Naw`, and Naw` 10 and the epilogue of the book are missing, so the greater part of the text has been preserved.

Batak, treebark, 42 ff., without covers, illustrations.
The a-side mainly treats adji pajung (with drawings of a pig's neck on a 42), the b-side treats different sorts of pormanuhon. There is also a piece of text (a 37-39) about shooting with a gun: Poda ni pamusatan ni tembak timan guruntа Ompun Samuana Radja Simeal-eal, with drawings of bullets. The chain of transmission in the beginning is:
ale   Ompu ni Sait ni Huta
i ma na tijan ompumu   Ompu ni Badingin ... di tano Sigumpar asa ro ma di ho ale radja ni amana oi poda ni ompumu Datu Sisi Habu-habu bao Tuwan Diam...di tano Sigumpar... asa ro ma di   Datu Pormangsi ni adji...
na masipalibean poda do hita ale lae Ompu ni Andar ni adji anak ni namora Pandjaitan ingot ma ho di poda ni tembakta inon.
It appears, therefore, that the adji pajung-text was obtained in exchange for the tembak-text. See transliteration in Or.12.322, ff. 843-844.
See Voorhoeve, Codices Batacici, p. 265.
Provenance: Purchased by auction on 23 June 1970 from 'De Zwaan', auction house in Amsterdam.

Three Javanese manuscripts purchased on 24 June 1970 from Mr. J. de Koning, a private collector in Leiden. They may originate from the collection of Hendrik Kraemer (1888-1965).

Or. 12.319
Javanese, Arabic, paper, 250 + 6 pp., Arabic script (pegon), Indonesian naskh, illuminated double opening page (pp. 2-3), dated 1250 AH (1834 AD, colophon on p. 250), full-leather Islamic binding with flap, with blind tooled ornamentation (borders, medallion). Illustrations.
Notebook, Primbon kagungan Dalem ingkang Sinuhun Paku Buwana ingkang kaping pitu ing nagari Surakarta Adiningrat, ingkang nerat abdi Dalem haji Abdu 'l-Ghani bin Hamzah (p. 250). According to a note in red pencil which was allegedly written by the princess Sekar Kadaton herself, the book was given to her by her father Susuhunan Paku Buwana VII (reigned 1830-1858), and she in turn gave it as a heirloom (pusaka) to her son Raden mas panji Mangku Subrata. She had been given the predicate and name Ratu Pambayun when she married.

The volume contains a collection of divinatory calculations (petungan), medicines and magic with *rajah*s (magical squares and drawings) composed of Arabic characters.
The last part of the book (pp. 197-250) contains a text which is basically Javanese, but which contains several Arabic prayers (Du`a') and litanies (Ratib) provided with notes referring to the profit derived from reciting them on the good times to do so. Some of the Arabic texts have Javanese glosses written under the lines. The abgad alphabet is mentioned on p. 4.
The Arabic script is carefully writtren with a good hand, but the orthography is not always correct. Both Arabic and Javanese words are vocalized throughout the book. Some pages have notes in Javanese script in the margins.
See Pigeaud IV, pp. 50-51.
A few elements in the Arabic part can be described as follows:
- pp. 212-215. On the Sifat al-Nabi, given in form of a conversation between the Prophet Muhammad and `Ali b. Abi Talib. Arabic with interlinear Javanese translation.
- pp. 215-230. On the Sifat al-Nabi, given in form of a conversation between `Ali b. Abi Talib and Abu Hurayra. Arabic with interlinear Javanese translation.
- pp. 231-234. An enumeration al-Asma' al-Husna, Arabic with interlinear Javanese translation, followed by a text in Javanese.
- pp. 234-237. Prayer of Tawakkul, followed by a text in Javanese.
- pp. 237-238. Prayer with several of al-Ama' al-Husna.
- pp. 238-246. Prayers and instructions for amulet use, sometimes alternated by text in Javanese.
- pp. 247-250. Text in Javanese on the conditions of validity of ritual prayer.

Javanese, paper, 618 ff. + blanks (original numbering), Javanese script (Yogyakarta), dated 1844 AJ (1914 AD), full-leather Javanese binding with blind tooled ornaments in Islamic fashion.
Babad Kartasura. Dynastic history of the first half of the 18th century, in macapat verse, ending abruptly in the episode of the Mangku Nagara troubles in Surakarta. Extensive version, of Yogyakarta origin. The writing is not very good, but sufficiently clear. The script and spelling are Yogya'nese. The text contains numerous graphic descriptions of interesting scenes and very few chronograms, if any. It was meant to be interesting reading-matter for lovers of Javanese dynastic history. Added is a shorty note on the contents of the work by J. Soegiarto.

Collection of fragments in Arabic, Persian and Urdu, paper, 6 ff., Arabic script.
A. 1 f. Persian. Fragment from the Shahnama by Firdawsi (c. 934-c. 1020), in paper frame.
B. 1 f. Arabic. Fragment of a Mamluk Qur'an, with text 76:13-77:38.
C. 1 f. Arabic, Persian. Fragment of a Qur'an from India, with text 26:111-118, beginning of hizb 38. With Persian interlinear translation. Illuminated.
D. 1 f. Persian. Muraqqa` of the calligrapher Mir `Ali.
E. 2 ff. Urdu. Two leaves from an Indian manuscript with four illustrations. A non-Islamic text in Arabic script, but apparently Urdu. There are four i1lustrations in a1l, two are on one side of one leaf, the other two are on either side of the other leaf.

Damage especially at the green-coloured parts (copper oxidation).The illustrations show:
1. A scene with Balarama, Krishna, Sandipani, Vasudeva (?). See P. Banerjee, The Life of Krishna in Indian art. New Delhi 1978, fig. 176. See Anna L. Dallapicola (ed.), Krishna, the divine lover. London 1982, pp. 69-70.
Bottom of the page: A king (Arjuna?) holding a sceptre, sitting on a throne on a four-wheeled charriot drawn by two horses. He is speaking with a prince (Krishna), standing before him on the charriot. Three armed guards walk in front. This possibly refers to the oncoming war between Pandavas and Kauravas.
2. (395 x 215 mm, damaged at bottorn). Two miniatures.
a. Krishna with a crowned person, possibly Balarama.
b. Krishna with God Brahma. The other beings are young herdsmen.
The two miniatures represent the following story. Krishna eats with the young herdsmen. The cows walk out of sight and Krishna goes after them. Brahma decides to play a joke on Krishna by carrying the young herdsmen and the cows away to a distant place and by locking thern in a cave. When Krishna comes back the place is ernpty and he understands the joke. He multiplies himself and creates other herdsmen and cows, as if nothing has happened. When Brahma comes and looks, he understand that his joke has come through and that this is a game (lila) of Krishna. He kneels for Krishna in reverence

Pawukon. The thirty wuku's with their attributes (pp. 1-57), and many notes on related subjects, Javanese divinatory systems and tables (pp. 58-82). The manuscript contains also a long list (52 items) of memule dishes to be offered to the Prophet Muhammad and Siti Pertimah, seh Ngabdul Kadir Jaelani and the prophets of old, the Javanese wali's, and the Javanese Kings and Queens, beginning with the Sultan of Demak down to sunan

Paku Buwana V and Ratu Kencana V, and many other personalities (pp. 83-91). Further some treatises in macapat verse on auspicious and inauspicious days. The Kidung Rumeksa ing Wengi (p. 135), Kidung Artati (p. 139), Kidung Lalembut (p. 149), Pitik Tukung (p. 157), Pitutur marang Wong Tani (p. 161) are included. The last pages (pp. 186 ff.) contain notes on medicines. The manuscript is of Surakarta origin. The script is large quadratic, imitating real kraton script. Orthography and versification are defective. It seems like that the book was written for the use of a lady belonging to the royal family of Surakarta, about the middle of the 19th century.
Earlier provenance: From the estate of Hendrik Kraemer (1888-1965), who purchased the manuscript in Surakarta in 1930. See also Or. 12.320 and Or. 12.321, above.

(2) ff. 4a-b. Arabic, Javanese. Shorter pieces and fragments. Part of an explanation of ayat of the Surat al-Fatiha. Also prayers.
(3) ff. 5a-12b. Arabic, with interlinear Javanese. Treatise on Islamic matrimonial law. No author mentioned. In the margins, and on ff. 12b-13a notes of varied nature, mostly in Javanese.
(4) ff. 13b-14b. Asl al-Mas'ala. Notes on divisions in equal parts. With interlinear Javanese, and marginal notes.
(5) ff. 15a-24a. Incomplete copy (abrupt end) of a text entitled Kitab al-Fara'id (title on f. 15a). The section on the portions of inheritance, probably taken from a larger compilation. Divided into unnumbered chapters (bab). In the beginning with interlinear Javanese text, and marginal notes.
(6) ff. 24b-43b. Umm al-Barahin by Abu `Abdallah Muhammad b. Yusuf al-Sanusi (d. 892/1486), GAL G II, 250, with an unidentified commentary, apparently not al-Sanusi's own. Matn written in red ink. In Java this text is known as al-Durra. On f. 43b numerous notes, mostly in Javanese. It seems that this text is identical to No. 16, below.
(7) f. 44a. Several Hadith, one on the merits of Talab al-`Ilm.
(8) f. 44b. The first page only of Kitab al-`Awamil al-Mi'a by `Abd al-Qahir b. `Abd al-Rahman al-Gurgani (d. 471/1078), GAL G I, 287. With Javanese notes.
(9) f. 45a. Arabic, Javanese. Notes of varied nature, with a schematical representation (on al-Hamd), and with a drawing (two-headed animal).
(10) ff. 45b-60b. Kitab al-`Awamil al-Mi'a by `Abd al-Qahir b. `Abd al-Rahman al-Gurgani (d. 471/1078), GAL G I, 287. With Javanese interlinear translation and numerous marginal notes. Ornament around the end (f. 60b).
(11) f. 61a. Arabic, Javanese. Schematical representation of the meanings of first half of the Shahada. Concerns the divine attributes.

(12) ff. 61b-81b. Unidentified commentary by on Kitab al-`Awamil al-Mi'a by `Abd al-Qahir b. `Abd al-Rahman al-Gurgani (d. 471/1078), GAL G I, 287 (title and author on f. 61b). In the beginning with Javanese marginal notes. The Matn is written in red ink. Dated a Thursday in Muharram (f. 81b). The commentary is the same text as described by Ph.S. van Ronkel in the Jakarta collection 636 (2), Supplement to the Catalogue (Batavia 1913), p. 431, No. 735. Van Ronkel has no further identification, but he gives a title: Sharh al-`Awamil al-Wasit.
(13) ff. 82a-84a. Notes of varied content, mostly in Javanese. Schematical representations (ff. 83a-b).
(14) ff. 84a-86b. Fasl fi Makharig al-Huruf. A short anonymous treatise on the correct pronunciation of Arabic. Also a drawing of phonological intent, a schematical representation of the human speech organ, with the articulation points for the different phonemes indicated (f. 84a). The same illustration is repeated on f. 86b.
(15) ff. 86b-87a. Notes of varied nature, some magical drawings. Mostly in Javanese.
(16) ff. 87b-114a. Incomplete copy (abrupt end) of commentary by on Umm al-Barahin by Abu `Abdallah Muhammad b. Yusuf al-Sanusi (d. 892/1486), GAL G II, 250, with an unidentified commentary, apparently not al-Sanusi's own. In Java this text is known as al-Durra. Matn written in red ink. It seems that this text is identical to No. 6, above.

Arabic, paper, 157 + 4 ff., illustrated, parchment European-style binding. The illustrations are placed in the oblong position of the paper. They are numbered and provided with captions in a later hand. The captions are often derived from the chapter headings in the text.
Kitab Qatf Azhar Rawdat al-Ka'inat wa-ma qasahu Adam min al-Imtihanat, by `Isa Bitru (Petro), who lived and worked in Jerusalem in the first half of the 18th century (Graf, GCAL, III, 159-160). The language of the text shows numerous features of Middle Arabic. The work mainly contains the story of the early books of the Old Testament, with several apocryphal elements. The second half of the volume (ff. 104b-157b) contains 112 drawings, executed in coloured ink. They all show biblical scenes and are done in a naturalistic European style of rather simple, almost naïve style. From other works of `Isa Petro it is clear that he was well acquainted with European books. According to the introduction, the author began writing the book (here referred to as Mukhtasar) on 20 May 1722 in Jerusalem. It could be argued on the basis of the wording of the introduction (f. 8a) that the present manuscript is the author's own copy. There is no indication about the authorship of the illustrations. A note on f. 96b, however, would seem to imply that the manuscript dated from 1822, not from 1722. It should be observed that in other instances where 1722 is read (ff. 6b-8a), this was done on top of erased text. The back of the binding gives another date: 1721, but this date is not corroborated by the manuscript. Full description of all illustrations in the J.J. Witkam, A Catalogue of Illustrations.

First bibliographical mention in P.Sj. van Koningsveld, 'Drie Arabische handschriften', in Bibliotheekinformatie. Mededelingenblad voor wetenschappelijke bibliotheken No. 5 (juli 1972), pp. 17-18.

Two Middle-Eastern manuscripts, purchased in the course of 1970 from Messrs Kegan Paul, antiquarian booksellers in London. The two manuscripts' earlier provenance is the Collection of the nineteenth-century bibliophile Sir Thomas Phillipps (1792-1872). The fly-leaves of both manuscripts have Phillipp's owner's stamp, showing a walking lion, with underneath 'Sir T.P. Middle Hill' followed by the number.
¶ Between 1819 and 1872 the wealthy bibliomaniac and antiquary Sir Thomas Phillipps assembled one of the largest and perhaps the greatest private collection of books and manuscripts the world has ever seen. Dispersed after his death in a series of sales lasting the better part of a century, Sir Thomas's fabled Bibliotheca Phillippica - a collection of some 60,000 manuscripts and 40,000 printed books - enriched countless libraries in Europe and the United States. Phillipps was also one of the great English eccentrics of the nineteenth century, notorious not only for his voracious collecting, but also for his passionate if inept forays into scholarly writing and publishing, as well as his somewhat bizarre domestic life (text taken from the internet).

Turkish, paper, 2 + 250 + 1 ff., naskh script, dated 23 Safar 1219 (1804 AD, f. 250a), half-leather Islamic binding, pasted boards. Illustrations.
Gughrafiya-yi Katib Celebi (title on f. 1a, also on lower edge). A geographical work which is said to be conceived by Katib Celebi Mustafa b. `Abdallah Haggi Khalifa (d. 1067/1657), GAL G II, 428. Schmidt points out, however, that the text was written after the 17th century, and on f. 210b is a reference to the treaty of Utrecht which was concluded in 1125/1713. Schmidt gives as title: Targuma-yi Gughrafiya.
The main text describes European topography and could, somehow, originate from the Haggi Khalifa's Lawami` al-Nur fi Zulmat Atlas Minor. The Lawami` is an adaptation of the text only of the Atlas Minor by Gerard Mercator (1512-1594) and Ludovicus Hondius (1598-1659). F. Babinger (GOW, p. 199) identifies the edition Arnhem 1621 of the Atlas Minor as the source of the present text (assuming that this is indeed Haggi Khalifa's Lawami` al-Nur), but comparison between the two texts, the Atlas Minor and the present MS, makes it clear that `this is far from a literal translation. It is rather an adaptation of the material according to Turkish taste and requirements. Moreover, it should be noted that the title of the Lawami` al-Nur presents the text as an improvement of the Atlas Minor.
On ff. 231b-247b, in the epilogue (khatima) are a number of coloured drawings illustrating general geographical and astronomical concepts. Some of these come of the introduction of Haggi Khalifa's other geographical work, Gihan-numa.
f. 213b. Diagram of the Ptolemaean world system.
f. 214b. Diagram of the Copernican world system.

f. 243a. Two diagrams illustrating the working of the lunar and the solar eclipse.
f. 244a. Proof that the earth is round by the shape of the shadow which is cast on the moon during the lunar eclipse.
f. 245a. Diagram showing how to determine the position of a locality on the earth with relation to a parallel and meridian.
ff. 246b-247b. Three compasses:
- f. 246b. A simple compass, divided into 32 parts, with Turkish legends.
- f. 247a. An extension of the somple compass, divided into 32 parts, with Turkish legends, augmented with an outer circle on which the rise of constellations is indicated. In use in the Ocean by Arabs, Indians and Persians (f. 246b).
- f. 247b. A simple compass, divided into 32 parts, with Turkish legends. In the added outer circle, the legends are in Dutch, written in Ottoman script.
Provenance: Ex-collection Franz Taeschner No. 41.

Or. 12.365
Collective volume with texts in Turkish, paper, 216 ff., surrounded by a few blanks, nasta`liq script, one copyist, dated 3 Muharram 1060 (1650 AD, copied by Muhammad b. Wali (Mehmed b. Veli, colophon on f. 214b), entire text set in a golden fram, full-leather Islamic binding with flap, with gilded ornamentation (borders, medallion, corner-pieces), similarly worked leather doublure (blue and gold). Illustrations and illuminations (ff. 1b, 66b, 80b). A luxury manuscript.
(1) ff. 1b-66a. Qanunnama-yi Tawarikh-i Padishahan-i Chin wa-Khitay. The Khitay-nama by `Ali Akbar Khita'i (lived during the reign of Sultan Murad III), who compiled the text in 990/1582.
(2) ff. 66b-79b. A Risala on subjects of physics and magic, `Ilm-i Tilasmat. Apparently a translation of an Arabic text (Arabic chapter titles), divided into an introduction, three chapters and an epilogue. No indication of author or title. The text was apparently commissioned by a Sultan (f. 66b).

(3) ff. 80b-216a. Kitab Hadith-i Naw dar Dhikr-i Ahwal-i Hind-i Gadid ya`ni Yeni Dunya (title on f. 80b). The work is better known as Tarih-i Hind-i Garbi, the history of the discovery of the Americas, compiled in or before 1580 an anonymous Ottoman author. See on this text Thomas D. Goodrich, The Ottoman Turks and the New World. A study of Tarih-i Hind-i garbi and sixteenth century Ottoman Americana. Wiesbaden 1990 [O.L.G. T 1846:3], and Tarih-i Hind-i Garbi veya Hadis-i nev. Istanbul 1987 [O.L.G. 11:4410], which is a facsimile edition of MS Istanbul, Topkapi, Revan Köskü 1488. The miniatures in the Leiden manuscript resemble very much those in the Topkapi manuscript.
f. 90b. Pasted-on world map, with Mekka in the centre, according to the Prolemaean model.
f. 97a. The island of Waq Waq. Ship wrecked travellers are torn apart by wild animals.
f. 97b. The island of Waq Waq, where women grow on trees.
f. 116a. Pasted-on map in Mercator projection of the eastern hemisphere.
f. 120a. Pasted-on map in Mercator projection of the western hemisphere.
f. 130b. The see-cow or mantee, apparently on a Caribean island.
f. 142a. The male and female tapir.
f. 145a. A bearded merman, swimming. He is caught by fishermen of Cubagua in South America.
f. 151b. Two birds of paradise, on an island in the Magelhaen Sea.
f. 154b. Strange birds: pelican, ducks, armadillo.
f. 166a. Three prickly pear trees.
f. 185b. A bighorn sheep and a bison, held by two Indians.
f. 197b. The town of Potosí, Peru. Three Spaniard engaged in silver mining.
f. 207a. A mountainous landscape in the New World.
f. 207b. An Indian hunting with bow and arrow. An armadillo, a jaguar and an ant-eater are also visible.
f. 209a. Exotic animals. A European clad hunter shoots apes. Also visible an opossum, a sloth, and a rooster and a hen.
f. 212a. Exotic birds in exotic trees (turkey, wild hen, partridge).
f. 213b. An indigenous man in front of two exotic plants.
ff. 215b-216a. Pasted-on twin maps of the two hemispheres in Mercator projection, apparently taken from a printed European work (legends in Latin).
Provenance: Ex-collection Franz Taeschner No. 42. Purchased in December 1924 from Messrs. Otto Harrassowitz, Oriental booksellers in Wiesbaden (Catalogue 400, No. 2496). Turkish, paper, 33 ff., naskh script, dated 22 Dhu al-Higga 1145 (1733 AD), copied in Istanbul (colophon on f. 29b), full-leather Islamic binding, with gilded ornamentation (borders, medallion, corner-pieces). Illumination (ff. 3b, 20b, 27b, 29b) and illustrations (maps).
Kitab-i Gem-numa fi Fann-i Gughrafiya. A Turkish translation, or adaptations by Bedros Baronian, dragoman of the Embassy of The Netherlands in Istanbul, and later, when the present work was compiled, the head-dragoman in the Embassy of the Two Sicilies (f. 29b), and who was born in the town of Kaiseri (f. 3b), of the first eight introductory chapters of Jacques Robbe, Méthode pour apprendre facilement la géographie, which was first published in Paris in 1678. A Adnan Adivar, La science chez les Turcs Ottomans. Paris 1939 [8203 E 17], p. 136, refers to the present (Taeschner) manuscript, and mentions as the author of the original work a certain Jacques Robbes. However, he does quote a title, and only describes its contents as 'la méthode pour apprendre facilement la gégraphie'. No source is given for this information. Schmidt has convincingly juxtaposed f. 7b of the manuscript and pp. 6-7 of the edition The Hague 1688 [Leiden copy 347 G 5] the Méthode, showing the French original and its Turkish translation. According to the text itself it is based on a geographical work which was compiled some 45 years before on behalf of a Comte Colyer (f. 3b, Elci-yi Kabir-i Felemenk. He is Count Jacob Colyer (born The Hague 1657, died Pera 1725), who was, from 1688 onwards, the Dutch ambassador at the Sublime Porte. The Colyer who is mentioned by Joseph von Hammer (Geschichte VI, pp. 201-202, 448; VII, p. 343) as the author Journal de Mr. Colier Résident à la Porte (1672), was the Count's father Justinus. The Musalaha-yi `Amm, general peace, mentioned on f. 3b, is apparently the Peace of Pasarovicz of 1718, in which Colyer acted as a mediator.
The Turkish translator makes frequently reference to the Gihan-numa, the geographical work by Katib Celebi Mustafa b. `Abdallah Haggi Khalifa (d. 1067/1657), GAL G II, 428, which means that the present text is not a literal or free translation of one European work. The translation is said to have been made during the reign of Sultan Mahmud I (1143-1168/1730-1754). All these details were kindly provided by Dr. A.H. de Groot, Leiden University.
ff. 7a-8b. Geometrical figures as used in geography.
ff. 15b-16a. Two compass cards, comparable to those given in the Gihan-numa by Katib Celebi Mustafa b. `Abdallah Haggi Khalifa (d. 1067/1657), GAL G II, 428.
ff. 30b-31a. Twin maps of the two hemispheres in Mercator projection.
ff. 32b-33a. Double page of the Mediterranean and the Black Sea, apparently according to a European model.

Or. 12.367
Turkish, paper (oil washed), 1 sheet, 57 x 54 cm, kept in a folder of red silk, with gold print (ornaments and tughra of Sultan Abdül Hamit).
Map of Istanbul and Galata, scale 1:10,000, with legends in Ottoman Turkish. The purpose of the map is apparently to give a survey of means of public transportation and to project a line for an underground in the centre of Istanbul (a red line). The map gives a summary street plan, with some of the larger mosques indicated, with parks and gardens, and with the names of the districs.
The metro in Galata is not indicated, which possibly did not yet exist when the present map was drawn.

Or. 12.407
Turkish, paper, 319 ff., naskh script (but ff. 2-58a written in a script which seems to be derived from diwani script), f. 1 is a replacement, dated in the early morning (kushluk) of a Friday in Gumada II 896 (1490 AD, full-page colopn on f. 319b), modern half-cloth binding, pasted boards.
al-Farag ba`d al-Shidda*, possibly a Turkish version or adaptation of the Arabic *Kitab al-Farag ba`d al-Shidda by al-Muhassin b. `Ali al-Tanukhi (d. 384/994), GAL G I, 255. Title mentioned on f. 1a. The text is divided into 42 Hikayat's. If this is at all a Turkish adaptation of the Arabic work, the division into 14 chapters (bab) of the original has not been replaced in the Turkish version by hikayat, anecdotes. The numbering of the stories by Persian ordinal numbers may point to a Persian source.
Provenance: Ex-collection Franz Taeschner No. 88.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 3 (Leiden 2006), pp. 218-222, with a reproduction of ff. 2b-3a on p. 219 and of f. 419b on p. 221.

Or. 12.423
Collective volume with texts in Turkish, with some Arabic, paper, 169 ff., mostly nasta`liq script, several copyists, modern cloth binding, in which old ornaments have been used.
Notebook, used for a variety of texts and notes. Most dated texts are from the early 12th century AH. As main constituent texts can be mentioned: administrative notes from the Ottoman realm, collections of stories, divinatory tables. The owner and maker of the present notebook must have been a high official. A rough description of the content of the volume follows here:
ff. 1b-2a, 4b-16b. List of towns, with names of people. Dated 1103 AH.
ff. 2b-3a. Names of persons, with quantities (of money?).
ff. 3b-4a. Copy of a historical document (?).
ff. 17a-21b, 26a-23a. Hikayat Ghariba. Curious stories. In the beginning mention is made of Sultan Mustafa I (reigned 1026-1027 AH).
f. 22b. Rumeli Qadalari. List of the districts (qada, kaza) in European Turkey.
ff. 26b-51b, 54b. Alphabetical lists (on pages with indication of the Arabic alphabet), containing data about districts, qada, kaza, and names of persons. Also dates are given, up to 1110 AH.
ff. 52a-54a, 76b-78a. Poetical quotations.
ff. 55b-56b. List with the names of the old prophets (including Gengiz Khan!), companions of the Prophet Muhammad, and some Persian kings. Ff. 57a-60b are blank.
f. 61a. A letter model.
f. 62a. Prayer text.
ff. 62b-72b. al-Huruf (title on f. 72b). Lists with letters of the Arabic alphabet, made for divinatory purposes, dream interpretation and many other purposes as is indicated on top of each page. Apparently the lists are made in order to choose a letter absolutely at random. In the beginning (f. 62b) Muhyi al-Din Ibn al-`Arabi (d. 638/1240), GAL G I, 442, is mentioned.
ff. 79a-78b. Hikaya-yi `Ibratnuma. Edifying story.
ff. 79b-80a. Lists of properties (?), of *waqf*s and persons.
ff. 80b, 81b-118a. Hikayat's, e.g. de story of Ga`far Barmak (f. 84a).
ff. 118b-119a. Copy of a letter, dated 1 Muharram 1111.
f. 119b. Copy of a letter, dated 26 Rabi` II 1112, and names of seven signatories.
f. 120a. List of geographical distances, expressed in hours.
ff. 120b-121a. A pious story (?).
f. 122b. Administrative notes (towns and amounts).

ff. 123b-131b, 154b, 155b-156a. List of towns< with names of pertsons, and sometimes also amounts. On f. 123b entitled Shi`ar al-Mu`azzam Sanat <1>110.
ff. 132b-134b, 137b. Administrative notes of varied nature.
ff. 139a-141a. Original documents (or legalized copies?), with signatures and seal prints, one dated 1 Ramadan 1103 (f. 141a).
ff. 141b-144a. Administrative notes of varied nature.
ff. 144b-149b, 150a-153b. Alphabetically arranged survey of Liwa's, provinces, with names of the districts (qada'), beginning with Liwa Aydin, followed by a similar list.
ff. 158b, 159b-164a. Administrative notes, one dated 20 Dhu al-Higga 1109, and some poetry (f. 161b).
ff. 164b-169b. Geographical and administrative descriptions. On f. 165a two texts in Arabic.
Provenance: Ex-collection Franz Taeschner No. 107.

Turkish, paper, 219 ff., mostly diwani script, occasionally siyaqat and other scripts, full-leather Islamic binding, with gilded ornaments (sets of borders). A few drawings in pencil (ff. 4a, 7b Notebook, according to a note by Taeschner coming from a civil servant during the reign of Sultan Abdülmedjid I (1255-1277 AH). Several dates in the documents precede the latter's reign, however (e.g. f. 201). Taeschner has made this dating on the basis of the list of Ottoman Sultans on f. 218a, which had Abdülmedjid as last Sultan. The notebook mostly contains documents in connection with provinces and towns in the Ottoman realm. Schmidt proposes as the owner of the notebook Isma`il Fanni (Ertuğrul, lived 1856-1946).

On ff. 202a-204b is a Bayannama by Hadrat Ghalib Efendi, dated 4 Safar 1221. Schmidt deals in detail with the contents of the notebook.
Provenance: Ex-collection Franz Taeschner No. 110. Present received by Taeschner on 19 July 1926 from Dr. Max Meyerhof (1874-1945), who had acquired the MS in Cairo (note on f. 1a).

(3) ff. 106b-113b. Fasl fi Bayan Manaqib Sultan Akhi Awran (Akhi Ewran, title on f. 106b). On f. 107b another section title: Fasl fi Bayan Intisab Akhi Awran (Akhi Ewran). On ff. 111a-b Salasil. On f. 111b another section title: Fasl dar Bayan-i Mu`gizat-i Surur-i Ka'inat ... Dated 1048 AH (f. 113b). See also F. Taeschner's article Akhi Ewran in EI[2].
(4) ff. 114b-121b. A treatise Shaykh Muhammad al-Sharif al-Husayni, known as A`zami b. al-Marhum Akhi `Ali al-Awrani al-`Abbasi al-Munzawi, who wrote this in Muharram 1030/1620, concerning the origin of the art of tanning. An owner (`Abd al-Nabi, Qadi in Saray [= Sarajevo]) has written on the page preceding the text (f. 114a): Surat Maktub al-Shaykh al-Madhkur Ismuhu fi Dhaylihi naqaltu `anhu min Ghayr Taghyir Harf. On the same page another owner (`Abd al-Halim b. Ragab, Qadi in Saray [= Sarajevo]) has confirmed this by writing: Hadhi Sura Mutabiqa li-Asliha. On f. 114b there is a marginal note by yet another owner (Muhammad b. Ahmad, Qadi in Saray [= Sarajevo]): al-Muharrir fi Hadha al-Kitab alladhi zubira fi Dhaylihi Ism al-Shaykh la yakhlu min al-Nasa'ih wal-Adab (see also the inscription on f. 122a). The same confirmation as on f. 114a is repeated in the margin of f. 114b.
On f. 121b an owner's note: Min Gumlat Awlad Rasul al-Thaqalayn al-Shaykh Muhammad al-Sharif al-Husayni al-Shahir bi-A`zami ibn al-Marhum Akhi `Ali al-Awrani al-`Abbasi al-Munzawi fi Khanqah al-Markazi [...].

(5) ff. 122b-127a. Untitled treatise on the traditions and customs of the tanners' guild in Saray (Sarajevo). The author's (or copyist's?) (sur)name has been given in an inscription by an owner (Muhammad b. Pir Ahmad al-Mawla in Saray [= Sarajevo] on f. 122a) as al-Musattir fi hadhi al-Awraq la yakhlu min al-Nasa'ih wal-Adab bil-Ittifaq. Another owner (`Abd al-Nabi, qadi in Saray [Sarajevo]) has written in the margin of f. 122b: Surat Kitab al-Shaykh al-Marqum Ismuhu fi Dhaylihi naqaltu `anhu min Ghayr Taghyir Harf minhu. At the end of the text, owners have left several inscriptions:
f. 127b: Min Gumlat Awlad Rasul al-Thaqalayn al-Shaykh Muhammad al-Sharif al-Husayni al-Shahir bi-A`zami ibn al-Marhum Akhi `Ali al-Awrani al-`Abbasi al-Munzawi fi Khanqah al-Markazi [...].

Or. 12.470 a - Or. 12.470 b
Two Arabic manuscripts, purchased from Mrs. R.M. Ollier in Paris, early in 1971.

Or. 12.470 a
Arabic, paper, 140 ff., naskh script in miniature size, illuminations (ff. 3b, 42b, 66b), entire text set in a gold frame, golden discs between the verses, chapter headings in gold, elaborate and informative colophons (ff. 41b, 65a, 101b, 129a-b), full-leather binding in Islamic style, with gilded ornamentation (borders, medallion, corner pieces), doublures with gilded ornaments. A portable luxury manuscript.
The New Testament in Arabic. The introduction on ff. 1a-2a.
(1) ff. 2a-41b. The Gospel according to Matthew. The introduction on ff. 2a-b. Dated 7163 Anno Mundi, coinciding with 1654 of al-Tagassud al-Ilahi (the birth of Christ), copied by archdeacon Bulus Nasim, son of the patriarch Kirukarius al-Antaki al-Halabi in Kalomina in Moscovia, where he had come in order to redeem the debts of the See of Antioch (colophon on f. 41b).

(2) ff. 42a-65a. The Gospel according to Mark. The introduction on ff. 42a-b. Dated on Saturday 9 Kanun I 7163 Anno Mundi, coinciding with 1654 of al-Tagassud al-Ilahi (the birth of Christ), copied by archdeacon Bulus Nasim, son of the patriarch Kirukarius al-Antaki al-Halabi (colophon on f. 65a).
(3) ff. 65b-101b. The Gospel according to Luke. The introduction on ff. 65b-66a. Dated on Saturday 23 Kanun I 1654, copied by archdeacon Bulus Nasim, son of the patriarch Kirukarius al-Antaki al-Halabi, in days of cold and snow and ice and darkness (colophon on f. 101b).
(4) ff. 102a-129a. The Gospel according to John. The introduction on f. 102a, illumination on f. 102b omitted and page left blank. Dated on Thursday 4 Kanun II in the beginning of the year1655 of al-Tagassud al-Ilahi (the birth of Christ), copied in the monastic cell (qilaya) of one of the bishops of Moscovia in the stone castle of Kalomina, near the town of Stolita, under the reign of kanazi (?) Alexios, son of Mikhai'l, who is now at war with the enemies of the religion because of the atrocities committed by them, by capturing the country Molanetska, which has belonged to his father and his grandfathers. At present the plague is raging in Moscovia, what they know from old, copied by archdeacon Bulus Nasim, son of the patriarch Kirukarius al-Antaki al-Halabi. Then the copyist proceeds to give more details on the plague (colophon on ff. 129a-b).

Or. 12.471 - Or. 12.472
Two Arabic manuscripts purchased on 10 February 1971 from Gallery ‘De Sfinx’, in The Hague.

Or. 12.471
Arabic, paper, 202 ff., naskh script, dated Thursday 3 Shawwal 1238 AH, coinciding with 6 Ba’una 1822 of the Coptic calendar, copied by Rafa’il Butrus (colophon on f. 201a), full parchment binding. In the colophon on f. 201a, John Chrysostome and the Evangelist John are confused.
The New Testament in Arabic.
(1) ff. 1a-52b. The Gospel according to Matthew. Beginning missing, lacuna between ff. 8-9. The beginning of the volume may be the text on f. 153b.
(2) ff. 53a-90a. The Gospel according to Mark. The introduction on ff. 53a-b, table of contents, with Coptic numbers on ff. 54a-b.
(3) ff. 90b-153a. The Gospel according to Luke. The introduction on ff. 90b-91a, table of contents, with Coptic numbers on ff. 91b-92b. On f. 153b the beginning only of what seems to be the beginning of the volume. Ff. 154a-156b blank.
(4) ff. 157a-200b. The Gospel according to John.

Or. 12.472
Arabic, Turkish, Russian, paper, 1 sheet, copied by `Abd al-Magid al-Khatrakhi (?), made li-Akhina al-Qadi `Uthman al-Tartari. al-Tawarikh al-Islamiyya and al-Tawarikh al-Rumiyya. Tables (gadwal) for the Islamic lunar calendar and the Christian calendar, apparently from a Tatar environment. This looks like two perpetual calendars, each on one side of the paper. The Christian calendar ranges from 1873 till 2018 (but there seems to be a mistake here as 1909 is followed by 2000. The Islamic calendar ranges between 1316 till 1331. Some commentary in Turkish (in pencil) on the Islamic gadwal. Also some Russian legends. Under the title for the Islamic calendar is written A`ana Allah `alayhim. Under the title for the Christian calendar is written La`nat Allah `alayhim.

Or. 12.479 - Or. 12.480
Two Arabic manuscripts, purchased on 22 March 1971 from Mr. A.A. Fatatri, an Egyptian dealer, living in Leiden.

Or. 12.479
Arabic, paper, 154 ff., Maghribi script, simple illumination (f. 154a), copied by al-Sayyid al-`Arabi b. al-Sayyid Ahmad b. al-Sayyid al-`Arabi al-Guma`i (colophon on f. 154a) and data from an earlier colophon are included: copied from a manuscript written by al-Sayyid al-Hagg Muhammad b. al-Faqih `Abd al-Salam al-Tihami al-Fattuh, completed on 5 Dhu al-Qa`da 1755 (?, f. 154a). Unbound, loose quires, kept in a sheaf.
Haly al-Ma`asim li-Fikr Ibn `Asim, commentary by Muhammad b. Suda al-Tawudi (d. 1207/1792, author on the cover), GAL S II, 689, on Tuhfat al-Hukkam, the urguza on Maliki law by Abu Bakr Ibn `Asim al-Qaysi al-Andalusi al-Gharnati (d. 829/1426), GAL G II, 264; S II, 375. Text of the Urguza written in red.
The date in the colophon, irrespective of its exact meaning, is somewhat puzzling. It could be read 755 AH, but that is an anachronism to any of the texts in the volume. Reading it as 1755 AD might be a solution but an improbable one, since the use of a Christian date in an Islamic colophon is unlikely. Only in colonial times, Christian dates start to appear in Muslim texts and colophons.
On ff. 1a, 154b are notes, unrelated to the Sharh, on the 66 creeds derived from the shahada.
¶ The commentary was identified with the printed edition, in the margin of al-Bahga fi Sharh al-Tuhfa li-Abi al-Hasan Ali b. Abd al-Salam al-Tasuli `ala al-Urguza al-Musammat bi-Tuhfat al-Hukkam li-Ibn Asim al-Andalusi, wa-bi-Hashiyatihi Haly al-Ma`asim li-Fikr Ibn `Asim li-Abi `Abd Allah Muhammad al-Tawudi wa-huwa Sharh Urguzat Tuhfat al-Hukkam. Acehnese, Dutch, 2 sheaves, 162 + 205 ff., loose papers, typewritten, Latin script.
The Dutch text of the Catalogue of Acehnese manuscripts, which was to be published in 1994 in its English version as Catalogue of Acehnese manuscripts in the Library of Leiden University and other collections outside Aceh, compiled by P. Voorhoeve. in co-operation with T. Iskandar. Translated and edited by M. Durie. Leiden 1994.
The one version is somewhat more elaborate and accomplished than the other, but both present the main body of the catalogue, according to which the English version was published in 1964. An earlier version of this catalogue is P. Voorhoeve, Catalogus van de Atjèhse handschriften in de Universiteitsbibliotheek te Leiden, ten behoeve van het Instituut voor Taal- en Cultuuronderzoek van de Universiteit van Indonesië. Leiden 1949 [OOSHSS A 76].

Arabic, paper, 4 pp.
Hadha Khitabuna ila Ahl Watanina al-Higaz. The address of `Ali Haydar, the amir of Mekka, to the people of the Higaz. A copy of the original document, which was dated 10 Shawwal 1334 (August 21, 1916). The copy of seal print reads: 'Makka Mukarrama Imarati al-Sharif `Ali Haydar 1334'. The Arabic text was possibly copied by C. Snouck Hurgronje. The document was edited and reproduced by P.S. van Koningsveld, A historical document in the University Library of Leyden, containing an address of Ali Haidar, emir of Mecca, to the people of the Hidjaz [...] Leiden 1971 [8027 A 3].
A facsimile with French translation was published in RMM 1 (1922), pp. 97-100.
¶ Added: is a printed poster, measuring 99 x 74 cm, containing the address by the sharif and amir of Mekka, al-Husayn b. `Ali, dated 25 Sha`ban 1334 (June 27 1916). See on both documents Frederick de Jong, 'The proclamations of al-Husayn b. `Ali and `Ali Haydar. Some observations and notes relative to MS Leiden Or. 12.482', in Der Islam 57 (1980), pp. 281-287.
Provenance: Transferred at some stage from the printed book 831 C 31, being George Stitt, A prince of Arabia. The Emir Shereef Ali Haider. London [1948]. Formerly it had been assumed that it was transferred in the course of 1971 from the C. Snouck Hurgronje collection of documents (Or. 8952, above), and separately registered. The poster was added later, and was presented to the Library by Dr. Frederick de Jong.

Or. 12.483 – Or. 12.497
Collection of Indonesian and Middle Eastern manuscripts, purchased on March 28, 1971, from Mr. A.A. Fatatri, a private dealer of Egyptian origin, living in Leiden.

Or. 12.483
Collective volume with texts in Javanese, palm leaf, 57 + 33 ff., in disorder, severely damaged and with loss of numerous leaves, Javanese script, half round wooden boards.
(1) 57 ff. (original numbering up to 101, with many gaps). Menak Amir Hamza romanse in macapat verse, mentioning dewi Muninggar, Umar Maya and Umar Madi. The text is difficult to locate in the mass of Amir Hamza tales in East Javanese literature. Beginning and end are missing.
(2) 33 ff., original numbering up to 54, with many gaps). Romantical poem in macapat verse, containing many descriptions of court scenes. No names are mentioned. Beginning and end are missing. Unidentified.
Script and idiom of both texts are East Javanese, showing Madurese influence. Madurese words (bunten) are used. The writing of text (1) is rather coarse. The scribe of text (2) did his best to write in a scholarly way. See Pigeaud IV, p. 53.
(Lont. 905)

Or. 12.484
Arabic, paper, 288 ff., naskh script, dated Gumada II 1070, copied by Ilyas (colophon on f. 288b), paper cover, defective and loose.
Tanbih al-Ghafilin (title on cover and on f. 1b) by Abu al-Layth al-Samarqandi (frequently mentioned in the text Qala Abu al-Layth..., (4/10th cent), GAL G I, 196.
Quotations, etc. on ff. 1a-b.
The text is preceded (ff. 1b-2a) by a detailed table of contents, with reference to the original folio numbers.
Waqf note on f. 2a.

Or. 12.485
Arabic, paper, 184 ff., nasta`liq script, dated Monday 19 Dhu al-Qa`da 1282, copied by Muhammad Sa`id b. al-Sayyid al-Shaykh Arslan b. Zayn al-`Abidin (colophon on f. 183a), devoid of binding (only leather spine left). Seals of Solomon written in the margin (f. 140b).
Kitab Gali al-Sada `ala Qatr al-Nada, notes (nukat), or rather the commentary, by Gamal al-Din Abu Muhammad `Abdallah b. Yusuf b. `Abdallah Ibn Hisham al-Ansari (d. 761/1360), GAL G II, 23, on his own introductory work Qatr al-Nada wa-Ball al-Sada. Matn is written in blue ink.

Or. 12.486
Arabic, and some Turkish, paper, 161 ff., naskh and nasta`liq scripts, several copyists, dated 930 AH, copied by `Ali b. Ahmad b. Mawlana `Isa al-Qaramani (colophon on f. 159a), full-leather binding, flap now lost, blind tooled ornamentation (borders).
Incomplete copy (lacuna of some 10 ff. between ff. 1-b, and possibly more lacunae elsewhere) of Tanbih al-Ghafilin by Abu al-Layth al-Samarqandi (author on f. 1b, here called Abu al-Layth Nasr b. Muhammad b. Ibrahim al-Samarqandi), GAL G I, 196.
On f. 1b the latter half of the table of contents, the first part of which was torn off.
On ff. 159b-161b notes of varied nature, also distichs in Turkish. At the end, at least one leaf seems to have been torn out.

[* Ar. 3964]

Or. 12.487
Arabic, paper, 110 ff., naskh script, Islamic binding, boards pasted with textile.
A collection of gadawil apparently made for divinatory purposes. The working is not clear. Each page is divided into 14 x 14 squares. In each square are four letters. These are always taken from these fourteen letters: alif, ha', ha', ta', ya', kaf, lam, min, nun, sin, `ayn, sad, qaf, ra' (the series is given twice on f. 7b). In all, fourteen months (Muharram 1274 – Safar 1275), numbered 1-14, are treated, and each month has fourteen pages full of these gadawil. Each month begins on a verso page, so that in fact each month has seven openings with double gadawil. In each month all possible combinations with the fourteen letters are given, each month starting with its own letter out of the fourteen, according to the series shown on f. 7b.
The months of the Islamic lunar year treated are: f. 7b Muharram 1274, f. 14b Safar, f. 21b Rabi` I; f. 28b Rabi` II, f. 35b Gumada I, f. 42b Gumada II, f. 49b Ragab, f. 56b Sha`ban, f. 63b Ramadan, f. 69b Shawwal, f. 77b Dhu al-Qa`da, f. 84b Dhu al-Higga, f. 91b Muharram 1275, f. 98b Safar.
There is no clue as to how to operate the gadawil.
Added is a loose leaf with on each side a similar gadwal, but now with 28 x 28 squares. The internal organisation of this gadwal seems similar with that of the gadawil in the volume, but here the abgad order of the letters is followed (28 letters!).
Blanks: ff. 1a-7a, 105b-110b.

Or. 12.490
Arabic, paper, 86 ff., including paste-ins, naskh script, subjects written in the margin, several inserts, full-leather Islamic binding, back cover lost, rebacked.
The beginning part only of the commentary by Mirak Shams al-Din Muhammad b. Mubarakshah al-Bukhari (d. c. 740/1340), on Hikmat al-`Ayn by `Ali b. `Umar al-Qazwini al-Katibi (d. 675/1276, or. 693/1294), GAL G I, 467 (authors and title on f. 3b). Heavy glossing, especially in the first half of the book. The part of the text available in the present volume slightly exceeds that of the first Maqala of the first Qism, being the generalities of al-`Ilm al-Ilahi. See also the table of contents of the Matn as given by Ahlwardt 5080. On f. 84b is the end of the part of the text read with the copyist: tamma ma quri'a fi Zamanina [...]. The matn is distinguished by red overlining.

Igaza Sa`diyya. Issued to al-Shaykh Ibrahim b. Mustafa Urgaqli al-Sa`di, under the authority of the Murshid al-Shaykh Muhammad b. al-Sayyid `Abdallah al-Himsi, in Damascus, so that the holder of the diploma will go the Tariq al-Qutb Sa`d al-Din.
The Igaza consists of the following parts:
- Illumination, mosque with three minarets, crescent, floral motives.
- Gadwal (10 x 11 squares) with al-Asma' al-Husna.
- The names of the Prophet Muhammad, the four Rashidun, several of the Sahaba, all names written in circles.
- The names of Sufi masters, al-Sayyid Sa`d al-Din al-Gabawi, al-Sayyid Ahmad al-Rifa`i, al-Sayyid `Abd al-Qadir al-Gilani, once more al-Sayyid Ahmad al-Rifa`i, al-Sayyid Ibrahim al-Dasuqi; the other circles have remained empty.
- The text of the Igaza, each line of text written on a horizontal panel. In this is incorporated a Qasida fi Haqq al-Qutb Sa`d al-Din.
- The part in which the names of the Murshid and Murid are mentioned.
- The silsila of the Murshid, up to the Prophet Muhammad, with his entire genealogy up to Adam.
- Anecdotes from the life of Shaykh Sa`d al-Din.
- At the end the witnesses are mentioned: al-Shaykh Ahmad al-Rifa`i, al-Shaykh `Abd al-Rifa`i, al-Shaykh Talib Sa`di, al-Shaykh Bakri al-Ahmadi, al-Shaykh Khalil al-Baghandi, al-Shaykh Muhammad al-Kalazi al-Ghadi, al-Shaykh al-Mas`ud al-Sa`di, al-Shaykh Ragab Shaybani, al-Shaykh Sharif al-Halabi, al Shaykh Tali` al-Qadiri.
And this list is followed by a confirmation of the Murshid about the authenticity of the diploma. The document is not dated.
In the margin, near the beginning of the text of the Igaza are three confirmations on the contents, signed and sealed by:
1. the Shaykh al-Mashayikh Muhammad Amin al-Husayni al-... (?) al-Rifa`i.
2. As`ad al-Sa`di, the grandson of the founder of the Tariqa.
3. al-Shaykh Yusuf b. al-marhum al-Shaykh Sa`id al-Ahmadi.

Sequel to the collection of Javanese manuscripts brought together by Dr. J.L. Moens, who died in Jakarta in 1954. The present collection was purchased in Jakarta in 1971. The first Moens collection is registered in the Library as Or. 10.886 – Or. 10.974, above. This collection, acquired by purchase in Jakarta in 1971, comprises seventy-one large folio volumes mostly bound in leather, containing information on Javanese folklore, popular belief in spirits, the wayang purwa art, and popular Bima stories, provided by wayang performers of the country-side of Yogyakarta, especially the dalang Widi Prayitna of Sentolo. The information is couched in wayang purwa plays, expressly composed by country *dalang*s for the use of Mr J.L. Moens of Yogyakarta, between 1930 and 1942. Almost every play is illustrated by several polychrome drawings either in wayang style or in naturalistic style. Mr Moens was continuously asking the *dalang*s for information on the subjects he was interested in, and he payed them generously for their illustrated wayang plays. It seems likely that the Javanese authors, trying to please Mr Moens, in some cases expatiated on folklore and embellished popular tales on spirits and spooks, adding inventions of their own. They were storytellers by profession. Even so, the seventy-one volumes contain valuable information for folklorists, and Mr Moens has deserved well of all those who are interested in things Javanese for taking much trouble and going to great expense in making the collection.
The present collection, called collection Moens II, is a supplement to the collection Moens (I), Or. 10.886-Or. 10.974, above, in total 98 volumes, which was described in Pigeaud II, (1968), pp. 679-700.
A number of similar volumes containing comparable wayang plays must still be in the hands of dealers or in private collections in Jakarta. Mr Moens transferred most of his library from his original residence in Yogyakarta to Jakarta at the end of World War II, and after his death in Jakarta his estate was scattered.
The literary style of the wayang plays composed by the country *dalang*s is primitive, and their idiom and spelling are unscholarly. The Yogyakarta script is awkwardly and abnormally large written. The latter feature is probably due to Mr Moens, who thought large writing would be easier for him to read.
What Pigeaud does not explicitly tell in these descriptions is that he awakened this interested in Mr. J.L. Moens, who had formerly only been interested in antiques. Pigeaud often accompinied Moens on his collecting trips in the countryside around Yogyakarta.

Javanese, paper, 2 vols., 870 and 850 pp., Javanese script, 79 and 91 full-page polychrome or black-and-white illustrations in wayang style, leather binding.
*Sajen*s , offerings set for spirits etc. on various occasions, according to Central Javanese popular custom, a compilation of notes in the frame of conversations be tween personages belonging to the wayang purwa cycle, often Semar and one of the gods or the sages. The illustrations repre sent the speakers and the offerings, which are in various shapes, all having their own names. The explanations of the various substances, shapes and colours of the sajens (mostly rice and fruit) and their relations with the spirits and the occasions when they are used, are not very informative. Some prayers, called mel, partly in Arabic, partly in Javanese, which are said in connection with the ceremonious setting of offerings (on cross-roads, for instance) are mentioned also. The two manuscripts contains 14 and 11 texts, written expressly for the use of Mr J.L. Moens of Yogyakarta. See Pigeaud IV, pp. 54-55.

Legendary tales concerning armourers and the crisses and pamor patterns made by them, in parts I and II, bound together. The tales are contained in wayang purwa plays. Javanese summaries written by Mr. J.L. Moens with his own hand are included in the book. According to Mr. Moens the Javanese text of part I (pp. 1-698) contains eight tales mentioning mpu Ramadi and mpu Sombro as the primordial armourers, connected with the gods, and further five other tales mentioning mpu Ramayadi, Bale Ragas and Bale Rangas. The eight tales are said to belong to the padalarçan Panca Kaki, the following five tales to another tradition of *dalang*s. According to Mr Moens' summary of part II (pp. 701-1475) the sixteen tales of this text are concerned with the characters (watek) and the powers (daya, tonjeg) ascribed to various crisses (with special pamor patterns), which were given by sang hyang Guru to the gods and heroes of antiquity to be their *pusaka*s. These tales are said to belong to the Grenteng tradition of *dalang*s. See Pigeaud IV, pp. 55-56.

Legendary tales on the origin of various crisses, all bearing names with the honorific predicate kyahi. The tales are couched in seventeen wayang purwa plays concerning Wesi Kuning (yellow iron),a kind of particulary powerful magic steel) and ten plays concerning Jaka Sangkala, a legendary armourer who made a number of famous crisses. The plays were composed by the dalang Cerma for the use of Mr Moens who asked for information on the history of crisses. According to the dalang Cerma the tales on the origin of crisses belonged to the Pakem Panca Kaki, one of the various branches of Central Javanese wayang lore tradition (see Or. 10.887, above, Pigeaud II, p. 679). Babad Gangsa, notes on various kinds of gamelan orchestras consisting partly of xylophones and bamboo instruments (angklungs), invented and made by country people to produce popular music on festive occasions in the villages. The notes are couched in twelve tales mentioning many wayang heroes, spirits and demons, fabricated by the dalang Cerma for the use of Mr J.L. Moens who asked for information on popular country music. Notes on blencongs (wayang lamps), *kelir*s (wayang screens) and panggungs (wayang stage, screen posts) are also inserted in the tales.

One of the initial pages contains a table of contents made by Mr Moens mentioning the following orchestras (gangsa): Getak Ketaprak (as a rule called Ketoprak), including xylophones, originally wooden blocks; Otuk Obrul; Drodog (including a bamboo angklung and halfdrums); Angklung; Bumbung Terbang (including large bamboo segments used as gongs, and tambourines); Krumpyung (including various drums). These orchestras are shown in the illustrations.

Rebab stories, tales concerning the origin of the violin which is used in the Javanese gamelan orchestra accompanying wayang performances. Several types (*wanda*s) of rebabs are mentioned. The tales are couched in fourteen wayang purwa plays fabricated by the dalang Widi for the use of Mr J.L. Moens who wanted information on popular Javanese ideas on the origin of the gamelan. Widi’s tales seem rather phantastic. The various types of violins, the bow and the stand of the rebab are said to be of divine origin. No allusion is made to importation from foreign parts in historical times. Originally the rebab belongs to the sphere of Islamic culture which spread in Java from the beginning ofthe 16th century. Javanese, paper, 1535, 1245 pp., Javanese script, 139 + 115 full-page illustrations, polychrome, in wayang style, leather binding, damaged.
Adeg ing Kayon, 22 and 21 wayang purwa plays composed by the dalang Widi Prayitna, describing the origin of various types of *wayang kayon*s and their being placed in the centre of the stage at the beginning of the performance. They are connected with phases in the epic history of the Pandawas, Mels, prayers, partly Arabic, partly Javanese, to be said by the dalang, are mentioned. Several danyangs, tutelary spirits of particular *kayon*s, are known by name. Various kinds of *kayon*s are distinguished. The kayon types Purwa and Grirjsirj are discussed in the last plays of the collection. The dalang Widi tried to please Mr J.L. Moens who asked for information on the Javanese wayang kayon and its origin. Although many stories seem mere phantastical inventions of the dalang, it seems likely that a considerable number of forms and types of *wayang kayon*s described and shown in the illustrations really existed and was known to the dalang himself or his colleagues. The variations in the pictures of animals and demoniacal beings which are shown on the *kayon*s are remarkable. See Pigeaud IV, pp. 58-59.

Or. 12.519
Javanese, paper, 614 pp., Javanese script, 49 full-page illustrations (with flowery illuminations), polychrome, in wayang style, leather binding, damaged.
Adeg ing Kayon, 8 wayang purwa plays. Or. 12.519, which containins eight plays (registerd by Mr J.L. Moens as nos 6/11-14/15), refers also to the appearance of a single puppet of a dancing woman (golek) at the end of a wayang purwa performance. This volume contains Javanese summaries, written with Latin script, added to the texts of the plays, which are prolix. See Pigeaud IV, p. 59.

Or. 12.520
Javanese, paper, 1200 pp. (14 plays with their own numbering), Javanese script, 32 full-page illustrations, polychrome, in wayang style, linen binding.
Wayang purwa plays, 14 items, a collection of tales concerning the kayon (gunungan, stage property) of the wayang purwa theatre and its presumed history in the period of the Pandawas. The original kayon was repeatedly lost but always recovered after some time. The collection is called Gugat Kayon Purwa, because of the dispute concerning the ownership of the kayon between various parties, Pandawas and demons. Trees and animals which are depicted on the kayon also appear in the tales, and so do Batara Guru and the gods.

The wayang plays were fabricated by a dalang for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who asked for information on the origin of the gunungjan. Its is difficult to ascertain whether the tales contain elements belonging to a firm tradition of long standing among *dalang*s concerning the origin and the significance of the kayon and its various shapes. This is what Mr Moens tried to investigate. See Pigeaud IV, p. 59.

Or. 12.521
Javanese, paper, 1428 pp., Javanese script, 25 full-page illustrations, polychrome and black-and-white, in wayang style, leather binding.
Pakem Kayon Priya Wanita, 25 wayang purwa plays written by the dalang Widi, describing the origin of two groups of *wayang purwa kayon*s or *gunungan*s which are considered as males (Priya, Or. 12.521) and females (Wanita, Or. 12.522 – Or. 12.523, below). The plays are said to belong to the Panca Kaki tradition of dalang lore, of the dalang Ki Galuga (?). They seem to be composed for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who asked for information on the Javanese stage properties. See Pigeaud IV, p. 59.

Pakem Kayon Priya Wanita, 16 wayang purwa plays written by the dalang Widi, describing the origin of two groups of *wayang purwa kayon*s or *gunungan*s which are considered as males (Priya, Or. 12.521, above) and females (Wanita, Or. 12.522 – Or. 12.523, below). The plays are said to belong to the Panca Kaki tradition of dalang lore, of the dalang Ki Galuga (?). They seem to be composed for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who asked for information on the Javanese stage properties. See Pigeaud IV, p. 59.

Pakem Kayon Purwa-Wusana, 16 *wayang purwa lakon*s composed by the dalang Widi in order to explain the origin of a kayon variety called Purwa-Wusana. It is said to have its origin in the sphere of the most exalted wayang purwa heroes, heroines and gods. See Pigeaud IV, pp. 59-60.

Or. 12.525
Javanese, paper, 1010 pp., Javanese script, 12 full-page illustrations, polychrome and black-and-white, pen drawings, leather binding.
Sajarah Kayon Madya, wayang purwa plays written by the dalang Widi, describing the origin of the 'middle' *wayang kayon*s. The plays were composed for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who was asking for information on the Javanese wayang stage properties.
This volume contains 12 plays referring to wayang purwa heroes from Dasa Muka of Ngalengka up to Dewa Kusuma, in connection with particular shapes of *kayon*s. See Pigeaud IV, p. 60.

Sajarah Kayon Madya, wayang purwa plays written by the dalang Widi, describing the origin of the 'middle' *wayang kayon*s. The plays were composed for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who was asking for information on the Javanese wayang stage properties.
This volume contains 23 plays describing the origin and the history of a group of *kayon*s called Klitik, belonging to the period of the Majapahit kings. Still, epic heroes belonging to the wayang purwa period are mentioned also, which is confusing. See Pigeaud IV, p. 60.

Or. 12.527
Javanese, paper, 771 pp., Javanese script, 13 full-page illustrations, polychrome and black-and-white, pen drawings, leather binding.
Sajarah Kayon Madya, wayang purwa plays written by the dalang Widi, describing the origin of the 'middle' *wayang kayon*s. The plays were composed for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who was asking for information on the Javanese wayang stage properties.
This volume contains 9 plays on *kayon*s said to belong to the wayang gedog theatre, which covers the period of Javanese legendary history subsequent to the era of the wayang purwa heroes, but the personages appearing in the 9 plays in fact belong to other periods. Raden Patah, the first king of Demak, and Anling Darma, make their appearance. The country dalang who wrote the plays for the use of Mr. Moens was apparently not well informed on the chronological order of wayang varieties as adopted by Court scholars, or he had his own ideas on the matter. See Pigeaud IV, p. 60.

Javanese, paper, 1451 pp., Javanese script, 16 full-page illustrations, black-and-white, pen drawings in wayang style, half-linen binding.
Pakem Kayon Prayungan, wayang purwa plays written by Cerma Diyasa, a dalang of Yogyakarta, describing the origin and the history of a group of *wayang purwa kayon*s or *gunungan*s called Prayungan. According to Cerma Diyasa four main kinds of kayon Prayungan should be distinguished: Male and Female, Gringsing Male and Gringsing Female. The plays show the Pandawas and Korawas residing in their respective residences discussing the origin of a kayon Prayungan each time when a new kind makes its appearance. The plays are composed for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who asked for information on wayang stage properties. The kayon Prayungan is otherwise unknown. This volume, called Pakem Kayon Golek Prayungan, contains 16 plays, allegedly forming volume IV of the Pakem Pakut Waja. The *kayon*s are said to be of the Male type (wanda jaler). See Pigeaud IV, pp. 60-61.

The plays are composed for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who asked for information on wayang stage properties. The kayon Prayungan is otherwise unknown. This volume, 15 plays, numbered 21-40, has cursive Yogyakarta script, easily written by an expert hand. The writing is not awkward at all. The style and the orthography, though not refined, are not boorish either. See Pigeaud IV, pp. 60-61.

Javanese, paper, 2 volumes, 1614, 1367 pp., Javanese script, 87, 34 full-page illustrations, polychrome and black-and-white, in wayang style, leather binding, severely damaged.
Sajarah Kayon Gringsing, 24and l8 wayang purwa plays composed by the dalang Widi Prayitna, describing the origin and the history of a group of *wayang purwa kayon*s or *gunungan*s of the type called Gringsing, which allegedly belonged to the era Antara Rangsang, the fifth of a series of seven eras which is mentioned in the beginning of the book.
The eras (*jaman*s) are:
1: Loba Ningrat, type (wanda) Purwa;
2: Loba Murka, type Priya (male);
3: Antara Sepda (Sabda), type Wanita;

4: Antara Yana, type *Madya (*divided into Panengen and Pangiwa);
5: Antara Rangsan, type Gringsing;
6: Antara Cipta, type Purwa Wasana;
7: BrantaYuda, typeWandu.
The origin of this septuple classification of eras and types of *kayon*s is difficult to trace. The dalang Widi tried to please Mr. J.L. Moens who asked for information on the Javanese wayang kayon and its origin. The Kayon Gringsing is also mentioned in the volume on the kayon Prayungan which was written by another dalang, Cerma Diyasa (See Or. 12.528, Or. 12.529, above). See Pigeaud IV, p. 61.

Salasilah Padalangan,vols. I and II, 23 tales, mainly couched in conversations of wayang purwa personages, gods, *kyahi*s and *dalang*s, concerning the origin of the wayang puppets, the wayang theatre in general and its properties. Several mels, prayers, partly Arabic partly Javanese, to be said while handling wayang puppets etc., are mentioned. The tales contain some curious pieces of information. For the greater part they seem to be fabricated for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens, who kept on asking for old stories, customs and legends concerning the wayang. In several tales ascetic practices (tapa) in trees and in water, performed by dalang apprentices in order to be given inspiration by the gods, are mentioned. The principal personages who are mentioned in the tales as concerned with the wayang are:
1: Batara Guru;
2: Jaka Kumprung;
3: Dewa Ruci;
4: sanghyang Darma Jaka, and a lo tree, where the first dalang resided;
5: sanghyang Tunggal, in a cave;
6: sanghyang Kuwera, turning wayang puppets and gamelan into stone;
7: on the arranging of the wayang puppets on the stage (nimping);
8: play : Palgunadi bitten by Durna;
9/10: on the arranging of the wayang stage (nimping);
11: prabu Radeya;
12: birth of Karna;
13: Nara Soma;
14: Dewa Ruci;
15: sanghyang Wenang;
16: sanghyang Nur Cahya;
17: batara Lodra;
18: batara Brama;
19: sanghyang Wisnu Murti;
20/21: sanghyang Tunggal;

Javanese, paper, 2 vols., 1138, 1479 pp., Javanese script, 112, 140 full-page illustrations, polychrome and black-and-white, in wayang style, leather binding.
Stories of makers of wayang puppets and *kayon*s (*gunungan*s) called panatah (Sujarah Penatah), mentioning many names of artists and also *danyang*s who were their patrons. The tales are couched in 18 and 23 wayang purwa plays (registered as nos 1-18 of Sujarah Penatah vol. I, and the rest in vol. II) fabricated by the dalang Widi for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens, who wanted information on the development oft he wayang art in Central Java. Some *mel*s, prayers, partly Arabic, partly Javanese, to be said by the panatah at crucial points of the making of a wayang puppet are mentioned. The information given by the dalang seems to be partly invented. It is difficult to construct a reliable history of the wayang makers' art with materials borrowed from these tales. Still, the names of some well-known makers of wayang puppets, such as Riwong, appear in the text. See Pigeaud IV, pp. 62-63.

Exorcism (ruwat) by means of wayang performances, four different wayang purwa plays which are used as exorcisms, called:
1: Murwa Kala ngruwat putra Medang Kamulyan (p. 13-66);
2: Pangruwat Sarag (p. 93-121);
3: Sirkandi ruwat (p.129-174);
4: Pejahipun Batara Kala (p. 179-233).
The actions of the dalang and the gamelan tunes which are played are described and mentioned in detail. The cursive Yogyakarta script is written without care, on sloping lines. The author was a dalang who was interested in the technicalities of his performance. See Pigeaud IV, p. 63.

The first volume (of 4) containing Exorcist rites (ruwat) performed to avert calamities which might befall persons in consequence of their being born on inauspicious times, or otherwise. Prayers, partly Arabic, partly Javanese (mel), and names of *danyang*s, tutelary spirits, are mentioned. Bathing and cutting of hair (also hair growing on the body, the private parts) are often applied. The relationship between wayang exorcism and magic practices is apparent, and the dalang fulfills the task of magician. The author's knowledge of magic is remarkable.

The information on exorcism is couched in 82 stories written by the dalang Widi for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who had asked for it. The volumes Or. 12.536-Or. 12.539 are called Panutup Panggung Panruwatan Sukerta(vol.I:19 stories; vol. II: 18 stories; vol. III: 25 stories; vol. IV: 19 stories). They refer to many cases or occurrences which need exorcism. See plate 7 (= Pigeaud IV, p. xv [reproduction]; pp. xxii-xxiii [description]).
Mr. Moens wrote a list on one of the first pages of the present volume:
1 : Ontang-anting ragil;
2: Padang ilang;
3: Dedet sirep;
4: Ontang-anting tunggak jati, see Plate 7 (see Pigeaud IV, p. xv [illustration], xxii-xxiii [explanation]);
5: Mutungake cacadan wluku;

Pangruwat Mapar Tunggak, 11 wayang purwa plays concerning exorcism, by means of crisses and other weapons, of *tenung*s*, a* kind of demoniacal beings, mostly appearing in pairs, infesting houses and courtyards. The *tenung*s' personal names are mentioned. The plays were composed for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who asked for information on various exorcist rites. The names of the *tenung*s are :

1 : Goh Muka and Yeksa Muka;
2 : Klinting Mungil and Jahil Matakil;
3 :Yeksa Tirta and Yeksa Pawaka;
4: Maling Nawa and Maling Raga;
5: Jambira and Dremba Maha;
6: Sambawa and Samber Nawa;
7: Pageblug and Pangriwus;
8: Sampar Sandumg and Sindung Riwut;
9: Pangreksa Dahana and Pangreksa Arga
10: Arga Muka and Pangreksa Maruta; 11: Goda Yitma and Beka Sukma.
ln Javano-Balinese texts, tenung means divination by means of calculations. According to Central Javanese babad texts, malevolent demons called *tenung*s can be sent by enemies to do harm. The relationship between the two meanings of tenung is difficult to explain. See Pigeaud IV, p. 65.

Tales on magic (aji) which gives supernatural strength and power, and invulnerability in fights with enemies. The information is couched in 24 phantastic stories about adventures of young men with the predicate jaka. The book is called Nglembara Aji. It was composed by a dalang for the use of Mr. J.L. Or. 12.542
Javanese, paper, 1368 pp., Javanese script, 178 full-page polychrome illustrations (damaged by insects), in naturalistic style, leather binding (severely damaged by insects).
Tales on magic sometimes practised in the country-side to destroy pests (ama) infesting crops. The peasants, both men and women, perform circumambulations in the fields, as often as not wholly naked, with flowers in their hair, burning incense, beating wooden musical instruments and carrying a board bearing a magic image, painted or carved in the wood, or a large polychrome wooden mask (mummery), allegedly representing some spirit or supernatural being. Prayers (mel), partly Arabic, partly Javanese, ancl the directions of the processions through the fields are mentioned.
Sexual symbolism and primitive ithyphallic ceremonies and gestures are apparent.

The information is couched in twenty phantastic stories telling the origin of the boards, registered in a list written by Mr J.L. Moens on one of the pages of the book. The stories were composed by a dalang for the use of Mr. Moens, who asked for information on the function of the boards with images seen and collected by him. He used to call them criss boards (kris-planken), because he had observed that they were sometimes used as wall-decoration inside the houses, and as racks to suspend crisses when not in use (the criss was stuck in a loop running through two small holes in the centre of the board). The boards are called tlawingan (tlawungan) or angking in the Javanese text. See also the introduction to Or. 12.558-Or. 12.562, below. Or 12.542 is volume II of Mr Moens' collection of tales on "kris-planken".
In Mr Moens' list the following names of spirits whose images are found on the boards are mentioned :
1: tlawingan Busur (cf. Basur, in Hooykaas, 1978);
2: angking Limbog;
3: anking kyahi Barung.
(1) The title-page of the third story – as with most stories in the Sentolo group – displays the head of the leader of the rice parasites (kala), who is captured during the purification. In this case the leader is Kyai Barung. (Headley, p. 107). Text translated by Headly (ibid., pp. 106-111).
(2) The Javanese deity Bima (right) confronts a group of rice-eating demons (kala) in the field. (Headley, p. 107).
(4) Bima and the Panakawan brothers stand at the edge of the field trying to locate the rice-eating demons (kala) who are hidden there. (Headley, p. 108).
(5) The Panakawan brothers spot the rice-eating demons (kala) in the field. (Headley, p. 108).
(6) The Panakawan carry the captured leader of the rice-eating demons (kala) away from the field. The kala has been transformed into an apotropaic plank (tlawingan) and will later be used in the procession to purify the rice field. (Headley, p. 109).
(8) Stripped naked, one of the Panakawan siblings carries an incense offering, while Bima holds the apotropaic board (tlawingan). (Headley, p. 110).
(9) The remaining rice-eating demons (kala), crippled by the effect of the incantations and purification ritual, flee the rice field. (Headley, p. 110).
4: panulak tlawingan Bancur;
5: ankig Semar Mesem.
(2) The Javanese deity Guru (Shiva) on the right consults with Semar, a benevolent hermaphroditic deity, and other gods concerning the purification of the rice fields. (Headley, p. 102).
(5) Javanese deities Narada (left) and Guru (right) are shown slaying a rice-eating demon (kala). (Headley, p. 103).
6: angking Kentung.
(10) The ritual meal (selamatan) is conducted by members of the farmer's family after the procession with the apotropaic plank (tlawingan) through the rice fields. (Headley, p. 104).

7: procession of naked women with smouldering sticks (upat) with the cold ends stuck in their vaginas, and naked men with their phallusses stuck in screws of leaves (semprog), carrying a board with an image of Gareng.
(2) A farmer's family discusses the upcoming purification of the rice fields. (Headley, p. 100).
(4) Farmers transplant rice seedlings in the flooded fields. (Headley, p. 102).
8: Watang Dlurung, see Plates 8, 9 and 10 (= Pigeaud IV, pp. xvi-xviii [reproductions]; p. xxiii [description]).
(2) In one of the Sentolo drawings, farmers plant rice by laying whole stalks of seed rice into the flooded field. (Headley, p. 117).
9: Guntur Geni;
10: Crubuk.
(3) The leader of the rice-eating spirits (kala) is shown at the right with his followers to the left. (Headley, p. 102).
11: Jaka Tlawa.
(8) A procession of naked farmers carries the captured leader of the evil rice-eating demons (kala), who has been metamorphosed into an apotropaic plank (tlawingan). It is believed that demons are best seen at night when one is naked; they are invisible during the day. (Headley, p. 100).
(9) Rice-eating demons (kala) flee the rice fields after feeling the effects of the apotropaic plank (tlawingan). (Headley, p. 103).
(10) Farmers pour ablutions over the apotropaic plank (tlawingan). In actual rice field rituals, some of the water would have been saved to use for libations. (Headley, p. 104).
12: sanggan Plumpung ;
13: angking Ubis.
(3) The leader of the rice-eating demons (kala) is subdued. Interestingly, the kala is represented here as an insect. Kala are rarely portrayed in the form of one of the actual threats to the rice crop. (Headley, p. 106).
(4) The rice-eating demon (kala) shown in 13/3 has metamorphosed in an apotropaic plank (tlawingan). Deities stand on either side. (Headley, p. 106).
14: sanggan Kolug.
(8) Naked farmers carry an apotropaic plank (tlawingan) as well as incense and offerings for a ritual meal (selamatan) intended to ensure well-being. (Headley, p. 104).
15: anking Gobel ;
16: anking Poso;
17: angking Bo Lanting.
(6) The leader of the rice-eating demons (kala) is metamorphosed into an apotropaic plank (tlawingan). The demon's head is painted at the top of the plank. Arjuna, who in this particular story captured the kala leader, is also represented on the tlawingan. (Headley, p. 103).
18: Lompong Keli;
19: tlawingan Beles;
20: tlawingan Jentor.
See Pigeaud IV, pp. 66-67.

The description of several drawings in this volume is given by Stephen C. Headley, 'The purification of rice fields in Java with an apotropaic plank', in Roy W. Hamilton (ed.), The art of rice. Spirit and sustenance in Asia. Los Angeles 2003, pp. 100-117

Ten tales in the form of wayang purwa plays concerning the origin of magic lore or supernatural power and wisdom (aji) which are in the possession of the gods, in particular Batara Guru. The volume is called Babad Ngelmu Budi,and said to belong to the Pakem Panjang Mas pane ngen. The ajis are personified as demoniacal beings, or they are found or produced by demons. They also appear in the shape of wayang puppets or figures resembling the gunungan. All have personal names. Banak Dalang is mentioned among them. Banak Dalang is the name of one of the well-known upacaras, insignia of royalty, which were paraded in pageants on the occasion of the garebeg ceremonies when the King appeared in public (See Pigeaud IV, p. xx, footnote 2 under Introduction of Notes on the Illustrations).
The tales appear to be fabricated by the dalang Cerma for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens, who asked for information on the significance of names like Banak Dalang. It seems likely that the tales contain remnants of an ancient autochthonous Javanese demonology which was related to the dalang lore.
In the illustrations the following names of ajis are mentioned:
1: gagak Pitutur and Berkutut Budiman (both birds perched on *kayon*s, trees);
2: aji Guratal (a dragon);
3: Banak Dalac (a bird);
4: Sintula-heng (a demon with snakes for arms);
5: Gumbala Badak (a demon with a bird's feet);
6: Gumbala Geni (fire);
7: Tulak Tanggul (an old naked hermit);
8: Sastra Binëdati (a book);
9: Kulhu Balik (a demon with his face on his breast, without head) also called Kuhul Balik;
10: Caraka Balik (a demon with his head bent backwards, his face upside-down on his back).

Stories of four Jimats or *Pusaka*s, powerful magic heirlooms which appeared in human shape as kings, couched in four wayang purwa plays :
1: Kampuh Poleng;

2: Pulang Geni;
3: Kala Nadah, and
4: Gada Wesi Kuning.
The plays were composed by the dalang Cerma Tiyasa (also written Diyasa) of Padasan (district of Maguwa, Yogyakarta) for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens, who asked for information on popular Javanese belief in magic. Some inserted leaves contain a list of 21 tales on *Jimat*s, mentioning, besides the above:
1 : Kalima Sada
2 : Gada Lukita Sari
3 : Sarutama
4: Pasing Pati (Pasupati)
5 : Senjata Cakra

Notes on rules concerning clothing, to be observed by persons entering the Royal residence, mentioning in the beginning the holy jackets kyahi Ontra Kusuma and kyahi Gondil. The illustrations show the patterns of 62 batik cloths which are worn on special occasions in the kraton of Yogyakarta. Some are forbidden for special groups of persons. The book was written for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens by a servant (either male or female) of the Kraton who was well informed on the subject. The Yogyakarta cursive script is written with care. Erotics, various positions of copulation, explained in 12 phantastic tales about sexual relations of demoniacal beings, male and female. The positions have Javanese names. The demoniacal partners are called danyangs. They are also given Javanese names. Several partly Arabic partly Javanese prayers (mel) referring to sex are mentioned. The style of the tales is boorish and the illustrations are stiff and clumsy. This volume is No. III ofa collection called Ars Amandi by Mr. J.L. Moens. It contains numerous Javanese terms referring to copulation. Mr. Moens made a list which is written on one of the first pages. See Pigeaud IV, pp. 68-69.

Tulada Cintraka, collection of thirty-one tales concerning extraordinary or incestuous marriages (near relatives) or marriages of young people who are possessed by spirits while copulating. The children born from such marriages are monstrosities, some of them possess supernatural qualities. The tales were written by a dalang for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who wanted information on popular ideas about monstrosities. The stories seem to be based on folktales. This book contains volumes I and II of a series, the other volumes are missing. The tales refer to the following cases:
1: copulation on the bank ofa river, possessed by the spirit of a tree: child hydrocephalic
2: stepsister and -brother: child like a snake;
3: stepmother and stepson: child like a buffalo;
4: having killed a frog (kodok) which was a spirit (danyang), copulation in a sawah (ricefield): child like a frog;
5: stepmother and stepson: child with two faces, in front and behind;
6: stepmother and stepson: child like a horse;
7: stepfather and stepdaughter: child like a fish;
8: stepsister and stepbrother: child like a pig;
9: stepfather and stepdaughter: misshapen child, without arms nor legs;
10: copulation in a mosque, possessed by danyang Sawung Galing: child like a cock;
11: halfbrother and halfsister: child with fins, without arms;
12: halfbrother and halfsister: child with tusks;
13: halfbrother and halfsister: child with fangs;
14: halfbrother and halfsister: child with a duck's feet;
15: halfbrother and halfsister: child without back of the head, only face;
16: copulation on the bank of a river, possessed by danyang Yuyu Rumpurj: child with claws like a crab-fish;
17: halfbrother and halfsister: child like a dog;
18: halfbrother and halfsister: child with a gill like a cock;
19: halfbrother and halfsister: child without neck;

20: halfbrother and halfsister: hydrocephalic child;
21: halfbrother and halfsister: child without rump, only a head;
22: halfbrother and halfsister: microcephalic child;
23 : halfbrother and halfsister : child a giant;
24: halfbrother and halfsister: child with an elephant's trunk;
25 : father and daughter : twins, one with an elephant's ears, one with wings;
26: halfbrother and halfsister: triplets: son-daughter-son (pancuran ngapit sendang);
27: halfbrother and halfsister: triplets: daughter-son-daughter (sendang ngapit pancuran);
28: halfbrother and halfsister: triplets: three sons;
29: halfbrother and halfsister: triplets: daughter, male hermaphrodite (wandu jaler), son (dampit tiga);

Wayang purwa plays, seventeen items, containing tales concerning dewi Uma, in her manifestation of ancestress of demons and demonesses. The generation of demoniacal beings is said to be the consequence of involuntary seminal discharge (kama salah) of gods and goddesses. Names of demonesses who are said to be descendants of dewi Uma, generated in this manner, are: nahi Koplek, nahi Bangkot and nahi Kawah Jaya. Some of their exploits are told in the form of wayang plays. Mount Lawu and Kala Jangkrak are also mentioned. Mr. J.L. Moens wrote a short epitome of the 17 plays on the flyleaf of the book.
The wayang plays were composed specially for the use of Mr. Moens in order to provide information on popular belief in demons as known to the dalang. The author was Widi Prayitna, the dalang of Sentolo (south-west Yogyakarta).

Seluman, lists of spirits belonging to an invisible society which is a replica of human society, also divided into various nations or races and ruled by kings etc. The lists, filling seventeen chapters, contain the names of wayang plays which deal with the birth, exploits in life, and death ofa very great number ofspirits, both male and female, whose personal names and residences are mentioned in full. This system of Seluman wayang plays is a replica of the well-known system of wayang purwa plays dealing with the lives of the Javanese wayang purwa heroes.
There can be little doubt that the system of Seluman wayang plays was fabricated by a dalang for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens, who asked for information on popular Javanese belief in spirits. A number of the spirit names mentioned in the lists may be genuine, belonging to well established folklore in the countryside in South Central Java. A considerable humber of names seems to be invented by the dalang on the analogy of well-known names, simply to fill his lists. His invented spirit society is in a way comparable with Ranga Warsita’s pseudo-historic genealogy of Javanese kings, with a fabricated chronology, registered in his Pustaka Raja, and with the phantastic Surya Raja tales of the Yogyakarta kraton. It is unknown whether Sastra Diharja, who signed his name on the last page,of Or. 12.551, was the original author or a scribe. See Pigeaud IV, pp. 70-71.

Jim genealogy, compilation of genealogical lists, through many generations (up to 33), of *Jim*s, male and female, all mentioned by name, and the names of the wayang plays which contain the tales of their exploits. The volume contains eleven chapters. The *Jim*s (Javanese corruption of Arabic ginn) are a people of demoniacal spirits inhabiting the wilderness. They resemble humanity in many respects, especially in family relations.
A very great number of the names of *Jim*s seems to have been invented by the dalang Widi Prayitna of Sentolo for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who asked for information on popular Javanese belief in spirits. Some names of *Jim*s and some names of their residences (caves, waste places etc.) might belong to country folklore in the district of Sentolo and there-abouts, but this is difficult to ascertain. Pigeaud IV, pp. 71-72.

Danyang stories, couched in twenty-two wayang purwa plays. The *danyang*s are altogether mentioned by name, and depicted in the illustrations. Some are naked boys playing boys' games or merely playing pranks upon one another. Phallism is in evidence. Other *danyang*s have the shapes of old men, demons or animals. Some portraits of *danyang*s at the heads of chapters are very well executed. As a rule *danyang*s are benevolent, willing to give help to humans in distress. They often reside in trees. They appear in several wayang plays as helpers in difficult circumstances like the well-known *panakawan*s. The texts contain several incantations mentioning the names of spirits, mixed up with Islamic concepts. They are called salokan (from saloka, sloka). The plays were fabricated by the dalang Widi for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens, who wanted information on the role of danyangs in Central Javanese folklore.

Or. 12.558 – Or. 12.562
Jaka Lelana (White Elephant) stories, miraculous tales of Jaka Lelana's exploits, giving assistance to many epical heroes in their difficulties and leading them to heaven. The tales are couched in 5 x 20 wayang purwa plays fabricated by the dalang Widi for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who wanted information on popular Javanese ideas on the character of the elephant god {Ganesa) in wayang mythology. Jaka Lelana has the function of a mediator between earth and heaven. The Jaka Lelana stories of dalang Widi seem rather phantastic. No comparable tales in current Javanese wayang literature are in evidence. Only the tales about Gana found in the Old Javanese Korawasrama, a sixteenth century prose book on mythology, are perhaps comparable.
Jaka Lelana claims Bima as his father, but Bima does not acknowledge him. JL has many adventures, practises asceticism (tapa) in many places, has erotic connections with a variety of beings, and fights with several well-known wayang purwa personages.
It is a remarkable fact that an elephant-headed warrior, sometimes found represented in wood-carving on boards, seems to be associated with the Prophet Muhammad. The image is often composed of intertwined Arabic characters, arabesques, forming a pious sentence, difficult to decipher but artistically executed. These Islamic icons of Muhammad (Ali images are also in evidence) are comparable with the tlawng;an or angking boards (Mr Moens' kris-planken, see Or. 12.542, above) of the Central Javanese countryside that had a function in magic rites. The Islamic icons are more sophisticated, sometimes refined. Nowadays they are rare. They seem originally to belong to religious communities in centres of ancient Islamic culture, especially Cerbon, where they were used as decorations of the walls in inner rooms of the houses. No evidence of their having a function in religious ceremonies or magic rites is available. The association of Jaka Lelana (the "noble young Wanderer", and other elephant-headed heroes, see below) with the Indian Ganesa, the Old Javanese Gana and the Prophet Muhammad is a matter for reflection.

Mr Moens wrote lists of the Jaka Lelana plays on the first pages ofthe five volumes.

Prabu Singa Raksa tales, seven wayang purwa plays concerning the exploits of Singa Raksa, a son of the supreme god Pramesti Guru. Singa Raksa was in his youth adopted by Singa Baron, king of Nusa Langkapan. He waged war with the gods, in the end he was killed by Wisnu Murti. Singa Raksa is not a well-known character in Javanese wayang purwa mythology. It seems likely that the tales were fabricated by the dalang for the use of Ir. J.L. Moens.
A Dutch list ofthe seven plays, made by Mr. Moens, it written on one of the fly-pages of the book. They are:
1: youth of Singa Raksa;
2: SR fighting with Wisnu Maya;
3: SR fighting with Prabu Sura Laya;
4: SR fighting with Wisnu;
5: SR in the wood Singa Raja;
6: SR killed by Wisnu Murti;

Getas Banjaran stories; origin, kingship and death of Getas Banjaran, a demon provided with an elephant's trunk, holding a thunderbolt (bajra), the antagonist of raden Manon Manongsa, the hero ofa well-known wayang purwa play. Getas Banjaran is vanquished and killed by Pramesti Guru himself in the end. The tale is couched in three wayang purwa plays, written by the dalang Widi Prayitna of Sentolo for the use of Mr. J.L.

Moens. The texts are complete, containing notes on the gamelan music to be played and the actions of the dalang handling the puppets. The plays are:
1: birth of Getas Banjaran;
2: Getas Banjaran as a king;
3: death of Getas Banjaran.

Animal shaped wayang personages, children of Bima, having had sexual intercourse with various kinds of animals. The tales, numbered 1-112, are couched in wayang purwa plays. They were fabricated by the dalang Widi for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens, who asked for information on Javanese popular belief in spirits in animal shape. Some *mel*s, prayers, partly in Arabic, partly in Javanese, to be said in order to drive away animals which are obnoxious to agriculture, are enclosed.

Javanese, paper, 1484 pp., Javanese script, 246 full-page polychrome illustrations in wayang style; leather binding, beginning severely damaged.
Bima (Werkudara) metamorphosis tales couched in twenty-four wayarng purwa plays composed by a dalang for the use of Mr. J.L. Moens who asked for information on the role of Bima in popular Central Javanese belief and floklore. The twenty-four tales are partly ithyphallic, expatiating on Bima's genitals and copulation with a variety of beings, many superhuman. Exorcism of evil spirits, pests damaging the crops on the fields, by means of circumambulations of wholly naked men, is mentioned also. See Plates 5 and 6, and frontispiece in Pigeaud IV (pp. ii, xiii, xiv [reproductions] and pp. xxi, xxii [descriptions]). The plays are:
1: (damaged) Bima Birawa (demoniacal);
2: Bima kantet;
3: Bima wanita;
4: Bima Wenang (deity);
5: Bima nambag (copulation with crocodile);
6: Bima glenter (abnormally long phallus);
7: Bima sulur (birth in caul);
8/9: Bima tlate (elephant's trunk and phallus);
10: Bima tulak (fighting pests in agriculture, ithyphallism);
11: Bima gandul (swollen scrotum, cured by Arimbi);
12: Bima kacep (copulation with dewi Uma);
13: Bima medamel (fighting pests, tlawingan Busur), see Plates 5 and 6 and frontispiece.
14: Bima jedong (swollen belly), devored;
15: Bima juwing (torn by demons);
16: Bima's urine: magic;
17: Bima's pair of phalluses; the left one is bitten off;

18: Bima geleng (Bima grows horns, having eaten woh kuldi, and begets a son with a buffalo);
19: Bima beser (diseased urethra, cured by Arimbi);
20: Bima porong (after copulation with Durga);
21: Bima nganja-anja (walking on the hands; lost phallus);
22: Arimbi playing gateng with B's testicles, which he had lost;
23: Bima in river Serayu, glans penis lost: top used for playing;
24: Bima lelur (son begotten with an elephant).

Arabic, with some Turkish, paper, 315 x 49 cm, formerly in form of a scroll, but now pasted on a support and framed, originally consisting of one leaf of 75 cm and three leaves of 80 cm, pasted together, dated 15 Dhu al-Qa`da 1310 (1893), copied by Yahya Ghulam al-Shawqi, al-katib bi-Bab al-Salam (one of the gates of the Great Mosque in Mekka).

Nubdha min Nasab al-Sayyid `Abdallah b. `Alwi al-`Attas. Genealogical tree of the al-`Attas family. The document was issued to al-Sayyid `Abdallah b. `Alwi al-`Attas. It contains texts in prose and poetry, and also the genealogy of the `Attas family.
Halfway the third leaf there starts a Qasida transmitted by al-Sayyid Husayn Mufti al-Shafi`iyya sabiqan b. Mufti al-Shafi`iyya Mawlana al-Sayyid Muhammad al-Hibshi in Mekka, on the authority of his forebears, and in which there are verses in which al-Sayyid `Abdallah b. `Alwi al-`Attas is mentioned. The author is referred to as Ibn Sayyid al-Anam.
On the lower part of the second leaf of which the document is composed, the pedigree has been authenticated by a number of Mekkan and Medinan scholars and religious authorities. On the upper part, the genealogical tree goes back to the imam `Ali b. Abi Talib. On the lower part the pedigree takes the line to the Prophet Muhammad through his daughter Fatima, the wife of the imam `Ali b. Abi Talib. Then the line goes further back to `Abd Manaf and further down to al-Nadr.

Or. 12.581
Lampung, paper (watermark 1881), 180 ff., plus a few blanks, interleaved, Lampung script, occasionally (beginning and end) with interlinear transliteration (by H.O. Forbes) in Latin script, in pencil, numerous illustrations, half-leather European binding, with title on spine: 'Kianak Dalom. A Sumatran romance.'
Anak Dalom. Lampung epic.
The illustration of a cock-fight on f. 49v is reproduced by H.O. Forbes, A naturalist's wanderings in the Eastern Archipelago. A narrative of travel and exploration from 1878 to 1883. London 1885, opposite p. 142 [715 D 15 – Hotz 550 – 1846 C 25]. He writes, on p. 142, of the Lampung alphabet as part of the description of his journey to the village Tiohmomon, near Mount Tengamus. The story of Anak Dalom is shortly referred to by Forbes on p. 158 of his work: '... and far into the night the woods resounded to the weird monotonous chant of one of those epics to which the Lamponger is never tired of listening, and which is country is famed for, such as the Herculean exploits of that great hero, Anak Dalom, who, miraculously escaping from the interior of a bamboo, played the part of another Aeneas along these shores.'
Added: Letter from William Cross (importer of exotic animals in Liverpool) to H.O. Forbes, in the Museum of Liverpool, dated 17 May 1897. Cross offers Dr. Forbes two monkeys, which are described in the letter.
Also added: notes by P. Voorhoeve (1899-1996), with some transliteration of Lampung text, and a reference to Forbes' work. And also added are a few slips of paper. Not in Iskandar's Catalogue (1999).
Provenance: Purchased in August 1971 from Kegan Paul, Trench, Trubner & Co., London, who had purchased on 29 July 1971 the manuscript by auction from Sotheby's in London. The manuscript comes from the collection H.O. Forbes (1851-1932).

(1) Turkish. Photographic copy of parts of MS Cairo, Khedivial Library 94 M, being parts of Targamat al-Gughafiya al-Kubra by Abu Bakr b. Bahram al-Dimashqi. The photographs comprise: I, ff. 236b-270b (end) and II, ff. 245b-271a, 439b-463a.
(2) Persian. Photographic copies of MS Istanbul, Veliuddin 1843 (Defter, p. 104), being Kitab Manaqib Hadrat Khudawandkar (so on the MS, f. 1a, but the Defter gives: Manaqib al-`Arifin wa-Maratib al-Kashifin by Ahmad al-Aflaki, who wrote the work in 770 AH. The copy was made by Darwish Muhammad al-Mawlawi al-Qunawi al-Galili and is dated end Rabi` I 1028 AH and was made from the Asl, the original, in the hugurat, rooms, of al-Zawiya al-Mawlawiyya in Damascus (colophon on f. 234b). Added are handwritten notes taken from this manuscript by A. Wahrtak (?), with a letter from him to Franz Taeschner, dated München, 28 September 1939.

See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 3 (Leiden 2006), p. 353.

Or. 12.583 g
Collection of specimens of scripts, mostly non-Arabic.
(1) Contract between Franz Taeschner in Münster, and signed by him on 11 July 1936, and the J.C. Hinrich'sche Buchhandlung in Leipzig for the publication of a work entitled Orientalische Stimmen zum Erlösungsgedanken, which appeared in 1936 as volume 28 in the series Morgenland [V 2556a:28].
(2) Collection of specimens of Arabic, Syriac, Pahlavi and old North-Semitic scripts, from manuscripts, but mostly from inscriptions. Numerous doubles. Also several comparative tables of alphabets. The specimens are collected from a great number of different publications, always indicated by Taeschner.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 3 (Leiden 2006), pp. 353-354.

Collection of photocopies and/or photographs of manuscript materials in Turkish.
(1) Turkish. Photographic copies of MS Istanbul, Fatih 2557 (Defter, p. 147, however mentions the title Asrar al-`Arifin without further detail). The present photographs represent ff. 159b-256a of the manuscript and contain Mantiq al-Tayr by Gülshehri, a fact which may have escaped the author of the Fatih Defter. The original seems to be dated 894 AH (f. 256a).
(2) Turkish. Photographic copies of MS Istanbul, Bashir Agha 451 A (Defter, p. 32), being ff. 41-101 of the 4th volume of the Seyahatnama by Evliya Chelebi.
(3) Turkish. Photographic copies of MS Istanbul, Museum of Antiquities 236, ff. 1-154, being an incomplete (beginning and end missing) copy of Mantiq al-Tayr by Gülshehri.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 3 (Leiden 2006), p. 354.

Or. 12.583 i
Collection of photocopies and/or photographs of manuscript materials.
(1) Envelope with documents and letters in Turkish:
- Eight (1-8) letters from Kitabchi Nasrullah (who signs as R. Nassroullah), Rida Nasr Allah, the bookseller from whom Franz Taeschner acquired so many of his manuscripts. Not dated, 18 Shubat 1914, 25 March 1330, 18 Nisan 1914, 23 Aylul 1914, 30 Tishrin I 1914, 10 Shubat 1915, 20 Temmuz 1922. Added: a list of manuscripts received by Taeschner in October 1930 fron Nasrullah. And another such list, not from Nasrullah. See the illustrations in Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 3 (Leiden 2006), pp. 355, 363
- Six letters (9-14) from Kilisli Mu`allim Rif`at, to Franz Taeschner, dated 25 Tishrin I 1928, 20 Kanun II 1930, 21 August 1931, 24 August 1931 (with added documents), 9 May 1932. See the illustration in Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 3 (Leiden 2006), p. 359.

- One letter (15) from Niyazi Tawfiq, to Taeschner Efendi, dated 30 Haziran 1914.
- One letter (16) from Yusuf al-Hagib (?), to Franz Taeschner, dated Istanbul 21 Kanun I 1330.
- One letter (17) from the Berlin Embassy of Turkey to Franz Taeschner, dated 26 Kanun I 1914.
- One letter (18) from Khalil Adham (Halil Edhem) to Franz Taeschner, dated Istanbul 16.10.[19]29 (or 1329?). With transliteration.
- One letter (19) from Hasan Fahmi (Hasan Fehmi) to Franz Taeschner, dated 20 Aylul 1930. With transliteration.
- Documents on manuscripts borrowed by Taeschner from several persons and institutions. And some notes by Taeschner. With two letters by Paul Kahle [to Franz Taeschner], dated Giessen 8 May 1915, and Bonn 18 October 1933.
- Letter by General von Bötticher to Franz Taeschner, dated 24 March 1914.
- Letter by I. Goldziher to Franz Taeschner, dated Budapest 14 October 1915.
(2) Amulet (text in Arabic), on parchment and paper, in a small envelope. Formerly MS Taeschner No. 124. Also: Turkish calligraphic text on the inside of a leather bookbinding (two boards).
(3) Persian lithograph book. Unidentified and incomplete. The text is divided into an introduction and eight sections (Rawda), in the last of which the book has an abrupt end.
(4) Collection of photographs and some prints, mostly of Islamic architecture, mosques, details. Many from Turkey. Mostly original photographs, but there are also reproductions, which were apparently removed from a publication. Taeschner has taken care to note on most of the photographs what they show.
(5) Photographs of pages of manuscripts, sometimes with transcripts of the texts shown.
[a] Photographs (10) and transcripts from MS Istanbul, University Library, No. 2307, being the Turkish translation of Kitab `Aga'ib al-Makhluqat wa-Athar al-Bilad, by al-Qazwini (d. 682/1283), GAL G I, 481.
[b] Notes and transliterations of parts of a manuscript containing the Turkish version of Kharidat al-`Aga'ib wa-Faridat al-Ghara'ib, by Abu Hafs `Umar Ibn al-Wardi Sirag al-Din (c. 850/1446), GAL G II, 131. With photographs from MS London, BL, Add. 7893, ff. 1b, 282a, 287b. And with photographs from MS Oxford, Clarke 16, ff. 1b-2a, 71b-72a, 72b, 296b-270a.
[c] Photographs of MS Istanbul, Nur-i Osmaniye 2998a bis (Defter, p. 172), being the Turkish translation by Muhammad b. Sulayman Efendi of Hayat al-Hayawan by Muhammad b. Musa al-Damiri (d. 808/1405), GAL G II, 138.
[d] Notes on MS Istanbul, Aya Sofya 2934 bis (Defter, p. 177), being the Turkish translation by Sururi of Kitab `Aga'ib al-Makhluqat wa-Athar al-Bilad, by al-Qazwini (d. 682/1283), GAL G I, 481. And notes on and photographs of the same work as contained in MS Istanbul, Veliuddin Efendi 2462 (Defter, p. 140), ff. 1b-2a, 121b-122a, 123b-124a, 196b-197a.

[e] Photographs of MS Vienna, A.F. 105 (431), see Catalogue Flügel II, pp. 508-509, No. 1440, being Tadhkirat al-`Aga'ib wa-Targamat al-Ghara'ib, the Turkish translation by Ayyub b. Or. 12.583 j Collection of photographs of manuscript materials from several different collections.
(1) Photographs of illustrations of MS Vienna 8615, ff. 129a-135b, 137, 140a, with some doubles. A German manuscripts with images of Turks in Istanbul and elsewhere. The manuscript is summarily described in Tabulae codicum manu scriptorum praeter Graecos et Orientales in Bibliotheca Palatina Vindobonensi asservatorum. Vol. 5, Vienna 1871, p. 272. They are identified there there having been drawn in 1586 at the request of Johannes Lewenklaw from Amelbeuren, for Hieronymus Beck from Leopodstorff.
(2) Photographs of the opening pages of an illuminated Turkish manuscript, the Diwan of Sultan Sulayman the Magnificent (reigned 926-974 AH), and a photograph of ff. 48b-49a of the same manuscript. On the envelope: 'Prachthandschrift Prof. Dr. Franz Taeschner', but apparently not taken from an original in the Taeschner collection. Someone (Taeschner?) has used the photographs to exercise in making illuminations, which are added in colour on parts of the photographs.
(3) Photograph of MS London, BL, Add 7894 (Rieu, p. 109), f. 126a, being `Aga'ib al-Makhluqat wa-Athar al-Bilad, by al-Qazwini (d. 682/1283), GAL G I, 481, showing two miniatures, one with a unicorn.

(4) Photographs (pasted on cardboard) of MS Munich, cod. Arab. 464, being the Arabic version of `Aga'ib al-Makhluqat wa-Athar al-Bilad, by al-Qazwini (d. 682/1283), GAL G I, 481. The original is dated 1377 AD. All photographs show miniatures.
(5) Photograph (pasted on cardboard) of MS Berlin, Minutoli 35 (Catalogue Pertsch p. 757, No. 724), f. 209a, from the Khamsa by Nizami with illuminated heading, dated 1362 AD.
(6) Photograph (pasted on cardboard) of MS Berlin, MS. Or. Fol. 189 (Catalogue Pertsch p. 736, No. 705), f. 263b, from the Shahnama by Firdawsi with illuminated heading, original dated 1784 AD.
(7) Photographs (pasted on cardboard) of MS Berlin, MS. Orient. Oct. 265 (Catalogue Pertsch pp. 366-367, No. 344), ff. 3, 5, 6, 12, 14a, 15a, 15b, 17, 20a, 20b, 24, from the Persian version by Ahmad-i Tusi of `Aga'ib al-Makhluqat wa-Athar al-Bilad, by al-Qazwini (d. 682/1283), GAL G I, 481, original dated 1525 AD.
(8) Photographs (pasted on cardboard) of MS Berlin, MS. Orient. Fol. 318 (Catalogue Pertsch pp. 367-368, No. 345), ff. 83a, 100b, from the Persian version of `Aga'ib al-Makhluqat wa-Athar al-Bilad, by al-Qazwini (d. 682/1283), GAL G I, 481, original dated 1695 AD.
(9) Photographs (pasted on cardboard) of MS Berlin, MS. Petermann 394 (Catalogue Pertsch pp. 368-369, No. 346), ff. 9b, 10a, 10b, 12a (twice), 12b, 50a, from the Persian version of `Aga'ib al-Makhluqat wa-Athar al-Bilad, by al-Qazwini (d. 682/1283), GAL G I, 481, original dated 1816 AD.
(10) Photograph (pasted on cardboard) of MS Berlin, MS. Orient. Fol. 187 (Catalogue Pertsch pp. 835-836, No. 830), f. 139b, from the Khamsa of Amir Khusrau Dihlawi, original of c. 1500.
(11) Photographs of illuminated pages of MSS Heilbronner Nos. 4 (1557 AD) and 16 (16th century).
(12) Photograph of a detail of MS Claude Anet No. 345, the beginning of the Khamsa of Nizami, original dated 849/1445. The French author Claude Anet (pseudonym of Jean Schopfer, 1868-1931) has among other things written on Persia. Apparently he had a collection of manuscripts.
(13) Photograph of a detail of the Turkish MS London, BL, Harl. 5500 (Rieu, p. 104), f. 3a, showing a unicorn.
(14) Photograph of a f. 244b of MS Paris, BNF, suppl. Turc 524, showing the execution of Tuman.
(15) Collection of photographs of pages from several illustrated and illuminated manuscripts, some of Indian origin. Also an illuminated Qur’anic title-page, MS Leipzig, dated 1306, of a copy made for Khodabende Khan (the Il-Khan Öljeitu who reigned 703-716 AH). Also a photograph of a page from a Kufi Qur’an in Gotha.
(16) Collection of photographs of pages from MS Munich, Persian 21 (Catalogue Aumer, pp. 10-11), being the Khamsa of Nizami, showing the illuminated opening pages of Haft Paykar and Iqbalnama-yi Iskandar, Layla u Magnun and Khusraw u Shirin.
(17) Photograph of an illustrated page from MS Munich, Persian 144 (Catalogue Aumer, p. 48), being the Gulistan of Sa`di. F. 115a, showing a ship in the sea.

(19) Photograph of an illuminated page from MS Berlin, Diez A. Fol. 7 (Catalogue Pertsch, pp. 751-753, No. 719, being the Khamsa of Nizami, here showing the illuminated opening page of Makhzan al-Asrar.
(20) Collection of cuttings, possibly from auction catalogues, showing Islamic miniatures.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue of Turkish manuscripts, vol. 3 (Leiden 2006), pp. 364-365.

Or. 12.584
Arabic, paper, naskh script, scroll measuring 450 x 18 cm, brightly coloured illuminations and illustrations, dated Dhu al-Higga 1289/1873, copied by al-Hagg `Ali al-Dafiri , who is the khalifa of Ibrahim b. Sulayman al-Rifa`i b. Ibrahim al-Dasuqi b. `Ali Abu Ahmad al-Shinnawi b. Hasan al-Shinnawi al-Tayban al-Shafi`i al-Rafi`i.
Illuminated and illustrated Igaza from the Ahmadiyya tariqa, possibly originating from Tanta in Egypt. In the text, the words Nasab and Silsila are used to refer to the present document. The Igaza was issued by al-Shaykh Ibrahim `Uways al-Ahmadi to Shaukh Hasan, in order to appoint the latter as his khalifa. The document was ordered to be made on the date of the khilafa in 1259/1843. The completion of the writing (and illumination?) took place much later, in Dhu al-Higga 1289/1873. The occurrence of the Shinnawi's in the text may point to an origin from Tanta of the document (see F. de Jong, Turuq and turuq-linked institutions in 19th-century Egypt. Leiden 1978, p. 38).
Provenance: Ex-collection Franz Taeschner No. 23.

Or. 12.585
Arabic, with some Turkish, paper, naskh script, scroll (doubled by cloth) measuring 196 x 22.5 cm, with 100 lines of text, dated Ragab 1264/1847 (date in Turkish), apparently copied in the Khanqah-I `Abd al-Salamzada near Qusqa (Qawasqa?), which is also referred to as Tekke-yi `Abd al-Salam, illuminations.
Illuminated Igaza from the Sa`diyya tariqa, probably originating from Anatolia. The orthography of the Arabic text shows Turkish influences. The first part of the scroll consists of an Igaza for Khilafa issued to al-Shaykh al-Sayyid Ibrahim Adham b. Yusuf. The latter part gives the Sa`diyya Silsila, up to the founder, Abu al-Fath Sa`d al-Din al-Gibawi al-Shaybani, and further up to the imams and the prophets.
Provenance: Ex-collection Franz Taeschner No. 24.

Or. 12.586
Javanese, paper (photographic copy), from an original on treebark paper (dluang), 34 leaves (original numbering: 33-68 pp.).
A. pp. 1-4. Scribbling and loose notes, mostly illegible.

B. pp. 5-9. Didactic and moralistic poem in macapat metre, like Wulang Reh, 3 cantos: metres dandang gula, kinanti, gambuh; fragmentary. See also Pigeaud I, pp. 107 ff.
C. pp. 10-68. A fragment of Jaya Lengkara Wulang, an East Javanese romance in verse, tale of a young prince and his companion wandering about and meeting many masters of religious and secular lore. See A.C. Vreede, Catalogus van de Javaansche en Madoereesche handschriften der Leidsche Universiteits-Bibliotheek. Leiden 1892, p. 277.
The fragment misses the introduction. It has 14 cantos, metres megatruh, dandang gula, sinom, durma, wirangrong, pangkur, sinom, sumekar, kinanti, gambuh, asmara dana, pucung, mijil, kinanti. It ends abruptly. The cantos are numbered with Javanese numerals, which is exceptional. The text is not wholly conform the Jaya Lengkara Sunya Wibawa text described in Poerbatjaraka's Indonesische Handschriften, K.B.G. 1950, p. 17 ff.
The manuscript was written by various scribes. The writing of B is much better than that of C. The orthography of C is deficient. The script of A, B and C is cursive, it belongs to the North Coast region of Central Java. The leaves were probably written in the beginning of the 19th century.
On the first page a paper label with a Malay legend in antiquated Dutch spelling is pasted : 'Tjaritanja Jaija Langkara, dapat die Sellaronong'. It was probably written shortly after the finding of the manuscript. The identification might be the work of a Javanese translator serving on general de Kock's staff.
A Dutch note was added to the Malay legend of the label at the time of the entering of the collection de Kock in the State Archives, in 1905. Sellaronong is identified with Silarong, the name of a cave which panggeran Dipa Nagara is said to have used as a hermitage for some time (see BKI, 2de volgreeks, III, p. 147).
The manuscript, badly written and fragmentary, does not give the impression of having belonged to the panggeran's most cherished possessions. The original manuscript belongs to the Algemeen Rijksarchief (State Archives), The Hague, collection de Kock (a general in command of the Dutch forces fighting panggeran Dipa Nagara in the Java War, 1825 - 1830), acquisition 1905, XLIV, no 222. The photographic copy was made at the request of Dr. P.B.R. Carey, of Oxford, in 1971, and was later presented by him to the Leiden Library. See Pigeaud IV, pp. 86-87.

Or. 12.587
Javanese, photographic copy of an original on thick import paper, 6 ff. (11 pp.), no binding, sewed
History of the Chinese troubles in Kartasura in the middle of the 18th century, in verse (only one canto, metre asmara dana), beginning without an introduction and ending abruptly. The fragment contains descriptions of negotiations between Javanese, Chinese and Dutch VOC officials.
The cover has a Malay inscription written in antiquated Dutch spelling: 'Tjarita koetika Perang Tjiena', with a Dutch note added afterwards: 'verhaal van den Chineeschen oorlog, onvolledig'.

The script is of the quadratic Yogyakarta type, written stiffly. The orthography is deficient, and the versification shows many mistakes.
The last page contains some personal notes written in a cursive script referring to some gentlemen with the rank of mantri, belonging to the distinguished Keparak Terjen (i.e. right wing Keparak) division of Royal servants (abdi Dalem) of the Yogyakarta Court. It is evident that the manuscript originally belonged to this Keparak family. It was probably written in the beginning of the 19th century. The story of the Chinese troubles might be a tradition of the family. The Javanese text does not give the impression of being written by a good scholar.
The original manuscript belongs to the Algemeen Rijksarchief, The Hague, collection de Kock, acquisition 1905, XLIV no 223. The copy was made at the request of Dr. P.B.R. Carey, of Oxford, and was later presented by him to the Leiden Library. See also Or 14.539, below.
See Pigeaud IV, p. 87.

Javanese, Arabic, paper (photographic copy), 336 pp., Arabic and Javanese scripts.
Copy of MS London IOL Arab. 2446 (Loth 1047). See M.C. Ricklefs & P. Voorhoeve, 'Indonesian manuscripts in Great Britain. Addenda et corrigenda', in BSOAS 45 (1982), pp. 300-322, especially p. 319.
Book of notes on Islamic theology and mysticism, partly (pp. 5-125) Arabic treatises provided with Javanese interlinear glosses, for the rest (pp. 126-336) Javanese notes and treatises, mostly based on glosses of Arabic texts which are not reproduced. The original manuscript, preserved in the library of the India Office in London (No. 2446, Arabic, Loth 1047), seems to be damaged by long use, but the writing is clear. A remarkable feature of this manuscript is its being provided with Javanese and (sometimes also) Arabic headings or rubrics written in the margins, and referring to the contents of the text. The Javanese marginal rubrics are not in pegon (Arabic) script, like the main text, but in Javanese script. It seems evident that they were added after the completion of the writing of the book. The Javanese characters are carefully written. The script is antique quadratic. It may have been written in the beginning or the middle ofthe 18th century, in the Kartasura period. The spelling of Arabic words in the Javanese marginal rubrics is defective. They are often difficult to understand. The Arabic marginal rubrics (which are less numerous than the Javanese ones) are badly written (by another hand than the Arabic and Javanese texts). The scribe's knowledge of Arabic grammar and orthography was poor.
In the following list of contents, based on the Javanese and Arabic marginal rubrics, the spelling of Arabic words is in some cases tacitly corrected.
pp. 1-4. Scribbles, Arabic prayers.
pp. 5-25. Kitab Bahr al-Mushahada (mystical).

p. 302. Sahibu '1 kitab pangeran Purbaya ingkang sinung kanugrahan ing Allah Ta`ala ing dalem dunya walakhirat.
The rest ofthe book is not provided with Javanese and Arabic marginal rubrics, and the writing is done by other, less experienced, hands. The vocalization of the pegon script is often lacking. The contents are of the same kind as in the preceding part. Some notes on prayers and dikir (dhikr) are inserted.
The pangeran Purbaya who owned the original book is difficult to identify, because it contains no date. Pangeran Purbaya (= Madyun) is a title borne by many princes of the House of Mataram from the 17th century. On account of the shape of the Javanese characters of the marginal rubrics it seems possible to date the writing of the original book of notes in the Kartasura period, in the beginning or the middle of the 18th century. The original manuscript was acquired for the India Office Library from the John Leyden collection (died 1811). See Pigeaud IV, pp. 87-90.

Kitab al-Anba' fi Ta'rikh al-Khulafa' by Muhammad al-`Imrani (c. 559/1164), GAL S I, 586. Photocopy of MS Istanbul Veliuddin 2360 (Defter, p. 135, where the title is given as Ta'rikh Dawlat al-`Abbasiyya). Eliminated in the edition by Qasim al-Samarra'i, Leiden 1973, under the title Kitab al-Inba' fi Tarikh al-Khulafa' [S 7075:1], as having been copied from the manuscript which is now MS Leiden Or. 595, above. See al-Samarra'i's textual criticism in the introduction to his edition, pp. 10-14.
¶ The prints are missing, which was first observed on 12 November 1975. However, under Or. 12.656 the same prints have, once more, been registered. It may be assumed that the second registration was done by mistake.

Arabic, paper, 305 ff., naskh script, dated 1270 (1853-1854 AD), copied by `Abdallah al-Safi, a pupil of Sulayman al-Wahbi (colophon on f. 305a), illumination, full-leather Islamic binding with flap, gilded ornamentation.
Qur'an, from the Ottoman realm. The text is distributed over the book in such a way that each guz' exactly coincides with a quire of ten sheets, with the exception of the first and last guz'. That this was quite difficult is borne out by the fact that at the end of the guz' there is still some blank space left.
The teacher of the copyist may be identical with the Sulayman Wahbi who is mentioned by Mustaqimzada, Tuhfa-yi Khattatin, pp. 222-223 and/or Süleyman Vehbi Efendi, who is mentioned by Inal, Son hattatlar, p. 455 (with a calligraphy dated 1247 [1831-1832]).
Provenance: Formerly in the library of Dr. T.H. Milo (1906-1960) who was professor of History of Overseas Territories and Maritime Matters in Leiden. The manuscript entered the Leiden library as part of the Milo legacy after the demise on 23 October 1971 of Mrs. F.E.J. Milo-van Everdingen. It was the sole exotic document in the legacy and was incorporated in the Oriental collections. The Milo collection is described in an inventory, entitled Plaatsingslijst Collectie Milo. Samengesteld bij de afdeling maritieme historie van de marinestaf te 's-Gravenhage (The Hague 1985), but there is no mention of this manuscript in the inventory.

Photocopy of MS Hamburg, Stadtbibliotheek, Orient. 21 (Catalogue Brockelmann, pp. 159-160, No. 302, being Ingil Tufuliyya. The Gospel of Jesus' youth. See the edition and translation of this text by H. Sike, Evangelium infantiae vel liber apocryphus de infantia Servatoris. Utrecht 1697 [854 F 3:1]. Sike made his edition on the basis of a manuscript which had belonged to Jacobus Golius (1596-1667), as is clear from his preface. That manuscript had been auctioned off in 1696 as part of Golius' private manuscript library, a fact which is mentioned by Sike. Golius' manuscript is now in Oxford, Bodleian Library, Bodl. 350 (Catalogue Nicoll, pp. 57-58, No. 52). Sike collated his text with another MS, which is the present Hamburg manuscript. That manuscript seems to have originally been part of the collection of Leiden University Library. It is mentioned in the Library catalogue of 1674 (Catalogus Bibliothecae Publicae Lugduno-Batavae noviter recognitus. Accessit incomparabilis thesaurus librorum Orientalium, praecipue MSS. Leiden 1674, p. 377). How it came in Hamburg is not clear, but it is not part of the Leiden collection anymore.

Or. 12.595 – Or. 12.603
Collection of Javanese manuscripts on palm leaf (lontar), purchased on January 7, 1972, from Mr. J. Knegtmans in Leidschendam.

Or. 12.595
Javanese, palm leaf, 80 + 7 + 10 ff., Javanese script, rounded wooden boards.
Yusup romance, usual East Javanese version in macapat verse, incomplete, the conclusion is missing. Seven leaves belonging to another Yusup manuscript were added. The script is East Pasisir or Madurese quadratic, resembling Balinese script. The idiom and the orthography seem to be influenced by the Madurese vernacular. See Pigeaud IV, p. 90.
(Lont. 906)

Or. 12.596
Javanese, palm leaf, 64 ff., in disorder, Javanese script, profiled black wooden boards
Yusup romance in macapat verse, usual East Javanese version, incomplete, beginning and conclusion are missing. The leaves seem to be in disorder. The script is East Pasisir or Madurese quadratic, slightly sloping. The idiom and the orthography are influenced by the Madurese vernacular. See Pigeaud IV, p. 90.
(Lont. 907)

Or. 12.597
Javanese, palmleaf, 123 ff., in disorder, Javanese script, profiled black wooden boards.
History of Surapati (Kartasura period, first half of the 18th century), in macapat verse, incomplete, beginning and end are missing. The leaves seem to be in disorder. The script is North Pasisir cursive, neatly written. The bad quality of the palmleaves and the damages make the reading of this interesting manuscript difficult. The idiom and the orthography seem to be scholarly Central Pasisir Javanese. See Ann Kumar, Surapati. Man and legend. A study of three Babad traditions, Leiden 1976. See Pigeaud IV, pp. 90-91.

(Lont. 908)

Or. 12.598
Javanese, palmleaf, 70 ff., Javanese script, roughly rounded wooden boards.
Wayang purwa tale versified, macapat verse. Anuman, Baladewa, Bima (often called Susina), Darmawansa, raden Istukardi, Kumbakarna (ratu sabrang), Siti Surya, Suyutdana, and the royal residences of Amerta, Andrawati (i.e. Darawati), Kelin, Madura and tyastina are mentioned. The script is of the East Pasisir or Madurese slightly cursive type. The writing is large and regular. The idiom, the names of the wayang personages and the orthography show that the scribe was of Madurese descent. On leaf 74 a date in the year 1761 A.J. (A.D. 1833) is mentioned as the time when the writing of the manuscript was finished. The scribe's name was Wira Bangsah (Madurese spelling for Wira Wangsa). He claimed descent from kyahi Suta Manggala, an important personage in the local history of East Java and Madura. See Pigeaud IV, p. 91.
(Lont. 909)

Or. 12.599
Javanese, palmleaf, 165 ff, in disorder, Javanese script, roughly rounded wooden boards.
Rama Keling, popular East Javanese version of the Rama epic in macapat verse. The text is incomplete, beginning and conclusion are missing. The tale of the building of the dam by the monkeys, the means for Rama to reach Ngalenka (Lanka), is told in extenso. The script is of the East Pasisir or Madurese cursive type. The writing is large, rather awkward and irregular. The idiom and the orthography are East Javanese. Madurese influence is not conspicuous. See Pigeaud IV, p. 91.
(Lont. 910)

Or. 12.600
Javanese, palmleaf, 85 ff., Javanese script, roughly rounded wooden boards.
Rama Keling, popular East Javanese version of the Rama epic in macapat verse. The text is incomplete, beginning and conclusion are missing. In the beginning the demoness Sarpa Kanaka who wants Rama for husband is mentioned. The script is of the East Pasisir cursive type. The writing is passably well executed and regular. The idiom and the spelling are East Javanese. See Pigeaud IV, pp. 91-92.
(Lont. 911)

Or. 12.601
Javanese, palmleaf, 83 ff., damaged and in disorder, Javanese script, roughly rounded brown wooden boards.
Notes on divination, Javanese pawukon etc. The palmleaves which are collected in this codex belonged originally to different manuscripts, written by different scribes. Part of the leaves which were too long were cut at one end to the measure of the shortest. Moreover the palmleaves are in disorder. The script is of the East Pasisir cursive type.

The writing is on the whole passably well done. The idiom and the spelling are East Javanese, influenced by the Madurese vernacular. See Pigeaud IV, p. 92.
(Lont. 912)

Or. 12.602
Javanese, palmleaf, 22 ff., Javanese script, thin brown bamboo boards.
Incantations or prayers addressed to divine beings residing in the Mahameru (Sumeru) massif in East Java. The original owner of the manuscript may have been a priest (dukun) of the Tengger high-landers who, adhering to the pristine belief of their forefathers, refuse to embrace Islam.
The script is of the East Javanese cursive type. The writing is awkwardly done. The MS is difficult to read because the blackening of the characters is deficient. A transcription of the initial pages made by Soegiarto is added. See Pigeaud IV, p. 92.
(Lont. 913)

Or. 12.603
Javanese, Balinese, palmleaf, 72 ff., illustrations, without boards, string with a red bead at one end..
Darma Usada, Javano-Balinese compilation of recipes of medicines (tamba, sarana) for treatment of various diseases, with some mantras (abbreviation: ma) and *rajah*s. The conclusion is missing. The idiom is Javano-Balinese interspersed with Balinese words. The writing is regular and clear. See Pigeaud IV, p. 92.

A collection of fifty sayings of God to mankind (ay Farzand-i Adam), collected by the imam `Ali b. Abi Talib from Thora and Gospels. In the colophon on f. 25a the text is referred to Ahadith al-Qudsi. Dated 1263 AH (f. 25a). Copyist verse on f. 25a.
(2) ff. 25b-26b. Collection of poetry (Mathnawi), without indication of author and title.
(3) ff. 27a-92a. Incomplete copy (Fasl 1-11 only) of Masabih al-Qulub by Tag al-Din Mulla Hasan al-Shi`i al-Shirwari, known as al-Sulami. An edifying work according to the introduction divided into 52 sections (Fasl). On f. 92a twelve lines of a Mathnawi, unidentified. Ff. 92b-93b blank.
(4) ff. 94a-100b. Qissa-yi Pang Kashti wa-Gharq-i Pesar-i Padishah-i Chin wa-Zanda kardan-i Hadrat-i Amir al-Mu'minin. Legend in Mathnawi form about the imam `Ali b. Abi Talib, who revives the drowned son of the emperor of China. Dated a Saturday in 1248 (1832 AD, colophon on 100b, with copyist verse). On f. 101a lines of poetry.
[* Ar. 3998]

Or. 12.613
Arabic, paper, 153 ff., nasta`liq script (several copyists), the oldest part dated 21 Rabi` I 769 (collation note on f. 131a, or possibly 779 of 799 AH), unbound. Ff. 1-60, 150-153 are later replacements.
Fragmentary copy (Fann 1 and the beginning of Fann 2 only) of the shorter commentary (al-Sharh al-Mukhtasar) by Mas`ud b. `Umar al-Taftazani (d. 792/1390) on Talkhis al-Miftah, an abridgment by Muhammad b. `Abd al-Rahman al-Qazwini Khatib Dimashq (d. 739/1338) of Book 3 of Miftah al-`Ulum, by Yusuf b. Abi Bakr al-Sakkaki (d. 626/1229), GAL S I, 518.
[* Ar. 3999]

Or. 12.614
Persian, paper, 167 ff., nasta`liq script, full-leather Islamic binding, with blind tooled ornamentation (borders).
Incomplete copy (beginning [and possibly also the end] missing) of a collection of questions and answers on legal matters, Fatwa's. The questions are introduced by the letter lam (Su'al), the answers by the letter ba' (Gawab).
(Ar. 4000)

Or. 12.615 a

Persian, Arabic, paper (bluish), 450, ff., naskh (Arabic text) and nasta`liq (Persian text) scripts, dated 1 Muharram 1228, copied by Mir Karim b. Mir Ma`sum in Lahegan in Gilan (colophon on f. 449a, with copyist verse, and also family notes on birth and demise, with seal prints), full-leather Islamic binding, with blind tooled ornamentation.
Slightly incomplete copy of the first volume only of Kitab al-Tafsir `an al-Baha'i Haqiqi Ma`nawi Gilani (so, on f. 449a). The commentary covers sura 1-17 of the Qur'an. The work is apparently Shiite, as the imam `Ali b. Abi Talib is explicitly mentioned in the closing sentence. The sura names are written in the upper left corner of each recto page. The matn is distinguished by red overlining. With some textual variants taken into account, this is the same text as Or. 12.615 b, below.
Lacunae between ff. 64-65, 182-183, 184-185, 242-243, 251-252, 390-391. F. 14 damaged, with text written around the hole.
On f. 449a also a list of abbreviations for bibliographical references, possibly of sources, but not used in the present work
On ff. 449b-450a notes of juridical contents (marriage, contract law).
Added: inserts in manuscript and print, possibly from the same source as Or. 12.617 (11), below.
[* Ar. 4001 a]

Or. 12.615 b
Persian, Arabic, paper, 396 ff., naskh (Arabic text) and nasta`liq (Persian text) scripts, full-leather Islamic binding, with blind tooled and coloured ornamentation.
The first volume only of Kitab Baha'i Haqiqi Ma`nawi (so, on f. 396b). The commentary covers sura 1-17 of the Qur'an. The matn is distinguished by red overlining. With some textual variants taken into account, this is the same text as Or. 12.615 a, above.
[* Ar. 4001 b]

Or. 12.616
Arabic, with some Persian, paper (blue), 168 ff., nasta`liq script, full-leather Islamic binding with blind tooled ornamentation.
Anonymous gloss on al-Fawa'id al-Diya'iyya, or al-Fawa'id al-Wafiya fi Hall Mushkilat al-Kafiya, commentary by `Abd al-Rahman b. Ahmad al-Gami ('Molla Gami') (d. 898/1492) on the Kafiyat Dhawi al-Adab fi `Ilm Kalam al-`Arab, by Gamal al-Din `Uthman b. `Umar Ibn al-Hagib (d. 646/1249), GAL G I, 303. Structure: Qawluhu.
There is some Persian marginal glossing (f. 2b) and there are a few owners' notes in Persian (f. 1a), showing that the book originates from a Persian speaking environment.
[* Ar. 4002]

Or. 12.617
Collective volume with texts in Arabic and Persian, and a few loose papers, paper, ff., naskh and nasta`liq scripts, several copyists, loose full-leather Islamic binding without ornamentation, apparently not originally made for the manuscript.
(1) ff. 2b-20a. Arabic. Incomplete (leaves in disorder, and with lacunae, between ff. 8-9, 9-10, 13-14, 14-15) copy of the beginning only of the commentary by Sa`d al-Din Mas`ud

b. `Umar al-Taftazani (d. 792/1390), GAL G II, 215, on al-Tasrif al-`Izzi by `Izz al-Din `Abd al-Wahhab b. Ibrahim al-Zangani (655/1257), GAL G I, 283. Identified with MS Berlin We. 98 (4), Ahlwardt 6617 and with Leiden Or. 11.568 (2) and Or. 11.736, above. Matn distinguished by overlining.
On f. 20a, in the last line of this text, mention is made of the `Awamil by Mulla Muhsin. He is Muhammad Murtada Mulla Muhsin Fayd al-Kashi (d. 1090/1679), GAL S II, 584.
(2) ff. 20a-50b. Persian. Fragments only of a Mukhtasar dar Bayan-i Wagibat-i `Aqliyya, a work on `Aqa'id by Diya' al-Din Muhammad b. Sadid al-Gurgani (author on f. 20a). The fragments are (not necessarily in the correct order, and possibly not even of one and the same text): ff. 20, 21-35, 36-41, 42-43 (with lacuna), 44, 45-50.
(3) ff. 51a-52b. Arabic. Lacunous (between ff. 51-52) fragment of a commentary on Arabic grammar. Matn distinguished by overlining.
(4) ff. 53a-54b. Arabic. Lacunous (between ff. 53-54) fragment of a commentary on Arabic grammar. Matn distinguished by overlining.
(5) f. 55. Persian. Sigha-yi Musalaha. A document, dated 1 Rabi` II 1292. Several seal prints.
(6) f. 56. Persian. Sighat al-Mubaya`a. A document, dated 25 Sha`ban 1306. Several seal prints.
(7) f. 57. Persian. Loose leaf with notes, quotations and calligraphic trials.
(8) Pasted into the end board is a document in Persian, apparently on a question of family law, dated Ragab 1231 and signed by Muhammad Sadiq, son of the late Shaykh Ahmad Awgabi.
¶ The present collection contains a number of printed fragments as well:
(9) 1 Sheet, Persian. Salawat bar Chahardah Ma`sum. Apparently printed in Meshed.
(10) 1 Sheet, with texts in Persian and Arabic, with a calligraphic drawing (basmala in the form of a bird). A lithographic print from Matba`a-yi `Ilmi.
(11) Two fragments, in Persian, originating from lithographic editions of a prayer book (see also the insert in Or. 12.615 a, above) and another work.
[* Ar. 4003]

Or. 12.618
Persian, paper (blue), 167 ff., nasta`liq script, without binding.
Fragments of a work on ethics, without indication of title and author. The fragments are divided as follows, which is not necessarily their correct order: ff. 1-30 (probably from the beginning, but the fragment is acephalous), 31-34 (with lacuna between ff. 31-32, 33-34), 35-167 (with abrupt end on f. 165b).
Added on a loose sheet is a letter in Persian.
[* Ar. 4004]

Or. 12.619
Arabic, paper (with watermarks), 237 ff., naskh script, dated (in a hand different from the copyist's) a Wednesday in Gumada II 762, copied by Ahmad b. Ishaq b. Yusuf (colophon on f. 236a), full-leather Islamic binding, rebacked.

al-Wafi fil-Furu` (title on f. 4a) by Hafiz al-Din Abu al-Barakat `Abdallah b. Hamid al-Din Ahmad b. Mahmud al-Nasafi (author on f. 3b, d. 710/1310), GAL G II, 196. In the introduction the abbreviations are explained (f. 4a). The authors says that if it were given to him to write a commentary on the text, he would give that the title al-Kafi (f. 4a). Possibly one or more lacunae between ff. 94-101. Heavy glossing throughout, but especially in beginning and end of the text. Drawing in the margin of f. 108b, belonging to a marginal note. The date of copying is improbable for the present manuscript, and may have been copied from an exemplar.
On ff. 2a-3a shorter and longer Masa'il, and Fatwa's. On f. 237b a prayer.
[* Ar. 4005]

Or. 12.620
Arabic, paper, 234 ff., naskh script, dated Sunday noon 25 Rabi` I 763, copied by Khidr b. Mas`ud b. `Ali (colophon on f. 234a), full-leather Islamic binding with flap, with blind tooled ornamentation, rebacked.
Incomplete copy (beginning lacking) of Kitab al-Mustasfa fi Sharh al-Nafi` fil-Furu`, commentary completed on the 7th last day of Safar 670 by Hafiz al-Din Abu al-Barakat `Abdallah b. Hamid al-Din Ahmad b. Mahmud al-Nasafi (d. 710/1310), GAL G II, 196, on Kitab al-Fiqh al-Nafi` by Nasir al-Din Abu al-Qasim Muhammad b. Yusuf (or Yusuf b. Muhammad?) al-Samarqandi al-Madani (d. 656/1258), GAL G I, 381 (author and title on f. 233b).

Or. 12.623
Collection of five texts in Hebrew, with some Italian, parchment and paper.
(a) Poem dedicated to Dirk Reinders, on one leaf of parchment. The text was published, with a Dutch and Spanish version, in 5451 (1690-1691).

(b) New Year greetings from Christian Meyer at Amsterdam to the ecclesiastical assembly (classis) in Haarlem, dated 13 March 1730. Leaf of paper.
(c) Poem for the dedication of a synagogue. One leaf of parchment.
(d) Proofs of the lawfulness of divorce and second marriage taken from the Scriptures and from Rabbinic Literature. No mention of sender or addressee. Leaf of paper.
(e) Letter from Samuel Romanelli to Prof. H. Scholten (1726-1783) of Leiden. With some Italian text.
See Studia Rosenthaliana 7 (1973), pp. 175-185. See A. van der Heide, Hebrew manuscripts (Leiden 1977), pp. 94-96.
Provenance: Transferred from Or. 3041, above, which was purchased in January 1885 from the estate of Dr. Antonie Rutgers (1805-1884), The Hague. Since 1837 Rutgers had been professor of Hebrew in Leiden University, before he turned to Sanskrit.

Or. 12.624
Indonesian, Dutch, paper, 237 ff., typewritten, mostly carbon copies.
Verslag lengkap tentang pergerakan Oemmat Islam selama pendoedoekan Djepang di Jawa, dan tentang propaganda dan riwajat Kantoor Oeroesan Agama (Sjumubu) dari Pemerentahan Balatentera Djepang.
On the cover: 'Saleh Haidara, Rapport inzake de Japanse Islampolitiek tijdens de bezetting van Indonesië'.
Report by Saleh Haidara concerning the Japanese Islam policy during the occupation of Indonesia, mostly written in Indonesian, quoting Indonesian sources, with some commentary in Dutch. The report was written in the years 1946-1947 by Saleh Haidara, a collaborator in the section Islamic Affairs in the office of the Dutch Lieutenant Governor-General in (then) Batavia, and was composed at the request of C.A.O. van Nieuwenhuijze (born 1920), who was then working in the same section. The latter apparently kept a copy of the report, which in 1972 he decided to deposit in the Oriental manuscripts section of the Leiden Library. At that time the author of the report had died, and the confidentiality of the report had greatly diminished.
Added: Photocopy of a letter by C.A.O. van Nieuwenhuijze, dated Guelph 12 May 1972, in which he explains his action.

Photograph of MS Columbia University Library, being Khutbat Hurushiyush al-Qiss allati arsala biha ila Aghustinus al-Gathaliq. Arabic translation of this history by Paulus Orosius (c.385–420, Iberian priest, theologian, and historian, born in Tarragona, Spain, or in Braga, Portugal. He went to see St. Augustine (c. 413) and wrote, on request, a summary of the errors of Priscillian and of Origen. Augustine then sent him to Palestine to warn St. Jerome of the menace of Pelagianism. Unable to return to Spain, which was overrun by the Vandals, Orosius remained in Africa, where he completed the Seven Books of History against the Pagans (translated by I. W. Raymond, 1936), which had been undertaken to continue the thrust of Augustine's City of God. The work became a kind of textbook of universal history for the Middle Ages; it treats world history as a concrete proof of the apocalyptic visions of the Bible. King Alfred translated it into Anglo-Saxon.). The translations was made in 967 AD. See about the text H. Daiber, 'Orosius' Historiae adversus paganos in arabischer Überlieferung', in Tradition and Re-Interpretation in Jewish and Early Christian Literature. Essays in honour of Jürgen C.H. Lebram.

Or. 12.644 - Or. 12.653
Collection of manuscripts, purchased on October 13, 1972, from Mr. Frederick de Jong, then of Leiden, who had purchased single items at several occasions during his prolonged stay in Egypt.

Or. 12.644
Arabic, paper, 70 + ?? ff., dated Damascus 562/1166.
A fragment only of Ta'rikh Madinat Dimashq by Ibn `Asakir (d. 571/1175), in the handwriting of the author's son al-Qasim b. `Ali b. al-Hasan b. Hibat Allah. A large part of al-Qasim's copy is in the Library of al-Gami` al-Azhar in Cairo. The present collections contains four agza': 277, 278, 279, 280, with a few lacunae. Extensive survey of the contents by P.Sj. van Koningsveld (1974), pp. 99-108, with illustration of ff. 1a, 20a, 20b, 39b, 41b. Another division in agza' can be seen in the margin of this copy, e.g. f. 11a, where the end of guz' 369 is indicated. Numerous sama`at.

In the course of 1976 a number of, as yet lacking, leaves was provided by Qasim al-Samarra'i who had acquired them from the same Cairo provenance as the leaves already present in Leiden, and these new leaves were then added to the present set. Still the four agza' in Leiden are not entirely without lacuna. In the course of January 1994 an attempt was done by myself to inspect the Azhar manuscript, in order to see how the present leaves would fit into the Azhar set, but due to all sorts of administrative difficulties the Azhar set of the Ta'rikh Dimashq was never shown to me. See on the writing and reading history of the MS J.J. Witkam, 'The son's copy. Remarks on a comtemporary manuscript of Ibn 'Asākir's 'History of the City of Damascus', in: Essays in Honour of Salah al-Din al-Munajjid, London 2002, pp. 591-610.

Or. 12.657 – Or. 12.757
Transcripts of Javanese-Balinese and Balinese manuscripts that were supplied in 1972 to the Library by C. Hooykaas. This is the beginning of the 'Proyek Tik'. Collection from Griya Gede Panaruka, South Bali.
¶ Pigeaud IV, pp. 94-96 introduces the project in 1980 as follows (here slightly edited): Collection Hooykaas-Ketut Sangka. Bali Project, First Part, registered between 1972 and 1976.
Considerable collections of romanized copies of Javano-Balinese manuscripts comiled by Dr C. Hooykaas are already registered in Volume III, Addenda, p. 107-138, as Or 11.104 - Or. 11.530, above, and Or 11.808- Or. 11.960, above. Continuing his efforts to make the Leiden collection of Javano-Balinese literature as complete as possible, Hooykaas has, from 1972 onwards, made available for the Library a great number of romanized copies of the same kind. They form a welcome supplement to the collection of copies of Javano-Balinese manuscripts belonging to the Gedong Kirtya of Singaraja, which was registered in 1961 in Volume II, p. 521-631, Or. 9075 –Or. 10.391, above. The original Kirtya registration numbers of those Singaraja manuscripts which are represented by romanized copies in the present supplementary collection Hooykaas, are always mentioned in the descriptions in the following list. Moreover a Reference List of Kirtya registration numbers (Krt) and Leiden codex numbers (Or) is appended to Pigeaud IV.
The copies consist of romanized type-written leaves of thin paper of approximately the same size (34 x 21 cm outside, 31 x 19 writing), containing as a rule from 45 to 50 lines type-script on one side of the leaf. A relatively small number of the copies is sewed and provided with paper covers. The leaves of thin paper are mostly held together only by paper-clips, and in the Leiden University Library preserved in loose paper covers, afterwards collected in voluminous portfolios. It seemed superfluous to mention the particulars about the size of the paper leaves and the number of the lines on each leaf in the descriptions of the copies. As a rule only the number of written pages is recorded. The copies contain indications of the number of palmleaves of the original palmleaf manuscripts, and the number of lines on the two sides ofthe palmleaves.
Seeing that the knowledge of Old Javanese and Javano-Balinese literature, formerly cultivated in the circles of Balinese priests and gentlemen, is declining, partly in consequence of the fact that in the schools and in every-day life the Javano-Balinese script is replaced by Latin script, Hooykaas devised a project to have copies made of all palmleaf manuscripts still available in Bali. There are several copies made of each manuscript, and they are distributed to various libraries in Indonesia, Europe, Australia and the U.S.A.

Libraries which possess sets of the Hooykaas-Ketut Sangka collection, either complete or incomplete (due to various circumstances) are [in 1980, JJW], besides the Leiden University Library, the library of Cornell University, Ithaca NY, U.S.A., the University of Sydney, Australia, the School of Oriental and African Studies, London, the British Library (formerly the British Museum), London, the Staatsbibliothek Preussischer Kulturbesitz, Berlin, the University of Auckland, New Zealand, the University of Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, and in Indonesia, the Fakultas Sastra Udayana of Den Pasar, Bali, the Gedong Kirtya of Singaraja, Bali, and the Perpustakaan Museum Nasional of Jakarta.
In the present volume IV of the Leiden catalogue the items of the collection Hooykaas-Ketut Sangka have been registered in succession according to the dates of the arrival of the parcels from Bali. The Or-codex numbers Or. 12.660 – Or. 15.015 (with considerable gaps) which cover the Hooykaas-Ketut Sangka collection do not correspond with the numbers given by Ketut Sanka to part of the items which he sent from Bali. His numbering was found to be inconsistent. Students working on texts belonging to the Hooykaas-Ketut Sangka collection available in the foreign libraries named above can find further information in the present Leiden catalogue by looking up the titles of those texts in the Index of Names and Subjects, which refers to Or.-codex numbers and paragraph numbers (in italics) of the Synopsis of Javanese literature in vol. I, l967, of Literature of Java. Moreover a Reference List of Ketut Sangka's dispatch numbers (in the parcels sent from Bali between 1970 and 1976), and Leiden codex numbers (Or.) has been appended to this volume.
Hooykaas' agent in Bali in carrying out this project is I Gusti Ngurah Ketut Sangka of Krambitan, district of Tabanan, South Bali, a Balinese gentleman of standing who uses his authority and wide connections in the country to persuade owners of palmleaf manuscripts to have them copied. The originals remain in Bali as a matter of course. Directed by Dr Hooykaas, Ketut Sangka makes a selection of the palmleaf manuscripts offered for copying in order that the number of doubles should not become excessive. He gives also names to those palmleaf manuscripts which are nameless, being in fact mere collections of notes or selected passages from greater works. The extensive Index of Names and Subjects which forms the third part of Pigeaud IV, is meant to be a help in finding interesting texts in this rather indiscriminate collection of Javano-Balinese literature.
At the time of the publishing of the present supplementary volume of the Leiden Catalogue the project Hooykaas-Ketut Sangka in Bali is still progressing. Romanized copies of manuscripts are still fairly regularly received by librarians who expressed their interest in the project in the past. Nevertheless it was decided to bring the publication of the descriptions of the Hooykaas-Ketut Sangka copies to a premature termination in order that this supplementary volume (Pigeaud IV) should not become excessively large. It is hoped that the descriptions of the remaining items of the collection and the copies which are still to come will be published in a following volume of the Leiden Catalogue. The same should be said of the descriptions of the texts written in the Balinese and Sasak vernaculars, which are also found among the romanized copies sent from Bali.

Ketut Sangka's carefulness in noting the names and residences of the owners of the manuscripts which were copied is praiseworthy, for these notes provide information on the spreading of private and temple libraries in Bali and also on the categories of literature (religion and ethics, history and mythology, belles-lettres, magic, divination, humanities and law) which were favoured by various classes of Balinese society. The number of libraries belonging to *griya*s, manses, residences of *pedanda*s, members of the Balinese clergy, is considerable. The predicates and titles before Balinese names are clear indications (for insiders and students conversant with Balinese custom) of the social status ofthe bearers ofthe names. Therefore Ketut Sangka's notes on the original owners of the manuscripts are carefully reproduced in the following descriptions.

Or. 12.827
Batak, treebark, 57 ff., 18½ x 12 cm, some of smaller size.
An incomplete and damaged manuscript, beginning and end are lacking.
The manuscript originates from Sigumpar in the Toba-area. The text begins on both sides of the strip of bark at the same end. Voorhoeve has called one side a and the other b, at random.
The a-side begins with part of a divination calendar, about two fifth of the entire calendar text has been preserved. On that side there are some texts on the use of the tunggal panaluan and of three small statues which are cut from the same wood as this staff (rautan na tolu).
The b-side contains mostly texts about pagar, a.o. pagar adji marrante bosi.
Transliteration in MS Leiden Or. 12.474, ff. 535-539. See Codices Batacici, pp. 267-268.
Provenance: Presented on 6 November 1972 to the Library by Ms. J.A.E. Inckel, Amsterdam, from the estate of Mrs. E. Prins-Singels, Amsterdam.

Dutch, of Arabic interest, paper, 62 + 3 pp., cyclostiled.
Catalogus van de Bibliotheek van Dr. C. van Arendonk. The catalogue, which is arranged by subject, was apparently made after van Arendonk's demise in 1946. The more than 1600 items are priced in guilders, meaning that the catalogue must have been made in order to redistribute van Arendonk's books among interested colleagues and scholars. The cover bears a print of a stamp: 'Oostersch Instituut'.
Provenance: Found in the Library and registered on 14 November 1972.

Arabic, paper, 315 ff., and blanks, naskh script, dated on the last day of Tishrin I (31 October) 1757 AD, full-leather bindinding, inside of the covers doubled with paper showing prints of fable animals.
Christian prayer book (Horologion and Menaeon) of the Greek Orthodox community in Syria (the Melkites). The volume begins with the Horologion which contains the canonical hourly prayer. In addition, it contains a song in praise of the Trinity in eight verse, prayers for fasting, and prayers for the long and the short sleep. The Menaeon is the collection of the prayers, songs and pericopes for the variable feast of the Lord which are distributed over the months, the first of which is September, Aylul. Prayers for the different festive days are given, with the intentions for fasting. At the end of the volume follow short biographies of saints and an instruction of how to calculate festive days for the years between 1757-1768. See also GCAL I, 625-640.
Provenance: Purchased on 15 December 1972 from Messrs. Meuschel, antiquarian booksellers in Bonn.

Or. 12.858 – Or. 12.881
Collection of Middle Eastern manuscripts, purchased in 1973 from Dr. Qasim al-Samarrai, a scholar of Iraqi origin, living in Leiden. He had come to Leiden in the course of 1970 and took up the post of Arabic language teacher in the University. When his contract was discontinued, he established himself as a private scholar. Later on he took up several teaching posts, first in the Universities of Benghazi, Libya, and later on in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. He continued to use Leiden as his first and permanent residence. Several of the present manuscripts make the impression of originating from Egypt. One (Or. 12.871, below) has an owner's note by Qasim al-Samarra'i dated 1973. In the course of 1973, al-Samarra'i was in Egypt in order to supervise the production of his edition of Kitab al-Inba' fi Ta'rikh al-Khulafa' by Muhammad al-`Imrani (c. 559/1164), published in Leiden in 1973 [S 7075:1].

Or. 12.864
Arabic, paper, 9 ff., naskh script, without binding.
The beginning only of Kitab al-Fawa'id al-Saniyya fil-Masa'il al-Diniyya, by Nuh b. Mustafa al-Rumi al-Misri al-Hanafi (d. 1070/1659, author and title on ff. 1a, b, 2a), GAL G II, 314; S II, 432 (where this text is not mentioned), who wrote it at the request of his son Salim (f. 1b).
[* Ar. 4044]

Or. 12.865
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, 3 + 82 pp., and some inserts, naskh script, dated Saturday, ten days left of Rabi` II 1320 (colophons on pp. 31, 74), without binding. Apparently an autograph copy in two versions.
(1) pp. 1-32. Draft version of Irshad al-Ikhwan li-Hidayat al-Sibyan, commentary by Muhammad `Ali al-Husayn Ibn Khalaf (title and author in p. 1), on an Urguza (apparently the Hidayat al-Sibyan) on Qur'an recitation by Sa`id b. Sa`d b. Nabhan (al-Zirikli, al-A`lam (2nd ed.), vol. 7, pp. 196-197 mentions him as Muhammad `Ali al-Haddad (1282-1357/1865-1939)). Neither author seems to be mentioned in GAL. The text in the manuscript makes the impression of being a draft version, and has numerous additions and corrections, also on loosely inserted leaves.
(2) pp. 33-74. Neat version of Irshad al-Ikhwan li-Hidayat al-Sibyan, commentary by Muhammad `Ali al-Husayn Ibn Khalaf (title and author in p. 1), on an Urguza (apparently the Hidayat al-Sibyan) on Qur'an recitation by Sa`id b. Sa`d b. Nabhan (al-Zirikli, al-A`lam (2nd ed.), vol. 7, pp. 196-197 mentions him as Muhammad `Ali al-Haddad (1282-1357/1865-1939)). Neither author seems to be mentioned in GAL. From p. 54 onwards, this seems to be once more the draft version. The end of the neat version is on p. 74.

Arabic, paper, 8 ff., naskh and ruq`a scripts, without binding.
Notes on the authority of Ibn al-Gazari (Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Gazari, d. 833/1429, GAL G II, 201) on the foundations of the different Qur'an transmissions (Riwayat). Apparently taken from or quoted from a larger work by him on the subject. On f. 8b notes on the subject with mention of an earlier work, al-Qasida al-Shatibiyya, with which is meant the didactical poem by al-Qasim b. Firroh al-Shatibi (d. 590/1194), GAL S I, 726.

Or. 12.867
Collection of texts in Arabic, paper, 24 ff., naskh script, dated Monday 17 Rabi` II 1273 (colophon on f. 7a) and Thursday 4 Gumada I 1273 (colophon on f. 18b), without binding. The three quires (ff. 1-8, 9-18, 19-24) are disparate parts of a larger collection, hence the incompleteness of several texts.
(1) ff. 1a-7a. al-Ratib li-Khatm al-`Arifin. A prayer. Dated Monday 17 Rabi` II 1273 (colophon on f. 7a).
(2) ff. 7b-8b. The beginning only of al-Asas. A prayer to be read after the ritual prayers.
(3) ff. 9a-b. The final part only of al-Qasida al-Munbahiga. In all, 7 distichs are given. On f. 9b the title is given as al-Munbahiga. Different from the text in Or. 11.064, above. It may be al-Qasida al-Munbahiga by Mustafa b. Kamal al-Din al-Siddiqi al-Bakri (d. 1162/1749), GAL II, 348, which is an imitation of al-Qasida al-Munfariga by Abu al-Fadl Yusuf b. Muhammad known as Ibn al-Nahwi al-Tawzari (d. 505/1113), GAL G I, 268. However, the end of the present fragment is different from the line quoted by Ahlwardt (No. 7651) in MS Berlin We. 1812 (13).
(4) ff. 9b-10b. al-Shaliyya lil-Hadra al-Muhammadiyya (title on f. 10b). Beginning: Kadha ashku Halati ya Sayyidi ...
(5) ff. 11a-18b. Poem beginning Shara`tu bi-bismillahi Nazm Dhakhirati ... Dated Thursday 4 Gumada I 1273 (colophon on f. 18b).
(6) ff. 19a-b. Takhmis al-Munbahiga. The latter part only (5 Takhmis) of a Takhmis, apparently of al-Qasida al-Munbahiga by Mustafa b. Kamal al-Din al-Siddiqi al-Bakri (d. 1162/1749), GAL II, 348, which is an imitation of al-Qasida al-Munfariga by Abu al-Fadl Yusuf b. Muhammad known as Ibn al-Nahwi al-Tawzari (d. 505/1113), GAL G I, 268.
(7) ff. 19b-21a. al-Wird fil-Sihr (title on f. 19b). A prayer poem, which at the end (f. 21a) is referred to as al-Salat.
(8) ff. 21a-24a. Tawassul. Prayer poem, beginning with Ya Rabbana bi-Muhammadin wa-Bunyatihi wa-bi-Ba`liha ...

(9) f. 24b. Tawassul al-Guyush alladhina qatalu bayn Yaday Rasul Allah. Prayer poem by Ahmad b. Sulayman (title and author on f. 24b).

Or. 12.868
Arabic, paper, 90 ff., naskh script, loose gatherings without binding, apparently a manuscript from Egypt.
al-Anwar al-Azhariyya al-Muhita bi-Khutabihi al-Minbariyya (f. 2a), or shortly Diwan Khutab (f. 1a), collection of sermons made by al-Shaykh Ibrahim b. Badawi al-Nahhas al-Shafi`i al-Azhari (f. 1b, apparently not in GAL, nor in Zirikli), who collected these sermons when he was a Khatib in al-Gami` al-Azhar. After the introduction, the sermons are given, whereby the chronological order in the Islamic lunar calendar is followed, from Muharram onwards. At the end of the collection some sermons follow which are not directly connected with events in the Islamic calendar (ff. 82b-87b). Ff. 88-90 blank. On f. 39a unused space on the page is filled with crosses.
On f. 33a is a marginal note by Ahmad al-Samin al-Rashidi al-Shafi`i al-Azhari, giving his first sermon, dated 1273 AH.

al-Barahin al-Sati`a wal-Adilla al-Qati`a `ala Ishtimal al-Masahif al-`Uthmaniyya `ala al-Ahruf al-Sab`a al-Qur'aniyya (title on p. 1). A note in the MS by P.S. van Koningsveld identifies the text with a work entitled al-Barahin al-Sati`a wal-Mu`giza al-Qati`a by a certain Mutawalli (Mitwalli) Efendi Salim, with reference to Sarkis, Mu`gam, col. 1617. There is no other argument, however, than the similitude between the two titles. The consists of 40 pp., to which are added 6 loose leaves. Between these is a loose insert of one leaf. The text in the MS has all characteristics of a working copy, possibly by the author of the text, and would then be a draft copy and autograph.

This is not a catalogue, nor a handlist. It is just what is says to be on the title-page, an inventory. The present volume contains the inventory, or in more simple words, the list of all acquisitions of Oriental manuscript materials in the Library of Leiden University, which entered the Library between approximately 1973 and 1977.[1] This choice of period is determined by nothing else than the fact that the present volume comprises exactly one thousand items, which are registered as Or. 13.001 till Or. 14.000 in the 'Journaal', the handwritten inventory of the Legatum Warnerianum, which is kept by the curators in the Library. As such it is the fourteenth volume of a projected multi-volume inventory of the collections of Oriental manuscripts in Dutch collections.

A few words of explanation may be added to this. For a long while the 'Journaal' of the Legatum Warnerianum was a tool of retrieval for the Oriental collections, mostly for lack of anything better. It contains, with a varying degree of detail, basic bibliographical information about the new acquisitions. The most important elements of such a registration are the (unchangeable) class-mark (in the Or.-series), the shelf-mark (which only serves the purpose of finding the manuscript in the stacks), the language of the manuscript, and some detail about its content. In addition, the provenance of the material was noted, and often also the price paid. Especially these last mentioned elements were deemed to be confidential, at least for some time. The successive directors of the Leiden library were of the opinion that if such trade information were made available to the public it might jeopardize the negotiating position of the Library, which itself is a player of some importance on the antiquarian market. Making the names of the suppliers to the Library public, so was their opinion, would attract competitive individuals to those same suppliers, and could make it more difficult for the Library to conclude deals.
When I advised the University Librarian Mr. J.R. de Groot in the course of 1977, for precisely these reasons to close the 'Journaal' for the public, it was immediately felt that an alternative tool should be created, as it was feared that an increasing part of the collection would become unavailable for the readers in the Legatum Warnerianum. Several larger cataloguing projects have been undertaken since then. I only need to refer to the catalogues of manuscripts in Hebrew (1977), Batak (1977), Javanese (1980), Arabic (ongoing since 1982), Balinese (1986-1987), Acehnese (1994), Malay (1998, 2007, two volumes published so far), Turkish (2000-2006, three volumes published so far), and a few more projects are on the brink of completion. However, all of these catalogues have features that are different, depending on the nature of the materials described and the bibliographical requirements within a specific field of study. And these catalogues are, necessarily, not following the order of acquisition in the Library at a quick pace. For most of the above catalogues the expertise had to be acquired from outside the Library, either on a voluntary basis from the authors who were retired or otherwise employed, or by organizing a project of cataloguing with financial support from outside the University. Irrespective of the arrangement, the catalogues would always be far behind the actual pace of acquisition. Nor would the catalogues, which are usually organized by language of the manuscripts, cover the whole of the collection. The compilation of a certain type of acquisition lists has been undertaken, for a while, but the results were not very satisfactory. And in the meantime the Oriental collections in the Leiden Library experienced an unprecedented growth, making a solution of this problem only more urgent, but at the same time more difficult to find.

In the course of 1999, I finally decided, after considerable hesitation, to make electronic inventory lists of the Oriental collections in the Leiden Library, and if necessary of those in other Dutch institutions as well. The present list is one of the results of my work and it is hoped to be useful to the Library's readers.

I will shortly explain the way in which this inventory was compiled. As the Oriental manuscript collections in Leiden and the Netherlands contain materials in more than a hundred languages, it is evident that there is no person on earth who is able to compile such an inventory by first-hand knowledge. I do have a long-standing knowledge of Arabic and Persian, and I combine this with some working knowledge of Turkish, Urdu and Malay. That is a lot, but it is not enough by far. So for a considerable number of manuscripts I have had to rely on data made available by others more competent in their own fields than I. Digital scans have been made of some of the older and more recent catalogues, and the information contained therein was often checked against the originals and then cast into the fixed format of this inventory. For the present volume this was almost exclusively done with the fourth, supplemental, volume of Pigeaud's catalogue of Javanese manuscripts (1980).[2] I do not, of course, claim authorship of such information, as I am only the compiler of the present inventory. Claiming anything else would be preposterous, and I cannot but advise the user of the inventory to always consult the sources to which reference is made in the entries. These may be fuller and more detailed than the entry in the present inventory, though not always. When text by others than myself is incorporated in the present inventory, I do not, of course, monopolize authorship of it. Whenever text by others is quoted, I have mentioned source and origin. On the other hand, I should not be too modest. The manufacture of the present list, however, was done by my own personal initiative and is a result of my own personal creativity. And it took most of many stamina for a number of years.
Few manuscripts mentioned in the present volume were viewed by autopsy. The sheer number of manuscripts makes this impossible. At a later stage this may be achieved, but trying to achieve this at the present stage of inventorizing would seriously hamper the progress of the project. When a manuscript was not inspected this can, generally speaking, be seen from a simple typographical device. Whenever the indication of the shelf-mark is put between round brackets, I have not, or not extensively, inspected the manuscript itself, and its entry in the present inventory is based mostly or entirely on secondary sources, be they published or not. When the shelf-mark is put between square brackets and preceded by an asterisk, this means that I have had the manuscript in my hands, at least once but probably more often, and that the description contains elements that can only be seen in the original manuscript. Such autopsy does not mean that I am, automatically, the author of all information given under that particular class-mark. For the manuscripts described in the present volume there was sometimes important information provided by the supplier of the material. These, and the material itself, form the basis of the information contained in the present volume.

[2] Th.G.Th. Pigeaud, Literature of Java. Catalogue raisonné of Javanese manuscripts in the Library of the University of Leiden and other public collections in the Netherlands. Volume 4, Supplement. The Hague 1980. The constant and overwhelming influx of the transcripts, which are the material described in the present volume of this series of electronic inventories, made Pigeaud decide to publish his supplement catalogue, from which I have derived, especially for the present volume, so much information. I remember Dr. Pigeaud's friendship with love and gratitude, and I consider it a priviledge to have known him. As many copies of the printed edition of Pigeaud's Supplement have been lost the present internet publication of his materials makes good for this.

The basic elements for each entry of the present inventory are: 1. class-mark, 2. language(s), 3. details of physical description, 4. survey of the contents, 5. provenance, 6. location on the shelf. Depending on the nature of the material, exceptions and divergences are made from this strict arrangement. The collective provenance of a series of manuscripts may be concentrated into a short text, preceding that series, without being repeated under each class-mark.

The present inventory is not a publication in the old-fashioned sense that it is an unchangeable monolith, just as the earlier catalogues are. Books of this sort need no longer be written in such a way. It is nothing more than a reflection of the state of research of today on the Oriental manuscripts which it contains. As an electronic book the inventory the information is kept up-to-date by updated versions. Since the inventory is published as an electronic book, it retains the powerful search possibilities which no work on paper has. For the moment this must suffice as a searching tool.
On the longer term I see the development of this inventory as follows. When all descriptions and entries are completed, and after a basic editorial activity on it has been performed, a search engine will be designed which will enable the user to quickly find an answer to his or her bibliographical queries, with all the advanced possibilities of an electronic tool. At that stage the by then electronic inventory and the search engine will be made available to the public, possibly in a constantly updated version in Ter Lugt Press' website, and/or by a regular update on CD-Rom, or on whatever medium is available and more suitable by that time. Obvious advantages of linking, imaging and the like, which are now still in development, will not be avoided. In addition, it is probable that such an electronic inventory will stimulate the publication of in-depth catalogues of part of the collections. The mass of bibliographical information which is herewith provided will, I hope, also give a stimulus to cataloguers ofr manuscript collections outside Leiden or the Netherlands.

The materials described in the present volume entered the Leiden Library between 1973 and 1976. A separate series of numbers was reserved for them, from Or. 12.886-Or. 14.000, then from Or. 14.701-Or. 17.00. At the same time, however, the regular acquisitions continued, and the reader of the next, the fifteenth, volume of this inventory will see that there is some overlap in time between these two streams of acquisitions.

I end with an important note. Although the inventories which I am publishing here contain descriptions of public and private collections, which will no doubt profit of the existence of electronic versions of my work, none of my inventories has ever been made at the express insistence or at the specific demand of these institutions. The very idea to compile such inventories, the invention of their format and structure, the acquisition of the necessary information from a multitude of primary and secondary sources, the way of publishing, all this is my idea and my work alone. It is therefore my sole property and I assert the moral right of the authorship of form and content of these inventories, with reference, of course, to what I have said above about the method of compilation.

A word of gratitude and appreciation may be said here to Dr. Hedi Hinzler, who some thirty years ago first made me acquainted with the vast wealth of Balinese manuscripts, which are the subject of the present volume. Her help during many years has given me the confidence to compile this inventory solely devoted to production of the Balinese Typing Project.

(Mal. 8303)

Or. 14.000
Javanese, Balinese, Sanskrit, paper, 32 pp., typewritten, Latin script.
Aji Kutara Agama, Old Javanese law-book beginning with the mythic history of Werti Kandayun, king of Medang, the youngest son of rahyangta Kandyawan, who is identified with Wisnu, the author of the Agama Manu Sasana. The text contains numerous Sanskrit slokas with Old Javanese explanations, mostly referring to various offences and misdemeanours. The fines, danda, are always noted in gold, su and ma. In some cases death is the penalty. Old Javanese apophthegms, legal maxims, are mentioned. In a number of the cases on which decisions are given Balinese titles, such as pasek, are used; therefore Balinese influence on the editing of this agama seems probable. In a recent colophon of 1975, the text is called Kutara Agama Wara Ruceraca, with reference to Wara Ruci, the mythical compilator of the Sara Samuccaya. The ending -raca should be read: uwaca, said. Collection Griya Pidada, Sidemen, Karang Asem. See Pigeaud IV, p. 198.

PREFACE

The arrangement of the present volume of the Inventories of Oriental manuscripts in Leiden University Library does not differ in any specific way from the volumes which have been published earlier. For the sake of brevity I refer to my prefaces in those volumes. A few essentials my be repeated here.

Not all manuscripts mentioned in the present volume were viewed by autopsy, but many were. The sheer number of manuscripts makes this impossible. At a later stage this may be achieved, but trying to achieve this at the present stage of inventorizing would seriously hamper the progress of the present project. When a manuscript was not inspected this can be seen from a simple typographical device. Whenever the indication of the shelf-mark is put between round brackets, I have not, or not extensively or sufficiently, inspected the manuscript, and its entry in the inventory is based mostly or entirely on secondary sources, be they published or not. These have, of course, always been indicated. When the shelf-mark is put between square brackets and preceded by an asterisk, this means that I have had the manuscript in my hands, at least once but probably more often, and that the description contains elements that can only be seen in the original manuscript. Such autopsy does not mean that I am, automatically, the author of all information given under that particular class-mark.

The basic elements for each entry of the present inventory are: 1. class-mark, 2. language(s), 3. details of physical description, 4. survey of the contents, 5. provenance, 6. location on the shelf. Depending on the nature of the material, exceptions and divergences are made from this strict arrangement. The collective provenance of a series of manuscripts may be concentrated into a short text, preceding that series, without being repeated under each class-mark.

I end with an important note. Although the inventories which I am publishing here contain descriptions of public and private collections, which will no doubt profit of the existence of electronic versions of my work, none of my inventories has ever been made at the express insistence or by the specific demand of these institutions. The idea to compile such inventories, the invention of their structure, the acquisition of the necessary information from a multitude of primary and secondary sources, the way of publishing, all this is my idea and my work alone. It is therefore my sole property and I assert the moral right of the authorship of form and content of these inventories, with reference, of course, to what I have said elsewhere about the method of compilation.

First and largest part of the collection of Arabic manuscripts of René Basset (1855-1924). Includes also Basset's scholarly notes. The collection was purchased in the course of 1974 and 1975 from Messrs. E.J. Brill, antiquarian booksellers and Oriental publishers in Leiden. See Brill's catalogue of the collection Diversions, presented to the participants in the 29th International Congress of Orientalists, Paris, July 1973. That catalogue was made with P.S. van Koningsveld, who later published a more scholarly description in BiOr 30 (1973), pp. 370-385 and BiOr 31 (1974). All manuscripts are described in J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts [...], Leiden 1983-. A short introduction to Basset is in Witkam's catalogue, p. 1, from which the here following text is quoted:
'The Collection of Arabic MSS of René Basset was acquired from E. J. Brill's in Leiden in August 1973, and a few additions entered the library in the course of 1974 and 1975. The collection is registered as Or. 14.001-14.055, 14.056-14.067, 14.086-14.088, 14.168 and 14.303. René Basset (1855-1924) lived and worked the greater part of his life, from 1880 till his death, in Algiers, where he held several posts at the Ecole Superieure des Lettres and the Faculté des Lettres. In that period he collected his manuscripts, and one may surmise that most of the manuscripts which bear no indication of date and place originate from Algeria and are contemporaneous with Basset. In two of the manuscripts it is expressly stated that they were commissioned by Basset: Or. 14.016 and Or. 14.019. What strikes the student of Basset's collection as peculiar is that it does not contain any Berber manuscripts, as one would have expected of Basset, who was one of the great specialists of Berber literature of his time. Had Basset been an enthusiastic collector of manuscripts, his collection would have been much more numerous than the mere 72 manuscripts described here. He probably only formed a collection of materials for his personal study of Arabic literature and history of North Africa, e.g. the copy of the Rawd al-Qirtas (Or. 14.006) to which are added here Basset's notes (Or. 14.006 A); in the descriptions of the MSS reference is made to Basset's publications for which he used his own manuscript materials.'

(Ar. 4078)

Or. 14.014
Arabic, paper, 80 pp., maghribi script.
Qissat Asl A`rushina Awlad A`sid, or Qadiyyat Asl A`rushina Awlad A`sid. The history of the Awlad Asid. See also under Or. 14.012, above. Le Châtelier is mentioned here as well.
¶ See for a possibly retaled text: Or. 14.055 A 12 [2-l], below. See also Or. 14.168, below.
See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts [...], Leiden 1983-, p. 21-22, with a reproduction of p. 8.
(Ar. 4079)

Or. 14.015
Arabic, paper, 18 ff., maghribi script.
Nasab `Ali b. Yahya, or Shagara Mubaraka. Genealogy of `Ali b. Yahya, followed by other genealogies and historical notes on the early Idrisids of Morocco and others. The date end Dhu al-Higga 1175 (1762) is probably not the date of copying but the lifetime of the most recent personage in the text.
See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts [...], Leiden 1983-, pp. 22-24, with reproduction of f. 2a.
(Ar. 4080)

Or. 14.016
Arabic, paper, 46 ff., maghribi script by at least three copyists, dated 26 Ragab 1302 (1885, colophon on f. 44a).
Kitab al-`Adwani, collection of genealogies and traditions of the tribes of the Sahara of Constantine and Tunis, by Muhammad b. Muhammad b. `Umar al-Qusantini (lived after 800/1398-1399). Or. 14.017, below, is a similar text.
See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts [...], Leiden 1983-, pp. 24, 26.
(Ar. 4081)

Or. 14.017
Arabic, paper of several kinds, 50 ff., maghribi script by several copyists.
Kitab al-Tawarikh wa-Mufassir al-Awtan. No author is mentioned. The texts appears to be derived from a Kitab al-Gawahir `ala al-Sudaniyya, compiled in 1221/1806-1807 by Shaykh Abu Bakr b. Hammam ... al-K.ntawi. Or. 14.016, above, is a similar text.
See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts [...], Leiden 1983-, pp. 25-26.
(Ar. 4082)

Or. 14.018
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 13 ff., maghribi script, two copyists, the first is `Ali b. Ahgaz al-`Uqbi (f. 12a), the second is dated Wednesday 12 Ramadan 1302 (1885, f. 13a).
(1) ff. 1a-2a. Shagarat ... Abi al-Ghayth, or Shagarat al-Ashraf, apparently compiled on 3 Gumada I 1239 (1824), without indication of author.
(2) ff. 2a-12a. Kitab al-`tibar wa-Tawarikh al-Akhbar wal-Ta`rif bil-Nisba ila al-Nabi al-Mukhtar, treatise on the biography of the Prophet Muhammad and his offspring by `Ali b. Muhammad Ibn Farhun.
(3) ff. 12b-13a. List of the Mashayikh of the mosque of Sidi `Uqba in al-Qayrawan. The list covers the period from 880/1485 till 1282/1865-1866.
See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts [...], Leiden 1983-, p. 27.
(Ar. 4083)

Or. 14.019
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 28 ff., maghribi script, possibly by the same copyist as Or. 14.007, above. The copy was commissioned by René Basset (colophon on f. 26b).
(1) ff. 1b-15a. Kitab Nazm Mubarak wa-Gidd Mutasalik, a text on the Islamic conquests in North Africa by Ahmad b. `Abd al-`Aziz, transmitting it from his father, from his grandfather. Compilation is dated beginning Muharram 1224 / 16 February 1818, the copying is dated 21 February 1885 (colophon on f. 15a).
(2) ff. 15b-18a. Dhikr Khilafat al-Sultan Mawlana Sulayman b. Muhammad b. `Abdallah b. Isma`il al-`Alawi Khulafa' al-Maghrib. History of Moulay Sulayman (reigned 1202-1237/1787-1822, cf. Zambaur, p. 81). No author indicated. Compilation completed on 30 Sha`ban 1298. The copying was completed on 22 February 1885 (colophon on f. 18a). The following text could be meant as a sequel to this text.
(3) ff. 18b-22a. al-Bu`uth allati ba`athaha Mawlana Sulayman fi Khilafatihi. An account of the military expeditions by Moulay Sulayman. No author indicated. The text could be meant as a sequel to the preceding text. Dated 25 February 1302/1885 (colophon on f. 22a).
(4) ff. 22b-26b. History of the city of Ghadhamis, without indication of title or author. The date of the exemplar, 1 Muharram 1181 (1767) is exactly the date of Paris MS Arabe 1892 (1). Dated 26 February 1885 (colophon on f. 26b).

See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts [...], Leiden 1983-, pp. 38-39.
(Ar. 4091)

Or. 14.027
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 195 ff., maghribi script, several hands, dated 13 Gumada I 1293/1876, copied by Malik b. al-Husayn b. `Abdallah (colophon on f. 148b), and dated between 28 October 1876 and 23 January 1877, copied by `Abdallah b. al-Hasan al-Sharif al-Idrisi al-M.ntaki al-Rudani (or al-Radani; colophons on ff. 157a, 159a, 175a, 181b), simple illumination (ff. 155a, 194b).
(1) ff. 2a-135b. Qisas al-Anbiya', commonly ascribed to al-Kisa'i (5/11th cent.), GAL G I, 350. This version more extensive than that in the edition J. Eisenberg, Vita prophetarum. Ex codicibus, qui in Monaco, Bonna, Lugd. Batav., Lipsia et Gothana asservantur, auctore Muhammed Ben Abdallah al-Kisa'i. Leiden 1922-1923 [887 E 48].
(2) ff. 135b-140b. Incomplete copy (end lacking) of Kitab Shagarat al-Yaqin, an anonymous work containing legends on the creation of the world, death, the end of the world, sufi ethics.
(3) ff. 141a-148b. Kitab al-Zabur li-Dawud. Apocryphal Islamicized version of the Psalms of David. Different from the version in Or. 6129, above. Dr. Serguei Frantsouzoff is planning an edition of this text (2001).
¶ See Joseph Sadan (University of Tel Aviv), 'Some literary problems concerning Judaism and Jewry in Medieval Arabic sources'. The second section of this article is entitled 'The genuine Pentateuch of Moses as rediscovered and reshaped by Islamic literature', in M. Sharon (ed.), Studies in Islamic History and Cililization in Honour of Prof. David Ayalon, Leiden 1986, pp. 353-398. On the basis of MSS Paris BNF, Arabe 3583, ff. 28b-41a, and Istanbul, Reisülküttab 927, ff. 105a-111a, Sadan convincingly argues that the text in Or. 14.027 (3) is in fact a version of this Islamicized Thawrat. Sadan suggests that Ibn al-Gawzi (d. 597/1200), GAL G I, 501, or one of his followers or successors, is the author of this text.
(4) ff. 149a-155a. Kitab Abi Hazim. An anonymous catechism.
(5) ff. 155a-157a. Arba`un Hadithan. Unidentified.
(6) ff. f. 157b. Unidentified poetical fragment, tawil, 11 lines.
(7) ff. 158a-b. Tawsil. Anonymous poem, wafir, 32 lines.
(8) f. 159a. Qasida, poem in praise of the Prophet Muhammad by Ibn Wafa', kamil, 14 lines.
(9) f. 159b. Notes on magical and religious subjects. No indication of author.
(10) f. 160a. A poetical fragment, with disregard of classical prosody.
(11) ff. 160b-171a. Mawrid al-Zam'an fi Rasm al-Qur'an. An urguza on the rules of orthography of the Qur'an by Abu `Abdallah Sidi Muhammad b. Muhammad b. Ibrahim al-Umawi al-Sharisi, known as al-Kharraz, who compiled this work in 711/1311 (f. 171a, lines 14-16), GAL G I, 248 (where al-Kharrazi).

(12) ff. 171b-175a. `Umdat al-Bayan. An urguza on the rules of vocalization of the Qur'an by Abu `Abdallah Sidi Muhammad b. Muhammad b. Ibrahim al-Umawi al-Sharisi, known as al-Kharraz (c. 711/1311), GAL G I, 248 (where al-Kharrazi).
(13) f. 175b. A list of words occurring in the Qur'an with an unusual spelling. Several hapax legomena.
(14) ff. 176a-181b. Taqyid Qur`at Ga`far, acribed to Ga`far al-Sadiq (d. 148/763). Divided into 65 chapters which each contain an aya of the Qur'an and some practical advice.
(15) f. 182a. Notes on the theme Shahadat al-Wahid.
(16) ff. 182b-193b. al-Mutli` `ala Masa'il al-Muqni`, the shorter commentary by Muhammad b. Sa`id b. Muhammad b. Muhammad b. Ahmad al-Susi al-Marghithi (d. 1089/1678), GAL G II, 463, on his own Urguza on calendar computation. Matn written in red ink.
(17) ff. 194a-b. A poem, tawil, 28 lines, on the spelling of the name of the Prophet Muhammad.
(18) f. 195b. A poem, tawil, 16 lines, on agriculture.

Or. 14.068
Javanese, with some Arabic, paper (photocopies), 53 + 71 pp., Arabic script, Xerox copies in a portfolio.
Sajarah Ratu Tanah Jawa, in prose, allegedly written by pangeran Dipa Negara, in exile in Makasar, and preserved by his descendents, juru kunci of the Makam Diponegoro. The original manuscript is in two volumes of 177 and 247 pp. The Xerox copies contain four pages of the manuscript on a side. The Arabic script is unvocalized and not easy to read. The two last pages of the second volume contain some miscellaneous Arabic notes, partly referring to the situation of graves. The Xerox copies were made in Makasar in 1972 by order of Mr P. Carey of Oxford. Or. 14.069, below, contains a transliteration of the Arabic script. See P.B.R. Carey, Pangeran Dipanagara and the making of the Java War (Oxford 1975). See Pigeaud IV, p. 199.

Or. 14.069
Javanese, paper, 53 +44 pp., romanized, typewritten, black linen binding, Dipa Nagara texts from Makasar, transliteration of Or. 14.068, above, made by Sastra Suganda in Yogyakarta, 1973, by request of Mr P. Carey of Oxford. The first volume deals with the legendary rulers of Java before the Majapahit era, the second deals mainly with Dipa Nagara's own history. It is not identical with the Babad Dipa Nagara, Menado version, Or. 6547 and KITLV 474. Mr Carey added some notes on the circumstances under which the text probably was written in 1837. See Pigeaud IV, p. 199.

Or. 14.070
Javanese, Malay, paper (including photocopies), 13 (Javanese) + 26 (Malay) pp., romanized, in portfolio.
Prang Dipanagaran, by ki Sangu Branta, modern Javanese prose, short aperçu, 13 pp., of the war, containing information on some personalities belonging to the Yogyakarta Court who played a role in the course of history. A Malay translation by raden tumenggung Puspa Ninrat, made in 1972, is added. See Pigeaud IV, p. 199. See Iskandar, Catalogue (1999), p. 673 (No. 1398).

Or. 14.071
Javanese, paper, 26 ff. and 2 x 36 pp., Javanese script and and romanized transliteration. Photographic copies of a palmleaf manuscript with transliteration, in a cardboard cover.
Kotara Gama, Javanese lawbook, prose, beginning with the basmalah and an eulogy of king Surya Alam. The original text is a palmleaf manuscript of 80 leaves found by professor Koesnoe in Lombok, about 1970, and photographed. The Library possesses a microfilm (registered as A 132), which has been reproduced at approximately the same size as the original. Mr J. Soegiarto made a complete romanized transliteration of the reproduction (36 pp.) in 1973. Two copies of this transliteration and a short Dutch aperçu of the contents of the text by Dr Th.G.Th. Pigeaud are added. The text contains some legal maxims or apophthegms, called saloka, which were in use as names, at the same time characterizations, of cases of law, such as theft under various circumstances, etc. Some cases which are dealt with in the text are mentioned in notes written on the left margin of the palmleaves, which is exceptional. The idiom of this Kotara Gama codex is East Javanese (depun- instead of dipun-). The title Kotara Gama appears only on the first page, before the basmalah. The Islamic versions of the Old Javanese lawbooks like Kutara Manawa were originally made in the era of the Pasisir culture, probably at the Court of the kings of Demak, in the 16th century. Islam was established in Lombok by Muslim traders sailing from East Javanese ports, probably Gresik, in the 17th century. See Pigeaud IV, pp. 199-200.

Or. 14.086 - Or. 14.088
Continuation of the collection René Basset (1855-1924). The entire Basset collection consists of Or. 14.001 - Or. 14.067, above, Or. 14.086 – Or. 14.088, Or. 14.168, Or. 14.176 and Or. 14.303, below. The present batch was acquired from Messrs. E.J. Brill in Leiden in February 1974.

Or. 14.086
Arabic, paper, 91 ff., maghribi script, dated 1144/1731-1732, copied by al-Hasan b. Muhammad al-Hasan al-Garari (colophon on f. 91b).
Incomplete copy (lacunae between ff. 4-5, 24-25, 25-26, 53-54) of Mukhtasar al-Durr al-Thamin wal-Murid al-Mu`in fi Sharh al-Murshid al-Mu`in `ala al-Daruri min `Ulum al-Din, a shortened version by Muhammad b. Hamad (or Ahmad?) b. Muhammad al-Fasi, known as Mayyara (d. 1072/1662), GAL G II, 461, of his own commentary al-Durr al-Thamin wal-Murid al-Mu`in, on al-Murshid al-Mu`in `ala al-Daruri min `Ulum al-Din, an Urguza on the fundamental duties of Islam and the principles of tasawwuf, by Abu Muhammad `Abd al-Wahid Ibn `Ashir al-Andalusi al-Fasi (d. 1040/1631), GAL G II, 461. The extensive version of the commentary was never completed by its author. The shortened version, the Mukhtasar, is the only version of the commentary which is extant.
Preceding the text is an `Aqida, written in a different hand, incomplete at the beginning (ff. 1a-2b).

Arabic, paper, 170 ff., maghribi script, autograph (?), dated 15 Rabi` II 1037/1627, copied by `Ali b. Yahya b. Muhammad in Luhayya, in Yemen (colophon on f. 169a).
Nubdha Mukhtasara min al-Shi`r al-Waqi` fi Sirat Ibn Hisham, collection by (?) `Ali b. Yahya b. Muhammad (fl. 1037/1627) of the poetical fragments occurring in the first volume and part of the second volume of the Sirat al-Nabi by `Abd al-Malik Ibn Hisham (d. c. 218/834), GAS I, 297, with remarks on the genealogical passages in Ibn Hisham's work. Alternative titles: Kararis Mukhtasara min Sirat Ibn Hisham and Mukhtasar min Sirat ... Ibn Hisham. The remarkable feature of this MS is, of course, that it comes from the Yemen, but it is written in maghribi script. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 146-148, with illustration of f. 80a on p. 147.

Arabic, paper, 206 + 1 ff., maghribi script, dated Ramadan 1255/1839, copied by Muhammad b. Muhammad b. al-Gilani al-Sharif al-Misbah (colophon on f. 206a).
Qur'an. Several lacunae (before f. 1, between ff. 97-98, 127-128). Numerous marginal and interlinear notes on the readings of the Qur'an (Ahruf).
Added: Separate leaf (f. 207), with a letter in Arabic.
Also added: A letter in French, from L. Germain to René Basset, dated Algiers 13 April 1910, on the origin of the manuscript, which apparently originates from Tigganiyya circles in `Ayn Madi, Algeria. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 148-149.

Or. 14.090 - Or. 14.163
Collection of mostly Arabic manuscripts, purchased in February 1974 from Qasim al-Samarra'i, an Iraqi scholar living in Leiden since 1970. In the 'Journaal', p. 730, the collection is registered as 'Collection Pels Rijcken', after Mrs. J.H. Pels Rijcken, Leiden, who acted as an intermediary. Earlier purchase by the Library from the same source is Or. 12.858 – Or. 12.881, above. Later similar purchases are Or. 14.250, 14.309-Or. 14.312, Or. 14.326, Or. 14.405-Or. 14.428.

Or. 14.090
Arabic, paper, 236 pp., naskh script, European cloth binding.
Kitab fi `Ilm al-Ruhani*. A collection of shorter texts of magical content, consisting of prayers, instructions, numerous magical squares, diagrams, etc. One prayer is explicitly ascribed to an author (pp. 1, 2): *Da`wat al-Sabasib al-Kubra, by Sidi Abu al-Hasan al-Shadhili (d. 656/1258), GAL G I, 449. All texts are of the genre Mugarrabat. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 150-151.

Or. 14.092
Arabic, Persian, Turkish, paper, 188 ff., nasta`liq script, full-leather Islamic binding, blind tooled ornamentations (medallions).
Kitab Bahgat al-Lughat, shorter version of the dictionary from Turkish to Arabic and Persian, compiled by Muhammad As`ad Efendi (d. 1166/1752), GAL G II, 424. The author dedicated his work to the Ottoman Sultan Mahmud I (reigned 1143-1168/1730-1754). The text is much shorter than the Istanbul edition of 1216/1801 (which has the title Lahgat al-Lughat), and all explanatory remarks have been omitted, so that the present MS rather reads as an index of Turkish lemmata with their Arabic and Persian equivalents.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue, vol. 3 (2006), pp. 376-377.
Earlier provenance (?): `Abdallah Fikri b. Muhammad Baligh Efendi, the Egyptian statesman and man of letters, who lived 1834-1890. His circular seal print is seen on the title-page. Also some Turkish poetry on the title-page.
See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), p. 152.

Or. 14.098
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 37 ff., naskh script, dated Rabi` II 1205/1790, copied by Muhammad Sulayman (colophons on ff. 15a, 19a, 31b), half-leather Islamic binding with flap. The exemplar of the present volume was a volume dated 798/1396 (ff. 15b-16a), or at least an old MS with connections by Igaza and Riwaya to the authors (f. 18a).
(1) ff. 2a-15a. `Aqilat Atrab al-Qasa'id fi Asna al-Maqasid li-`Ilm Rasm al-Masahif, versification (basit, rhyming in –ra) by Abu al-Qasim b. Firroh al-Ru`ayni al-Shatibi (d. 590/1194), GAL G I, 409, of al-Muqni` fi Ma`rifat Rasm Masahif al-Amsar, the treatise on the constitution of the Qur'anic orthography by `Uthman b. Sa`id al-Dani (d. 444/1053), GAL G I, 470.
(2) ff. 15b-16a. Text of two Sama` notes, apparently copied by the copyist of this Magmu`a. The first one is connected with Hirz al-Amani, the Shatibiyya, by Abu al-Qasim b. Firroh al-Ru`ayni al-Shatibi (d. 590/1194), GAL G I, 409. The other note has a Riwaya via Shams al-Din al-Dhahabi (d. 748/1348), GAL G II, 46, and is dated Cairo, 2 Rabi` II 798/1396.
(3) f. 16b. Fa'ida fil-Waqf `ala Kalla. Fragment of nine lines (tawil metre, rhyming in -ra) on the pausal form of the word Kalla, which occurs 33 times in the Qur'an.
(4) ff. 17a-b. Introduction by Burhan al-Din Abu Muhammad Ibrahim b. `Umar b. Ibrahim al-Ga`bari (d. 732/1332), GAL G II, 109, to his own Kitab Nahg al-Damatha fi Qira'at al-A'imma al-Thalatha. See also No. 6, below.
(5) ff. 18a-b. Tables (Gadawil) with reference symbols (abbreviations) used by Burhan al-Din Abu Muhammad Ibrahim b. `Umar b. Ibrahim al-Ga`bari (d. 732/1332), GAL G II, 109, in his Kitab Nahg al-Damatha fi Qira'at al-A'imma al-Thalatha.
(6) ff. 19a-31b. Kitab Nahg al-Damatha fi Qira'at al-A'imma al-Thalatha, poem (in tawil, rhyming in –la) by Burhan al-Din Abu Muhammad Ibrahim b. `Umar b. Ibrahim al-Ga`bari (d. 732/1332, Shaykh Haram al-Khalil in Hebron), GAL G II, 109, on the three additional readings of the Qur'an, supplementing the Hirz al-Amani by Abu al-Qasim b. Firroh al-Ru`ayni al-Shatibi (d. 590/1194), GAL G I, 409.
(7) ff. 32a-34b. Hadiqat al-Zahar fi `Adad Ay al-Suwar. Poem in 59 lines (tawil, rhyming in dal), on the number of Ayat in each Sura of the Qur'an, by Burhan al-Din Abu Muhammad Ibrahim b. `Umar b. Ibrahim al-Ga`bari (d. 732/1332), GAL G II, 109.
(8) ff. 35a-36a. al-Wadiha fi Tagwid al-Fatiha. Poem in 22 lines (tawil, rhyming in dal) on the recitation of the first Sura of the Qur'an, by Burhan al-Din Abu Muhammad Ibrahim b. `Umar b. Ibrahim al-Ga`bari (d. 732/1332), GAL G II, 109.
(9) ff. 36b-37a. Note on the fact that the Qur'an may be divided into two halves in four different ways, ascribed to Abu Muhammad (unidentified). These ways are: 1. According the number of letters. 2. According to the number of Ayat. 3. According to the number of words. 4. According to the number of Sura's. A fifth way is also mention, according to the number of Hizb. Mention is made of Ibn Mugahid (d. 324/936), GAS I, 14.

A continuous fragment only of `Umdat al-Kuttab wa-`Uddat Dhawi al-Albab, the work on bookmaking and the preparation of ink by al-Mu`izz b. Badis (d. 453/1061), GAL G I, 268. Considerable textual differences from the text as translated by M. Levey, Mediaeval Arabic bookmaking and its relation in early chemistry and pharmacology, in Trans. Amer. Philos. Soc., N.S. 52/4, Philadelphia 1962. The present fragment contains the end of chapter 1, the whole of chapter 2 and the beginning of chapter 3. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), p. 220.
(Ar. 4174)

Or. 14.124
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 19 ff., naskh script.
(1) ff. 1a-15b. Fadl al-Galad `inda Faqd al-Walad, treatise on the bereavement of children by `Abd al-Rahman Galal al-Din al-Suyuti (d. 911/1505), GAL G II, 143; S II, 185, No. 68.

Or. 14.125
Arabic, paper, 57 ff., maghribi script.
A lacunous fragment only of al-Nafahat al-`Anbariyya fi Na`l Khayr al-Bariyya, the treatise on the sandal of the Prophet Muhammad, with an anthology of poetry on this theme, compiled by Abu al-`Abbas Ahmad b. Muhammad al-Maqqari (d. 1041/1631), GAL G II, 296. The main contributors to the anthology are Fath Allah al-Bayluni (d. 1042/1632), GAL G II, 274, and Muhammad b. Farag al-Sabti. There are also pieces by al-Maqqari himself. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 221-224, with illustration of f. 19a on p. 223.

(Ar. 4176)

Or. 14.126
Arabic, paper, 10 ff., naskh script, copied by Muhammad b. `Alamat al-Din al-Hanafi (f. 10a), one quire of five sheets.
Luma` Yasira fi `Ilm al-Hisab, introduction to arithmetic for its use in the calculation of the portions of inheritance, by Ahmad b. Muhammad Ibn al-Ha'im (d. 815/1412), GAL G II, 125. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 224-225.
(Ar. 4177)

Or. 14.127
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 2 pp., pp. 1-80, pp. 141-161 (copyist's numbering), naskh script, with ruq`a tendencies, autograph copy, dated 4 Muharram 1315/1897, copied by the author (pp. 63, 156), binding lacking.
(1) pp. 1-63. al-Tuhfa al-Saniyya fi Ahkam al-Shi`ra al-Yamaniyya. Handbook on the influence of stars on what happens on earth, inspired by Kitab Ahkam al-Shi`ra al-Yamaniyya by Hirmis al-Haramisa. See Manfred Ullmann, Die Natur- und Geheimwissenschaften im Islam. Leiden 1972, p. 291. Compiled by Mustafa Rushdi b. Isma`il al-Dimashqi, who lived in 1315/1897.
(2) pp. 64-80. Fawa'id. Notes on questions concerning calendar computation, astrology and related subjects, apparently equally compiled by Mustafa Rushdi b. Isma`il al-Dimashqi, who lived in 1315/1897.
(3) pp. 141-156. `Iqd al-Guman fi Firasat al-nsan. Treatise on physiognomy, by Mustafa Rushdi b. Isma`il al-Dimashqi, who lived in 1315/1897. At the end is included (pp. 149-156): Urguza fil-Firasa, the poem on physiognomy by Mahmud Efendi Ibn Hamza al-Dimashqi (d. 1305/1887), GAL S II, 175. This Urguza was completed in Damascus in 1296/1878-1879 (p. 156, lines 9-10).
(4) pp. 157-160. Takhmis Qasidat al-Ghawth Abi Midyan. Takhmis, probably by Mustafa Rushdi b. Isma`il al-Dimashqi, who lived in 1315/1897, on the Qasida by al-Ghawth Abu Midyan (d. 589/1193), GAL G I, 438.
(5) pp. 160-161. Fa'ida fi Ta`bir al-Ru'ya. Note on the interpretation of dreams, possibly also by Mustafa Rushdi b. Isma`il al-Dimashqi, who lived in 1315/1897.

Kitab al-stitan fima yu`tasamu bihi min al-Shaytan. Collection of traditions concerning sayings and invocations which must give protection against the Shaytan, compiled by `Abd al-Rahman b. Ahmad b. `Abd al-Rahman b. `Ali Ibn al-Misk al-Sakhawi (lived probably in the beginning of the 11th/17th century). See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 228-230, with an illustration of f. 1a on p. 229.

(Ar. 4179)

Or. 14.129
Arabic, paper, 24 ff., nasta`liq script, kept in a paper cover.
Sharh al-`Awamil al-Gadida*. Commentary by al-Shaykh Ahmad al-Qushadasi (lived probably in the 11th/17th cent.) on *al-`Awamil al-Gadida, the treatise on grammatical regents by Muhammad b. Pir `Ali al-Birkawi (d. 981/1573), GAL G II, 440; 441, No. 41c. The matn is distinguished by red overlining. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 230, 232.
(Ar. 4180)

Or. 14.130
Arabic, paper, 8 ff., naskh script, 8 loose leaves, dated 1 Sha`ban 1106/1695, copied by Hasan al-Hinti (?) from the author's copy and collated with it (f. 8a).
al-Risala al-Saniyya fi Dhikr al-Salat `ala Khayr al-Bariyya. Collection of prayers for the Prophet Muhammad by Abu al-Safa `Ali al-Shanwani (lived in 1106/1695), GAL G II, 308, mentions that the author was alive in 1142/1729. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 232-233.
(Ar. 4181)

Or. 14.131
Arabic, paper, 32 pp., naskh script, two loose quires which were never bound.
Kitab Mukhtasar Sharh al-Waraqat. Commentary by Galal al-Din Abu `Abdallah Muhammad b. Ahmad al-Mahalli al-Misri al-Shafi`I (d. 864/1459), GAL G II, 114, on the treatise on Usul al-Fiqh, entitled Kitab al-Waraqat, compiled by `Abd al-Malik b. `Abdalloah al-Guwayni Imam al-Haramayn (d. 478/1085), GAL G I, 389. The matn is written in red ink, the sharh in black. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), p. 233.
(Ar. 4182)

Or. 14.132
Arabic, paper, 80 ff., naskh script, diagrams with dots and lines.
Fragment of what is possibly Kitab al-Qanun fil-Dunya, the work on `Ilm al-Raml, compiled by Ahmad b. `Ali Ibn Zunbul al-Rammal (lived in 960/1553), GAL G II, 298, see also Zirikli, A`lam, I, p. 174. It may also be a fragment from another work by this author (see the note on f. 3a). See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 233-235, with an illustration of f. 17b on p. 234.
(Ar. 4183)

Or. 14.133
Arabic, paper, 30 ff., naskh script, one quire of fifteen sheets, unbound.

Acephalous fragment of a book on the correct pronunciation of the Qur'an, without title or indication of author. On f. 30b the Shatibiyya is mentioned, hence it must have been compiled after al-Shatibi (d. 590/1194), GAL G I, 409. The fragment contains part of a treatment of difficult words in the Qur'an, arranged according to Sura.
See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), p. 235.
(Ar. 4184)

Or. 14.134
Arabic, paper, 160 ff., naskh script.
Fragment, without beginning or end, of a book on the pronunciation of the text of the Qur'an. The work is arranged by Sura. The fragment covers the Qur'an from the beginning of Sura 2 to the end of the text, and in addition contains part of the epilogue. One may therefore assume that not much of the text is missing. The book was apparently compiled in the 12th/18th century, as can be surmised from the authorities quoted. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 235-237, with an illustration of f. 31a on p. 236.
(Ar. 4185)

Or. 14.135
Arabic, paper (fragile), 14 ff., naskh script, unbound, some loose leaves.
Gawharat al-Tawhid. Urguza on Tawhid by Ibrahim b. Ibrahim al-Laqani (d. 1041/1631), GAL G II, 316. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), p. 237. Title on f. a: Hadha Matn al-Gawhara.
[* Ar. 4186]

Or. 14.136
Arabic, paper, 12 ff., naskh script, unbound.
Hizb, by `Abd al-Wahhab al-Sha`rani (d. 973/1565), GAL G II, 336. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 237-238.
(Ar. 4187)

Or. 14.137
Arabic, paper, 104 pp., naskh script, loose quires without binding.
Incomplete copy (beginning and end missing, lacunae between pp. 76-77, 96-97) of Gam` al-Nihaya fi Bad' al-Khayr wal-Ghaya, compendium by `Abdallah b. Sa`id b. Ahmad Ibn Abi Gamra al-Azdi al-Andalusi (d. c. 699/1300), GAL G I, 372, of al-Gami` al-Sahih by Abu `Abdallah Muhammad b. Isma`il al-Bukhari (d. 256/870), GAL G I, 158. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), p. 238.
(Ar. 4188)

Or. 14.138
Arabic, paper, 40 ff., naskh script, four quires, unbound.
Four separate quires from Tashhir al-Tadhhib li-Kitab al-Tadhhib, gloss by Muhammad b. `Ali b. Sa`id al-Tunisi (d. 1199/1785), GAL N I, 524, on al-Tadhhib fi Sharh al-Tahdhib, the commentary by `Ubayd Allah b. Fadl Allah al-Khabisi (lived c. 1050/1640), GAL G II, 215, on al-Tahdhib fil-Mantiq wal-Kalam, the compendium of logic by Mas`ud b. `Umar al-Taftazani (died c. 791/1389), GAL G II, 215. The quires are numbered a-d. Quire a contains the beginning of the gloss, the other three quires are assumed to come from the same text. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 238-239.

(Ar. 4189)

Or. 14.139
Arabic, paper, 20 ff., naskh script, two loose quires, unbound.
Incomplete copy (end missing) of Kitab Hall al-Tilsam wa-Kashf al-Sirr al-A`zam. Short treatise on alchemy by Abu al-`Abbas Ahmad b. Muhammad al-Ghamri al-Wasiti (d. 905/1499), GAL S II, 173, see also Manfred Ullmann, Die Natur- und Geheimwissenschaften im Islam. Leiden 1972, p. 245. Although the text is clearly incomplete, the volume contains much more text than Leiden Or. 2843, above, the end of which corresponds to f. 10b in the present MS, whereas considerable textual variants between the two Leiden MSS can be observed as well. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 239-240.
(Ar. 4190)

Or. 14.140
Arabic, paper, 10 ff., naskh script, unbound.
Incomplete copy (end missing) of al-Hikam al-`Ata'iyya, the mystical sayings by Tag al-Din Ahmad b. Muhammad b. `Abd al-Karim Ibn `Ata' Allah al-Iskandari (d. 709/1309), GAL G II, 117. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), p. 240.

Treatise on the design of a slaughterhouse for animals intended for human consumption with the objective of avoiding the spread of contagious diseases, by Muhammad b. `Ali al-Shubramallisi (lived 1032/1622, when he wrote this copy of his treatise), GAL G II, 365-366 (where 1021/1612 is mentioned). See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 240-242, with illustration of f. 4a on p. 241.
(Ar. 4192)

Or. 14.142
Arabic, paper, 40 ff., naskh script (two hands), second hand dated 5 Safar 1260/1844 and by copyist `Abd al-Qadir Habbal (f. 38a), once bound but presently the binding has disappeared.
Ghunyat al-Talibin wa-Munyat al-Raghibin. Treatise on the correct pronunciation of the Qur'an by Muhammad b. Qasim al-Baqari al-Shafi`i (d. c. 1111/1699), GAL G II, 327. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 242-243.

(Ar. 4193)

Or. 14.143
Arabic, paper, 16 ff., naskh script, dated 26 Ragab 1266/1850 (f. 16b), two quires sewn together, without binding.
Acephalous copy of Risala fil-Suhba, a treatise on companionship and mystical love by Mustafa b. Kamal al-Din al-Bakri al-Siddiqi al-Khalwati al-Hanafi (d. 1162/1749), GAL G II, 348-349. Copyist verse on f. 16b. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 243-244.
(Ar. 4194)

Or. 14.144
Arabic, paper (worm holes), 13 ff., naskh script, recent, sewn, but without binding.
Incomplete copy (end missing) of Hidayat al-Murtab wa-Ghayat al-Huffaz wal-Tullab, Urguza on words which resemble one another (ishtibah al-kalim) in the Qur'an, by `Alam al-Din `Ali b. Muhammad al-Sakhawi (d. 643/1245), GAL G I, 410. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), p. 244.

Ghayat al-Fakhr bi-Sharh Hizb al-Bahr. Commentary by Sharaf al-Din al-Munawi (possibly identical with the author mentioned in GAL G II, 77, who died in 871/1466, but see also GAL S I, 805), on Hizb al-Bahr, the prayer by Abu al-Hasan `Ali b. `Abdallah b. `Abd al-Gabbar al-Shadhili (d. 656/1258), GAL G I, 449. The matn is written in red ink, the sharh in black. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 244-245.
(Ar. 4196)

Or. 14.146
Arabic, paper, 20 ff., naskh script, loose, without binding.
Safinat al-Rashad fi Naf` al-`Ibad. Anonymous notes on the variant readings of the text of the Qur'an (the Ahruf), with quotations from several of the classical Urguza's on the subject. The text was possibly not completed. Features of colloquial Arabic. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 245-247, with an illustration of f. 8a on p. 246.
(Ar. 4197)

Or. 14.147
Arabic, paper, 49 ff., naskh script, remnants of a back, but otherwise without binding.
Fragment of an unidentified commentary on `Aqilat Atrab al-Qasa'id fi Asna al-Maqasid, by al-Qasim b. Firroh al-Shatibi (d. 590/1194), GAL G I, 409. The matn is written in red, the sharh in black. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), p. 247.
(Ar. 4198)

Or. 14.148
Arabic, paper, 18 ff., naskh script, dated 9 Safar 1065/1654, copied by `Abd al-Fattah (colophon on f. 18b), loose quires without binding.

Or. 14.151 b
Arabic, paper, 8 ff., naskh script, loose, without binding.
Qasida. Unidentified and anonymous qasida, rhyming in mim, containing 58 lines, of theological content, ending in a prayer for intercession (Shafa`a) with God on behalf of the prophets, the Prophet Muhammad, and, finally, Abu Midyan (f. 7a). The latter is apparently al-Ghawth Abu Midyan Shu`ayb b. al-Hasan al-Tilimsani (d. 589/1193), GAL G I, 438. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), p. 252.

Fatwa Ibn al-`Imadi fil-Duruz. Fatwa on the status of the Druse and Tayamina, by `Abd al-Rahman b. Muhammad Ibn al-`Imadi (d. 1051/1641), GAL G II, 291; S II, 402. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 252-254, with illustration of f. 1a on p. 253.
(Ar. 4203)

Or. 14.153
Arabic, paper, 14 ff., naskh script, loose and unbound.
A collection of poetical quotations and fragments, mainly taken from the Diwan of `Abdallah b. Muhammad b. Amir b. Sharaf al-Din al-Qahiri al-Shubrawi (d. 1172/1758), GAL G II, 281, apparently made by someone for his personal use. Other authors mentioned are Ahmad b.`Abd al-Rahim al-Shafi`I (unidentified, but possibly the one mentioned in GAL G II, 67, who died in 826/1423), and Ibn al-Gawzi (d. 597/1200), GAL G I, 500. From f. 3b onwards, the pieces of poetry are almost exclusively taken from al-Shubrawi's Diwan and can be found in one of its printed editions. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), p. 254.
(Ar. 4204)

Or. 14.154
Arabic, paper, 6 ff., naskh script with features of ruq`a, loose and unbound.
Da'irat al-Mu`addil. Treatise on the astronomical instrument of this name, by its inventor `Izz al-Din `Abd al-`Aziz b. Muhammad al-Wafa'i (d. 874/1469), GAL G II, 129. See also H. Suter, Die Mathematiker (Leipzig 1900), No. 437. Identified with MS Leiden Or. 1001 (6). The treatise is followed by tables (Gadawil) with the longitude and latitude of localities in Syria, Egypt, the Arabian peninsula and `Iraq. The introduction, which differs considerably from from the text in Leiden Or. 1001 (6), f. 38a, mentions that the treatise was written at the instigation of Sari al-Din `Abd al-Barr Ibn al-Shihna al-Halabi. If he is the jurist going by that name who is mentioned in GAL G II, 83, who died in 921/1515, this may be an anachronism. The tables, which in Or. 1001 (6a), ff. 42b-43a, are ascribed to Ibn al-Shatir (d. 777/1375), GAL G II, 126, are here anonymous, different and shorter, and most notably lacking mention of North African localities. The present MS seems to lack most of the epilogue, as compared with Or. 1001 (6). See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 255-257, with illustration of f. 1b on p. 256.

Batak pustaha, treebark, 19 ff., ca.17½ x 16 cm, two polished wooden covers, one with holes for a carrying cord (now lacking).
(1) a 2-9, b 3-17. Poda ni pagar sibalik hontas. The text is almost parallel to that in Amsterdam KIT 1491/1. The first four teachers in the chain of transmission are the same. After these the Amsterdam manuscript another three teachers, whereas the present manuscripts has two others. It has been written for Guru Debata ni adji in Pagarbatu by his nephew or his son-n-law, Datu Porda ni adji. The text which corresponds to the text in the Amsterdam manuscript a 2-48 and b 3-17, here fills pages a 2-19 and b 2-14.
(2) Then follows on b 15 Poda ni pangulubalang begu na tolu sialap tubijak, ending on b 16 line 6. The rest of b 16 and b 17-19 are blank, but have been ruled. Probably the pangulubalang-text has not been completed. In the pagar-text are a few drawings, all executed in black.

Or. 14.194 - Or. 14.196
Collectanea H.T. Damsté (1874-1955), found in November 1974 in the Legatum Warnerianum, and registered then. The main collection of manuscripts of Henri Titus Damsté (1874-1955) is registered as Or. 8666 - Or. 8755, above. Several of Damsté's offprints have been separately registered in the offprint collection of the Legatum Warnerianum. The materials kept under the following three numbers were apparently not included there since they all have additional notes and other personalized features, which justify their incorporation in the manuscript collection.

Or. 14.194

Arabic, paper, 37 + 2 ff., naskh script, loose quires in a half-leather Oriental binding with flap and pasted boards, plus a loose sheet, added.
(1) 37 ff. Kitab al-Durr al-Manzum wal-Manthur. Collection of prophetical traditions, arranged in ten chapters. An owner has ascribed the treatise to Galal al-Din al-Suyuti (d. 911/1505), GAL G II, 144, but the present text is not the same as al-Hikam al-Mushtahira min `Adad al-Hadith min al-Wahid ila al-`Ashara (MS Berlin Lbg. 543, Ahlwardt 1405). Another owner has written on the title-page that this is a work by his father, al-Shaykh Muhammad Qinawi (probably 19th cent.).
(2) 2 ff. Risala fil-Tasawwuf. Short text on Sufism in general, ascribed to Galal al-Din al-Suyuti (d. 911/1505), GAL G II, 144, but here too, another owner has ascribed the treatise to his father, al-Shaykh Muhammad Qinawi (probably 19th cent.).

Arabic, paper, 2 vols., 225 + 235 ff., naskh script, dated Thursday 30 Dhu al-Qa`da 1275/1859 (vol. 2, f. 235a), copied by Muhammad Mutarrif (?) b. `Ali Hasanun al-Sharqawi (vol. 1, f. 224b) and (?) by Muhammad Matar b. `Ali Amin (vol. 2, f. 235a).
Tafsir al-Galalayn. Commentary on the Qur'an begun by Muhammad b. Ahmad Galal al-Din al-Mahalli (d. 864/1459), GAL G II, 114, and completed by his pupil Galal al-Din al-Suyuti (d. 911/1505), GAL G II, 144). Al-Mahalli wrote the tafsir on the second half of the Qur'an (sura 18-114) and on Surat al-Fatiha. Al-Suyuti wrote the Takmila on sura 2-17. The Qur'anic text is written in red, the Tafsir is written in black ink. In vol. 1, ff. 225a-b, is the usual Ziyada, in which the brother of al-Mahalli relates a dream in which al-Mahalli praises the Takmila by al-Suyuti. Also on ff. 224b-225a two Fa'ida's.See J.J. The documents registered under these numbers form part of the literary legacy and scholarly notes of J.H. Kramers (1891-1951), who occupied, until his death the chair of Arabic in Leiden. A modest collection of Oriental MSS, from both the Middle East and Indonesia, was acquired by the library from his widow, Mrs. G.A. Kramers-de Vlaming Pleysier, at the end of 1954 (now registered as Or. 8519 – Or. 8536, above). Several photocopies, used by Kramers for this contributions to Youssouf Kamal's Monumenta Cartographica Africae et Aegypti entered the library in the course of 1957 (now registered as Or. 8804 – Or. 8805). Of the presently described collection, the portfolios Or. 14.222 – Or. 14.228 were deposited in the library several years before they were entered in the 'Journaal' by the end of 1974. In 1980, Kramer's typescript of his Dutch translation of the Koran (posthumously published, Amsterdam 1956) entered the library (now registered as Or. 17.068a-b). Before the library moved to a new building, in the course of 1983, a considerable quantity of notes by Kramers was sorted out and registered (now Or. 18.094 in 56 portfolios, Or. 18.096, Or. 18.099-18.100). Not all of these numbers contain texts in Arabic.
Extensive description is given by See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue, vol. 3 (2006), pp. 381-388, with a reproductions from Or. 14.222a on pp. 383, 384.

Or. 14.222 a-e
A portfolio containing notes by J. H. Kramers (1891-1951), mainly on Turkish and Kurdish grammar and on Arabic and Ethiopian bibliography. Five sheaves.

Or. 14.222 a
Notes by J.H. Kramers on Turkish, some 200 ff. One sheaf with material classified by Kramers as 'Vreemde elementen in 't Turksch'. The content of the sheaf shows a great variety of notes, not only on the subject written on the sheaf. There are several letters from Kramers' teachers of Turkish. Some of Kramers' exercises are extant, with the corrections by his teachers. The notes and letters and letters are sometimes dated, in the period of 1915-1918, when Kramers served in the Dutch legation in Istanbul.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue, vol. 3 (2006), pp. 382-385, with reproductions on pp. 383-384.
(in Ar. 4257)

Or. 14.222 b
Notes by J.H. Kramers on the Kurdish language and recent Kurdish history, some 50 ff. Notes in Arabic and Latin scripts. Also a text phonetically transcribed with notes by Kramers, possibly made ready for publication.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue, vol. 3 (2006), p. 385.
(in Ar. 4257)

Or. 14.222 c
Notes by J.H. Kramers on Ethiopic texts, mostly typewritten cards with book titles. Also a shorter text in French. Some 25 ff.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue, vol. 3 (2006), p. 385.
(in Ar. 4257)

Or. 14.222 d
Notes by J.H. Kramers, on Turkish texts, and also notes by Kramers on Arabic bibliography, some 250 leaves, including loose leaves and exercise books. Some letters, including one from Messrs. Brill, from which it becomes evident Kramers produced bibliographical information for the Leiden bookseller on a regular basis.
See Jan Schmidt, Catalogue, vol. 3 (2006), pp. 385-386.
(in Ar. 4257)

Or. 14.222 e
Copy, written by J.H. Kramers, of the beginning of MS Leiden Or. 1071 (3), containing Kitab fi `Ilal al-Tathniya, the treatise on the dual form in Arabic grammar by Abu al-Fath `Uthman Ibn Ginni (d. 392/1002), see GAL G I, 125. Kramer's copy covers ff. 134a-139b. In the original MS the text continues to f 157b. See for further reference to the original MS P. Voorhoeve, Handlist, p. 126. Added is the typewritten Dutch translation, probably by Kramers as well of the chapter on the dual form in the Kitab al-Mufassal fil-Nahw by Mahmud b. Umar al-Zamakhshari (d. 538/1144), GAL G I, 290), made from the edition by J. P. Broch (Christiania 1879), pp. 74-75. One sheaf, containing 10+2 leaves.

Or. 14.223
Dutch, of Arabic interest, paper, portfolio with five sheaves.
A Concise Grammar of Classical Arabic, by J. H. Kramers (1891-1951). The work remains unpublished, although it seems that typesetting of part of the book had begun. Kramers completed the book around 1932 and offered the Dutch version to several publishers, apparently without success. He also produced the beginning of an English version. At the end of his grammar Kramers included a selection of fragments for Reading. This section contains texts from Kalila wa-Dimna by Ibn al-Muqaffa`, Ibn Battuta's Travelogue and the Kitab Bidayat al-Hidaya by al-Ghazzali, and the description of the visit to Leiden by Muhammad Amin al-Fikri (d. 1317/1899, GAL G II, 491), taken from his work Irshad al-Alibba ila Mahasin Urubba, corresponding to the edition of Cairo 1892, pp. 523-529. One portfolio, containing 5 sheaves with loose leaves.
a. Letters exchanged with Dutch publishers, 1932-1933. 9 leaves.
b. 'Beknopte spraakkunst van het Klassiek Arabisch'. Kramers' manuscript. Approximately 187 leaves of different sizes.
c. The same. Kramers' typescrip(dated 1932, with numerous manuscript additions, and two exercise books with remarks on the work, by S.A. Bonebakker. Approximately 268 leaves of different sizes.
d. The same. Carbon copy of Kramers' typescript. Approximately 124 leaves.
e. 'A Concise Grammar of Classical Arabic'. Kramers' manuscript of the beginning of an English translation of the preceding work. 33 leaves.
See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), p. 325.
(Ar. 4258)

Or. 14.224
Dutch, two sheaves, containing approximately 176 leaves and 42 maps.
Notes by J.H. Kramers (1891-1951) mainly in Dutch, on the early history of Islam, apparently made for his University lectures between 1931 and 1939. Also a number of maps of regions of the Middle East. Some of these are drawn by Kramers and some were taken from his edition of Ibn Hawqal's Kitab Surat al-Ard (Leiden 1938-1939), together with a few photographs from MSS of maps and a printed map showing the itineraries of the Commission of the League of Nations in Kurdistan. See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts (Leiden 1983-), pp. 325-327.

Or. 14.228
Notes on, and printer's copy of, Youssouf Kamal's Monumenta Cartographica Africae et Aegypti, mainly by done and made by J.H. Kramers (1891-1951).
Kramers was the main consultant for this project as far as mediaeval Islamic sources are concerned. He selected the fragments to be reproduced, translated these into French, visited libraries in Europe in search of geographical Arabic MSS and negotiated the acquisition of photographs of maps and also acted as adviser to the producers of this monumental work, Messrs.Brill in Leiden, and the general co-ordinator of the project, F.C. Wieder (1874-1943). Added are some texts, in Dutch and French, not by Kramers. See also Or. 14.221, above.

Or. 14.229 - Or. 14.232
Collection of Javanese and Malay manuscripts purchased by auction in November 1974 from Sotheby's, London. The manuscripts are described under two lots (659, 661) in the auction's catalogue, Bibliotheca Phillippica. Medieval and Oriental Manuscripts: New Series:

Ninth Part, of November 27, 1974[OOSHSS C 4247]. The original collector was Sir Thomas Phillipps (1792-1872). See also M.C. Ricklefs' notes and descriptions on the lots 659 (Phillipps 17034) and 661 (Phillipps 17033, 16450 and 22792), his introduction to the Sotheby catalogue, 1974, pp. 32-35, and also P.B.R. Carey, 'The Sepoy Conspiracy of 1815 in Java', BKI 133 (1977), p. 322, note 117. The 'Middle Hill boards' refer to Middle Hill, Broadway in Worcestershire, where Sir Thomas Phillipps was established. They consist of carton boards, pasted with brown paper.
Other Leiden manuscripts from this sale are Or. 14.404, Or. 14.454, Or. 14.632, Or. 20.525, below, which were all purchased in an indirect way.

Or. 14.229
Javanese, Malay, English, paper, 12 + 34 + 85 + 2 ff., Javanese and Latin scripts, cardboard binding, 'Middle Hill boards'.
Carita Mendang Kamolan, Babad Demak-Mataram beginning with Lembu Peteng up to the meeting of Senapati Mataram and Nahi Kidul, in macapat verse, dated A.J. 1711 = A.D. 1784. The Javanese is written on the inner half of the page only, the outer half contains a literal English translation. The first part of the text (partly misbound, upside down) seems to be written by the European hand, that also wrote the translations, and the exercises of Javanese writing on some leaves at the end of the book. The major part of the text is in good 18th century North Pasisir script, and the English translations are missing. The text ends abruptly. The exercises of Javanese writing consist of the ana caraka with *pasangan*s and *sandangan*s, and some copies of lines of authentic Javanese letters of adipati Sura Adi Mengala of Japara, provided with Malay glosses written under the lines. See also Or. 14.230, Or. 14.232, below.
The MS belonged originally to W. Robinson, a Baptist missionary residing in Batavia from 1813, who probably wrote also the English translations and exercises in the course of his study of Javanese. See J.L. Swellengrebel, In Leydecker's Voetspoor, 1974, on the oldest translations of the Bible in Indonesian languages. See Pigeaud IV, p. 203.
Earlier provenance: Phillipps MS 17034. Catalogue Sotheby's 27 November 1974, p. 34, No. 659.
(Mal. 8335)

Or. 14.230
Collective volume with texts in Javanese, and some Persian, paper, 12 + 4 + 6 ff., Javanese script, cardboard binding, 'Middle Hill Boards'.
(1) 12 ff. New Testament, fragmentary Javanese translations, Acts of the Apostles (Peggawehanne para Rasul), 12 leaves.
(2) 4 ff. Sawiji Pocapan kalawan sanakingsun (a Conversation with my brethern), evidently a translation of a Christian tract on religious behaviour, ending abruptly, both probably written by W. Robinson.
(3) 6 ff. The beginning of the Carita Mendang Kamolan in macapat verse of Or. 14.229, above, with the chronogram tus ing ratu pandita ngrat, A.J. 1711, A.D. 1784, written in good North Pasisir script. The Javanese texts are bound upside down.

(4) The other leaves contain disparate notes by W. Robinson; Javanese exercises and translations of the titles of the divisions of an Indian book (in Persian) on the history of the world, beginning with Adam, Persia, the Jews, the Christian peoples up to AD 1317, the Hindus, the Chinese and the Moghuls.
See Pigeaud IV, pp. 203-204.
Earlier provenance: Phillipps MS 22792. Catalogue Sotheby's 27 November 1974, p. 35, No. 661.
(Mal. 8336)

Or. 14.231
Collective volume with texts in Javanese, paper, 7 + 2 ff., romanized, cardboard binding, 'Middle Hill boards'.
(1) 7 ff. New Testament, fragmentary Javanese translations of chapters from the Gospels, using Iesa for Jesus, with many corrections. The word sawisi (sawise) at the beginning of the first paragraph is, misread as Lawisi, used as a spine-title on the back of the binding.
(2) 2 ff. Some historical notes on the British connguest of Java in 1811 (tatkalanipun tiyang Egris datung tannah Jawi), ending abruptly, are written on 2 leaves bound upside down.
Both texts were written by a European hand in Latin script, with the English transliteration system also used by Raffles (e: u). See Pigeaud IV, p. 204.
Earlier provenance: Phillipps MS 16450. Catalogue Sotheby's 27 November 1974, p. 35, No. 661.
(Mal. 8337)

Or. 14.232
Collective volume with texts in Javanese, paper, 2 + 24 + 23 + 19 ff., Javanese script, cardboard binding, 'Middle Hill boards'.
(1) 2 ff. New Testament, fragmentary Javanese translations of chapters from the Gospels, 1.: English title, a chapter of St. Matthew by Mr Brückner.
(2) 24 ff. History of Muhammad, mentioning Yajid, in macapat verse, fragmentary, with colophon, bound upside down, dated A.H. 1230, (AD 1815).
(3) 23 ff. Translation of the Gospel of St. Matthew, fragmentary, written on the inner half of the page only.
(4) 19 ff. Babad Demak-Mataram, fragmentary, written on the inner half of the page only. See also Carita Mendang Kamolan, Or. 14.229, above, first half.
Most of the Javanese texts seem to be written by a European hand. See Pigeaud IV, p. 204.

Hebrew, paper, print made from a microfilm.
Photocopy of MS Jerusalem, Sassoon No. 81. See D.S. Sassoon, Ohel Dawid. Descriptive catalogue of the Hebrew and Samaritan manuscripts in the Sassoon Library, Londen. Londen 1932, p. 29, where it is catalogued as: Shalosh Megillot. Three scrolls. Song of songs, Ruth, and Ecclesiastes. The text is fully vocalized. The Targum which occupies the inner columns, is with superlinear punctuations. On the upper and lower margins, the full text of Rashi is given. The manuscript is written on 133 pp. by a Yemenite hand of probably the 18th century.' Not in van der Heide's Catalogue.
Provenance: Received from the Institute of Microfilmed Hebrew Manuscripts, Jerusalem, in the course of 1974. The prints were ordered by the Library for A. van der Heide, when he was preparing his thesis, which appeared in Leiden in 1981 as The Yemenite tradition of the Targum of Lamentations. Critical text and analysis of the variant readings.

Or. 14.236 - Or. 14.241
Collection of Syriac and Christian Arabic manuscripts, which most probably originate from the library of the St. Catherine Monastery in the Sinai. A collection of 53 such manuscripts was offered for sale in 1922 by the Leipzig antiquarian bookseller Karl W. Hiersemann (Katalog 500. Orientalische Manuskripte). The learned descriptions in that catalogue were made by Anton Baumstark (1872-1948). Several of the manuscripts of this catalogue went to private collectors, a few were purchased by the University Library of Louvain, Belgium (and were lost, when that library was burnt down in 1940), and 28 items were acquired by a private collector in Sankt Gallen, Switzerland, Arnold Mettler Specker, or Arnold J. Mettler, whose bookplates still can be seen in the manuscripts. The latter group of has for a while been deposited on loan in the Zentralbibliothek in Zürich, but at some stage they were taken back by the owner, and then, in the course of 1948, sold by auction by Parke-Bernet in New York. At that sale the here following manuscripts remained unsold and were returned to A. Mettler-Bener, a descendant of the original owner in Sankt Gallen. The latter sold the manuscripts in the course of 1974 to the Library of the University of Leiden. The purchase was conducted by Dr. W. Baars, acting on behalf of the Leiden Library.

Or. 14.236
Syriac, Armenian, Greek, parchment, palimpsest, 93 ff., 22.5 x 17 cm.
Peshitta version of the Psalms, followed by an extensive series of Odes and a few liturgical texts, all according to the Melkite rite. Dating from the 10th century. Hiersemann, Katalog 500, No. 42. A palimpsest throughout, containing an (as yet unidentified) Armenian text. On f. 84b is Greek text in Syriac script. The Syriac script is estimated by W. Baars as 10th century AD, which means that the Armenian text is even older, which makes it very rare. See also Janson, Summiere beschrijvingen, p. 13.

Or. 14.237
Syriac, parchment, palimpsest, 77 ff.
Peshitta version of the Psalms, followed by several Odes, some liturgical texts, and, in an addition of the 14th century, several more Odes, according to the Melkite rite. Dating, according to W. Baars, from the 12th century. Hiersemann, Katalog 500, No. 41, dates the MS as from the 13th century. The entire MS is a palimpsest, and the underlying text is Syriac as well, in estrangela script, possibly the Book Joshua, dating from the 6-7th century. See also Janson, Summiere beschrijvingen, p. 13.

Or. 14.244
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, Persian, Turkish, paper, 98 ff., naskh script by several copyists, one being `Umar b. Mahmud al-Ghuzayli (?) al-Khaydaqi (ff. 8a, 96b), remnant of a half-leather Islamic binding with flap, with pasted boards.
(1) ff. 1a-8a. Notes with some poetry, on several subjects, written in different hands. On the inimitability of the Qur'an (ff. 1a-4a). On f. 4b a genealogy of the Prophet Muhammad, with a note in Turkish, see Jan Schmidt, Catalogue, vol. 3 (2006), p. 388. On f. 5a a note on lifting the hands during the Salat. On f. 6a notes, and a quotation from a work entitled Wasa'il al-Hagat wa-Adab al-Munagat, ascribed to al-Ghazzali (d. 505/1111), GAL G I, 420. On ff. 6b-7a notes on Arabic grammar. On f. 7a a Lughz, riddle, with the solution, Gawab, and an owner's note with the print of an octagonal seal, of Mustafa Sa`id, known as Khalil Efendizada. On f. 7b two poems, one on hemerology, Ikhtiyarat Ayyam al-Usbu` (7 lines). On f. 8a a Mas'ala which contains a condemnation of Sufi's, and an owner's mark by `Umar b. Mahmud al-Ghuzayli (?) al-Khaydaqi , who is also the copyist mentioned on f. 96b.
(2) ff. 8b-89b. Takhmis al-Burda. A Takhmis on al-Kawakib al-Durriyya fi Madh Khayr al-Bariyya, the Qasidat al-Burda by Muhammad b. Sa`id al-Busiri (d. 694/1294), GAL G I, 264. The author of the Takhmis is not mentioned. He may be: Muhammad b. Mansur b. `Ubada, or Nasir al-Din al-Fayyumi, apparently both from Dimyat (see Ahlwardt, Berlin catalogue, vol. 7, p. 55; but see GAL G I, 265; S I, 469, where these are two different persons). The Takhmis is identical to the Takhmis of Leiden Or. 6350, above. It is also identical with the fifth Takhmis in MS Leiden Or. 8357, above. On ff. 9a, 10a-b, 11a, are Persian and Turkish metrical translations of a few lines of the Qasidat al-Burda. Notes and prayers on ff. 90a-b.
(3) ff. 91a-96b. Maw`iza Manzuma. No author indicated. Poem of 145 lines, in the wafir metre, with after each five lines a different rhyme, in 29 letters, from alif to lam-alif. The poem is identical to MS Berlin, Lbg. 807 (1), Ahlwardt 8200 (3).
On ff. 97a-98b are shorter notes, mostly on popular medicine and related subjects.
See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts [...], Leiden 1983-., pp. 350-352.
Provenance: Purchased in April 1975 from R.B.C. Huygens, who had purchased the manuscript in Syria.

Or. 14.245 - Or. 14.249
Persian and Arabic manuscripts purchased by auction at Sotheby's, London on 8 April 1975.

Or. 14.245
Persian, paper, ff., nasta`liq script, illustrations, dated from the beginning till the end of Rabi` II 889, copied in Qasba-yi Garam, Badakhshan, full-leather binding.
Daneshnama-yi Gihan, a treatise on physics by Ghiyath al-Din `Ali b. Amiran al-Husayni al-Isfahani. Identical to MS London, IOL, Cat. Ethé, No. 2173. With figures in the text. Scribbling and notes on ff. 2a-3a.
Earlier provenance: Sotheby's catalogue, No. 208.
(Ar. 4308)

Or. 14.246
Persian, with some Dakni, paper, 183 ff., nasta`liq script, illustration, illumination (in Golconda style?), polychrome borders, executed as a luxury manuscript.
Diwan of Ishtiyaqi. The author who uses this takhallus is apparently a poet in the service of Abdallah Qutb Shah of Golconda (reigned 1020-1083 / 1612-1672/3). The latter is mentioned in connection with a chronogram on f. 138a, and as dedicatee of a Qasida on f. 161b. The Diwan is in Persian, with one quatrain which can be read both as Persian and as Dakni (f. 138b). On f. 138a are two chronograms which date the composition of the Diwan: yadgar- Ishtiyaqi (= 1058/1648), and the commemoration of the capture of the castle of Kan Karti: Az Mulk- Mufsid bar Taraf shud (= 1077/1666-7).
f. 1b. Illuminated `Unwan.
f. 138a. Two simple drawings of objects in *dubayt*s which the poet was unable to complete.
f. 139a. Two illustrated *dubayt*s. The first one allows for permutation of the hemistychs, without metre, rhyme or meaning being impaired. In addition, the fourth hemistych of either dubayt can be substituted by a drawing, and these drawings are shown.
The fourth hemistych of the first dubayt: Ma`shuq bi-Kaff Gam wa-Surahi dar Dast, is illustrated by a sitting damsel with a caraffe and cup in her hands.
The fourth hemistych of the second dubayt: Bar Kuh du Murgh mikardandi Gank, is illustrated by two fighting roosters on top of a hilI.
Each dubayt is given twice, once with four hemistychs and once with only three hemistychs and one drawing as subsitute for the meaning of the fourth hemistych.
f. 140a. A shagara by Ishtiyaqi, a tree-like composition consisting of lines of poetry in honour of `Abdallah Qutb Shah.
f. 140b. Illuminated headpiece.
(Ar. 4297)

Or. 14.247
Persian, paper, 489 ff., nasta`liq script, illuminations (ff. 51b, 57b, 157b, 412b), illustrations (four miniatures in Shiraz style on ff. 106b, 210a, 304b, 431a).
Kulliyyat, collected poetical works in Persian of `Abd al-Rahman Gami (d. 898 AH).
In the main text area are the following texts:
(1) ff. 1b-51a. The first part of the first Diwan, also called Fatihat al-Shabab. F. 1 and part of f. 2 are a later replacement, affecting the introduction.

(2) ff. 51b-279a. The second part of the first Diwan. Lacuna between ff. 390-391
(3) ff. ff. 279b-409a. The second Diwan, also called Wasitat al-`Iqd. Title on f. 409a.
(4) ff. 409b-489b. The third Diwan, also called Khatimat al-Hayat. Title on f. 409b. Incomplete, abrupt end, in the section on quatrains, on f. 489b.
In the margins are the following texts:
(5) ff. 2b-57b. Tuhfat al-Ahrar.
(6) ff. 57b-156b. Subhat al-Abrar, with illuminated title (f. 57b). Miniature on f. 106b.
(7) ff. 157b-288a. Kitab Yusuf u Zulaykha. Remnants of a miniature on f. 210a.
(8) ff. 289b-412b. Layla u Magnun. Miniature on f. 304b, showing (?) the father of Magnun with the father of Layla. Miniature on f. 394a, showing (?) Magnun receiving food from his mother.
(9) ff. 412b-489b. Iskandarnama. Miniature on f. 431a, showing a king (Alexander?), sitting in the open air, giving orders. Text incomplete, abrupt end on f. 489b. Damage at the end, affecting the text.
Added: a sheet of paper (between ff. 380b-381a), with poetical quotations, in a 'modern' hand.
Note that Gami's two other main poetical works which are usually part of the Kulliyyat, Silsilat al-Dhahab and Salaman u Absal, are not present in this volume.
Earlier provenance: Sotheby's catalogue No. 201.

Or. 14.258
Pustaha. Collective volume with texts in Batak, treebark, 23 ff., 39 x 23.5 cm., with numerous magical drawings in red and black. Incomplete at beginning and end, palimpsest.
(1) a 1-13. Pagar, about a defensive devise. Title and chain are lacking. Ompu Poltak ni adji of the marga Hasibuan in Huta Tinggi is mentioned as pupil in the entire manuscript. He has probably written it. On a 8 begins a new chapter on the same pagar but of a different teacher. Here, the names pagar dorma ni sibiangsa and pagar bona ni ari are mentioned. On a 6 the origin of the poda is mentioned as Datu Pangsa ni adji. He occurs in other manuscripts at the beginning of a chain of transmission of a text about pagar bona ni ari. It can, therefore, be assumed that the title which is lacking in this manuscript, is also poda ni pagar bona ni ari.
(2) a 13-23, b 1-9. Pangulubalang sanggapati with a chain of transmission which begins with Si Tumanggu Adji. The same name is at the beginning of the chains of transmission of the texts about sanggapati in Wuppertal (see Liberty Manik, Batak-Handschriften. Wiesbaden 1973, No.449), Dublin and Leiden (see BKI 124 p.375). The other names in our text are different, however. The text about pangulubalang sanggapati in the most complete copies has a series of 70 magical drawings. Of these, some 60 occur in this copy. From a comparison with other pustaha's it transpires that between pp. a 23 and b 1 approximately 2 or 3 pages with 3 illustrations are missing.
(3) b 9-23. This part of the text is apparently still connected with pangulubalang sanggapati. The name once more occurs on p. b 22. Several other magical devices are treated in separate paragraphs, however, e.g.:
b 9. Poda ni pangulubalang si torban dolok.
b 10. Poda ni pamusatan ni pangulubalang duwa radja odjim na bolon. In this part of the text one finds on pp. b 11-13 a long chain of invocations of different spirits, for each one line of text, written in the shape of a tabel with a ruling around.
b 13-22. Pamusatan ni pamunu tanduk, about counter-devices against hostile magic, mostly by means of astrological calculations.
See P. Voorhoeve, Codices Batacici, pp. 269-270, and also Museum Cathianum, p. 7.
Provenance: purchased in May 1975 from The British and Foreign Bible Society, in London, which received the manuscript in 1892 from M.B. Purdy on Sumatra.

Or. 14.265 - Or. 14.272
Collection of Arabic manuscripts purchased in June 1975 from Prof. Stefan Wild, Amsterdam, who had purchased the manuscripts in San`a' (Or. 14.265 – Or. 14.269) and Beirut (Or. 14.270 - Or. 14.272).

Or. 14.265
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, paper, 122 ff., several naskh hands, dated Gumada I 1072/1661, copied on behalf of Muhammad b. Hasan b. Hamid al-Din by the scribe `Ali b. Salim (Salīm) ... (?) (colophons on ff. 104a, 118b), half-leather Islamic binding with flap, boards covered with linen with a print of floral patterns, possibly of Indian origin.
(1) ff. 1-9. Sundry notes, including quotations from:
- Verses by Abu al-`Abbas al-Basir, who is possibly the same as Abu al-`Abbas al-A`ma (d. after 136/753), GAS II, 421;
- Al-Durr al-Manthur by al-Suyuti (d. 911/1505);
- Notes by Yahya Lutf al-Fil, dated 27 Rabi` I and Gumada II 1344 (1925);
- The section on sacrifices in the Gahiliyya taken from Manzumat al-Tahrir by Sharaf al-Din Yahya al-`Amriti (fl. 989/1581), GAL G II, 320. This work is a versification of Tahrir Tanqih al-Lubab by Zakariya' al-Ansari (d. 926/1520), GAL G II, 99.
- Poetical fragment ascribed to the Zaydi imam al-Mahdi Ahmad b. Yahya al-Murtada (d. 840/1437), GAL G II, 187.
- A note by al-Hasan b. Ahmad al-Galal on an Urguza by Ibrahim b. Yahya al-Suhuli (d. 1060/1650), GAL S II, 559.
- A quotation from Kitab Kashf al-Asrar by al-Aqfahsi (d. 808/1405), GAL G II, 92.
(2) ff. 10a-104a. Kitab Kashif li-Dhawi al-`Uqul `an Wuguh Ma`ani al-Kafil bi-Nayl al-Su'l fi `Ilm al-Usul. Commentary by Ahmad b. Muhammad Ibn Luqman (d. 1039/1630), GAL N II, 558, on the work on Zaydi usul al-fiqh, al-Kafil bi-Nayl al-Su'l fi `Ilm al-Usul, by Muhammad b. Yahya Ibn Bahran (d. 957/1550), GAL S II, 557.
(3) ff. 106a-118b. al-Lamha fi `Ilm al-`Arud, anonymous reworking of al-`Arud al-Andalusi which was composed by Abu al-Gaysh al-Andalusi al-Ansari (d. 626/1229), GAL G I, 310.
(4) ff. 119a-121b. Notes, fragments and fawa'id, similar to these mentioned under No. 1, above, which include the here following:
Poem of 11 lines by a Sharifa addressed to the imam al-Mutawakkil `ala Allah Isma`il b. al-Qasim (d. 1087/1676);
Quotation from the second volume of al-Targuman, possibly the work by Ibn Muzaffar (d. 926/1519), see Ayman Fu'ad Sayyid, Masadir, p. 197.
Three famous lines by Nasr b. Sayyar (d. 131/748), GAS II, 706.
Quotations from al-Kashshaf by al-Zamakhshari (d. 538/1144), GAL G I, 291.

Or. 14.267

Kitab al-Kawkab al-Mudi' fi Daygur al-Aghlas al-Mugli li-Ghawamid Kitab al-Asas li-`Aqa'id al-Akyas*, commentary by the Zaydi shaykh Dawud b. al-Hadi b. Ahmad b. al-Mahdi b. Amir al-Mu'minin `Izz al-Din (d. 1035/1625), see al-Shawkani, al-Badr al-Tali`, vol. 1, pp. 246-247 (edition Cairo 1348), on *Kitab al-Asas li-`Aqa'id al-Akyas, a work on Zaydi and Mu`tzili usul al-din, by the Zaydi imam al-Mansur billah al-Qasim b. Muhammad b. `Ali (d. 1029/1620), GAL S II, 558.

According to the colophon (ff. 188a-b) and a note on the titlepage (f. 2a) the present manuscript was copied from the author's draft (musawwada), which was completed by the author on Friday 19 Sha`ban 1016/1607 in Hugra Falila (f. 188a). In his colophon the author of the commentary informs the reader that he was able to bring his commentary, from beginning to end, to the attention of the author of the Kitab al-Asas in sessions lasting from 1 Safar till 20 Rabi` I 1018/ 1609 and that his work met with the imam's approval (f. 188b). In his colophon (ff. 188a-b), the author of the commentary mentions a considerable number of sources from which he derived the material of his Sharh. One of these sources is the Mi`rag, a commentary on the Minhag (f. 188a), by his ancestor (the text says walidina but for reasons of chronology this cannot be translated as 'father') al-imam 'Izz al-Din (d. 900/1495), GAL S II, 248 and M. A. alHibshi, Mu'allafat Hukkam al-Yaman (Wiesbaden 1979), pp. 113-117.

On f. 1a are several notes on imama taken from works by al-Mansur billah al-Qasim b. Muhammad b. `Ali (d. 1029/1620), GAL S II, 558, and al-qadi Ahmad b. Yahya Habis (possibly the one mentioned in GAL S II, 559), who was a pupil of the author of the commentary and who died in 1061/1651.

On ff. 2a, 188b notes, which include:

Fil-Farq bayn al-Za'at wal-Dadat, poem of 18 lines (metre khafif) on the difference between the letter ẓāʾ and ḍād, by Abu Muhammad al-Qasim b. `Ali al-Hariri (d. 516/1122), GAL G I, 276. This is taken from the 46th maqama by al-Hariri (al-Maqama al-Halabiyya). See for this genre of texts also Taha Muhsin, 'Makhtutat al-Za' wal-Dad fi Maktabat al-Mathaf al-`Iraqi bi-Baghdad', in MMMA 28 (1404/1984), pp. 291-310.

On f. 189b is the text of a letter by the Zaydi imam al-Mahdi Ahmad b. al-Husayn (d. 656/1258), GAL G I, 404, to faqih Husam al-Din `Abdallah b. Zayd.
See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts ... (1983-), pp. 370-374, with a reproduction of f. 188a on p. 373.

Or. 14.268
Collective volume with texts in Arabic, European paper, 314 ff., dated 1074/1663-1664, by two copyists (ff. 1a-284b, 286a-314b), colophon on f. 314b in thuluth script, half-leather Oriental binding with flap.
(1) ff. 1a-284b. Kitab Hadiqat al-Hikma al-Nabawiyya fi Tafsir al-Arba`in al-Saylaqiyya, commentary by the Zaydi imam al-Mansur billah Abu Muhammad `Abdallah b. Hamza b. Sulayman b. Hamza (d. 614/1217), GAL G I, 403-404 (see also al-Hibshi, Mu'allafat Hukkam al-Yaman, Wiesbaden 1979, p. 40), on al-Arba`un Hadithan al-Saylaqiyya by Zayd b. `Abdallah b. Mas`ud al-Hashimi al-Saylaqi (5/11th cent.), GAL S I, 699. A note on this work is Or. 25.665 (7), below.
See also Or. 23.358 (6), below, which contains a Kitab al-Arba`in al-Saylaqiyya, by Abu Nasr Muhammad b. `Ali. Copy of 1188/1774. GAL S I, 699, mentions a work by this title, but with another author: Abu al-Qasim Zayd b. `Abdallah b. Mas`ud al-Hashimi, of the 5th cent. AH.
(2) ff. 286a-314b. al-Durar al-Magliyya fi Takhmis al-Qasida al-Baziyya. Takhmis by Muhammad b. `Ali al-Hattar (11/17th cent.?), in the autograph, of al-Qasida al-Baziyya, a poem of 218 lines (wafir metre) in praise of the imam al-Mutawakkil `ala Allah Diya' al-Din Isma`il (f. 286b) who may be identical to al-Mutawakkil `ala Allah Diya' al-Din Isma`il b. al-Qasim (reigned 1054-1087/1644-1676), See Zambaur, p. 123; see also al-Hibshi, Mu'allafat, No. 36. The original qasida was composed by al-Sayyid Sharaf al-Din al-Hasan b. `Ali b. Baz b. Numayy al-Makki, who lived around 1074/1633-1664 (chronogram on f. 314a)
See J.J. Witkam, Catalogue of Arabic manuscripts ... (1983-), pp. 374-379, with a reproduction of f. 314b on p. 379.
(Ar. 4279)

Or. 14.269
Arabic, paper, 163 ff., Yamani naskh script in several hands, full leather Islamic binding with flap, with simple blind tooling.
A magmu `a from the Yemen, containing a considerable number of texts, many of which are Zaydi in content. Several copyists have worked on the texts in this volume, but most of the Zaydi texts were copied by one person, al-Husayn b. Ahmad b. Gar Allah b. Qasim b. Nusayr al-Hawfi al-Zaydi al-`Adli (his name is in the colophons on ff. 70a, 109a), who was the owner, at least of the part he himself copied (f. 109a). He copied at least two texts (Nos. 6 and 65) in the houses of the imam al-Hadi ila al-Haqq Yahya b. al-Husayn (d. 298/911) GAS 1, 563-6) in Sa`da (see the colophons on ff. 55b and 160b). He probably completed the copy in the course of 1056/1646 (there are ten dated colophons: ff.55b, 63a, 64b, 70a, 74a, 78a, 85a, 93b, 109a, 160b). The other texts in the volume are also copied in Yemenite hands, and probably date from the 11th/17th century as well (dated colophons on ff. 16a, 41a, 53a).

MS on paper; watermark: hand (in the part dated 1056/1646, e.g., f.115); 163 ff.; 210x 140 mm; numerous variations in the area of the page covered and the number of lines per page; black inks with rubrics and occasional use of ochre; numerous Oriental hands, all Yemenite; a number of hands can be distinguished: 1. texts Nos. 2 and 3 (1078/1668); 2. texts Nos. 4 and 5 (1083/1673); 3. texts Nos. 6-14, 16 (partly?), 17-29, 31, 33 (?), 34-38, 39 (?), 40, 42, 44-49, 51 (?), 53, 65, 66 (?), 67-68 (1056/1646); 4. texts Nos. 50 and 52; 5. texts Nos. 57 and 58; 6. texts Nos. 60-63; texts by copyists whose hands do not seem to appear elsewhere in the volume are Nos. 15, 30, 32, 41, 43, 54-56, 59 and 64. The above list is an approximate one only; a more detailed research on the hands in this volume may well reveal a slightly different picture. It is evident that several shorter manuscripts were bound together to constitute the present volume. Roughly speaking, three constituent parts can be distinguished: ff. 1-53, 54-140 and several folios after f. 140. If the colophons of the copyist of the Zaydi texts are ordered chronologically, it is clear that the order of the texts in the middle part of the volume is somewhat confused. These colophons contain the following dates:

(6) f. 55b	17 Ragab 1056/1646
(9) f. 63a	20 Ragab 1056/1646
(10) f. 64b	21 Ragab 1056/1646
(13) f. 70a	23 Ragab 105611646
(17) f. 74a	3 Ragab 1056/1646
(20) f. 78a	20 Gumada II 1056/1646
(27) f. 85a	26 Gumada II 1056/1646
(37) f. 93b	29 Gumada II 1056/1646
(42) f. 109a	last third of Rabi` II 1056j1646
(65) f. 160b	Ragab 1056/1646

The composition of the quires cannot be ascertained due to the tight binding; the greater part of the texts have catchwords on every verso page; full-leather Oriental binding with flap, with simple blind tooling. The binding dates from earlier than 1303/1886, as that date is found on the final flyleaf (f. 165a); owners' and readers' notes with dates are, in chronological order: 1061/1651 (f. 109a), 1187/1772 (f. 63a), 1303/1886 (f. 165a), 1315/1898 (f. 2a), 1354/1935 (fly-leaf before f. 1), 1357/1938 (f. 1a). In the following descriptions of the shorter texts and fragments in this volume the aim has been merely to analyse their contents and identify their authors. The occurrence of such shorter texts and fragments appears to be a frequently encountered feature in Yemenite manuscripts. An attempt to describe a relatively large amount of such notebooks or commonplace-books from the Yemen has been made by O. Löfgren and R. Traini in their catalogue of the collection in the Ambrosiana Library in Milan. However, the lack of good indices in that catalogue greatly diminishes the availability of the data presented.
The MS contains:

(1) f f. la-2a. Notes and poetical fragments, written in several hands. There is also writing on the unnumbered fly-leaf which is pasted to the board. To this flyleaf an unnumbered slip of paper with notes has been pasted.
On the fly-leaf pen proofs and scribbling. A recent owner is mentioned : Hasan al-Dhari. This nisba is also written on f. 1a. On the leaf that is pasted to the fly-leaf are notes on financial matters. A date is mentioned: Rabi` I 1354 /1935. Amounts of money are designated with qawarish. f 1a. Poetical fragment of 4 lines, illustrating types of paronomasia (ginas). Also on this page two lines ascribed to al-Hasan b. `Abdallah al-Shibami. A note by an owner, who also wrote on the pasted to the previous page and on f. 17a. The three notes combined reveal that he is Ahmad b Muhammad b. `Ali, writing in Rabi` 1357/1938. His notes are all written in blue ink.
On f. 1b are six poetical fragments, copied by same person who wrote the last-mentioned fragment of four lines. Some use of ihmal indication may be observed.
f. 2a. Owner's mark, containing a name, Yahya b. Husayn b. Isma`il al-Shami, date, 30 Ramadan 1315/1898, and locality, Hisn al-Gumayma. f. 2b. Blank.
(2) ff. 3a-16a. Kitab Mulhat al-I`rab wa-Nuskhat al-Adab. Title and author on f. 3a. Title also on f. 16a. Urguza of 375 lines on Arabic grammar by Sharaf al-Din al-Qasim b. Ali al-Hariri al-Basri (d. 516/1122), GAL GI, 276-7. Text occupies 15 x 10 cm; usually 17 lines to the page; Oriental handwriting, with ihmal marks and occasional vocalization; black ink with rubrics: chapter (fasl or bab) headings in a larger script for which the copyist used black and red inks alternately; copied by Yahya b. Mahdi al-Muhalla on Saturday 10 Dhu al-Qa`da 1078/1668, on behalf of the shaykh Kamal al-Din `Ali b. Fadl al-Sa`di al-`Umani (f. 16a).
Also on the title-page are some pen proofs, three magical squares and some barely legible owners' notes. In these, dates may be discerned : 1 127/ 1715 and 1278 /1861-2.
On f. 16b are four riddles (lughz). The first three are taken from al-Hariri's Maqamat, all from the 42nd maqama (al-Nagraniyya, cf. ed. S. de Sacy, vol. II (Paris 1853), pp. 545-6, 549, 548). The fourth riddle could not be found in the Maqamat, but is apparently a variant of the first riddle on this page.
(3) ff. 17a-41a. Kafiyat Dhawi al-Adab fi `Ilm Kalam al-`Arab. Title and author on f. 17a. Title also on f. 41 a. Textbook on Arabic syntax by Gamal al-Din Abu Amr `Utman b. `Umar Ibn al-Hagib al-Maliki (d. 646/1249), GAL G I, 303). In this manuscript the text is called al-Muqaddima al-Kafiya. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text on Thursday 29 Du al-Qa'da 1078/1668 (f. 41a). f. 17a.
Also on the title-page are series of the Arabic alphabet in the abgad order, one of which is provided with the numerical value of the letters. In the left margin are the names of the signs of the Zodiac. On the right at the bottom is a note by an owner who wrote a similar note on f. 1a.
(4) ff. 41a-53a. Al-Muqaddima al-Agurrumiyya. Title on f. 41a. Author on f. 41b. Elementary textbook on Arabic grammar by Abu Abdallah Muhammad b. Muhammad b. Da'ud al-Sanhagi Ibn Agurrum (d. 723/1323), GAL G II, 237). The work is also known under the title al-Agurrumiyya. Text occupies 15 x 9.5 cm; usually 9 lines to the page; Oriental handwriting; black ink with rubrics; copied on Friday 14 Dhu al-Qa`da 1083/1673 in Dawran al-Yaman (f 53a); numerous interlinear notes, written upside-down. f. 41a. Title, written at the bottom of the page, after the end of the preceding text.

(5) f 53b. Al-Muqaddima al-Gazariyya fi Ma`rifat Tagwid al-Ayat al-Qur'aniyya. Author and title on f. 53b. The first 14 lines only of the Urguza on reciting the Qur'an by Muhammad b. Muhammad Ibn al-Gazari (d. 833/1429) , GAL G II, 201. Probably copied by the copyist of the preceding text. After f. 53 the first collection of texts which are bound together in this volume ends. The remainder of the text of al-Muqaddima al-Gazariyya must have followed here, but was apparently lacking when the present binding was made. A division into chapters which one may observe in other manuscripts of this text is lacking here.
(6) ff. 54a-55b. Kitab Wasiyyat al-Imam al-Hadi ila al-Haqq. Title and author on f. 54a and also on f. 55b. Last will and testament, written in the third person, of the Zaydi imam al-Hadi ila al-Haqq Yahya b. al-Husayn (d. 298/911), GAS I, 563-6, and composed in Dhu al-Qa`da 291 904 (f. 55b). It concerns the bequest of a portion of land. Minute Oriental writing, barely punctuated, but occasionally provided with ihmal marks; 30-32lines to the page; the text occupies some 17 x 10 cm; black ink with rubrics, also ochre ink is used; copied in the houses of al-Hadi in Sa`da on Tuesday 17 Ragab 1056/1646 (f. 55b). The name of the copyist is mentioned on f. 70a.
After a lengthy introduction in which the tenets of the Zaydiyya are enumerated, the testament sets out to describe and bequeath a piece of real estate, called by al-Hadi al-Sahn, situated in Sa`da (f. 54a, bottom), to the offspring of al-Qasim b. Ibrahim b. Isma`il b. Ibrahim b. al-Hasan b. al-Hasan b. Ali b. Abi Talib, both male and female, and to their offspring, as long as they live in the Yemen. Those who come to the Yemen have also the right to this sadaqa (f. 54b, 3rd line from the bottom). A number of other categories of beneficiaries follows, as well as a number of provisions to ensure the succession. On is the end, with mention of the witnesses.
(7) ff.55b-56b. A biographical note on the imam al-Hadi ila al-Haqq (d. 298/911), GAS I, 563) with an account of the events that took place after his death. The source of these communications is not indicated. Copied from a manuscript in the hand of Abdallah b. al-Hasan al-Dawari (d. 800/1397), GAL S II, 243) (f. 56b). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
(8) f. 56b. Several hadith, with commentary, on the question of the visiting of graves (ziyarat al-qubur). Copied from a manuscript in the hand of the qadi Shams al-Din Ahmad b. Sulayman al-Awzari (lived first half 8th/14th century), GAL S II, 242). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
(9) ff.57a-63a. Kitab Bidayat al-Muhtadi wa-Hidayat al-Mubtadi'. Authors and titles on f. 57a. Shortened version (intiza`) by Gamal al-Din M. b. Yahya Ibn Bahran al-Basri (d. 957/1550), GAL G II, 405; GAL S II, 557) of the Bidayat al-Hidaya, the compendium on ethics by Abu Hamid Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Ghazzali (d. 505/1111), GAL G I, 420 and 422, No. 26). The combined information from two manuscripts of this text, preserved in the Ambrosiana Library in Milan leads the authors of its catalogue, O. Löfgren and R. Traini, to ascribe this shortened version to Mutahhar, the son of Ibn Bahran. They mention as the date of composition 1052/1642. See their catalogue, vol. II (1981), Nos. 725 VII and 7681. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text, on Friday 20 Ragab 1056/1646 (f. 63a); the colophon has a simple ornamentation in red and ochre inks; numerous marginal and interlinear notes, in several hands.

The text of al-Ghazzali's Bidaya is mainly shortened in the first half. On the whole Ibn Bahran disguised the work with only a very thin, and almost ubiquitously transparent, veil. On f. 63a is a short note, now barely legible, dated Rabi` I 1187/1772.
(10) ff. 63b-64b. Kitab Usul al-`Adl wa-al-Tawhid wa-Nafy al-Gabr wa-al-Tasbih. Title and author on f 63b. Treatise on Zaydi dogmatics (against predestination and anthropomorphism) by the Zaydi imam Targuman al-Din al-Qasim b. Ibrahim (d. 246/860), GAS I, 561. On the authenticity of this work see Wilferd Madelung, Der Imam al-Qasim h. Ibrahim (Berlin 1965), p. 97. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text, on Saturday 21 Ragab 1056 1646 (f. 64b).
(11) ff. 64b-67b. Kitab al-Gumla. Title and author on f. 64b. The Creed of the Zaydi imam al-Hadi ila al-Haqq Yahya b. al-Husayn b. al-Qasim (d. 298/911), GAS I, 563 and 566, No. 30; see also al-Hibshi, Mu'allafat Hukkam al-Yaman (Wiesbaden 1979), p. 10, No. 39. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
(12) ff.67b-69a. Kitab al-Manzila bayn al-Manzilatayn. Title and author on f. 67b. Treatise on the intermediary state according to Zaydi dogmatics, by the Zaydi imam al-Hadi ila al-Haqq Yahya b. al-Husayn (d. 298/911), GAS I, 563 and 565, No. 19; see also al-Hibshi, Mu'allafat Hukkam al-Yaman (Wiesbaden 1979), p. 12, No. 60). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
(13) ff. 69a-70a. Kitab al-Khashya. Title on f. 69a; author on ff. 69a, b. Treatise containing moral maxims, by the Zaydi imam al-Hadi ila al-Haqq Yahya b. al-Husayn (d.298/911), GAS I, 563 and 566, No. 31; see also al-Hibshi, Mu'allafat Hukkam al-Yaman (Wiesbaden 1979), p. 10, No. 40. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text. In the colophon (f. 70a) he gives his name, Husayn b. Ahmad b. Gar Allah b. Ahmad b. Qasim b. Nusayr al-Hawfi al-Zaydi al=`Adli, and the date of completion of this text, Monday 23 Ragab 1056/ 1646; the end of the text and the colophon are adorned with simple ornaments in red and ochre inks.
(14) f. 70b. Hadith Wafat al-Shaykh al-Imam Huggat al-Islam Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Ghazzali. Title on f. 70b. Poem of 30 lines (rhyming in -nā), which was allegedly found at the death-bed of Abu Hamid Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Ghazzali (d.505/1111), GAL G I, 420). The anecdote and the poem are transmitted here on the authority of Ibn al-Asbat al-Marzuqi (unidentified). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
(15) ff. 71 a-b. A collection of four poems, ascribed to several persons. Copied by a copyist different from that of the preceding text.
a. (f.71a). A poem (tawil metre, rhyming in dāl) of 17 lines, ascribed to `Ali b. Abi Talib (d. 40/661), GAS II, 277). The poem is not found in the alphabetically arranged Diwan, ascribed to `Ali b. Abi Talib, which is known under the title Kitab Anwar al-`Uqul fI Ash `ar Wasi al-Rasul wa-Zawg Fatima al-Batul (as contained in the Leiden MS Or. 2683, see Voorhoeve, Handlist, p. 16). At the end the poem is styled wasila.
b. (f 71a). A fragment of 6 lines, rhyming in -ya, ascribed to the grandson of``Ali b. Abi Talib, Zayn al-`Abidin `Ali b. al-Husayn al-Saggad (d. 92/ 710).

c. (f. 71 b). A poem of 13 lines, rhyming in -ārī, ascribed to al-Mansur bi-Allah Muhammad b. Yahya al-Sarragi al-Washa'i(?, not identified). The surat al-iklas is written vertically, in red ink, between the two last misra`.
d. (f. 71b). Poem of 7 lines, rhyming in -nā, found on the grave of Fakhr `Ulum al-Din Yusuf b. `Uthman b. Hagar (unidentified).
(16) ff. 72a-b. Poem of 7 lines (kamil metre, rhyming in `ayn), provided with two takhmis and one tasdis. No author seems to be mentioned for the original poem. One of the two takhmis is ascribed to al-imam Sharaf al-Din, but the margins of the manuscript are trimmed and more information on the authorship of the takhmis and the tasdis is lost. The lines of the original poem are written in large letters, in red ink, and the takhmis and tasdis are written in three columns above each line of poetry. The first takhmis is written in a somewhat larger script than the two other additions. These latter may have been written by the copyist of the 13th text in this volume. On f. 72a are some notes, in several hands, containing several *hadith*s.
(17) ff. 73a-74a. Wasiyyat `Ali b. Abi Talib li-Ibnihi al-Hasan. Counsels and maxims, ascribed to `Ali b. Abi Talib (d. 40/661), GAS II, 277 and allegedly directed to his son al-Hasan. Title on f. 73a. On f. 73a the text is also called al-Hikma, and on f. 74a al-Hikam. The text contains both ornate prose and poetry. Copied by the copyist of the 13th text in this volume, in Sa`da, in the house of the imam al-Hadi (d. 298/910), GAS I, 563) on 3 Ragab 1056/1646 (f. 74a).
(18) ff. 74b-75b. Al-Qasida al-Farida. This title not found here. Author in the margin of f. 74b. The Qasida also goes by the name Istiftah Bab al-Farag (or: al-Farah) (ff. 74a, 75b). Qasida of 101 lines (rhyming in -rā) by the Zaydi Imam al-Mansur billah al-Qasim b. Muhammad (d. 1029/1620), GAL G II, 405; see also al-Hibshi, Mu'allafat, p. 134). This Qasida is attributed by Brockelmann (GAL S II, 551) to al-Gurmuzi (d. 1077!1666). Al-Hibshi (op. cit.) mentions the Istiftah and al-Qasida al-Farida as two different works, but his references point to one and the same poem.
In the margin of f. 74b is a note to the effect that Ahmad b. Sa`d al-Din b. al-Husayn al-Miswari (d. 1079/1668), GAL S II, 560) read the qasida on 20 Ramadan 1046/1637 to the author's son, the imam al-Mu'ayyad bi-Allah Muhammad b. al-Qasim b. Muhammad (d. 10541664), GAL S II, 560). The poem was, according to the same note, composed before the author's da`wa (1006/1597). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
f. 75b. There follows a Du`a li-Ru'yat al-Nabi, in prose, written by the same copyist.
(19) f. 76a. Untitled poem by the Zaydi imam al-Mahdi Ahmad b. Yahya Ibn al-Murtada (d. 840/1437), GAL G II, 187, of 22 lines, rhyming in -yā. A poem that may have been the model for the present text is the one by the imam al-Mutawakkil `ala Allah Ahmad b. Sulayman (d.566/1170), GAL G I, 402, which is preserved in the Ambrosiana Library in Milan (C 117(II)), see the catalogue by Löfgren and Traini, vol. II, p. 178, No. 373). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
Also on this page, mostly written in the same hand, are some shorter notes, two of which contain fragments of poetry:
-Two lines, said by a judge in poverty.
- Nine lines, said by `Amr b. al-`As (died ca. 42/663), GAS II, 284) to Mu`awiya, in praise of Ali b. Abi Talib.

- Shorter notes, of magical content.
(20) ff. 76a-78a. Kitab al-Arba`in al-Hadith al-Surdudiyya fi Fadl al-`Ilm wa-al-`Ulama' wa-al-Muta`allimin. Title on f. 76a. Collection of forty traditions relating to science, teachers and pupils. The name of the author has been added in a hand apparently different from the copyist's above the title: al-imam Abu al-`Abbas Ahmad b. `Ali al-Surdudi (not identified, but at least before 1056/1646, as this is the date of the copying of this text). This information is repeated on f. 76b, written above the beginning of the text. The Ahmad b. `Abd al-Da'im al-Safi al-Maymuni, who is mentioned in the note on f. 76a, is likewise unidentified. The authorship of this text raises a few questions, however. This Arba`un seems to be identical with MS British Library Or. 3851(8) (see Suppl. Cat. Rieu, p. 775, No. 1220), to judge from the title and first hadith quoted. In Rieu's catalogue the work is anonymous, but al-Hibshi (Mu'allafat, p. 129) ascribes the London manuscript, for reasons unknown to me, to the Zaydi imam al-Mansur bi-Allah al-Qasim b. Muhammad b. `Ali (d. 1029/1620), GAL G II, 405). The *hadith*s are given without isnad. The London MS is dated 1044-5/1634-5. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text, on Thursday 20 Gumada II 1056/1646 (f. 78a). The *hadith*s are counted with numerals, alternately written in red and ochre inks. Numerous marginal and interlinear notes, in one or more hands different from that of the copyist. f.76a: the marginal note on the authorship is an explanation of the word al-Surdudiyya in the title. On f. 76b is a marginal note, above the beginning. This note reads as if it were the original introduction to this collection of arba`un hadithan. On f. 78a there follows a tradition on the authority of Anas b. Malik.
(21) f. 78b. Four poems, that were written, according to a note at the end of the fourth one, on the tomb of the Prophet Ayyub, the Job of the Old Testament. It is possible that this note is only concerned with the last of the four fragments. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
a. Poem of three lines (rhyming in -lā).
b. Poem of eight lines (rhyming in -nā). All lines begin with the word subhana.
c. Poem of 19 lines (rhyming in -rī).
d. Poem of ten lines (rhyming in -lū).
(22) ff.79a-b. Mas'ala fi al-Taklif. Title and author on f. 79a. Notes on the age when a child is obliged to observe religious duties like fasting, by the Zaydi imam al-Mansur billah al-Qasim b. Muhammad b. `Ali (d. 10291 1620), GAL G II, 405). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text. f. 79a.
(23) f. 79b. Mas'ala fi Hukm ma yu`tihi al-Imam aw Walihi li-Ahl al-Kaylat wa-al-Masarif. Title and author on f. 79b. Question asked of, and answer given by, the Zaydi imam al-Mu'ayyad billah Muhammad b. al-Qasim b. Muhammad (d. 1054/1644), GAL S II, 560). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text. According to a note on the bottom of the page, the present text was copied from a manuscript which, in turn, was copied from an autograph of al-Mu'ayyad bi-All ah.
(24) f.80a. A question asked by the faqih Ahmad b. Musa Suhayl (unidentified), with the answer given by the Zaydi imam al-Mansur billah al-Qasim b. Muhammad b. `Ali (d.

1029/1620), GAL G II, 405), concerning the type of turban used in the Yemen at that time. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
On the same page is written in a crude, more recent hand a poetical fragment of 13 lines, rhyming in -īhā.
(25) ff. 80b-82a. Al-Radd `ala Ahl al-Zaygh min al-Mushabbihin. Title and author on f. 80b; title also on f. 82a. The manuscript has a variant reading of the title. Treatise against anthropomorphists by the Zaydi imam al-Hadi ila al-Haqq Yahya b. al-Husayn (d. 298/911), GAS I, 563 and 566, No.22; see also al-Hibshi, Mu'allafat, p.6, No. 26 and Van Arendonk, Debuts, p. 271. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
(26) f. 82a. Mas'ala fi al-`Ilm wa-al-Qudra wa-al-Irada wa-al-Mashi'a. Title and author on f. 82a. Short text on these two pairs of attributes of God, by the Zaydi imam al-Hadi ila al-Haqq Yahya b. al-Husayn (d. 298/911), GAS I, 563, No. 18). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
(27) ff. 82b-85a. Masa'il `an al-Qasim b. Ibrahim. Title and author on f. 82b.
Questions asked of, and answered by, the Zaydi imam al-Qasim b. Ibrahim (d. 246/860), GAS I, 561) on several topics of the Zaydi theology. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text on Wednesday 26 Gumada II 1056/1646 (f. 85a). Above the beginning of this text is a title, which apparently applies to the mas'ala.
(28) On ff. 83b-85a a text by the Zaydi imam al-Qasim b. Ibrahim (d. 246/860), GAS I, 561), copied by the same copyist follows: Kalam fi al-Imam al-Muftarad al-Ta`a.
Then the series of questions begun on f. 82b (No. 27) is continued.
(29) f.85b. Three poetical fragments, copied from a copy in the hand of al-Mansur billah al-Qasim b. Muhammad b. `Ali (d. 10291 1620), GAL G II, 405). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
a. The first fragment consists of one line only. It is said to have been written in a Byzantine church, apparently by an iron hand which came out of the air.
b. Fragment of 14 lines, rhyming in -min.
c. Fragment of four lines, rhyming in -lī.
(30) ff. 86a-b. Khabar Bahlul wa-`Ali b. al-Husayn. Title on f. 86a. A fragment taken from a work, entitled Hikayat al-Salihin (f. 86a), of which here the third hikaya is given. It treats of the encounter in al-Basra of a certain Bahlul and `Ali b. al-Husayn b. `Ali b. Abi Talib. The latter makes in the course of their conversation a number of pious and moralistic remarks without Bahlul knowing his identity. Copied by a copyist different from the one who copied the preceding texts.
On f 86a is a marginal note containing a Du `a al-Istikhara, copied by the copyist of this text from a text in the hand of the imam al-Mahdi li-Din Allah Ahmad b. Yahya Ibn al-Murtada (d. 840/1437), GAL G II, 187. On f 86b is written, by the same copyist, a fragment taken from a work, entitled Kitab Safwat al-Ikktiyar min Nafa'is al-Akyar, containing a saying by the Prophet Muhammad concerning the special merits which may be derived from a certain, specified, supererogatory salat.
(31) ff. 87a-b. Several shorter notes, taken from other works, and copied by the copyist who copied text No. 29 and numerous preceding ones in this volume:
a. (f.87a): Several hadith, taken from various places of al-Taqrib al-Muntaza` min al-Targhib wal-Tarhib which is an abstract by Salim b. al-Murtada (of uncertain date, see GAL GI, 367) from the collection of Traditions Kitab al-Targhib wal-Tarhib by `Abd al-`Azim b. 'Abd al-Qawi al-Mundhiri (d. 656/1258), GAL G I, 367). In the margin is a note, taken from the exemplar of the copyist (al-umm).

b. (f. 87a): A tradition on the authority of Abd al-Malik b. Abi Maysara, to the effect that the igma` of all fuqaha' of the amsar in all periods is established on five words which are transmitted from the Prophet Muhammad.
c. (ff. 87a-b): A short note on how scribes should correct their errors in writing.
d. (f.87b): A short note taken from a work with the title Rawd al-Riyahin (?), and another, taken from a work entitled Kitab al-Hayawan. Beginning:
(32) ff. 88a-b. Maw`izat al-Nabi li-Abdallah b. Salam. Description, given by the Prophet Muhammad to his companion, the convert to Islam from Judaism, `Abdallah b. Salam (d. 43/663), GAS I, 304), of Hell and its population. It is possible that this fragment belongs to a version of the Masa'il which are transmitted on the authority of `Abdallah b. Salam. According to a note at the end the exemplar of the copyist was incomplete at the end. See on the questions of `Abdallah b. Salam also G.F. Pijper, Het boek der duizend vragen. Leiden 1924. Copied in a hand different from the preceding ones. The copyist is possibly a Husayn b. Ahmad (f. 88b). Also on this page, in a different hand, possibly that of the copyist of text No. 31, is a note (sifa) on sweet and salt waters.
(33) f. 89a. A bibliographical note on Abu Hamid Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Ghazzali (d. 505/1111), GAL G I, 420). Possibly copied by the copyist of text No. 31 in this volume.
(34) ff.89b-90a. Qasidat Shihab al-Din Ahmad b. `Alawan. Title and author on f. 89b. Qasida of 43 lines, rhyming in -ud/-id, of religious content, by Shihab al-Din Ahmad b. `Alawan (unidentified. He may be identical with the Ahmad b. `Attaf b. `Alawan, mentioned in GAL G I, 449 (died in 665/1266). The Leiden MS Or. 308 (2), which contains a collection of poetry and letters by the latter (see Voorhoeve, Handlist, p.459), does not contain the qasida given here. In the Milan catalogue by O. Löfgren and R. Traini, vol. II (Vicenza 1981), the name of a poet Ahmad b. `Alawan occurs several times (e.g. p. 17, No. 17, No. 28 X, p. 202, No. 419 II (m), p.337, No. 666 II (a) and p.361, No. 715 I). On pp. 17, 202 and 361 he is presented as an author of prose and poetry, on p. 337 as the person in whose praise a poem was composed). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
(35) f. 90b. Notes from several other works.
a. Note, taken from the commentary Sharh al-Maqamat) by al-Qasim b. al-Qasim al-Wasiti (d. 626/1229), see al-Zirikli, al-A`lam (2nd edition), VI, p. 14, on al-Maqamat by al-Qasim b. `Ali al-Hariri (d. 516/1122), GAL G I, 276. The fragment contains an anecdote on the Prophet Nuh. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
b. Note, taken from al-Gawhar al-Shaffaf by `Abdallah b. al-Hadi b. Yahya b. Hamza b. Rasulallah (lived c. 810/1407), GAL S I, 509, No. 6), a compendium to al-Kashshaf, the commentary on the Qur'an by Mahmud b. `Umar al-Zamakhshari (d. 538/1144, cf. GAL GI, 290).
(36) ff. 91 a-b. Al-Risala al-Nasiha li-al-Mutadhakkir al-Fadiha lil-Mutakabbir. Title and author on f. 91 a. Treatise by the Zaydi imam al-Mahdi li-Din Allah Ahmad b. Yahya Ibn al-Murtada (d. 840/1437), GAL S II, 244 and 246 VI. The layout gives the impression that the following text in this volume (No. 37) may be considered as a poetical sequel to this text, possibly even as part of it. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.

(37) ff. 91 b-93b. Al-Zahra al-Zahira bi-Tahqir al-Dunya wa-Tafkhim al-Akhira wa-Tartib Ba`that al-Anbiya' wa-al-Du`a' ila Sirat al-Awliya' wa-al-Tahdir min Taqlid al-Ashqiya'. Title on f. 91b. Authorship established by wa-hiya qawlunā (f. 91 b). Poem with religious exhortations, containing 99 lines, rhyming in nūn, by the Zaydi imam al-Mahdi li-Din Allah Ahmad b. Yahya Ibn al-Murtada (d. 840/1437), GAL S II, 244 and 246 VII). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text on Sunday 29 Gumada II 1056/1646 (f. 93b). The poem reads as an immediate sequel to, or perhaps as the latter half of, the preceding text, as if it is quoted in the course of that text. As the title already indicates, the poem treats of a number of prophets and saints. Their names are highlighted in red ink. In the 54th line mention of the Prophet Muhammad is made.
Also on f.93b are two short poems, without indication of authorship.
a. Poem of 13 lines, rhyming in -ūl / -īl.
b. Poem of 5 lines, rhyming in -ūm / -īm.
(38) ff. 94a-b. Qasida. Title and author on f. 94a. Qasida of 49 lines, rhyming in -yā, by the Zaydi imam al-Mutawakkil `ala Allah Ahmad b. Sulayman (d. 566/1170), GAL S I, 699. According to al-Hibshi (Mu'allafat, p. 34, No. 8) this qasida was composed for Nashwan b. Sa`id al-Himyari (d. 573/1178), GAL G 1, 300), but in the present manuscript there is no indication of this. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text. On f. 94b are three shorter poetical fragments, copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
a. Fragment ascribed to the imam Muhammad b. ldris al-Shafi`i (d. 204/820), GAS I, 485 and 490 XII), or Abu Nuwas (died c. 199/814), GAS II, 543), consisting of 9 lines, rhyming in -īb / -ūb.
b. Fragment of 2 lines, rhyming in -aǧ. The lines are said to have been inscribed by a Byzantine king over one of his gates.
c. One line.
On f. 95a is a fragment on law, now crossed out. On the lower part of the page are several shorter notes, consecutively written, and partly illegible since a slip of paper has been pasted over the margin, covering part of the text. The first note is on the conditions needed in order to acquire the sciences (al-`ulum).
(39) f . 95b. Mas'ala. Titles on f. 95b. Question, with answer divided into seven points, apparently taken from a work with the title al-Bayan al-Shafi `an al-Burhan al-Kafi, which may be the work on Zaydi law with that title, written by al-qadi `Imad al-Din Yahya b. Ahmad (lived in the first half of the 9th 15th century), GAL G II, 186). Possibly copied by the copyist of the preceding text but in a minute script.
(40) f. 95b. Sifat al-Mu'min. Title on f. 95b. An extract taken a work of the Zaydi scholar Muhammad b. al-Hasan al-Daylami (lived 707/1308), GAL S II, 241). Probably incomplete at the end. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
(41) ff. 96a-b. A number of shorter texts, containing magical procedures, with drawings, amulets (mostly on f . 96a) and invocative prayers (mostly on f. 96b).
(42) ff. 97a-109a. Acephalous text treating several basic sufi terms and concepts. Copied by the same copyist who copied text No. 38 (and a considerable number of others as well) in this volume. In the colophon, f. 109a, he gives a number of details: the copying was completed on Saturday in the last third of Rabi` II 1056/1646, and he styles himself as the owner of the manuscript and gives as his full name: al-Husayn b. Ahmad b. Gar Allah b. Nusayr al-Hawfi al-Zaydi al-`Adli. A collation note on the same page is dated Friday, in the last third of Gumada II 1061/1651 in San`a' (?). In the colophon the book is referred to as Mukhtasar.

(43) f. 109b. A note, written in a crude hand, describing events which took place in 1195/1780-1781. Part of the text was cut off when the MS was trimmed.
(44) ff. 110a-b. Fasl al-Murtada. Title and author on f. 110a. Probably a section from a greater work by the Zaydi imam al-Murtada li-Din Allah Abu al-Qasim Muhammad b. Yahya (d. 301/922), GAS I, 567. More precise references are lacking however. The present fragment deals with questions of Zaydi theology and law. Copied by the same copyist who wrote No.42 of this volume.
(45) ff. 111 a-b. Several *hadith*s, taken from various sources. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
a. (f.111a): a Tanbih on two mythological cities, allegedly taken from the Kitab` Aga'ib al-Malakut, by which is probably meant the work of that title by al-Kisa'i (lived beginning 5th/11th century), GAL G I, 350).
b. (f. 111a): hadiths of narrative nature, one on the authority of Wahb b. Munabbih and one on the authority of Gabir b. `Abdallah. Both treat of the Banu Isra'il. The third one, on the authority of al-Sha`bi, deals with the discussion between a hunter and his prey and how the latter teaches the hunter three things in exchange for its release.
c. (f. 111b): Several *hadith*s, one on the authority of the Prophet Muhammad on the thousand fears which the believer must overcome before he reaches Paradise. The second describes the headgear (qalansuwa) of the Negus of Ethiopia, as it was seen by the followers of the Prophet Muhammad who participated in the first higra. The third tells how al-Hasan al-Basri teaches a man al-ism al-a` zam. The fourth contains six objections against haste.
d. (f. 111b): Three short poems, one of three lines. The second one contains four lines ascribed to a-Husayn b. Ali b. Abi Talib (d. 61/680). The third one contains five lines in the same rhyme, being the heavenly answer which al-Husayn heard.
(46) ff. 112a-b. Several fragments copied by the same copyist as the preceding text and taken from:
a. (f. 112a): Kitab al-Baraka fi Madh al-Sa`y wa-al-Haraka. Title and author on f. 112a. Eight lines, from the treatise in praise of endeavour and labour by the Yemeni author Muhammad b. `Abd al-Rahman al-Hubayshi al-Wisali (d. 782/1382), GAL G II, 189, where the name of the author is given in a slightly different form).
b. (f. 112a): A hadith on the merit of reciting the ayat al-kursi, three lines.
c. *(*f 112a) : A fragment of three lines taken from a work with the title al-Irshad, containing an anecdote on Jesus.
d. (ff. 112a-b): Fragments taken from a work entitled Shams al-Akbar, by which is probably meant the work with that title by Humayd al-Qurashi (lived 610/1213), GAL S I, 609). Quotations are from the 60th, 53rd and 54th chapters.
e. (f. 112b): A question asked of `Ali b. Abi Talib.

f. (f. 112b, in the margin): Du`a' al-Farag. Invocative prayer, transmitted on the authority of al-qadi Abu al-Qasim b. `Ali b. al-Muhassin b. `Ali a-Tanukhi (unidentified, but apparently the son or grandson of the author of al-Farag ba`d alShidda, see GAL G I, 155). There follows a quotation taken from a work entitled Dhikr al-Targhib wa-al-Tarhib, apparently the book of that title by Abd al-`Azim b. `Abd al-Qawi al-Mundhiri (d. 656/1258), GAL GI, 367) on the merit of this prayer.
(47) ff. 113a-114a. Wasiyyat Luqman al-Hakim li-Ibnih `Uthman. Title on f. 113a. Exhortations by the legendary sage Luqman (see on him GAL S II, 65, where no mention is made of this text, however) to his son `Uthman. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text. The exhortations are all addressed to his son (ya ibni or: ya bunayya).
(48) f. 114a. Wasiyyat `Ali b. Abi Talib li-al-Hasan wa-al-Husayn. Title on f. 114a. Exhortation addressed by `Ali b. Abi Talib (d. 40/661) to his two sons, when he was fatally struck. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text. The copyist gives as the possible origin of this text the Nahg al-Balagha by al-Sharif al-Murtada (d. 436/1044), GAL G I, 405. In the lower margin of this page there follows a note, taken from a work with the title Kitab al-Furu`, concerning the gender of the angels.
(49) ff. 114b-115b. Several poetical fragments, copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
a. (f. 114b): This fragment, and possibly also the other fragments on the page, is ascribed to `Ali b. Abi Talib (d. 40/661), GAS II, 277). Three lines, rhyming in lām. The same lines occur in Kitab Anwar al- `Uqul fi Ash`ar Wasi al-Rasul, the alphabetically arranged Diwan of `Ali b. Abi Talib (see MS Leiden, Or. 2683 [Voorhoeve, Handlist, p. 16], f. 44a*).*
b. (f. 114b): Fragment of two lines, rhyming in lām, identical with the one given in the Kitab Anwar al- `Uqul fi Ash`ar Wasi al-Rasul, f. 45b.
c. (f. 114b): Fragment of three lines, rhyming in -rā.
d. (f: 114b): Fragment of two lines, rhyming in mīm.
e. (f: 114b): Fragment of two lines, rhyming in yā.
f. (f 114b): Fragment of seven lines, rhyming in -ānī.
g. (f. 114b): Also on this page is a fa'ida of medical nature, concerning the effects of cupping on certain days of the week and the month.
h. (f. 115a): Fragment of four lines, rhyming in a-atī, said to be by a woman (li-amra'a).
i. (f. 115a): Fragment of two lines, rhyming in nūn. See also fragments below.
k. (f. 115a): Fragment of four lines, rhyming in nūn, with a short introduction in prose.
l. (f 115a). Fragment of two lines, rhyming in `ayn.
m. (f: 115a). Fragment of two lines, rhyming in `ayn.
n. (f. 115a). Fragment of six lines, rhyming in lām.
o. (f: 115a). Fragment of three lines, rhyming in bāʾ, with a short introduction in prose.
p. (f: 115b). Five lines in prose, containing a hadith on the authority of Abu Dharr.
q. (f. 115b). Fragment of four lines, rhyming in nūn.
r. (f. 115b). Fragment of two lines, rhyming in yāʾ.
s. (f. 115b). Fragment of five lines, rhyming in lām. The first misra ` of the first line conveys the same meaning as that in fragment i, described above.

t. (f. 115b). Fragment of eight lines, rhyming in mīm, by the same, unmentioned, poet who wrote the preceding piece (lahu aydan).
(50) ff. 116a-b. Three poems, probably copied in a hand different from the preceding copyist's.
a. *(*f. 116a): Qasidat Ibn al-Adib. Title and author on f. 116a. Qasida of 27 lines, rhyming in -ālī, by Ibn al-Adib (unidentified). A number of key words in the poem have been written in red ink. These are: al-malik (line 5), wazīruhu (line 7*), qādi* (line 9), wali (line 11), sahib harb (line 13*), al-tagir* (line 15), dhu mihna (line 17), `azab and muzawwag (line 18), and filaha (line 21).
b. (f. 116a): Al-Abyat al-Hikmiyyat. Title on f. 116a. Poem of 14 lines, rhyming in fā'. No author is indicated.
c. (f. 116b): Maw`iza Hasana Zagira li-Dhawi al-Nuha. Title on f. 116b. Poem of 29 lines, rhyming in -mā. No author is indicated.
(51) f. 117a. Fragments, possibly copied by the copyist of text No. 49 in this volume.
a. Poetical fragment of eight lines, rhyming in -alū. The first misra` of the first line seems to be missing.
b. Two fragments, apparently taken from a work of the genre Qisas al-Anbiya'.
(52) ff. 117b-118b. Fragments, possibly copied by the copyist of text No. 50 in this volume.
a. (f. 117b). A note of astronomical nature, on the four seasons and the 28 manazil, with a gadwal. After the gadwal the text is continued in the inner margin of the page.
b. (f. 117b). A poem dealing with matters of astronomy of 16 lines, rhyming in mīm.
c. (f. 118a). Two fragments taken from a work with the title al-Tasfiya by Muhammad b. al-Hasan al-Daylami (lived 707/1308), GAL S II, 241).
d. (f. 118a). Fragment taken from a work with the title Kitab Salwat al-`Arifin. There is no indication of the author. Brockelmann mentions two works of this title, compiled by al-Hakim al-Tirmidi (died c. 285/898), GAL S I, 356) and by Abu Khalaf Muhammad b. `Abd al-Malik b. Khalaf al-Tabari (d. 470/1077), GAL S I, 773). At the end are two lines of poetry, rhyming in sīn.
e. (f. 118b). Prayer (du`a'), to be said by the sick, with indication of its reward.
f. (f. 118b). A short note on five counsels contained in the Torah.
g. (f. 118b). A short note on the good repute (sit) of the believer in heaven and its relation with his situation on earth.
h. (f. 118b). Two lines of poetry, rhyming in -ān.
i. (f. 118b). One line of poetry.
k. (f. 118b). Fragment taken from the work `Aga'ib al-Malakut, by al-Kisa'i (lived beginning 5th/11th century), GAL G I, 350).
ff. 119a-b. On paper which is more recent than the surrounding leaves several notes are written in two or more rather crude hands. There seems to be no connection with the texts preceding or following them. Most probably this leaf was originally preserved loosely between ff. 118-120a.

(54) (ff. 120a-139b). Kitab Sharh Gawahir al-Akhbar fi Sirat Al al-Nabi al-Mukhtar. Title on f. 120a; author on ff. 120a, 139b. Anonymous commentary (unless it was written by the poet himself) on al-Qasida al-Bassama by Sarim al-Din Ibrahim b. Muhammad b. Abdallah Ibn al-Wazir (d. 914/1508), GAL G II, 188). The qasida, which contains here some 230 lines, rhyming in rā', treats of the history of the family of the Prophet Muhammad and the missionaries of his cause. The qasida is known by several other names: al-Qasida al-Bassama al-Sughra, Bassamat Al al-Bayt, Gawahir al-Akhbar fi Siyar al-A'imma al-Hadin al-Akyar (see Catalogue of the Milan collection by O. Löfgren and R. Traini, I, p. 196 and II, p. 94, and GAL S II, 248) or Qasida fi Al al-Bayt (GAL G II, 188).
Possibly copied in several different hands in succession: ff. 120a-127b, 128a-137b, 138a-139b, but this is difficult to ascertain. The lines of the qasida are usually, but not always, written in red ink, the commentary in black ink.
(55) ff. 140b-141b. Nubdha Mustakhraga min al-Imam Ga`far al-Sadiq. Title and author on f 140b. An extract from a work on gafr by Ga`far al-Sadiq (d. 148/765), GAS I, 528, and T. Fahd, La divination arabe, p. 222), ascribed to Muhyi al-Din Muhammad b. Ali Ibn al-`Arabi (d. 63811240), GAL G I, 448), of eschatological content. Copied by a copyist who is not yet represented in this volume.
After the beginning the author starts his eschatological discourse, taking as a starting point the text of Qur'an 3:26-27.
On f. 141a the year 1093/1682 is mentioned as the result of a calculation, possibly made in order to determine the year of appearance of the mahdi al-zaman.
On f. 141a a qasida of 19 lines begins, rhyming in -lā.
On f. 141b is an owner's or reader's note, signed al-sayyid Gamal al-Din ... (?) b. al-Husayn b. al-`Umar (?) al-Waghlani al-Zaydi, and dated Muharram 1143/1730.
(56) ff. 142a-149b. A medical treatise of general content, without mention of title or author. It consists mainly of an enumeration of the sympathetic properties (al-kawass al-tibbiyya, or: al-tayyiba) and of proven cures (mugarrabat). When authorities are mentioned at all, they are the Prophet Muhammad and `Ali b. Abi Talib (e.g. f. 143b). Copied by a copyist who is not yet represented in this volume. There are occasional marginal and interlinear notes in several hands. Black ink with rubrics.
(57) f. 150a. Notes of medical nature, written in a hand different from the preceding copyist's. Several works are mentioned: K. al-Thamarat, K. al-Kawass, Adwiyat Muhammad b. Zakariya' <al-Razi>.
(58) f. 150b. Several shorter texts and notes, copied by the copyist of the preceding text.
a. `Azima. Amulet text, with a simple magical square (three rows, sum 15).
b. Another `azima, amulet text.
c. An amulet (ruqya) on ailments of the head, with reference to Qur'an 6:13.
On the same page are several shorter notes and quotations, partly cut off where they were written in the margin, since the volume was trimmed when it was rebound.
(59) ff. 151a-152b. Several notes of varying length, written in a number of hands.
a. (f. 151a). A note (tanbih) on the subject of Arabic grammar, concerning the word la yta, taken from the Mughni al-Labib by Ibn Hisham (d. 761/1360), GAL G II, 23). The quotation given here may be found in the edition of Cairo 1328-1329/1910-1911, vol. I, pp. 206-207.

b. (f. 151a). A note taken from the same work, concerning the word kull. See the edition, vol. I, from p. 153 onwards. On the same page are several shorter notes, some in the margin partly cut off when the volume was rebound.
c. (f. 151b). A note taken from the same work, concerning the word idh. See the edition, vol. I, p. 73.
d. (f 151b). A note taken from the same work, concerning the word ay. See the edition, vol. I, p. 68.
e. (f. 151b). A note taken from the same work, concerning the word amma. See the edition, vol. I, p. 52.
f. (f. 151b). A note taken from the same work, concerning the word illa. See the edition, vol. I, p. 64.
g. (f 152a). A note taken from the same work, concerning the word am. See the edition, vol. I, pp. 41-42. Also on this page, written in a different hand, are notes on grammatical subjects.
h. (f. 152b). A note probably taken from a work on Qur'an exegesis. Written in a hand different from that of the preceding copyist's. The note contains grammatical remarks on Qur'an 11:81. A work with the title Sharh al-Mufassal is referred to, and also the name of Ibn al-Hagib (d. 646/1249), GAL G I, 305) is mentioned.
i. (f. 152b). A note, written on the bottom of the page, also on grammatical subjects. Several authorities are mentioned. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
(60) ff. 153a-155a. Bur' Sa`a. Title on ff. 153a, 155a; author on f. 153a. Treatise on those ailments that can be healed within an hour, by Abu Bakr Muhammad b. Zakariya' al-Razi (d.311/925, 925), GAS III, 274 and 284, No. 10). Copied by a copyist whose hand does not seem to have appeared previously in this volume.
The author proceeds to enumerate ailments, from the top of the head (al-mafriq) to the feet (al-qadam) as far as they can be healed within an hour.
(61) f. 155a. Du`a' Muqatil b. Sulayman. Title and author on f. 155a. Prayer by Muqatil b. Sulayman (d. 150/767), GAS I, 36) taken, as it appears, from a work with the title Kitab al-Magmu`. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
(62) ff. 155b-157a. Khutba. Title on ff. 155b, 156b; author on f. 155b. Two sermons, both probably by the Zaydi imam al-Hadi li-Din Allah `Izz al-Din b. al-Hasan (d. 900/1494), GAL G II, 188 and al-Hibshi, Mu'allafat, p. 113. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text. f. 155b. Beginning of the first sermon. F. 156b. Beginning of the second sermon.
(63) f. 157b. Khabar Hasan Sahih. A tradition, taken from a work by Malik b. Anas al-Samarqandi. On the evidence of the nisba, it is unlikely that the founder of the Malikite school is meant. The fragment treats of the substance of which the earth and barley are created, as explained by Musa to the Prophet Muhammad, and the meaning of the letters in the word al-khubz (bread). Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
(64) ff. 157b-159b. Shorter notes, quotations and fragments, taken from several works. Copied in several hands. Those notes that were written near the edge of the pages were partly cut off when the volume was rebound.

a. (f. 157b): A note, copied from the handwriting of al-qadi Magd al-Din Muhammad b. Ya`qub al-Shirazi al-Firuzabadi (d. 817/1415), GAL G II, 181), on a procedure of popular magic.
b. (f. 157b): A note, taken from the hadith, on long garments.
c. (f. 157b): A note on the contraction in the word wa-yalummiha, apparently taken from a work with the title al-Durr al-Masun, which is probably the grammatical commentary on the Qur'an by Ahmad b. Yusuf Ibn al-Samin (d.756/1355), GAL G II, 111.
d. (f. 157b): Another fragment, taken from al-Durr al-Masun, containing a commentary on Qur'an 2:6.
e. (f. 158a): A note on the grammatical term taqdir, the implication of a missing syntactical part.
f. (f. 158a): A note on the same term, taken from the commentary by Khalid b. Abdallah al-Azhari (d. 905/1499), GAL G II, 238) on the grammar book al-Muqaddima al-Agurrumiyya by Muhammad b. Muhammad Ibn Agurrum (d. 723/1323), GAL G II, 237).
g. (f: 158a): A note on the same term, taken from a work by Mahmud b. `Umar al.-Zamakhshari (d. 538/1144), GAL G I, 290.
h. (f. 158b): A note on the philosophical and grammatical terms tarad and `aks, taken from a work by Sarim al-Din Dawud b. Ibrahim b. Muhammad (?), and copied from the handwriting of Siddiq Nasir al-Sawadi. Also on this page are several lexicographical notes, taken from al-Qamus and al-Sahhah. One is taken from a work entitled Tahdhib al-Kamal fi Asma' al-Rigal by Yusuf b. `Abd al-Rahman al-Mizzi (d.742/1341), GAL G II, 64).
i. (f. 159a): A gloss on several lines from a work entitled al-Shafi, apparently on questions of Arabic grammar. Due to the tight binding, the first line cannot now be read.
k. (f. 159b): Notes on Arabic grammar, taken from al-Manhal al-Safi by Muhammad b. `Umar al-Damamini (died c. 827/1424), GAL G II, 26 and GAL G II, 193).
(65) ff. 160a-b. Al-Risala al-Fa'iqa Dhat al-Ma`ani al-Ra'iqa. Title and author on f: 160a. Treatise on al- ta`a li-al-imam and related subjects by Sarim al-Din Ibrahim b. Muhammad b. Ahmad b. `Izz al-Din, who composed it in the beginning of Gumada I 1056/1646, during the reign of the main al-Mutawakkil `ala Allah Isma`il b. al-imam al-Mansur bi-Allah al-Qasim (d. 1087/1676), GAL S II, 560). He is possibly identical with Huriya al-Sa`di (d. 1083/1672), Zirikli, al-A`lam (2nd edition) I, 64. Copied in Ragab 1056/1646 in the house of the imam al-Hadi in Sa`da (f. 160b). On this information, the copyist is probably the same as that of several other texts in this volume. (See the colophons on ff. 55b, 70a, 109a).
(66) ff. 161a-b. Al-Abyat al-Fakhriyya fi Usul al-Din. Title and author on f. 161a. Qasida on questions of Mu`tazilite dogmatics, consisting of 34 lines in the *basit*metre, rhyming in -lām, by the Zaydi imam al-Wathiq billah al-Mutahhar b. Muhammad b. al-Mutahhar (d. 793/1390-1391 or 803/1400-1401), GAL S II, 232 and al-Hibshi, Mu'allafat, pp. 86, 88). The text is identical with MS Berlin Glas. 128(3) (Ahlwardt No. 9667) and MS Milano, Ambrosiana, B 74(VII. f), see Cat. Löfgren and Traini, vol. 2, p. 94, No. 198. In the MS the name of the author is erroneously given (f. 161a) as al-imam Muhammad b. al-Mutahhar, who is the author's father, the imam al-Mahdi li-Din Allah (d. 729/1329), GAL S II, 241 and al-Hibshi, Mu'allafat, p. 64). Possibly copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.

(67) ff. 161b-162a. Qasida. No title; author on f. 161b. A poem of 21 lines, rhyming in -lām, apparently meant as a reaction to the preceding text, by the Zaydi imam al-Mahdi li-Din Allah Ahmad b. Yahya Ibn al-Murtada (d. 840 1437), GAL S II, 244) as quoted by Badr al-Din Muhammad b. Yahya b. al-Husayn al-Qasimi (possibly of the 9th-10th/15th-16th century) in his commentary on the preceding text (al-Abyat al-Fakhriyla), entitled al-La'ali al-Badriyya fi Sharh al-Abyat al-Fakhriyya. Copied by the same copyist as the preceding text. In the margin of f. 162a is a quotation from al-Zamakhshari's Kashshaf. The text of this marginal note was partly cut off when the manuscript was trimmed.
(68) f. 162b. Two poems, copied by the same copyist as the preceding text.
a. Qasidat al-Istighfara. No title; author on f. 162b. Qasida of 14 lines, rhyming in -lī, of which the first twelve lines begin with the words astaghfir Allah. The author is mentioned as a!-imam al-Mahdi. It is impossible to say which of the five Zaydi imams who go by the name al-Mahdi composed this poem. The same text is available in Milan, Ambrosiana Library, Y 202 sup (Q.6.d) and D 373 (VIII), see the Catalogue by Löfgren and Traini, vol. I, p. 190 and vol. II, p. 319.
b. A poem of seven lines, rhyming in tā', ascribed to `Ali b. Abi Talib (d. 40/ 661), GAS II, 277). On the fly-leaves (ff. 164b-165a) are some shorter texts:
- a. (f. 164b): Poem of six lines, rhyming in –mīm.
-b. On f. 165a, which is pasted to the final board, are two owners' notes: in one the name `Imad al-Din is given. The second note, which is written in three columns, contains the name Husayn b. Ismail b. `Ali b. Isma`il b. Hasan b. Yahya b. Mahdi b. al-Hadi b. 'Ali al-Shami, and is dated Friday 3 Sawwal 1303/1886. This note contains also a short prayer. Also on this page is another short prayer, and an admonition to the lender (mu`ir) of the book.

Persian, paper, 294 pp., nasta`liq script, dated 1033 AH (p. 291), full-leather Islamic binding with coloured ornamentations, bound-over with Middle Hill boards. Owner's seal print by Mukhtar Tabataba'I, dated 1176 (p. 291).
Diwan of Baba Fighani (10th cent. AH).
Earlier provenance: Captain Mignan 17 (inside front cover). He may be Captain Robert Mignan, a traveller in the Middle East (Robert Mignan, Travels in Chaldaea, including a Journey from Bussorah to Bagdad, [...] performed on foot in 1827. London 1829 [354 E 27]; Id., A Winter journey through Russia, the Caucasian Alops and Georgia, Thence across mount Zagros, by the pass of Xenophon and the Ten Thousand Geeks, into Koordistan. London 1839 (2 vols.). Or he may be Captain Thomas Mignan, who has known Sir Thomas Phillipss, as becomes clear from an inscription in a Persian manuscript containing poetry by Shah Qasim in the University of Pennsylvania Library, saying: 'Given by Captain Thomas Mignan to Sir Thos Phillipps Bt 1827'.
Then the MS went to Sir Thomas Phillipps (1792-1872), MS 3917, and was bound in the familiar 'Middle Hill boards', bound over the original binding. Written on the spine is: 'Mignan MSS. Persian MS. 3917'.
Provenance: Purchased in July 1975 from Mr. J.W. van Meeuwen, antiquarian bookseller in The Hague, who may have picked up the MS from a London auction.

Or. 14.278
Arabic, Persian and other, European languages, paper, 257 ff., parchment binding.
Notebook, probably originating from Henricus Sike (d. 1712).
The ascription of this notebook to Sike is uncertain but probable. A great number of notes in the part between ff. 9b-94b are signed with the letters H.S. The compiler of the book knew Arabic and Hebrew quite well, and to judge from this notebook he was interested in, and conversant with, Greek and Latin literatures. Occasionally there are notes in Italian, French, Spanish and Persian as well. The basic language of the notes, however, is mostly Latin. A few notes are dated 1702 (ff. 41b, 46b, 66b) and two as late as March 1703 (f. 73b).
Heinrich Sike (whose name is sometimes also spelt Syke) was born in Bremen. He died by his own hand in Cambridge in 1712, where he had become Professor of Hebrew. He was succeeded by Simon Ockley (1678-1720). He was one of the teachers of the Utrecht Orientalist, Hadrianus Reland (1676-1718). He enrolled as a student in Utrecht in 1704 (Album Studiosorum Academiae Rheno-Traiectinae 1636-1886 (Utrecht 1886), p. 106), but this does not mean that he actually started his study at that date. He must have done that much earlier. A few of his manuscripts, which he had apparently brought with him, were used by Reland in his De religione Mohammedica libri duo (Utrecht ^{1}1705, ^{2}1716) and are listed by Reland in an appendix at the end of his book.
Evidence which could point to a connection between the present notebook and Sike are the texts, listed below as Nos. 5, 6, 11 and 12. From this it becomes clear that there is a link between this notebook and the activities of the Utrecht Orientalists in the first decade of the 18th century. The initials H.S., which occur frequently in the notes, make Henricus Sike the logical choice for the authorship of the notes.

Sike's reputation endures because of his edition and Latin translation of the Arabic text of the Ingil al-Tufuliyya, the apocryphal Childhood Gospel (Utrecht 1697), but in this notebook there is no mention of that work. See also on Sike: C. F. de Schnurrer, Bibliotheca Arabica (Halle 1811), pp. 477-8 (No. 412), with some crude references to Sike's suicide, and J. Nat, De studie van de Oostersche talen in Nederland in de 18e en de 19e eeuw (Purmerend 1929), pp. 12, 16, and the references quoted there.
MS on paper; watermark: horn; 257 ff.; 30.5 x 20 cm; black and brown inks; throughout the notebook probably only one hand can be observed; composition of the quires: IV(7); VI(19), IV(27), 23V(257); the first leaf is unnumbered and used as a fly-leaf and f. 257 is also a fly-leaf; contemporary vellum binding: on the back of the binding is written: INSCRIPTIONES ARABICAE.
The volume contains:
(1) f 1b. Notes on wine. References to Arabic and classical Latin texts are given.
(2) ff. 2a-4b. Annotata quaedam ad Danielem. Notes on the Book of Daniel in the Old Testament. Hebrew words with their explanations in Latin are given with reference to Arabic, Syriac, Hebrew and Greek texts. ff 5a-b. Blank.
(3) ff.6a-8a. Extracts taken from a letter, written in Rome.
a. (ff. 6a-7a): Errori principali di quelli, che eserchitano l'Orationi di Quiete. In the margin of f. 6a the origin of this Italian text is indicated : Ex Epistola quadam Roma de Quietistis scripta.
b. f.7-8a): Promotio Pauli III ad Cardinalatum. French text. In the margin of f. 7b the origin is indicated: Ex eadem.
ff. 8b-9a. Blank.
(4) ff. 9b-94b. Notes on a great variety of subjects, mostly concerning Greek and Latin literature, but Arabic and Hebrew references are frequently given. On most pages the owner wrote a catchword in the left margin of the page, and then entered his observ-ations and references. Usually some four or five notes occupy one page. There is no order discernable in the notes, and they were probably entered as they occurred to the owner. On *ff.76b*79a and 80b-83a are dialogues of the Apostles in Greek. There are numerous blank pages in the course of these notes, and also at the end: ff. 95a131b.
(5) f. 132a. The chapter on tahara, taken from the work on Hanafite fiqh, Multaqa al-Abhur, by Ibrahim b. M. b. Ibrahim al-Halabi (d. 956/1549), GAL G II, 432), copied in a European hand.
(6) ff. 134a-b. Burtoni veteris Linguae Persicae λείψανα. Additions to William Burton's Veteris Linguae Persicae λείψανα, as they are added to his Graecae linguae Historia (London 1657), pp. 61-102. The same subject is treated by Reland in his study, entitled Dissertatio de reliquiis veteris linguae Persicae (in his Dissertationes miscellaneae, vol. 2 (Utrecht 1707), pp. 95-226). In that study Reland follows the system as developed by Burton, and it is at once clear that Reland also had knowledge of the additions to Burton as they are contained in this notebook. Studies by Reland on related subjects are his inaugural oration of 1701 (Oratio pro lingua Persica et cognatis literis Orientalibus) and his Dissertatio de Persicis vocabulis Talmudis (in his Dissertationes Miscellaneae, vol. 2 (Utrecht 1707), pp. 267-324). ff. 135a-144b. Blank.

(7) ff. 145a-222b. Modest beginning of an etymological dictionary of Arabic, Hebrew and Syriac, arranged according to the order of the Hebrew alphabet. Each page has two columns: the one on the left is used for Arabic, the one on the right for Hebrew and other Semitic languages. The explanations are in Latin, with occasional quotations in Greek. Numerous pages in between are blank. Entries under each letter of the Hebrew alphabet are not listed in any particular order.
(8) ff. 223a-225b. Etymologiae. Spanish-French glossary, arranged without apparent order.
(9) ff. 226a-b. List of Spanish words with their Arabic etymology.
ff. 227a-228b. Blank.
(10) ff. 229a-234a. Vocabula Arabica. List of Arabic roots and some of their derivations, with their explanation in Latin. Reference is occasionally made to Persian, Hebrew, Syriac and Greek. There is no apparent alphabetical, or any other, arrangement. ff. 235a-238a. Blank.
(11) ff.238b-241a. Vocabula ex Carmine Tograi. A glossary on the Lamiyyat al-`Agam by al-Hasan b. Ali al-Tughra'i (d. 515/1121), GAL G I, 246. The Arabic roots, together with their derivations and occasional etymologies from Hebrew and Syriac, are given in the order of the lines of al-Tughra'i's ode. The entire ode is treated. There is no apparent connection between these notes and the edition of the Arabic text, with Jacobus Golius' Latin translation, by Matthias Anchersen (Utrecht 1707).
(12) ff. 241b-244b, 246b-251b, 255a. Glossary on the Qur'an. The Arabic roots, together with their derivations, are given. The numbers of the *sura*s are indicated, but they are presented without any apparent order. The following *sura*s are treated: 2-11, 13-16, 18-19, 24-25, 27-28, 30, 33-35, 37-38, 40-41, 46-49, 51, 54, 62, 66-67, 71-72, 76, 78, 83-86, 89-96, 98-100. These notes may, once more, point to the authorship of Sike, as he is said to have begun with a translation of the Qur'an (De Schnurrer, op. cit., p.478).
(13) ff. 244b-246b. Glossary on the Arabic text of the Tabula Cebetis, which is included in the Kitab Gawidan Khirad by Ahmad b. Muhammad Ibn Miskawayh (d. 421/1030), GAL G I, 342). The author of the notes must have used the edition by J. Elichmann (Leiden 1640), which is probably based on the manuscript which Jacobus Golius (d. 1667) had brought from the Orient. That manuscript is now in the Bodleian Library in Oxford (Marsh 662, see catalogue Uri, p. 86). The Arabic roots, together with their derivations, are given in the order of their occurrence in the text.
(14) ff. 254a-b, 255b. Glossary on part of the Ta'rikh Mukhtasar al-Duwal by Yuhanna Abu al-Farag b. al-`Ibri Bar Hebraeus (d. 1286 AD), GAL G I, 349). The notes consist of the Arabic roots with their derivations, and explanation in Latin. They concern the beginning of the 9th Dynasty in Bar Hebraeus' work, corresponding with pp. 159 ff. of E. Pococke's edition (Oxford 1663), which was probably used by the author of the notes.

A collection of reproductions on real size of transcripts of pustaha's in the Museum Pusat in Jakarta. The transcripts were made for the Bataviaasch Genootschap in 1908 by Kabidoen Hasiboean, alias Simeon. With the help of these transcripts, C.M. Pleyte has compiled the Inventaris der Bataksche handschriften van het Bataviaasch Genootschap van Kunsten en Wetenschappen, which was published as Bijlage V (p.XXI-XXXVI) in the Notulen van 1909.
De original manuscripts on treebark have in the manuscript department of the Jakarta Museum numbers with D, meaing the group of Batak manuscripts. Simeons transcripts were made on folio-size paper, usually bound together separately for each manuscript. These bound volumes have numbers in the Vt –series (Verschillende talen). Voorhoeve has used a concordance of the D and Vt numbers, which was made in 1973 by J.E. Saragih.
The reproductions were made in 1975 in Jakarta. In Leiden, another two sets of copies were made of these, one of which was sent to the Nommensen-University in Pamatang Siantar.
In his preface to the Inventaris, Pleyte says: 'In order to check the transcripts, these will have to be collated with the originals.' Apparently this was never done. Voorhoeve has used the transcripts while he was writing his thesis in Middelburg, around 1925, but later in Batavia he never took the trouble to check whether they were reliable. On the whole, the texts make on Voorhoeve the impression to have been diligently copied, but the interpunction leaves much to be desired. The illustrations have been copied freely. Some have lost during the copying process some of their clarity, but usually one may still see what was coloured red. The leaves were written on one side only. Large illustrations are sometimes continued on a facing page. The volumes have been paginated, which means that the number of written leaves is approximately half of the highest number of pages. In the reproductions one leaf is added to that for the cover. Voorhoeve in his following descriptions has changed oe in u and has corrected, where necessary, word separations and interpunction. See Codices Batacici, p. 271, and see pp. 516-517 of the same work for the concordance of the class-marks of the transliterations and the original manuscripts.

Reproduction of MS Jakarta Vt. 162, which is a transcript of MS Jakarta D 2. Pages 3-60.

(1) 3-24. Poda ni alamat pandan(g) torua di bisara na godang
na talu rambu siporhas na talu pormanuhon with a chain of transmission on p. 3: Sibeak (i.e.Sibajak) Kuta Bangum in tano Haro-haro - Guru Manalom Debata in tano Haro-haro tano Garinggang, children's name si Pondok, of the marga Munte – Guru Mamontang Laut ni adji, according to p.16 originating from tano Sitanggang Simbolon tano Tamba - Guru Pinantun ni adji, who belonged, according to p.16 to marga Sinaga. The last two are also mentioned at the end of p. 60.
According to this information, the manuscript was probably written Samosir and originates, at least as the first poda is concerned, from the Karo area. Kuta Bangun lies to the West of the Karo-territory on the Lao Bengap. Garingging (not Garinggang) is the name of the sub-marga Saragih to which the rulers of Raja (Simalungun) belonged and which according to tradition originated from Karo.
The title is somewhat misleading, because only part of the text directly treats alamat (omens) and in fact everything is part of a text about Pagar portama mula djadi surat na so taruhum asai manisia. The text consists of:
pp. 3-8. Six incantation formulas (tabas) beginning with Mari mo and directed to: Radja na di Lobetu; Radja ni Bintang Humirop; Radja Datu Pulo Haoang; Radja Datu Mortapung Bosi; Radja si Pongpang Saribu; Radja Datu Meha, and ending with hio halla ija tuanku ija djungdjunganku. The language of these tabas is Toba-zed Karo-Batak, e.g. mari mo instead of Karo mari me. On each of the six names follows, in Simeons transcription the words: 'na ras, so na hoetoeboe na ras, so na hoemodom na ras, so na hoehoendoel na ras, so na hoetindang na ras, so na hoemordalan na ras, so na hoemorhata so matsani na hasomat sahoedara', meaning: na rasson (Karo rasken) ahu (Karo aku) tubu (Karo tubuh), na rasson ahu modom, na rasson ahu hundui, na rasson ahu tindang, na rasson ahu mordalan, na rasson ahu morhata, somat sanina, hasomat sahudara. Voorhoeve is unable to explain the word (ha)somat from Karo-Batak. He assumes it is Simalungun hasoman, which is possibly related to Malay teman, and ha- might be a prefix. The final -t would then, according to the Toba sandhi-rules, stand for –n. The translation is in that case: 'Who is born together with me, who is sitting together with me, who is standing together with me, who is walking together with me, who is speaking with me, (my) companion of one mother, (my) companion of one mother's womb.' Other Karo words in this tabas are lobe (Karo lebe) and ham (Karo kam). Presumably this formula concerns the placenta. That would be a confirmation of what Voorhoeve has supposed in his A catalogue of the Batak manuscripts [in] the Chester Beatty Library. Including two Javanese manuscripts and a Balinese painting. Dublin 1961, p. 94, that portama mula djadi concerns the placenta. He cannot explain, why there is a group of six, whereas elsewhere (Bali kanda mpat, see C. Hooykaas, Cosmogony and creation in Balinese tradition, The Hague 1974, chapter IV; Bataks saudara na ompat, see P. Voorhoeve, Catalogue of Indonesian manuscripts [of the Royal Library, Copenhagen], Part 1. Batak manuscripts. Copenhagen 1975, p.117b) there is spoken of four brothers or sisters who are born together with man. Possibly there is a connection with the 7 tondi's of man, with whom, according to Warneck-Marcks-Winkler, Toba-Batak - deutsches Wörterbuch, s. v. saudara, there is a connection with the placenta.
pp. 8-12. Another three tabas with the same end as the previously mentioned, but with a different beginning, and with many Malay words. In the third one it is explicitly stated that it is a tabas for the aforementioned pagar. Then follows another, very short tabas beginning with asa ung.

pp. 12-19. Poda ni alamat ni pagarta inon, about omens in connection with the pagar, preceded by a long invocation of spirits, beginning with as a turun ma hamu (pp.12-15) and ending with some defensive signs on p.19.
pp. 19-20. A portion of text about ritual purification (manguras) with a drawing to be made on the sangkak.
pp. 20-24. Poda ni pormasak ni pagar surat na so taruhum portama mula djadi, about preparing the pagar.
(2) pp. 24-47. Poda ni adji pajung si pitu-pitu sangkar ni rambu siporhas, about divination with a pig's head, with the usual list of omens all beginning with djaha dumatang ...
On pp. 44-47 is a paragraph about the omen so(m)bahorna which can be compared with the text on si tapi sombauta in P. Voorhoeve, Catalogue of Indonesian manuscripts [of the Royal Library, Copenhagen], Part 1. Batak manuscripts. Copenhagen 1975, pp.143b-144b.
(3) pp. 47-56. Poda ni porsili ni paranganta, about substituted offerings for warriors to be given to the spirits, without the drawings which sometimes belong to this subject.
(4) pp. 56-60 Poda ni panalu-nalu di musunta. In the colophon mentioned simonang-monang, about divination with numbers in war. At the end it is said that if the numbers (rudji, in fact counting rods) of either party are equal, the one who first goes to war (bingkas) will be victorious. At the end is a tabel of the letters of the alphabet, with their numerical values.

General title: (p.3) Poda ni por..... sianggasana si manoktohi si boenoe saetan but according to the content this must be Poda ni pamuhu tanduk. The origin is ascribed to gurunta na uwalu pulu pitu Si Djangkal Pangurunan (p.47 Si Djangka Pangaranan) bajo Dja Mandobo hata ni adji. This is possibly si Djangkal Ulubalang, who is mentioned in several chains of transmission. The further part of the chain of transmission is lacking, and Voorhoeve has not found any names in the text. The text consists of smaller pieces of text:
pp. 3-4. Title is lacking. A text about the pormesa in connection with the 1st-3rd month and further with days, beginning: Ija di bulan sipahasada morguru mesa hotang dapadjama-djama.
p. 4. Poda ni panibal ni saitan tu musunta, partly illegible in the original.
pp. 4-7. Poda ni pamunu ni bulan na sampulu dua.
pp. 7-8. The same title, but another text.
pp. 8-12. Poda ni radja ni bulan na sampulu dua, with a drawing for each of the twelve months, and bulan lamadu.
pp. 12-15. Poda ni panggorda ni pamunu tanduk with drawings of the six panggorda.

p. 16. Poda ni situmpur na manolon with a drawing in which the letters bo ba bo ba bo occur.
pp. 16-20. Poda ni pangaradas ni pamuhu tanduk, a sort of adji.
pp. 20-23. Poda ni haroan ni bulan na sampulu dua.
pp. 23-27. Poda ni sipatama-tama ni bulan na sampulu dua, about which months are favourable for which purpose.

These two Mandailing-Batak manuscripts are treated here together because they have the same text and partly the same chain of transmission. Other copies of the same text are Amsterdam KIT 1772/157 (= F) and Paris, BNF, mal.-pol.6 (= G).
The chain of transmission is (A pp.44-46; B pp.172-174): Tuan Danggor Tala Udjung Saribu - Datu Holak Sibuaja - Datu Sang- gareta bajo na di Ho jongon (B Go jongon) Djumorlang - Datu na Bonor bajo (na) Saing na Pitu Huta (bajo) Simaronggang - Datu Porsaja (ni adji) bajo Udjung Saribu anak na di Borboron. This latter brought it to Mandailing. - Datu Rahian bajo Pane Urang Sintung anak na di Djabaon - Datu Bonggur (Barita) (ni adji) anak na di Ariton - Datu Singa di Portandangan anak na di Bolaon - si(h)adosanna bajo Sapala Datu - Datu Bonggur na sumundut - (A anggi Datu Lodja ni adji) - Datu Niapasan ni adji (B sinuan ni Datu Lodja). After this G has only one or two names, whereas B and F are different from A. A has: Baginda na Djolo anak na di Sution tano Panjabungan Tonga-tonga - baberena Radja Soara di Pane anak di Djabaon Lubis Singasoro na pinudja ni (son-n-law of) Mangaradja Enda – sisumbaonna (his grandson or grandfather) Radja Porang ni adji - sihadosan Radja Pangimpalan ni adji bajo Djaba Djulu anak na di Anginon. He wrote A in Panjabungan for his sipudjaon (father-n-law?) Radja So Timbalan anak na di Sution, grandson of Baginda na Djolo, underneath the latter's sopo (council house). B and F have after Datu Niapasan: Rad ja So Ni(h)arga anak na di Djabaon tano Huta Dangka - Datu (or Radja) Soara ni adji Sutan Pangimpalan - anggi Ama ni si Ribu - (only in F Datu Maradam ni adji) - Datu Hurintjang ni adji anak na di Sobuon tano Lumban (H)arang (according to F bajo Hasibuwan). He wrote F for Radja Borajun anak na di Djabaon in Pakantan Tua and taught the text of B to the ruler of Pidoli Lombang (just South of Panjabungan) Ama ni si Turunan, in the house of Sutan Sinomba in tano Rao-rao.

Title: Poda ni panuruninta di hasuhuton na bolon.

pp. 2-8. Poda ni hata-hata ni pallontihanta datu, about filing teeth, paragraphs beginning with djaha ipon and further on with djaha ompak. Continued in the same way in:

pp. 8-16. Poda ni pandjahai ni ompak ni ngingi. Immediately after the first title is said about the origin: Ale amang Radja Mangsi hata ni adji e, pinodahon ni Aman Djumait tu amana Ama ni Pormesa hata ni adji e. Aman Djumait, only mentioned in the beginning, would have taught it to his father. The pupil is sometimes addressed as Radja Mangsi hata ni adji (or Ama ni Pormangsi, or Mangsi, hata ni adji), and sometimes as Ama ni Pormesa, or Mesa hata ni adji. Probably the same person is meant. A peculiarity of the dialect is that bodja is used for badja, material to blacken the teeth.
pp. 18-22. The copy of the second manuscript is not complete. It consists of drawings and tabas (among other things for pagar) and probably originates from Simalungun. Maybe the copyist was unable to read it well.

p. 2. Poda ni pagar pangorom na bolon. This pagar is also mentioned on p. 112, but it does not seem probable that the entire text between pp. 2-112 is related to this subject. It is possible the the order of the pieces in the transcription, or possibly already in the origional pustaha, was confused. Voorhoeve, therefore, will only describe the pages which contain titles or subtitles. Chain of transmission (the names supplemented from other pages): Nan Toding So Biasan tian Simalungun; the correct form is most probably (p. 64.) Nan So Biasan na toding Simalungun (di lumban Sisangkalan di lumban Na Honing di lumbam Siantar) - amang na poso Guru So Matahut ni adji (p.64: Ompu Rad ja Mangarihim ni adji; p.14: anak nai Sumbaon) - amang anak maol Ompu Radja Tordugu (pp. 14, 64, 84 Mordugu; p. 100 Morguru) hata ni adji anak ni Simamora Debata Manalu (on p. 64 he also has the name Radja Mangiring) - Radja Mordugu Ompu Saniang Naga Tunggal (hata) ni adji anak Debata Manalu na morhutahon Na Tumindang (the word Tunggal sometimes omitted or, as on p. 54, substituted by Porhas). Written by Ompu Radja Mondo hata ni adji (but on p. 58: Ompu Radja Darodo hata ni adji anak ni Sihite na morhutahon Sihite Bolak). (Here the word suro is used; p. 6: ija dung do manguras asa laho ma hita tu ruma mamintor do hit a tu pantangan as a hit a morsuro. Ija dung do boti asa databashon ma porsuroon ni pagar; p.8 : i ma porsuro ni pagarta inon.)

p. 8. Poda ni panggabe-gabe ni pagarta
p. 14. Poda ni pormasak ni (pangulubalang) boru Saragi (here, on p. 16: asa dabahen ma tu hudon na imbaru, sada ma si pati, sada ma si sangga)
p. 26. Drawing with caption: Ahu ma sanggapati na sungkot di langit na tondjol di hahasa anggi-anggi ni sanggapati na bolon and: Ahu pangulu batuan bodiala hatahutan

p. 30. Ahu ma debata ni sanggapati mangalele toding debata di atas with drawing.
pp. 30-32. Large drawing, which in the original was set next to the previous drawings.
p. 34. pangulubalang-drawings, with captions, among others pangulubalang sanggapati ni pagar pangorom.
p. 40. Poda ni pormasak ni sanggapati ni boru Saragi

Further on also pangulubalang-drawings with captions, some of which apply to the sanggapati.
p. 64. Poda ni panuruni na so morlada ... asa dapasang ma pangulubalang na so morlada with a repetion of the chain of transmission. This seems to be a new beginning. Voorhoeve cannot explain the name pangulubalang na so morlada. The meaning 'without pepper' can hardly be meant. The following piece treats all sorts of applications of this pangulubalang, among others horbo huring, the striped karbau, made of (but not mentioned here) bambu and mats, and filled with all sorts of magical devices. This teaching originates from Guru Habinsaran, who has made such a karbau sculpture together with Ompu Radja Mordugu and his teacher Guru So Matahut. Several different sombaons are invoked here by their names, among others Ompunta Maga-maga Mortua Siborboron, the sombaon of our ruler Guru Mangalagang Debata Manalu.On p. 98 is the drawing, already announced on p. 90, of the horbo huring.
pp. 100-110. Poda ni pamusatan ni rambu siporhas of Guru Habinsaran to his ibebere Ompu pp. 110-112. Poda ni pamusatan ni adji pajung and guru ni djuhut.

p. 112. Poda ni panggabe-gabe ni pagar pangorom
p. 116. Ija anak badjangan do halak....
p. 118. Ija hita djumadihon salusu siruntun tali saoa. Here there is mention of the turning around of the baby in the whomb, so that the feet are not directed downward.
p. 120. Ija tordumpas do halak...
p. 122. Calendat drawing with related pormesa-text on pp. 124-126.

The making of the divination cords is rather extensively described, with peculiarities which are not found in other texts.
(6) 2 + 2 pp. MS Jakarta Vt.169 (= MS Jakarta, D 9). Vt.l69=D 9. Two pages with drawings and two pages with the beginning of the text. The drawings: bindu matoga; a figure derived from that (?), with diagonals in the inner square, in the centre a small circle to which four scorpions are directed with their heads. A table containing four different compasses. The porhalaan of 13 x 30 squares; to that is joined a table of 4 x 14 squares, alongside of which there is yet another row of 14 squares, the last ones of which containing 3 or 4 different signs in the order a, b, a(?), a(?), b, c, c, b, a(?), a(?), b, c, b, a(?). It is not clear whether a(?) is the same as a. Then there is yet another text in Batak script in which is indicated which kind of meat one may not use mangupa on Sunday or Thursday. Text: Poda ni pandjahai ni porhalaan, beginning with a list of the pormesa with their pangalomuk and hatatahut and the place of the begu monggop.

Arabic, paper, 3 ff., naskh script with features of ruq`a script, 690 x 430 mm (80 x 265); 10 lines to the page; each document on one leaf of paper.
Three sentences issued by the Shari`a court in Mecca.
The three cases are identical. Claiments are relatives and sole heirs to pilgrims from Pasuruan (Eastern Java, Indonesia), who died while in Mecca. In all cases the heritage consists of the return ticket (bilyet) of the deceased, which was seized by the treasurer in Mecca (ma'mur bayt al-mal, who is the defendant, pending the establishment of the identity of the heirs. The lawful heirs (always the claimants) are established before the court and the defendant is ordered to deliver the heritage, that is the boat ticket, to the heirs. All three claimants make use of the services of one and the same interpreter. The sentences are all dated 25 Dhu al-Qa`da 1338 / 10 August 1920. On the back they contain the legalisation of the document, dated 6 Du al-Higga of the same year, and also the seal of the qadi al-qudat wa-mufti al-Aqtdr al-`Arabiyya bi-Makka al-Mukarrama. With this seal the claimant is given the right of execution. Also on the back is the receipt of the court fees *(40 qurush),* the visa of the Dutch consul in Jeddah, E. Gobée, dated 9 September 1920, together with the name of the claimant and the nature of the case. The three documents were probably not collected from the Dutch consulate by the claimants, and may have been sent by the consul to his teacher, Professor C. Snouck Hurgronje (1857-1936), from whose collection these three documents probably originate.

a. Claimant is al-hagg Saman b. Payani b. Gilani, whose identity and claim are confirmed by al-hagg Zayn b. Khalil and al-hagg `Abd al-Shakur b. Thabit, all from Pasuruan in Java, and pilgrims in the year 1338 AH, belonging to the group of the shaykh of the Indonesian pilgrims, M. Zayn Bawiyan. Interpreter is shaykh Zayni `Id b. M. b. Salih `Id. Treasurer, and defendant, is al-sayyid Muhammad Amin b. Muhammad Sa`id Hamdi. The deceased is the father of claimant, al-hagg Payani b. Gilani from Pasuruan, who died in Mecca on 30 Ramadan. Below the text are the seals of the gadi Makka alMukarrama.
b. Claimant is al-hagg Pa' Qamariyya b. Pa' Madin, whose identity and claim are confirmed by the same persons as mentioned in document a, all from Pasuruan and pilgrims of the year 1338, and belonging to the group of the same sayk mentioned under a. The defendant is also the same as mentioned in document a. The deceased, the brother of the claimant, is Pa' Ruqiya (known in Mecca as `Abd al-Mu`ti) b. Pa' Madin, who died in Mecca on 8 Shawwal. Below the text is the same seal as on document a. The texts of the document and legalisations are otherwise identical to those of document a.
c. President is M. Amin Mirdad, substitute judge in the Sari`a court. Claimant is al-hagg Sulayman b. Pa' Shahidun, whose identity and claim are confirmed by the same persons as mentioned in document a, all from Pasuruan and pilgrims of the year 1338, and belonging to the group of the same shaykh mentioned under a. The defendant is also the same as mentioned in document a. The deceased, the father of the claimant, is al-hagg Pa' Shahidun b. Pa' Ti'a, who died in Mecca on 13 Shawwal. Below the text is the seal of the na'ib qadi Makka al-Mukkarrama and above the text is the seal of the qadi Makka al-Mukarrama. The texts of the document and legalisations are otherwise identical to those of document a*.*

The Daniël van der Meulen Papers. Collection of diaries, documents, letters, etc., of Daniël van der Meulen (1894-1989) and relative to his travels in Southern Arabia, purchased from Mr. van der Meulen in 1976.
Daniel van der Meulen, sometime Consul and Chargé d'Affaires for the Netherlands in Jeddah, later also colonial civil servant in the Dutch Indies, is the author (in co-operation with H. von Wissmann) of Hadramaut. Some of its Mysteries Unveiled (Leiden 1932), and of a number of other works on both Arabia and the end of the Dutch colonial presence in Indonesia. His political autobiography is Don't You Hear the Thunder? A Dutchman's Life Story (Leiden 1981), which is a translation of the Dutch version published in Franeker in 1977.
The present collection is only part of Mr. van der Meulen's personal papers. The remaining part was at the time of the compilation of the present description (August 1986) still preserved by the author at his home in Gorssel. His own photographs were transferred to the Royal Institute for the Tropics in Amsterdam. See now also on these photographs S. Vink, Daniel van der Meulen in Arabia Felix, Amsterdam 2003.

Among the personal papers that have been acquired by the Library and that are kept in five cardboard boxes are letters, diaries, reports, maps, newspaper cuttings, articles by both van der Meulen and others, texts of addresses and lectures, photographs, etc. Here only the Arabic materials, which are mostly letters, are described. For that purpose they have been taken out of their original sheaves.
The non-Arabic materials in the collection, which are for the greater part press photographs of Palestinian refugee camps and off-prints of van der Meulen's numerous essays as they appeared in the Protestant press, still needs further ordening. There is also a number of van der Meulen's diaries, which are still in need of being sorted out. All these have not mentioned in the detailed description hereafter.
Provenance: Purchased in 1976 from Daniël van der Meulen, Gorssel.

Or. 14.391 Arabic A
Papers, taken from the sheaf entitled 'Hedjaaz' (al-Higaz), from the years 1930-1931.
1. From the deputy Charge d'Affaires of the Netherlands in Jeddah, to the Minister of Foreign Affairs [of the Kingdom of the Higaz, the Nagd and dependencies], dated 3 Muharram 1350/30 May 1931 (No. 105). Concerns the question of the imprisonment of a Dutch subject, al-hagg Anwar al-Palembani, who was accused of manslaughter of another Dutch subject, al-hagg `Aqil al-Palembani. The letter contains a number of considerations concerning the complicated case and the possibility that the heirs of the murdered man could ask for blood-money or talio; it ends with the request to set the prisoner free but oblige him to stay in Mecca. 3 leaves with printed letter-head; 295 x 305 mm; typewritten copy, not signed, only on the recto side.
2. From `Abdallah Sulayman, Director of the Department of Finance of the Arab Higaz Government, to Daniel van der Meulen, Charge d'Affaires of the Netherlands in Jeddah, dated 30 Safar 1350 [17 VII 1931]. Sender deplores the imminent departure of the Director of the Jeddah branch of the Nederlandsche Handelmaatschappij (Dutch Trading Company), Mr. Jacobs. 1 leaf with printed letter-head; 325 x 200mm; ruq`a writing, on one side only, signed; with Dutch translation in pencil by C. Adriaanse, the Arabist member of van der Meulen's staff, at the bottom and on the verso.
3. From Abdallah Sulayman, Director of the Department of Finance of the Arab Higaz Government, to Daniel van der Meulen, Charge d'Affaires of the Netherlands in Jeddah, dated 30 Safar 1350 [17 VII 1931). Sender announces the visit of `Abd al-Rahman al-Qusaybi to Amsterdam and requests an introduction for him to the Directors of the Nederlandsche Handelmaatschappij (Dutch Trading Company). 1 leaf with printed letter-hand; 325 x 200 mm; ruq`a writing, signed, on one side only; with Dutch translation in pencil by C. Adriaanse, the Arabist member of van der Meulen's staff, at the bottom.
4. From King `Abd al-`Aziz b. `Abd al-Rahman Al Faysal, to Daniel van der Meulen, former Charge d'Affaires of the Netherlands in Jeddah, dated 18 Rabi `al-Awwal 1350 [3 VIII 1931] (No.4/1/3). An official farewell letter on the occasion of van der Meulen's transfer from his post at Jeddah. 1 leaf with printed letter-head; 330 x 200 mm; typewritten, signed with an oval seal print, on one side only.

5. From M. `Ali `Abduh, the Arab secretary of the Dutch representation in Jeddah, to Daniel van der Meulen, dated [Cairo] 8 August 1931. Sender reports his arrival in Cairo and his imminent departure for Syria and Lebanon, and thanks van der Meulen for his recommendations. 1 leaf ; 270 x 210 mm; ruq`a script, on one side only, with signature.
6. From Ahmad Lari to Daniel van der Meulen, dated Cairo, 25 August 1931(?). Contains an invitation to meet the sender in Cairo and a request to intervene on his behalf for employment in an agency of a Dutch shipping company. 1 leaf with printed letter-head, apparently of the company of the sender's father; 265 x 210 mm; ruq`a script, on one side only, signed.
7. From M. `Ali `Abduh, the Arab secretary of the Dutch representation in Jeddah, to Daniel v an der Meulen. Undated. A farewell letter on the occasion of van der Meulen's transfer, the secretary having been absent at the time of van der Meulen's departure. 1 leaf: 295 x 205 mm: typewritten, one one side only, with signature.
8. From M. `Ali `Abduh, the Arab secretary of the Dutch representation in Jeddah, to Daniel van der Meulen, dated Jeddah, 6 Gumada al-Awwal 1350 / 19 September 1931. A personal letter, telling of the sender's return from a holiday in Syria and Lebanon. 1 leaf; 295 x 205 mm; typewritten, on one side only, with signature.
9. From M. `Ali `Abduh, the Arab secretary of the Dutch representation in Jeddah, to Daniel van der Meulen, dated Jeddah, 28 Gumada al-Tani 1350 / 9 November 1931. A personal letter on sundry subjects. 1 leaf; 295 x 205 mm; typewritten, on one side only, with signature.

From King `Abd a1-`Aziz b. `Abd al-Rahman Al Faysal to Daniel van der Meulen, dated Mecca, 12 Muharram 1358 [4 III 1939]. Answer to a letter from van der Meulen of 9 Muharram 1358 [1 III 1939], with the sender's regrets that a meeting is inconvenient. 2 ff. ; 230 x 180 mm; typewritten, signed with an oval seal; text on f. la only; kept in an envelope with typewritten address, and postmarks with the date Mecca 14 I 1358/5 II 1939 (the latter date apparently being a mistake.

Or. 14.391 Arabic C
Papers taken from the sheaf entitled 'Hadramaut', from the years 1944-1945.
1. From [Harold] Ingrams, Resident Adviser at Mukalla, Hadhramaut, to whom it may concern (Kitab Maftuh), not dated, but probably of the same date as the following two letters. Letter of recommendation for Daniel van der Meulen, in which it is requested that he be shown respect and offered assistance. On the sender see D. van der Meulen, Aden to the Hadhramaut (London 1947), pp. 237-9. 1 leaf, with printed letter-head, text on one side only; 165 x 210 mm; naskh script by a secretary, Arabic signature by the sender.
2. From [Harold] Ingrams, Resident Adviser at Mukalla, Hadhramaut, to Hasan b. M. Muqaybil, Administrator of Food Storage at al-Guhayr, dated 26 January 1944. Sender requests facilities for Daniel van der Meulen and his companion. 1 leaf, with printed letter-head, text on one side only; 165 x 210 mm; naskh script by a secretary, Arabic signature by the sender.

3. From [Harold] Ingrams, Resident Adviser at Mukalla, Hadhramaut, to the mulazim `Abd al-Hadi, dated 26 January 1944. Sender requests facilities for Daniel van der Meulen and his companion.
1 leaf, with printed letter-head, text on one side only: 165 x 210 mm; naskh script by a secretary, Arabic signature by the sender.
4. From Mustafa b...(?) to Daniel van der Meulen, dated 5 Safar 1363 [31 I 1944]. Acknowledgment of receipt of a letter. 1 leaf of paper; 125 x 120 m; ruq `a script in pencil, text on one side only, signed.
5. From Talib b...(?), to a Mr. Fletcher(?) in Saywun(?), dated 13 II 1363 [8 II 1944]. Sender regrets that he is unable to accept a post in Australia, a matter in which van der Meulen seems to have had a hand. In the letter van der Meulen is apparently referred to as al-senyor al-hulandi. 1 leaf of paper; 180 x 135 mm; ruq`a script, signed, text on one side only.
6. From Ga`far b. Mansur Al Katir, Sultan of the Hadramawt (Saywun), to Daniel van der Meulen, Consul of the Netherlands at Jeddah, dated [Saywun] 23 Safar 1363/17 February 1944. An invitation to have dinner at the Palace. 1 leaf, with printed letter-head, text on one side only; 270 x 215 mm; ruq`a script by a secretary, signed by the sender.
7. From the Minister Plenipotentiary of the Netherlands [= Daniel van der Meulen] in Jeddah to al-sayyid Abu Bakr Al Kaf, in Tarim, the virtual ruler of the Hadramawt, dated 11 Ragab 1364/21 June 1945. A farewell letter, on the occasion of van der Meulen's departure from Arabia. 2 leaves; 290 x 215 mm; typewritten, carbon copy, unsigned.
8. Three leaves of paper, of different sizes, with elementary lexicographical notes. Arabic words with their meaning, sometimes in French, sometimes in Arabic, in more than one hand.
9. Shi`r Muhammad Salim al-Hamil. Poem of 5 lines, rhyming in -an, by Muhammad Salim al-Hamil, from the Wadi Girdan, near `Ayad, the Hadramaut. For an account on this wadi see D. van der Meulen, Aden to the Hadhramaut (London 1947), pp. 107-118. Above the poem is a note, written by van der Meulen, stating that the poem was sung by M. Salim al-Hamil and that the melody was noted down by H[ermann] v[on] W[asielewski]. This means that the document dates from 1939, when von Wasielewski accompanied van der Meulen on his second trip to the Hadramawt. 1 leaf of paper; 170 x 110 mm; Oriental script, possibly an autograph; pink ink; 11 lines on the page; text on one side only.
